Important Changes

Social security and Medicare wage threshold increased to $1,300. The $1,200 social security and Medicare wage threshold has been increased to $1,300 for 2001. This means that if you pay a household employee cash wages of less than $1,300 in 2001, you do not have to report and pay social security and Medicare taxes on that employee's 2001 wages. For more information, see Social security and Medicare wages, later.

Photographs of missing children. The Internal Revenue Service is a proud partner with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. Photographs of missing children selected by the Center may appear in this publication on pages that would otherwise be blank. You can help bring these children home by looking at the photographs and calling 1-800-THE-LOST (1-800-843-5678) if you recognize a child.

Introduction

The information in this publication applies to you only if you have a household employee. If you have a household employee in 2001, you may need to pay state and federal employment taxes for 2001. You generally must add your federal employment taxes to the income tax that you will report on your 2001 federal income tax return.

This publication will help you decide whether you have a household employee and, if you do, whether you need to pay federal employment taxes. It explains how to figure, pay, and report social security tax, Medicare tax, federal unemployment tax, and federal income tax withholding for your household employee. It also explains what records you need to keep.

This publication also tells you where to find out whether you need to pay state unemployment tax for your household employee.

Do You Have a Household Employee?

You have a household employee if you hired someone to do household work and that worker is your employee. The worker is your employee if you can control not only what work is done, but how it is done. If the worker is your employee, it does not matter whether the work is full time or part time, or that you hired the worker through an agency or from a list provided by an agency or association. It also does not matter whether you pay the worker on an hourly, daily, or weekly basis, or by the job.

Example. You pay Betty Shore to babysit your child and do light housework 4 days a week in your home. Betty follows your specific instructions about household and child care duties. You provide the household equipment and supplies that Betty needs to do her work. Betty is your household employee.

Household work. Household work is work done in or around your home by the following people.

- Babysitters
- Cleaning people
- Housekeepers
- Nannies
- Health aides

- Private nurses
- Maids
- Caretakers
- Yard workers
- Similar domestic workers

Workers who are not your employees. If only the worker can control how the work is done, the worker is not your employee but is self-employed. A self-employed worker usually provides his or her own tools and offers services to the general public in an independent business.

A worker who performs child care services for you in his or her home generally is not your employee.

If an agency provides the worker and controls what work is done and how it is done, the worker is not your employee.

Example. You made an agreement with John Peters to care for your lawn. John runs a lawn care business and offers his services to the general public. He provides his own tools and supplies, and he hires and pays any helpers he needs. Neither John nor his helpers are your household employees.

More information. More information about who is an employee is in Publication 15–A, Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide.

Can Your Employee Legally Work in the United States?

It is unlawful for you to knowingly hire or continue to employ an alien who cannot legally work in the United States.

When you hire a household employee to work for you on a regular basis, you and the employee must complete the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification. No later than the first day of work, the employee must complete the employee section of the form by providing certain required information and attesting to his or her current work eligibility status in the United States. You must complete the employer section by examining documents presented by the employee as evidence of his or her identity and employment eligibility. Acceptable documents to establish identity and employment eligibility are listed on Form I-9. You should keep the completed Form I-9 in your own records. Do not submit it to the IRS, INS, or to any other government or other entity. The form must be kept available for review upon notice by an authorized U.S. Government official.

Two copies of Form I-9 are contained in the INS Handbook for Employers (Form M-274). Call the INS at 1-800-870-3676 to order the handbook. If you have questions about the employment eligibility verification process or other immigration-related employment matters, contact the INS Office of Business Liaison at 1-800-357-2099.

You can also visit the INS web site at www.ins.usdoj.gov to get Form I-9.

Do You Need To Pay Employment Taxes?

If you have a household employee, you may need to withhold and pay social security and Medicare taxes, or pay federal unemployment tax, or both. To find out, read Table 1.

You do not need to withhold federal income tax from your household employee's wages. But if your employee asks you to withhold it, you can. See Do You Need To Withhold Federal Income Tax?, later.

If you need to pay social security, Medicare, or federal unemployment tax or choose to withhold federal income tax, read Table 2 for an overview of what you may need to do.

TIP If you do not need to pay social security, Medicare, or federal unemployment tax and do not choose to withhold federal income tax, read State employment taxes, next. The rest of this publication does not apply to you.

State employment taxes. You should contact your state unemployment tax agency to find out whether you need to pay state unemployment tax for your household employee. For the address and phone number, see the Appendix. You should also find out whether you need to pay or collect other state employment taxes or carry workers' compensation insurance.

Social Security and Medicare Taxes

The social security tax pays for old-age, survivors, and disability benefits for workers and their families. The Medicare tax pays for hospital insurance.

Both you and your household employee may owe social security and Medicare taxes. Your share is 7.65% (6.2% for social security tax and 1.45% for Medicare tax) of the employee's social security and Medicare wages. Your employee's share is the same.

You are responsible for payment of your employee's share of the taxes as well as your own. You can either withhold your employee's share from the employee's wages or pay it from your own funds. If you decide to pay the employer's share from your own funds, see Not withholding the employee's share, later. Pay the taxes as discussed under How Do You Make Tax Payments?, later. Also, see What Forms Must You File?, later.

Social security and Medicare wages. You figure social security and Medicare taxes on the social security and Medicare wages you pay your employee.

If you pay your household employee cash wages of $1,300 or more in 2001, all cash wages you pay to that employee in 2001 (regardless of when the wages were earned) are social security and Medicare wages. However, any noncash wages you pay do not count as social security and Medicare wages.

If you pay the employee less than $1,300 in cash wages in 2001, none of the wages you pay the employee are social security and Medicare wages, and neither you nor your employee will owe social security or Medicare tax on those wages.

State disability payments treated as wages. Certain state disability plan payments that your household employee may receive are treated as social security and Medicare wages. For more information about these payments, see the instructions for Schedule H (Form 1040), Household Employment Taxes, and the notice issued by the state.

Wages not counted. Do not count wages you pay to any of the following individuals as social security and Medicare wages, even if these wages are more than $1,300 during the year.

- 1) Your spouse.
- 2) Your child who is under age 21.
- 3) Your parent. Exception: Count these wages if both the following conditions apply.
  - a) Your parent cares for your child who lives with you and either is under age 18 or has a physical or mental condition that requires the personal care of an adult for at least 4 continuous weeks in a calendar quarter.
  - b) You are divorced and have not remarried, or you are a widow or widower, or you are living with a spouse whose physical or mental condition prevents him or her from caring for your child for at least 4 continuous weeks in a calendar quarter.
- 4) An employee who is under age 18 at any time during the year. Exception: Count these wages if providing household services is the employee's principal occupation. If the employee is a student, providing household services is not considered to be his or her principal occupation.

Also, if your employee's cash wages reach $80,400 in 2001, do not count any wages you pay that employee during the rest of the year as social security wages to figure social security tax. (But continue to count the employee's cash wages as Medicare wages to figure Medicare tax.)

If you reimburse your employee for the amount paid for transit passes used to commute to your home, do not count the reimbursement (up to $65 per month) as wages. A transit pass includes any pass, token, farecard, voucher, or similar item entitling a person to ride on mass transit, such as a bus or train.

If you reimburse your employee for the amount paid for parking at or near your home or at or near a location from which your employee commutes to your home, do not count reimbursement (up to $180 per month) as wages.

Cash wages. Cash wages include wages you pay with checks, money orders, etc. Cash wages do not include the value of food, lodging, clothing, and other noncash items you give your household employee. However, cash you give your employee in place of these items is included in cash wages.

Withholding the employee's share. You should withhold the employee's share of social security and Medicare taxes if you expect to pay your household employee cash wages of $1,300 or more in 2001. However, if you prefer to pay the employee's share yourself, see Not withholding the employee's share, next.

You may withhold the employee's share of the taxes even if you are not sure your employee's cash wages will be $1,300 or more in 2001. If you withhold the taxes but then actually pay the employee less than $1,300 in cash wages for the year, you should repay the employee.

Withhold 7.65% (6.2% for social security tax and 1.45% for Medicare tax) from each payment of social security and Medicare wages. You can use Table 3, later, to figure the proper amount to withhold. Instead of paying this amount to your employee, you will pay it to the IRS with a matching amount for your share of the taxes. Do not withhold any social security tax after your employee's social security wages for the year reach $80,400.

If you make an error by withholding too little, you should withhold additional taxes from a later payment.

If you withhold too much, you should repay the employee.

Example. You hire a household employee (who is an unrelated individual over age 18) to care for your child and agree to pay cash wages of $100 every Friday. You expect to pay your employee $1,300 or more for the year. You should withhold $7.65 from each $100 wage payment and pay your employee the remaining $92.35. The $7.65 is the sum of $6.20 ( $$100 \times 6.2\%$ ) for your employee's share of social security tax and $1.45 ( $$100 \times 1.45\%$ ) for your employee's share of Medicare tax. Match the $7.65 you withhold with $7.65 from your own funds when you pay the taxes.

Not withholding the employee's share. If you prefer to pay your employee's social security and Medicare taxes from your own funds, you do not have to withhold them from your employee's wages. The social security and Medicare taxes you pay to cover your employee's share must be included in the employee's wages for income tax purposes. However, they are not counted as social security and Medicare wages or as federal unemployment (FUTA) wages.

Example. You hire a household employee (who is an unrelated individual over age 18) to care for your child and agree to pay cash wages of $100 every Friday. You expect to pay your employee $1,300 or more for the year. You decide to pay your employee's share of social security and Medicare taxes from your own funds. You pay your employee $100 every Friday without withholding any social security or Medicare taxes. For each wage payment you will pay $15.30 when you pay the taxes. This is $7.65 ($6.20 for social security tax + $1.45 for Medicare tax) to cover your employee's share plus a matching $7.65 for your share. For income tax purposes, your employee's wages each payday are $107.65 ($100 + the $7.65 that you will pay to cover your employee's share of social security and Medicare taxes).

Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax

The federal unemployment tax is part of the federal and state program under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) that pays unemployment compensation to workers who lose their jobs. Like most employers, you may owe both the federal unemployment tax (the FUTA tax) and a state unemployment tax. Or, you may owe only the FUTA tax or only the state unemployment tax. To find out whether you will owe state unemployment tax, contact your state's unemployment tax agency. See the list of state unemployment agencies in the Appendix for the address.

The FUTA tax is 6.2% of your employee's FUTA wages. However, you may be able to take a credit of up to 5.4% against the FUTA tax, resulting in a net tax of 0.8%. But your credit for 2001 is limited unless you pay all the required contributions for 2001 to your state unemployment fund by April 15, 2002. The credit you can take for any contributions that you pay for 2001 after April 15, 2002, is limited to 90% of the credit that would have been allowable if the contributions were paid on or before April 15, 2002.

Credit for 2000 FUTA tax. If you had a household employee in 2000, you may be able to take the credit of up to 5.4% against the FUTA tax on your 2000 tax return. But your credit is limited unless you pay all the required contributions for 2000 to your state unemployment fund by April 16, 2001. The credit you can take for any contributions that you pay for 2000 after April 16, 2001, is limited to 90% of the credit that would have been allowable if the contributions were paid on or before April 16, 2001.

You must complete the following worksheet to figure the credit for late contributions.

Worksheet for Credit Computation if Any State Contributions Were Paid After the Due Date for Filing Form 1040
A.	Enter the amount from Schedule H, line 23 . . . . . _____
B.	Enter the amount from Schedule H, line 20 . . . . . _____
C.	Subtract line B from line A. If zero or less, enter -0- . . . . . _____
D.	Enter total contributions paid to the state(s) after the Form 1040 due date _____
E.	Enter the smaller of line C or D . . . . . _____
F.	Multiply line E by .90 (90%) . . . . . _____
G.	Add lines B and F . . . . . _____
H.	Enter the smaller of the amount on line A or G here and on Schedule H, line 24 . . . . . _____

Pay the tax as discussed under How Do You Make Tax Payments?, later. Also, see What Forms Must You File?, later.

Do not withhold the FUTA tax from your employee's wages. You must pay it from your own funds.

FUTA wages. Figure the FUTA tax on the FUTA wages you pay. If you pay cash wages to household employees totaling $1,000 or more in any calendar quarter of 2001, the first $7,000 of cash wages you pay to each household employee in 2001 and 2002 is FUTA wages. (A calendar quarter is January through March, April through June, July through September, or October through December.) If your employee's cash wages reach $7,000 during the year, do not figure the FUTA tax on any wages you pay that employee during the rest of the year. For a discussion of "cash wages," see Cash wages, earlier.

If the cash wages you pay are less than $1,000 in each calendar quarter of 2001, but you had a household employee in 2000, the cash wages you pay in 2001 may still be FUTA wages. They are FUTA wages if the cash wages you paid to household employees in any calendar quarter of 2000 totaled $1,000 or more.

Wages not counted. Do not count wages you pay to any of the following individuals as FUTA wages.

- Your spouse.
- Your child who is under age 21.

- Your parent.

Example. You hire a household employee (who is not related to you) on January 1, 2001, and agree to pay cash wages of $200 every Friday. During January, February, and March you pay the employee cash wages of $2,600. Because you pay cash wages of $1,000 or more in a calendar quarter of 2001, the first $7,000 of cash wages you pay the employee (or any other employee) in 2001 or 2002 is FUTA wages. The FUTA wages you pay may also be subject to your state's unemployment tax.

During 2001, you pay your household employee cash wages of $10,400. You pay all the required contributions for 2001 to your state unemployment fund by April 15, 2002. Your FUTA tax for 2001 is $56 ($7,000 × 0.8%).

or similar item entitling a person to ride on mass transit, such as a bus or train.

- Up to $180 a month for the value of parking you provide your employee, or for any cash reimbursement you make for the amount your employee pays for parking at or near your home or at or near a location from which your employee commutes to your home.

See Publication 15 for more information on cash and noncash wages.

Paying tax without withholding. Any income tax you pay for your employee without withholding it from the employee's wages must be included in the employee's wages for federal income tax purposes. It also must be included in social security and Medicare wages and in federal unemployment (FUTA) wages.

Do You Need To Withhold Federal Income Tax?

You are not required to withhold federal income tax from wages you pay a household employee. You should withhold federal income tax only if your household employee asks you to withhold it and you agree. The employee must give you a completed Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate.

If you and your employee have agreed to withhold, either of you may end the agreement by letting the other know in writing.

If you agree to withhold federal income tax, you are responsible for paying it to the IRS. Pay the tax as discussed under How Do You Make Tax Payments?, later. Also, see What Forms Must You File?, later.

Use the income tax withholding tables in Publication 15, Circular E, Employer's Tax Guide, to find out how much to withhold. Figure federal income tax withholding on wages before you deduct any amounts for other withheld taxes. Withhold federal income tax from each payment of wages based on the filing status and exemptions shown on your employee's Form W-4. Publication 15 contains detailed instructions.

Wages. Figure federal income tax withholding on both cash and noncash wages you pay. Measure wages you pay in any form other than cash by the fair market value of the noncash item.

Do not count as wages any of the following items.

- Meals provided to your employee at your home for your convenience.
- Lodging provided to your employee at your home for your convenience and as a condition of employment.
- Up to $65 a month for transit passes you give your employee, or for any cash reimbursement you make for the amount your employee pays for transit passes used to commute to your home. A transit pass includes any pass, token, farecard, voucher,

What Do You Need To Know About the Earned Income Credit?

Certain workers can take the earned income credit (EIC) on their federal income tax return. This credit reduces their tax or allows them to receive a payment from the IRS. You may have to make advance payments of part of your household employee's EIC along with the employee's wages. You also may have to give your employee a notice about the EIC.

Advance EIC payments. You must make advance EIC payments if your employee gives you a properly completed Form W-5, Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate. Use the advance EIC payment tables in Publication 15, Circular E, Employer's Tax Guide, to find out how much to pay your employee.

Reduce the social security and Medicare taxes and withheld federal income tax you need to pay to the IRS by any advance EIC payments you make. See Publication 15 for more information about making advance EIC payments.

Notice about the EIC. Copy B of the 2001 Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, has a statement about the EIC on the back. If you give your employee that copy by January 31, 2002 (as discussed under Form W-2, later), you do not have to give the employee any other notice about the EIC.

Otherwise, you must give your household employee a notice about the EIC, but only if you agree to withhold federal income tax from the employee's wages (as discussed under Do You Need To Withhold Federal Income Tax?, earlier) and the income tax withholding tables show that no tax should be withheld. Even if not required, you are encouraged to give the employee a notice about the EIC if his or her 2001 wages are less than $31,152.

If you do not give your employee Copy B of the Form W-2, your notice about the EIC can instead be any of the following items.

- 1) A substitute Form W-2 with the same EIC information on the back of the employee's copy that is on Copy B of the Form W-2.
- 2) Notice 797, Possible Federal Tax Refund Due to the Earned Income Credit (EIC).
- 3) Your own written statement with the same wording as in Notice 797.

If a substitute Form W-2 is given on time but does not have the required EIC information, you must notify the employee within one week of the date the substitute Form W-2 is given. If Form W-2 is required but is not given on time, you must give the employee Notice 797 or your written statement about the 2001 EIC by January 31, 2002. If Form W-2 is not required, you must notify the employee by February 7, 2002.

How Do You Make Tax Payments?

When you file your 2001 federal income tax return in 2002, attach Schedule H, Household Employment Taxes, to your Form 1040. Use Schedule H to figure your total household employment taxes (social security, Medicare, FUTA, and withheld federal income taxes). Add these household employment taxes to your income tax. Pay the amount due by April 15, 2002. (For more information about using Schedule H, see Schedule H, later.)

You may choose to pay your taxes by credit card (American Express® Card, Discover® Card, or MasterCard® card). For information about this option, see the instructions for Form 1040, line 69.

You can avoid owing tax with your return if you pay enough tax during the year to cover your household employment taxes, as well as your income tax. If you are employed, you can ask your employer to withhold more federal income tax from your wages in 2001. If you get a pension or annuity, you can ask the payer to withhold more federal income tax from your benefits. Or, you can make estimated tax payments for 2001 to the IRS, or increase your payments if you already make them.

You may have to pay an estimated tax penalty if you do not pay household employment taxes during the year and either of the following situations applies for the year.

- You will have federal income tax withheld from your pay, pension, annuity, etc.
- You would be required to make estimated tax payments (to avoid the penalty) even if you did not owe household employment taxes.

Asking for more federal income tax withholding. If you are employed and want more federal income tax withheld from your wages to cover your household employment taxes, give your employer a new Form

W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate. Complete it as before, but show the additional amount you want withheld from each paycheck on line 6.

If you receive a pension or annuity and want more federal income tax withheld to cover household employment taxes, give the payer a new Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments (or a similar form provided by the payer). Complete it as before, but show the additional amount you want withheld from each benefit payment on line 3.

Get Publication 919, How Do I Adjust My Tax Withholding?, to make sure you will have the right amount withheld. It will help you compare your total expected withholding for 2001 with the combined income tax and employment taxes that you can expect to figure on your 2001 return.

Paying estimated tax. If you want to make estimated tax payments to cover household employment taxes, get Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Use its payment vouchers to make your payments. You can pay all the employment taxes at once, or you can pay them in installments. If you have already made estimated tax payments for 2001, you can increase your remaining payments to cover the employment taxes. Estimated tax payments for 2001 are ordinarily due April 16, June 15, and September 16, 2001, and January 15, 2002.

You can generally pay part or all of your estimated tax by using a credit card (American Express® Card, Discover® Card, or MasterCard® card). For information about this method of payment, see the instructions for Form 1040-ES.

Payment option for business employers. If you own a business as a sole proprietor or your home is on a farm operated for profit, you can choose either of two ways to pay your 2001 household employment taxes. You can pay them with your federal income tax as described above, or you can include them with your federal employment tax deposits or other payments for your business or farm employees. For information on depositing employment taxes, see Publication 15.

If you pay your household employment taxes with your business or farm employment taxes, you must report your household employment taxes with those other employment taxes on Form 941 or Form 943 and on Form 940 (or 940-EZ). See Business employment tax returns, later.

The deduction that can be taken on Schedules C and F (Form 1040) for wages and employment taxes applies only to wages and taxes paid for business and farm employees. You cannot deduct the wages and employment taxes paid for your household employees on your Schedule C or F.

More information. For more information about paying taxes through federal income tax withholding and estimated tax payments and figuring the estimated tax penalty, get Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

What Forms Must You File?

You must file certain forms to report your household employee's wages and the federal employment taxes for the employee if you pay any of the following wages to the employee.

- Social security and Medicare wages.
- FUTA wages.
- Wages from which you withhold federal income tax.

The employment tax forms and instructions you need for 2001 will be sent to you automatically in January 2002 if you reported employment taxes for 2000 on Schedule H (Form 1040), Household Employment Taxes. Otherwise, for information on ordering these forms, see How To Get Tax Help, later.

Employer identification number (EIN). You must include your employer identification number (EIN) on the forms you file for your household employee. An EIN is a 9-digit number issued by the IRS. It is not the same as a social security number.

You ordinarily will have an EIN if you previously paid taxes for employees, either as a household employer or as a sole proprietor of a business you own. If you already have an EIN, use that number.

If you do not have an EIN, get Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number. The instructions for Form SS-4 explain how you can get an EIN immediately by telephone or in about 4 weeks if you apply by mail.

Form W-2. File a separate 2001 Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, for each household employee to whom you pay either of the following wages during the year.

- Social security and Medicare wages of $1,300 or more.
- Wages from which you withhold federal income tax.

You must complete Form W-2 and give Copies B, C, and 2 to your employee by January 31, 2002. You must send Copy A of Form W-2 with Form W-3, Transmittal of Wage and Tax Statements, to the Social Security Administration by February 28, 2002 (April 1, 2002, if you file your Form W-2 electronically).

Employee who leaves during the year. If an employee stops working for you before the end of 2001, you may file Form W-2 and provide copies to your employee immediately after you make your final payment of wages. You do not need to wait until 2002. If the employee asks you for Form W-2, give it to him or her within 30 days after the request or the last wage payment, whichever is later.

Schedule H. Use Schedule H (Form 1040), Household Employment Taxes, to report household employment taxes if you pay any of the following wages to the employee.

- Cash wages of $1,300 or more.
- FUTA wages.
- Wages from which you withhold federal income tax.

File Schedule H with your 2001 federal income tax return by April 15, 2002. If you get an extension to file your return, the extension will also apply to your Schedule H.

Filing options when no return is required. If you are not required to file a 2001 tax return, you have the following two options.

- 1) You can file Schedule H by itself. See the Schedule H instructions for details.
- 2) If, besides your household employee, you have other employees for whom you report employment taxes on Form 941 or Form 943 and on Form 940 (or 940-EZ), you can include your taxes for your household employee on those forms. See Business employment tax returns, next.

Employers having the options listed above include certain tax-exempt organizations that do not have to file a tax return, such as churches that pay a household worker to take care of a minister's home.

Business employment tax returns. Do not use Schedule H (Form 1040) if you choose to pay the employment taxes for your household employee with business or farm employment taxes. (For information on choosing to pay the taxes that way, see Payment option for business employers, earlier.) Instead, include the social security, Medicare, and withheld federal income taxes for the employee on the Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, that you file for your business or on the Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees, that you file for your farm. Include the FUTA tax for the employee on your Form 940 (or 940-EZ), Employer's Annual Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return.

If you report the employment taxes for your household employee on Form 941 or Form 943, file Form W-2 for that employee with the Forms W-2 and Form W-3 for your business or farm employees.

For information on filing Form 941, get Publication 15. For information on filing Form 943, get Publication 51, Circular A, Agricultural Employer's Tax Guide. Both of these publications also provide information about filing Form 940 (or 940-EZ).

What Records Must You Keep?

Keep your copies of Schedule H or other employment tax forms you file and related Forms W-2, W-3, W-4, and W-5. You must also keep records to support the information you enter on the forms you file. If you must file Form W-2, you will need to keep a record of your employee's name, address, and social security number.

Wage and tax records. On each payday you should record the date and amounts of all the following items.

- Your employee's cash and noncash wages.
- Any employee social security tax you withhold or agree to pay for your employee.
- Any employee Medicare tax you withhold or agree to pay for your employee.
- Any federal income tax you withhold.
- Any advance EIC payments you make.
- Any state employment taxes you withhold.

Employee's social security number. You must keep a record of your employee's name and social security number exactly as they appear on his or her social security card if you pay the employee either of the following.

- Social security and Medicare wages of $1,300 or more.
- Wages from which you withhold federal income tax.

You must ask for your employee's social security number no later than the first day on which you pay the wages. You may wish to ask for it when you hire your employee.

An employee who does not have a social security number must apply for one on Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Card. An employee who has lost his or her social security card or whose name is not correctly shown on the card should apply for a new card. Employees can get Form SS-5 from any Social Security Administration office or by calling 1-800-772-1213.

You can also download Form SS-5 from the Social Security Administration web site, www.ssa.gov.

How long to keep records. Keep your employment tax records for at least 4 years after the due date of the return on which you report the taxes or the date the taxes were paid, whichever is later.

Can You Claim a Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses?

If your household employee cares for your dependent who is under age 13 or for your spouse or dependent who is not capable of self care, you may be able to take an income tax credit of up to 30% of your expenses. To qualify, you must pay these expenses so you can work or look for work. If you can take the credit, you can include in your qualifying expenses your share of the federal and state employment taxes you pay, as well as the employee's wages. For information about the credit, see Publication 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses.

How To Get Tax Help

You can get help with unresolved tax issues, order free publications and forms, ask tax questions, and get more information from the IRS in several ways. By selecting the method that is best for you, you will have quick and easy access to tax help.

Contacting your Taxpayer Advocate. If you have attempted to deal with an IRS problem unsuccessfully, you should contact your Taxpayer Advocate.

The Taxpayer Advocate represents your interests and concerns within the IRS by protecting your rights and resolving problems that have not been fixed through normal channels. While Taxpayer Advocates cannot change the tax law or make a technical tax decision, they can clear up problems that resulted from previous contacts and ensure that your case is given a complete and impartial review.

To contact your Taxpayer Advocate:

- Call the Taxpayer Advocate at 1-877-777-4778.
- Call the IRS at 1-800-829-1040.
- Call, write, or fax the Taxpayer Advocate office in your area.
- Call 1-800-829-4059 if you are a TTY/TDD user.

For more information, see Publication 1546, The Taxpayer Advocate Service of the IRS.

Free tax services. To find out what services are available, get Publication 910, Guide to Free Tax Services. It contains a list of free tax publications and an index of tax topics. It also describes other free tax information services, including tax education and assistance programs and a list of TeleTax topics.

Personal computer. With your personal computer and modem, you can access the IRS on the Internet at www.irs.gov. While visiting our web site, you can select:

- Frequently Asked Tax Questions (located under Taxpayer Help & Ed) to find answers to questions you may have.
- Forms & Pubs to download forms and publications or search for forms and publications by topic or keyword.
- Fill-in Forms (located under Forms & Pubs) to enter information while the form is displayed and then print the completed form.
- Tax Info For You to view Internal Revenue Bulletins published in the last few years.
- Tax Regs in English to search regulations and the Internal Revenue Code (under United States Code (USC)).
- Digital Dispatch and IRS Local News Net (both located under Tax Info For Business) to receive our electronic newsletters on hot tax issues and news.
- Small Business Corner (located under Tax Info For Business) to get information on starting and operating a small business.

You can also reach us with your computer using File Transfer Protocol at ftp.irs.gov.

TaxFax Service. Using the phone attached to your fax machine, you can receive forms and instructions by calling 703-368-9694. Follow the directions from the prompts. When you order forms, enter the catalog number for the form you need. The items you request will be faxed to you.

Phone. Many services are available by phone.

- Ordering forms, instructions, and publications. Call 1-800-829-3676 to order current and prior year forms, instructions, and publications.
- Asking tax questions. Call the IRS with your tax questions at 1-800-829-1040.
- TTY/TDD equipment. If you have access to TTY/TDD equipment, call 1-800-829-4059 to ask tax questions or to order forms and publications.
- TeleTax topics. Call 1-800-829-4477 to listen to pre-recorded messages covering various tax topics.

Evaluating the quality of our telephone services. To ensure that IRS representatives give accurate, courteous, and professional answers, we evaluate the quality of our telephone services in several ways.

- A second IRS representative sometimes monitors live telephone calls. That person only evaluates the IRS assistor and does not keep a record of any taxpayer's name or tax identification number.
- We sometimes record telephone calls to evaluate IRS assistors objectively. We hold these recordings no longer than one week and use them only to measure the quality of assistance.
- We value our customers' opinions. Throughout this year, we will be surveying our customers for their opinions on our service.

Walk-in. You can walk in to many post offices, libraries, and IRS offices to pick up certain forms, instructions, and publications. Also, some libraries and IRS offices have:

- An extensive collection of products available to print from a CD-ROM or photocopy from reproducible proofs.
- The Internal Revenue Code, regulations, Internal Revenue Bulletins, and Cumulative Bulletins available for research purposes.

CD-ROM. You can order IRS Publication 1796, Federal Tax Products on CD-ROM, and obtain:

- Current tax forms, instructions, and publications.
- Prior-year tax forms, instructions, and publications.
- Popular tax forms which may be filled in electronically, printed out for submission, and saved for recordkeeping.
- Internal Revenue Bulletins.

The CD-ROM can be purchased from National Technical Information Service (NTIS) by calling 1-877-233-6767 or on the Internet at www.irs.gov/cdorders. The first release is available in mid-December and the final release is available in late January.

IRS Publication 3207, The Business Resource Guide, is an interactive CD-ROM that contains information important to small businesses. It is available in mid-February. You can get one free copy by calling 1-800-829-3676 or visiting the IRS web site at www.irs.gov/prod/bus\_info/sm\_bus/smbus-cd.html.

Table 3. Employee Social Security (6.2%) and Medicare (1.45%) Tax Withholding Table

(See Circular E for income tax withholding tables.)

Use this table to figure the amount of social security and Medicare taxes to withhold from each wage payment. For example, on a wage payment of $180, the employee social security tax is $11.16 ($6.20 tax on $100 plus $4.96 on $80 wages). The employee Medicare tax is $2.61 ($1.45 tax on $100 plus $1.16 on $80 wages).
