The IRS Mission

“Provide America’s taxpayers top quality service by helping them understand and meet their tax responsibilities and by applying the tax law with integrity and fairness to all.”

Pending Legislation

At the time this publication went to print the Working Families Tax Relief Act of 2004 passed both the House and Senate and was awaiting signature by the President. The training material includes draft tax forms that did not take the proposed legislation into account. Therefore, the legislation may cause Form 1040, Form 1040A, Form 8812, child tax credit worksheets and EIC worksheets to change. Additional guidance will be issued if the legislation passes.

The following is a synopsis of those portions of the bill with impact on tax year 2004 returns.

- Child Tax Credit. The child tax credit will be refundable to the extent of 15-percent of the taxpayer’s earned income in excess of $10,750. This will cause Form 8812, Additional Child Tax Credit, to be revised for tax year 2004.
 - Inclusion of combat pay as earned income. Military members will be permitted to include combat pay as earned income for purposes of calculating the child tax credit. They may also elect to include combat pay for purposes of EIC. This may cause EIC and child tax credit worksheets to be revised for tax year 2004.
 - Educator expenses. The above the line deduction for educator expenses is extended until December 31, 2005. This may cause Form 1040 and Form 1040A to be revised for tax year 2004.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY
INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE
ATLANTA, GA 30303

WAGE AND INVESTMENT DIVISION

NOV 05 2004

Welcome, Volunteers!

Thank you for being a critical part of the volunteer return tax preparation programs of the Internal Revenue Service and its partners. Programs such as Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) and Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) provide important services for nearly 2 million low-income and elderly people who need tax preparation assistance. I appreciate the time you have chosen to commit to help others with this complex task.

In this training and reference package, you will find tools that enhance your interaction with taxpayers. Of note are standardized interview tips and questions that will help you prepare accurate and quality tax returns, a certification process that has embedded formal volunteer standards of conduct, and an improved Volunteer Resource Guide (Publication 4012) that we encourage you to use at your site.

In addition to improving quality service, we continue to improve the way training is delivered to you. One method is the Integrated Training approach--a full scope tax law program taught in scenario format blending tax law theory and application with computer software instruction. Another new delivery technique is the online Link & Learn Taxes. This web based approach covers the same tax law theory and application in the traditional training materials, but covers them in a fun, interactive course that lets volunteers learn at their own pace. Link & Learn Taxes is great for volunteers that are new to the program and even better for returning volunteers. To try the course, enter the keyword "volunteer training" on www.irs.gov.

I encourage you to electronically file (e-file) the returns you prepare. E-filing uses automation to quickly check for errors or missing information. Consequently, e-filed returns have a higher accuracy rate than paper prepared returns.

I appreciate your efforts to protect the privacy of the taxpayers you assist by safeguarding the confidential information they share with you. Your site manager can discuss with you the steps you should take to guard the information provided to you. The protection of taxpayer information is key to the integrity of the program.

If you have any comments or recommendations about our training materials, please see your instructor or site coordinator. They can take your suggestions, or you can write to us at the following address:

Sincerely,

Business meal expenses. Business-related meal expenses while traveling away from your tax home for business purposes increased in 2004 from 50% to 70% for employees subject to Department of Transportation limitations.

Schedule C-EZ allowable business expenses. The maximum amount of allowable business expenses on Form 1040, Schedule C-EZ, Net Profit From Business was increased from $2,500 to $5,000.

EIC INCOME AND INVESTMENT LIMITATIONS

For tax year 2004 the maximum credits are:

- Two or more qualifying children $4,300
- One qualifying child 2,604
- No children 390

Earned Income. To be eligible for a full or partial credit, the taxpayer must have earned income of at least $1 but less than:

- $34,458 ($35,458 married filing jointly) and two or more qualifying children;
- $30,338 ($31,338 married filing jointly) and one qualifying child;
- $11,490 (12,490 married filing jointly) with no qualifying children.

Adjusted Gross Income. The taxpayer's adjusted gross income (AGI) must also be less than the above dollar amounts.

Investment Income. Taxpayers whose investment income is more than $2,650 cannot claim the EIC.

Education Credits. The maximum Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI) increased to $52,000 for single and head of household taxpayers and $105,000 for married filing jointly taxpayers.

Social Security and Medicare Taxes. For 2004, the employer and employee will continue to pay:

1. 6.2% each for social security tax (old-age, survivors, and disability insurance), and
2. 1.45% each for Medicare tax (hospital insurance).

Wage limits. For social security tax, the maximum amount of 2004 wages subject to the tax increases to $87,900. For Medicare tax, all covered 2004 wages are subject to the tax.

Self-Employment Tax. The self-employment tax rate on net earnings remains the same for 2004. This rate, 15.3%, is a total of 12.4% for social security (old-age, survivors, and disability insurance) and 2.9% for Medicare (hospital insurance). The maximum amount subject to the social security part for tax years beginning in 2004 increases to $87,900. All net earnings of at least $400 are subject to the Medicare part.

Depreciation and Section 179 Expense. The maximum section 179 deductions you can elect for property you place in service in 2004 is increased from $100,000 to $102,000 for qualified section 179 property ($137,000 for qualified zone property, qualified renewal property, or qualified New York Liberty Zone property). This limit is reduced by the amount by which the cost of section 179 property placed in service during the tax year exceeds $410,000 (increased from $400,000).

Depreciation. Extension of time to claim the 30% special depreciation allowance. You still may be eligible to claim the 30% special depreciation allowance for a tax year that included September 11, 2001, if you meet the following requirements.

- You timely filed your tax return for that tax year.
- You did not claim the 30% special depreciation allowance for qualified property placed in service during that tax year.
- You did not make an election not to claim the special allowance.

Modified AGI Limit for Traditional IRAs Increases. For 2004, if you are covered by a retirement plan at work, your deduction for contributions to a traditional IRA will be reduced (phased out) if your modified adjusted gross income (AGI) is:

- More than $65,000 but less than $75,000 for a married couple filing a joint return or a qualifying widow(er),
- More than $45,000 but less than $55,000 for a single individual or head of household, or
- Less than $10,000 for a married individual filing a separate return.

For all filing statuses other than married filing separately, the upper and lower limits of the phaseout range increase by $5,000.

MILITARY SALE OF HOME

The 5-year period used in determining whether the taxpayer can exclude gain from the sale of a main home may be suspended during the period that the taxpayer or taxpayer's spouse served on qualified official extended duty as a member of the Armed Forces. This change applies to any sale of a main home after May 6, 1997, so the taxpayer may be able to claim a refund if he or she paid tax on a gain from a sale after that date.

New this year all volunteers should complete Form 13615, Standards of Conduct Volunteer Return Preparation Program (VRPP). This form confirms the long tradition of quality service delivered by our most valued volunteers. TAX YEAR 2004 PRODUCT CHANGES

Lessons 1, 6 and 14 Changes. Filing status and filing requirements, which were discussed in Lesson 1, Getting Started, are now discussed in Lesson 2, Filing Status and Filing Requirements. The Credit for the Elderly or the Disabled is discussed in Lesson 6, Miscellaneous Credits. Pensions are discussed in Lesson 14 instead of Lesson 13 which is now Sale of Home.

Interview Tips for Volunteer Assistors. To assist volunteers in asking the right questions, interview tips are included in the lessons on filing status (Lesson 2), dependency and exemptions (Lesson 1), the earned income credit (Lesson 10) and the child tax credit (Lesson 11). The interview tips are also included in Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide.

Critical Intake Questions. All sites, whether coordinated by a partner, individual or IRS SPEC, must ask certain critical intake questions. The questions and a recommended format are discussed in the Introduction and Administrative Guidelines.

Expanded Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide. To assist volunteers in “asking the right questions” to get the correct response from taxpayers, interview questions/tips are added under the tabs on filing status, dependency, exemptions, earned income credit and child tax credit. Technical charts, narratives, etc. are separate from tax software hints.

Enhancements to Integrated Training Modules. Student and instructor feedback resulted in major revisions to the integrated training materials, introduced last year. Appendix A contains the revised course material, which is a comprehensive approach to teaching tax law and tax preparation software. There are three different training plans: returning students; new students; and military students.

Test and Retest Modified for Tax Law Changes. The test and retest are designed (where appropriate) to allow volunteers to complete the problems using tax preparation software.

Link & Learn Taxes on On-Line. Students can reinforce the tax law training in this course at their own pace. This course is available on-line at www.irs.gov - keyword: volunteer training. In coming years, this e-learning tool will replace the printed products being used today.

TAX YEAR 2004 ADMINISTRATIVE HIGHLIGHTS

Volunteer Standards of Conduct. Volunteers have a responsibility to uphold the highest of ethical standards. This year all volunteers must acknowledge receipt of the Volunteer Standards of Conduct (Form 13615) which are discussed in the Introduction and Administrative Guidelines.

Site Identification Number (SIDN) Alpha Character Change. The letter “S” replaces the letter “P” in all SIDNs. This change is discussed in Lesson 7, Finishing the Return.

Technical Resources at the Tax Preparation Site. The Volunteer Resource Guide (Publication 4012) and Your Federal Income Tax Guide (Publication 17) are tools for use in classroom training and at the tax preparation site. Students should take their copy of publications 4012 and 17 used in the training class to the tax preparation site for technical support.

Watch for Volunteer Quality Alerts. Volunteer Quality Alerts are intended to enhance the quality of volunteer-prepared returns. The alerts are published during the filing season (from February thru April) and can be accessed at www.irs.gov — Keyword: Volunteer Quality Alerts.

Volunteers differ in the types of returns they prepare. In order to determine which modules and lessons will best serve the needs of your students, you or the site coordinator will need to know some facts about the students and their plans for volunteering. Here are some points to consider.

- What tax knowledge do your students bring to class? Are they law school students who have all had basic tax classes? Are they members of a social club who have no tax knowledge? Do they usually prepare their own return?
- Where will they be working? Will students be working at a senior center or a shopping mall? Will they be working at the community center of a low income housing area?
- Who will your students serve? Are your students primarily interested in working with senior citizens? Are they primarily going to assist low income single moms?

Answers to these questions will help you determine the types of returns your students will be preparing. This, of course, will help you decide which modules and topics you will need to teach.

Organization of Material

The three separate training modules are comprised of various topics. Included in the first three modules are segments of information that are specific to international and military taxpayers.

Basic — Covers issues all volunteers need. Topics include:

- Personal and Dependency Exemptions (including military and international segments)
- Filing Status (including military and international segments).
- Who Must File — Who Should File
- Income (including military and international segments)
- Adjustments (including a military segment)
- Standard Deduction and Itemized Deductions (including military and international segments)
- Tax Computations
- Miscellaneous Credits (including an international segment)
- Finishing the Return (including a military segment)

Wage Earner — Covers issues working families and individuals might have, including:

- Child and Dependent Care Credit
- Education Credits
- Earned Income Credit
- Child Tax Credit and Additional Child Tax Credit

Pension Earner — Contains more complex issues, those generally encountered by retirees and senior citizens, including:

- Sale of Stock
- Sale of Home
- Pensions
- Credit for the Elderly or Disabled (see Lesson 6, Miscellaneous Credits)

International and Military taxpayers—Addresses issues specific to military and international taxpayers in the following areas:

- Foreign Earned Income Exclusion
- Tax Options for Combat Zone Participants
- Aliens
- Home Leave

PLANNING THE COURSE

While every class is unique, we strive for consistency in the training that is presented to the volunteers. After customizing your curriculum to meet the needs of your students (see customizing the curriculum above), the class syllabuses in Appendix B will be helpful in determining how to present the information.

The syllabuses cover a variety of training situations and are divided into three basic categories: New Students, Returning Students and a Combination of New and Returning Students. There is also a suggested Tax Law Refresher schedule.

CERTIFICATION AND TESTING

It is very important for volunteers to assist only with returns, supporting schedules and forms for which they have been trained. Testing and certification is mandatory for all volunteer return preparers. Certification and testing can be accomplished using one of the three methods that follow:

- IRS' traditional paper tests (Form 6744, Test and Form 6745, Retest)
- IRS' on-line testing (using Link & Learn Taxes) or a
- Partner's test approved by the IRS

INTRODUCTION AND ADMINISTRATIVE GUIDELINES

NOTES TO INSTRUCTORS

OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This section sets the stage for the course by helping volunteers understand and internalize the goal of the Volunteer Return Preparation Programs —“To provide free, top-quality service to eligible taxpayers.” Students can reinforce the tax preparation and tax law training in this course at their own pace. See the back cover for additional information about Link and Learn Taxes.

After completing this section the students should:

- Understand the importance of privacy and confidentiality in their volunteer capacity
- Solicit accurate information from the taxpayers
- Answer frequently asked taxpayer questions
- Understand the scope and sequence of this course

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

TRAINING MATERIALS AND ON-SITE RESOURCES

This section will refer to the following IRS publications and forms.

- Form 13615, Volunteer Standards of Conduct
- Form 13614, Volunteer Return Preparation Program “Critical Intake Data”

See Publication 1084, Volunteer Site Coordinators handbook or the IRS Volunteer web site (referenced below) for additional program, administrative and technical information.

Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage.

The IRS Volunteer Web Site

Information for partners and volunteers is available on the Partnering Opportunities section of the IRS Web site, which is available by entering the key word “community network” at www.irs.gov.

TEACHING TIP – THE SCOPE OF THE PROGRAM

They are part of a nationwide program that boasts almost 14,000 sites and 70,000 volunteers reaching nearly 2 million low-income and elderly taxpayers with needed tax preparation assistance.

Taxpayers appreciate the assistance provided by volunteers, and the IRS recognizes and applauds these efforts.

TEACHING TIP – TAX YEAR 2004 PROGRAM CHANGES

This year the IRS is focusing on making changes that strengthen its business model for volunteer return preparation programs. Highlight each of the enhancements listed in the student guide:

- Standard intake process (Form 13614)
- Structured fact-gathering process
- Standards of conduct (Form 13615)

TEACHING TIP – THE PROGRAM IS CONTINUALLY EVOLVING

- While quality has always been important to the volunteer program, the definition of quality is shifting from one based solely on tax return information to one encompassing the full range of taxpayer/volunteer interaction.
- Volunteers must ensure that they obtain complete and accurate information when they interview each taxpayer so that they have the proper basis for preparing each return.
- Since high quality service is critical to the volunteer return preparation program, we must continually evolve the way we deliver and assess quality in these programs.
- Encourage students to monitor the IRS volunteer web site (see above).

TEACHING TIP – STANDARDS OF CONDUCT (FORM 13615)

Using the student text which includes an exhibit of Form 13615 discuss all components of the “Standards of Conduct” including the importance of the taxpayer identifying him/herself prior to receiving service.

1. Caution students to gracefully decline any token of appreciation offered by a taxpayer while acknowledging the generous intention.
2. Convey to your students that the information they receive from taxpayers in their volunteer capacity is confidential and under no circumstances should they discuss or share the information with unauthorized individuals. Volunteers should contact the local IRS coordinator for additional information.
3. In addition to protecting taxpayer rights to privacy during the tax return preparation process, IRS employees are required to adhere to provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 during collection of personal information from volunteers.

TEACHING TIP - CRITICAL INTAKE DATA (FORM 13614)

Using the student text which includes an exhibit of Form 13614 discuss all components of the “Critical Intake Data” including the importance of the taxpayer identifying him/herself prior to receiving service.

TEACHING TIP - VOLUNTEER HOTLINE

Why is the Volunteer Hotline available only to participants in this program? The hotline is available as part of the IRS’ commitment to providing volunteers with ongoing technical assistance. Emphasize that the line is not available to the general public. Advise volunteers to check with their Site Coordinator for the exact hours and days of operation.

VOLUNTEER PRODUCT INFORMATION

Using the text in student materials, advise volunteers of the tools available to their site coordinator (via their IRS contact) regarding the availability of products. See Volunteer Product Information in the student text.

TEACHING TIP — TRAINING EVALUATION

Evaluation forms are included in both the instructor and student kits.

Table 1 lists IRS SPEC offices by Area and the corresponding training class number. The training class number must be entered on the top portion of both the student and instructor evaluations on the line “ACES Class Number.” This will ensure each SPEC Territory Office receives their applicable feedback.

Ask your students to not answer questions 1 and 2. These questions contain demographic information applicable to IRS employees only.

Each instructor will collect the student evaluations and comments, complete an instructor evaluation and comment form, then mail to HQ SPEC using the business reply label included in your instructor kit.

These evaluation forms are scannable so they should not be folded, stapled, or photocopied. Please use an envelope large enough to accommodate the 8 ½ x 11 size.

Please ensure your students use blue or black pen or pencil when completing these forms. Emphasize the importance of darkening the circles rather than placing an “X” or check mark in them.

INTRODUCTION AND ADMINISTRATIVE GUIDELINES

Welcome to the Internal Revenue Service's (IRS) Military Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (M-VITA) and Volunteer Embassy and Consulate Tax Assistance (VECTA) Programs. As an IRS volunteer, you provide a tremendous service to the American public and to your community. You are about to embark on a very challenging and rewarding task as an important player in the tax administration process.

Every year thousands of volunteers nationally and internationally assist millions of taxpayers with their federal income tax return. We've taken great care to improve our products and incorporate changes recommended by our volunteer community. In this section, we explain general training requirements and highlight important administrative requirements and enhancements.

TAX YEAR 2004 ADMINISTRATIVE ENHANCEMENTS

Standardized intake process

To complete accurate returns, you must ask certain questions about the taxpayers and their families. An intake form (Volunteer Tax Preparation Information Sheet-Form 13614) is available to assist you in this process. Form 13614 is used to screen taxpayers to make sure they have the necessary documents and that their returns are within the scope of the volunteer program.

The use of Form 13614 (exhibit 1) is optional. However, the "critical intake data" must be captured at any time prior to the completion of each taxpayer's return.

A statement on page 2 contains information about what is expected from the taxpayer, such as treating the volunteers with courtesy and respect, and providing complete and correct information from which to prepare their return.

The intake form should not be signed by taxpayers. It should be provided to the taxpayer and attached to their copy of their tax return as part of their tax records.

Structured fact-gathering process

The following tools are available to assist volunteers in gathering the data necessary to prepare accurate returns.

- Form 13614, Volunteer Tax Preparation Information Sheet discussed earlier.
- Effective interviewing techniques discussed later in this lesson.
- Interview tips in Lesson 2, Filing Status and Filing Requirements, Lesson 10, Earned Income Credit, Lesson 11, Child Tax Credit and Lesson 1, Getting Started.

Standards of conduct for volunteers

Volunteers have a responsibility to provide quality service and to uphold ethical standards. Form 13615 (the last page of the highlights of changes) depicts the standards of conduct for volunteers. The standards of conduct will be part of the testing and certification process.

SITE IDENTIFICATION NUMBER (SIDN) CHANGES

Each paper or electronically filed return should be identified with the appropriate “SIDN”. This will ensure that all volunteer prepared returns are correctly counted once received by the Internal Revenue Service.

Your SIDN is an 8-digit number preceded by the “letter S” that must be entered on all returns (Forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ) you prepare—both paper and electronic. Your site coordinator provides this number along with other necessary guidelines for completing the return.

The SIDN should appear in the “Paid Preparer’s Use Only” section of the return and will be discussed in detail in Lesson 7, Finishing the Return.

I understand that this is a free service by volunteers. I will be patient and treat volunteers with courtesy and respect. I agree to provide all information necessary to complete an accurate tax return. I have reviewed the information contained in this document and agree that all the information is complete and correct.

TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION

Prior to assisting a taxpayer, the volunteer must request proof of identity from the taxpayer. Two forms of identification are required. One must be photo identification such as:

- Passport
- National Identity Card
- Drivers License (U.S.)
- State Identification Card (U.S.)
- Military Identification Card
- School Photo ID
- Visa

The second form of identification must be the original or a copy of the Social Security Card, the ITIN Card or Letter as applicable.

One or both of the forms of identification should reflect the taxpayer's current mailing address. If the taxpayer cannot substantiate their identity, or if the volunteer is uncomfortable accepting the items presented as proof of identity, the taxpayer should seek professional tax assistance.

PRIVACY AND CONFIDENTIALITY GUIDELINES

All volunteers involved in the Volunteer Tax Preparation Program must adhere to Privacy and Confidentiality Guidelines. Volunteers ask several personal questions in order to complete an accurate tax return. Taxpayers provide confidential information and trust it will be protected. To maintain this trust, DO NOT disclose any personal tax information gained as a result of the service provided.

DO NOT openly discuss taxpayers by name in the presence of other volunteers or taxpayers.

Fully complete the taxpayer's return at the time of service. DO NOT retain taxpayer(s) documents for a follow-up visit. DO NOT take the taxpayers information for completion of the return outside the presence of the taxpayer.

In addition to protecting taxpayer rights to privacy during the tax return preparation process, IRS employees are required to adhere to provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 during collection of personal information from volunteers.

Any gathering of volunteer name, address or other applicable personal information including any system of records are subject to and require the issuance of a Privacy Act Statement as follows:

IRS Volunteer Income Tax Preparation and Outreach Programs Privacy Act Notice

Privacy Act Notice- The Privacy Act of 1974 requires that when we ask for information we tell you our legal right to ask for the information, why we are asking for it, and how it will be used. We must also tell you what could happen if we do not receive it, and whether your response is voluntary, required to obtain a benefit, or mandatory.

Our legal right to ask for information is 5 U.S.C. 301.

We are asking for this information to assist us in contacting you relative to your interest and/or participation in the IRS volunteer income tax preparation and outreach programs. The information you provide may be furnished to others who coordinate activities and staffing at volunteer return preparation sites or outreach activities. The information may also be used to establish effective controls, send correspondence and recognize volunteers.

Your response is voluntary. However, if you do not provide the requested information, the IRS may not be able to use your assistance in these programs.

The statement is a statutory requirement, whether the person being asked to supply information is an employee or a taxpayer or a potential volunteer.

EVALUATION PROCESS

We welcome your comments and suggestions for improving our products and encourage you to respond to the course evaluation surveys included in your kit.

Your instructor will give you specific instructions on completing the form. If you are taking this course self-study, please contact your local IRS SPEC office or your site manager for details. Your instructor will also give you information on how to complete this form on the internet and transmit directly to the vendor who will compile the evaluations.

SCOPE AND SEQUENCE OF THE COURSE

Most taxpayers are either wage earners or pension earners. Therefore, we have organized this training material in three modules: basic, wage earner, and pension earner. There are instances where a site serves both wage earners and pension earners. Testing and Certification

All volunteers must take the applicable test to show that they can complete returns accurately. You may use this text and all reference materials to complete the test. Volunteers who do not pass the test may take the appropriate retest. Instructions on taking and grading the test are in the Test and Retest Booklets.

Proof Copies of Forms

Forms imprinted in this publication were current as of the “draft” date shown on each form. Final forms may be found at www.irs.gov and may have supplemental changes. Be sure to compare the final forms with those in this publication and make sure you understand processing changes (if any) before helping taxpayers with their returns.

Exercises and Exhibits

It is important that you take the time to complete the exercises to achieve the objectives in each lesson. Studies have shown that long-term retention of information increases dramatically if you put pencil to paper in responding to questions and problems. The Volunteer Assistor's Guide is your learning tool and you may mark it up in any way you wish.

Note: Answers to all exercises are available at the end of the lesson.

Each exercise is separated from the rest of the text by a border design. Write out your answer to each exercise, and then check it immediately against the answer provided. If your answer is different, work the problem again. If you need additional reinforcement, review any parts of the text that apply.

The exercises are designed to give you practice, to emphasize what we think is important, and to help you complete your training successfully.

The coursebook contains a large number of exhibits of the various tax forms and schedules. These exhibits are numbered starting at the beginning of each lesson. Many of the exercises contain exhibits of blank forms, or part of the form, that you must complete.

Lesson Features

Introduction and Objectives

There is a brief Introduction to each lesson or segment which provides an overview of the topics to be covered, as well as how to apply the information when assisting taxpayers.

Summing Up This Section, Segment or Lesson

This boxed feature appears at the end of each lesson. It provides you with a summary of the main points covered in the lesson. Used together, the lesson summaries provide a comprehensive overview of the course content.

Sidebar Features

Sidebar features appear in the outer margins (left and right) of the text. These boxed features emphasize important points presented in the lesson, or provide additional, related information. Potential Pitfalls point out commonly made errors and indicate ways to avoid these errors. Alert! identifies pending legislation, tax law changes, or tax form changes that were expected, but not enacted or in final form when this publication went to print. Interview Tips encourages volunteers to ask probing questions to get complete and accurate information from the taxpayer. As a volunteer please confirm that you have the latest information on the tax law and forms before assisting your clients.

QUALITY OF SERVICE

The goal of the Volunteer Return Preparation Program is to provide high quality service. The following list suggests some ways to ensure that each return is prepared correctly:

- Where possible, prepare the return using electronic filing software.
- Use the fact-gathering tools described earlier, the intake form, Interview tips, etc.
- Use a calculator to check your math (paper returns).
- Refer to Publications 4012 and 17 and technical resources for help with complicated topics.
- Use the checklists and worksheets provided.
- Consult with other, more experienced volunteers.
- Call the Volunteer Hotline (described below).
- Use the information conveyed in Volunteer Quality Alerts

Volunteer Hotline

There is a toll-free hotline available for volunteer use only. This hotline is a source of tax information for volunteers. When you use the hotline, identify yourself as a volunteer.

The hotline number is 1-800-829-8482 (829-VITA). Do not give this number to taxpayers. This service is generally available between February 1 and April 15th.

Do not use this hotline to order forms or schedules. Instead, contact your IRS Territory Manager.

EFFECTIVE INTERVIEWING

To complete accurate returns, you must ask certain questions about the taxpayers and their families. The Volunteer Resource Guide (Publication 4012) included in this training kit contains interview questions and decisions trees to assist you in obtaining specific technical information from taxpayers. It is important to set the appropriate climate to obtain this information.

It is also important to be sensitive to the needs of all taxpayers you assist, especially those with disabilities. All references to taxpayers with disabilities should reflect the individuality, equality and dignity of the person.

- Refrain from using such terms as “handicapped, physically or mentally challenged, differently challenged”. It would be better to use:
 - Person(s) with a disability;
 - Persons who are blind; persons who are visually impaired;

- Persons who are deaf; persons who are hearing impaired or hard of hearing;
- Persons who use a wheelchair;
- Persons who are physically disabled; or persons with mental retardation.

Steps to Effective Interviewing:

1. Make necessary introductions and engage in small talk.
2. Preface what will take place during the interview.
3. Share your intentions and any hopeful results/benefits for the taxpayer.
4. Allow the taxpayer to share any expectations, needs, and/or concerns.
5. Respond with active listening skills.
 - A. Create a “safe” climate.
 - B. Remember your nonverbal listening clues.
 - C. Listen, then respond by:
 1. restating,
 2. paraphrasing, (and/or)
 3. encouraging
6. Ask the first key tax question, creating an awareness about why the tax information is needed.
 - A. Make no assumptions.
 - B. Ask no leading questions.
 - C. Ask, “What have you brought with you today?”
7. Continue to ask questions. Define any terms that may be unfamiliar to the taxpayer.
8. Check your own comfort level.
9. Respond to any misunderstandings.
10. Continue with effective questioning and active listening.
11. Overcome any communication barriers.
 - A. Stay on track. (“I hear you.”/repeat question)
 - B. Allow adequate response time.
 - C. Avoid making assumptions.
 - D. Deal with taxpayers.
 1. Silent (“tell me more about...”)
 2. Upset (paraphrase)
 - E. Concentrate.

12. Indicate the taxpayer's next steps. Inform the taxpayer about the M-VITA/VECTA Programs and stress the benefits of accurate record keeping.
 - A. Express confidence in having completed an accurate tax return.
 - B. Part cordially.

WHAT IF . . . ?

Use these questions and answers to provide quick and accurate information to taxpayers who have administrative questions.

1. What if a taxpayer or dependent does not have a social security number?

Taxpayer Identification numbers are required for all taxpayers and dependents. Taxpayers who do not have a social security number and are eligible, must apply for one by using Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Card. This form is available from the Social Security Administration and U.S. Citizens must show proof of age, identity, and citizenship when they apply for a social security number. Individuals who are age 18 or older must apply at the Social Security Administration office in person rather than by mail.

2. Who needs an Individual Taxpayer Identification (ITIN) Number?

An ITIN is available for certain resident and nonresident aliens, their spouses, and their dependents who are not eligible for a SSN. To obtain an ITIN, you must complete, sign, and submit IRS Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number to the Internal Revenue Service with proper documentation to support your status.

3. What if the taxpayer needs an IRS form or publication?

Most IRS offices and many post offices and libraries have IRS forms that taxpayers may take or photocopy. They also have the instruction booklets for specific forms and publications. Remind the taxpayer that forms can also be ordered by calling the IRS on 1-800-829-3676 (1-800-TAX FORM) or from a fax machine dial (703) 368-9694.

The IRS Internet site (www.irs.gov) provides instant access to federal income tax forms, instructions, publications, and information on free tax assistance programs, electronic tax filing, and more 24 hours a day. Current and prior year federal tax products and information are available for downloading.

4. What if the taxpayers move?

Taxpayers should use Form 8822, Change of Address, to notify the IRS of any change of address. If the taxpayers plan to move after sending the return and before a refund is received, they should notify their old post office and the IRS of their new address. (See item #3 for information on how to order Form 8822.)

5. Which address should taxpayers use, their street address or their post office box?

If the post office delivers mail to the post office box rather than to a street address, enter the P.O. box number on the line for the present home address.

6. What if the taxpayer needs a copy of a prior year return?

If the taxpayer needs an exact copy of a previously filed and processed return and all attachments (including Forms W-2), they must complete Form 4560, Request for Copy of Tax Return and mail it to the IRS address in the instructions along with the applicable fee for each tax year requested.

Copies are generally available for returns filed in the current and past 6 years. If an exact copy of the return is not needed, the taxpayer may order a transcript of their return by calling (800) 829-1040 or completing and mailing Form 4506-T, Request for Transcript of Tax Return. See www.irs.gov for additional information—keyword: prior year return.

7. What if the taxpayer wants to make a voluntary contribution to reduce the public debt?

Voluntary contributions to reduce the public debt should be made payable to “Bureau of the Public Debt.” The contribution may be sent in the tax return envelope. If the taxpayer is making a payment of tax due, as well as a contribution, there should be two checks or money orders in the tax-return envelope—one to pay the tax due and one to make the voluntary contribution. Voluntary contributions to reduce the public debt are considered charitable contributions and may be entered as an itemized deduction on Schedule A of Form 1040 in the year paid.

8. How long should taxpayers keep their tax returns?

Taxpayers should keep a copy of the tax return, worksheets used, and records of all items appearing on it (such as 1099 forms) until the statute of limitations runs out for that return. Usually, this is 3 years from the date the return was due or filed, or 2 years from the date the tax was paid, whichever is later. They should keep Form W-2 until the Social Security Administration has recorded the earnings reflected on the forms. Keep property records (including those on a home) as long as they are needed to figure the basis of the original or replacement property. Closing statements for a home should be kept until the home is sold. Brokerage statements showing the purchase price of stock should be kept until the stock is sold. Also, contributions to nondeductible IRAs should be kept until all IRA funds are withdrawn. Calculations determining the nontaxable portion of pension income should be kept until all of the pension income is taxable. For additional record keeping information, see Publication 552, Recordkeeping for Individuals.

9. What is On-Line filing?

On-line filing allows a taxpayer to file their tax return from home through an Internet Web site or third-party transmitter. Information about filing from home is included in many commercial tax preparation software packages. Also, many software companies offer tax preparation and electronic filing software that can be downloaded from the Web; or they provide the option for individuals to prepare their returns while logged on to the Internet.

All that is needed is a personal computer (PC), software and a modem to send the return data. On-line filing accommodates the same basic forms and schedules as electronic filing. The taxpayer is responsible for sending their signature document (Form 8453-OL) accompanying paper documents to IRS after they receive notification from the Internet on-line provider or transmitter that their return has been accepted by IRS. If IRS rejects the return, the taxpayer will either have to correct the information and retransmit the return or print it and send it as a paper return to IRS. Credit card and direct debit payment options are available for balance due returns.

10. Are there any publications or forms that can assist a taxpayer that owes prior year taxes or previously had their refund offset to satisfy another's debt?

IRS offers various publications and forms that are specific to these issues.

- A. The IRS Collection Process, Publication 594, explains a taxpayer's right and responsibility regarding payment of federal taxes. Installment Agreement Request, Form 9465, gives the taxpayer the option to pay a balance due through monthly installment payments.
- B. Innocent Spouse Relief, Publication 971, addresses how one spouse may request relief from past taxes due solely based on the other spouse's debt. Request for Innocent Spouse Relief, Form 8857, explains various forms of relief and who may qualify.
- C. Injured Spouse Claim and Allocation, Form 8379, allows a taxpayer to request relief from their spouse's past due federal debts including back child support and past due taxes. An injured spouse can get a refund for his or her share of the overpayment that would be used to pay the past due amount.

Additional information on these topics can be obtained by contacting the IRS at 1-800-829-1040, accessing their web page at www.irs.gov, or by visiting a Tax Assistance Center in your area.

13. Are Your Civil Rights Protected?

Publication 4053, explains that under no circumstances will the Internal Revenue Service tolerate discrimination by its employees, grantees, contractors, and/or subcontractors. These provisions extend to M-VITA and TCE Programs. Publication 4053 or other IRS Civil Rights information should be displayed or made available to all taxpayers.

VOLUNTEER PRODUCT INFORMATION

As a volunteer, you may have questions about when some of IRS' volunteer products will be available. You may also want to share any ideas you have about improving the IRS products you are currently using in your role as a volunteer. Your site coordinator's IRS contact can access several tools that can answer some of your questions or help you capture your product ideas and comments.

- 1. How can I order IRS volunteer products? Work with your site coordinator. They can request most volunteer products by completing a Form 2333 V, Volunteer Order Form. The site coordinator forwards their order form to their IRS contact so the order can be filled.
- 2. Is there a way for me to know when IRS' volunteer products will be in stock? Yes, your site coordinator's IRS Contact can provide you with an IRS Status At-A-Glance report. See exhibit 2. This report can tell you if an IRS volunteer product is in stock or when stock is expected.
- 3. How do I tell IRS if I find a serious problem with IRS' volunteer products? Your site coordinator's IRS contact has access to a Problem Tracking Sheet. This can be used by your IRS contact to forward problems to the appropriate IRS office for action.
- 4. There are some products that I used to use. What happened to them? Sometimes products are combined with others for efficiency. Others are dropped because of program changes, or limited demand.
- 5. I have an idea for a new IRS product that can help me in my role as a volunteer. How do I get that to IRS? Your site coordinator is welcome to forward your product idea to their IRS contact, who can get the idea to the appropriate IRS staff for action.

This year you will find TaxWise hints integrated throughout the text. They will be at the end of each lesson just before “Summing Up This Lesson” or “Summing Up This Section.”

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS SECTION ◀◀

- ▶ Remember that the information used to prepare an individual’s income tax return must be treated as confidential.
- ▶ Use the steps for effective interviewing.
- ▶ The “critical intake questions” must be asked of the taxpayer prior to preparing the return. See Form 13614.

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will explain what is needed to begin to prepare an individual federal income tax return. Emphasis is placed on the importance of insuring that the taxpayer's (or dependent's) name and social security number match IRS records.

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

After completing this lesson the student should be able to:

- Explain the importance of requiring a social security card for the tax preparation.
- Identify the documents that could be used in lieu of a social security card.
- Determine which taxpayers need an Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN).
- Use the 5 tests for a qualifying dependent.

TRAINING MATERIAL AND ON-SITE REFERENCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS publications and forms. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the publications or forms, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form 1040A, U. S. Individual Income Tax Return and Form 1040, U. S. Individual Income Tax Return Exemptions section
- Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number
- Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration
- Form 8332, Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated parents
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage. Direct the student to the tab for this lesson and make sure the student is aware of the content of the tab and how it should be used when assisting taxpayers.

Remind volunteers how important it is to avoid overly complicated tax returns. If a volunteer does not feel qualified to determine if the taxpayer is entitled to an exemption, the volunteer should suggest that the taxpayer see a paid professional tax preparer.

TEACHING TIP - TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS

It is important to stress to students that they must explain the reason for asking a taxpayer questions of a personal nature. The loss of a child, even if that child was stillborn or only lived briefly, can still be painful for a taxpayer. Similarly, other deaths in the household can remind taxpayers of painful experiences.

GUIDED QUESTION - TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS (ITINs) FOR ALIENS

IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Numbers (ITINs) for Aliens

Nonresident or resident aliens who do not have and are not eligible to get a SSN, must apply for an ITIN. The Internal Revenue Service issued a revised Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN), with new processing rules and procedures on December 17, 2003. The new procedures require ITIN applicants to file a federal (U.S.) income tax form with the Form W-7 unless certain exceptions are met. For more details, see Form W-7 and its instructions. It usually takes about 4–6 weeks to get an ITIN.

If they already have an ITIN, enter it wherever the SSN is requested on the tax return.

Note: An ITIN is for tax use only. It does not entitle one to social security benefits or change employment or immigration status under US law.

- 1. Who must have an ITIN? An ITIN is required for individuals who have US income and do not have and are not eligible to get a SSN.
- 2. If a U.S. resident's spouse is not eligible for a social security number but the couple want to file a joint return, does the spouse need to apply for an ITIN? Yes.

IRS INDIVIDUAL TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER FOR THE MILITARY

Exception for Overseas Military:

All military personnel stationed overseas (not currently assigned to a U.S. base or post) may apply for an ITIN for their spouse and/or dependent(s) without attaching a tax return (procedure described below). The IRS suggests, however, that whenever possible they do file the application with their return so IRS can process both the application and the return together.

Procedure For Filing An ITIN Application Without Attaching a Tax Form:

If an ITIN applicant is a spouse or dependent (reason “d” of “e” on Form W-7) of a member of the U.S. military stationed overseas, they may apply for the ITIN in advance of filing the related tax return. The applicant must indicate their relationship by marking the appropriate reason for applying, Spouse of (check box “e”) or Dependent of (check box “d”) and notate on the adjacent line the name of the U.S. person and their SSN. In addition, you must check box “h” (Other) and notate on the adjacent line “Overseas Military.” (Dependents must be otherwise eligible and appropriate identification documents must be provided.) Once the application is sent, you should wait for the ITIN to be issued before filing the tax return.

GUIDED QUESTION - DEPENDENCY TEST

1. Define the term dependent. (For federal income tax purposes, a dependent is a person who meets the five qualification tests prescribed by the Internal Revenue Service.)
2. How does the relationship or member of household test apply to adopted or foster children? (An adopted child meets the relationship test. If a child is adopted and begins living with the taxpayer in the middle of the year, the taxpayer may claim an exemption for the child even though the child did not live with the taxpayer for the entire year.) (A foster child or children must live with you as a member of your household for the entire year to qualify as your dependent.)
3. Name the different ways that a person can meet the citizen or resident test. (A person can meet this test if he or she, for some part of the tax year, is either a U.S. citizen or resident, or a resident of Canada or Mexico.)
4. Generally, how does someone meet the joint return test? (A person generally meets this test by being married and not filing a joint return or married filing jointly only to claim a refund.)
5. To what types of income does the term gross income refer? (Gross income refers to all taxable income in the form of money, property, and services, including all unemployment compensation and certain scholarships.)
6. What are the two exceptions to the gross income test? (The test does not apply to the taxpayer’s children under the age of 19 or to the taxpayer’s children under the age of 24 who are full-time students.)

GUIDED QUESTIONS - SUPPORT TEST

- 1. How much of a person's support must a taxpayer provide in order to claim that person as a dependent? (In general, a taxpayer must provide more than half of a person's total support for the entire year.)
- 2. What are the two exceptions to the support test? (Multiple support and children of divorced or separated parents are the two exceptions to the support test.)
- 3. When can capital items, like cars, be included as support? (When they are solely for the dependent's own use.)
- 4. How does the amount used to decide whether a person meets the support test differ from that used for the gross income test? (The gross income test considers taxable income only, whereas the support test considers all of the dependent's income-both taxable and nontaxable.)

GUIDED QUESTIONS - DIVORCED OR SEPARATED PARENTS

- 1. In the case of separated or divorced parents who, together, provide over half of a child's support, which parent can claim the dependency exemption? (The parent who has custody of the child for the greater part of the year, unless a divorce decree or separation agreement provides otherwise.)
- 2. What is the purpose of Form 8332? (Form 8332 is signed by the custodial parent in order to allow the non-custodial parent to claim the dependency exemption.)

TEACHING TIP - DEPENDENCY EXEMPTIONS

1. When determining the number of exemptions, volunteers should not assume that taxpayers will have the same number of exemptions on their current return as they did on last year's return. Information about deaths or births in a taxpayer's household might not be volunteered right away and may require some probing on the part of the assistor/counselor.
2. You may wish to remind students that a taxpayer who can be claimed as a dependent on another person's return cannot claim a personal exemption for himself or herself on his or her own return. This is true even if the other taxpayer does not claim the dependency exemption.

SUBJECT REVIEW - DEPENDENTS AND SSNs/ITIN

Emphasize that all dependents must have a taxpayer identification number. Tell students that taxpayers who need to acquire a social security number for a dependent should contact their local social security office.

Volunteers should also tell taxpayers that a certified copy of the dependent's birth certificate will be required in order to get a social security number.

The application process will take a few weeks, in most cases.

In addition, a resident or nonresident alien who does not have, or cannot get, an SSN should file a Form W-7 with the IRS to apply for an individual tax identification number (ITIN). The ITIN is entered on the return wherever the SSN is requested, and is used for tax purposes only. A taxpayer who has an ITIN and later receives a SSN, should no longer use the ITIN on tax returns.

GUIDED QUESTION - IDENTITY VALIDATION

What items are required to validate a taxpayer, spouse or dependent's identity when preparing a tax return? A photo ID and social security card or other identifying document for each person is required.

TEACHING TIPS - ALIENS/COMMUNITY PROPERTY

1. When confronted with a situation in which the taxpayer is a United States resident or citizen who is married to a nonresident alien, volunteers should know that the taxpayer can file a joint return as long as both spouses agree to be taxed on their worldwide income. IRS Publication 519, Tax Guide For Aliens, deals with this type of situation.
2. If more information is needed to answer students' questions about community property states (Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Washington, and Wisconsin) refer to IRS Publication 555, Community Property.

GUIDED QUESTION – DEPENDENCY EXEMPTIONS – MILITARY SEGMENT

1. Can a person in the military ever be claimed as a dependent on another person's return? If yes, when are most likely to see this situation?

Yes, usually if they were dependents of another person before entering the military and they have been in the military less than 6-months.

All dependency tests, must be applied to determine if individuals that have been in the military for less than 6-months can be claimed as a dependent of someone else.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn what you need to know when you begin to prepare an individual's federal income tax return. Please note that two of the objectives concern the importance of insuring that the taxpayer's (or dependent's) name and social security number (SSN) match IRS records.

Each person listed on a U.S. Federal individual income tax return must be identified by a number. Each person refers to the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse if the taxpayer is married, and any dependent claimed on the return. The taxpayer identification number (TIN) will be a social security number for those persons who qualify to be issued one. All others must have an individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN) or adoption individual taxpayer identification number (ATIN).

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Explain the importance of requesting a social security card for tax preparation.
- Determine which taxpayers need an Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN)
- Use the 5 tests for a qualifying dependent.

SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

It is extremely important that each person use the correct social security number. The most accurate information is usually located on the taxpayer's original social security card. Each year hundreds of thousands of returns are delayed in processing or credit/deductions disallowed because names and social security numbers do not match Social Security Administration (SSA) records. To prevent processing delays in paper returns and rejected electronically filed returns, volunteers must check the accuracy of each Social Security number, as well as the spelling of the name associated with the number. If a taxpayer does not have a valid SSN, direct them to Form SS-5, Social Security Number Application. This form should be submitted to the nearest Social Security Administration Office. Explain to him/her that they must have a taxpayer identification number before you can assist them with filing the tax return.

ALERT

Ask the taxpayer to show the Social Security Cards for self, spouse and dependents.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Canadians have a number that is like a social security number, but it is for their old age pension. Do not use this number on a U.S. tax return. Canadians often have both a U.S. and Canadian Social Security Number.

To verify that the taxpayer's name and social security number match the government's records, volunteers should ask for one of the following documents for each individual on the return.

- Social Security Card (original or copy)
- SSA 1099 benefit statements
- SSA letter OR a copy of last year's tax return showing the needed information (if no Notice of Exception was received).

Note: Driver's licenses and passport may not depict the name or number as it appears on SSA records.

ALERT

The Internal Revenue Service has taken several steps to strengthen controls over the issuance of ITINs. ITIN applications (Form W-7) are now being processed by the IRS if they are submitted with original tax returns (this includes amended and late filed returns). For exceptions to this requirement please refer to the instructions on the back of Form W-7.

The changes will help ensure that ITINs are issued for their intended tax administration purpose for administering the tax code and not for other reasons, such as providing personal identification.

INDIVIDUAL TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS (ITIN)

What is an ITIN?

An ITIN is an individual taxpayer identification number. The IRS issues an ITIN to individuals who are required to have a U.S. taxpayer identification number (TIN) but who do not have and are not eligible to obtain an SSN. Federal law requires individuals with U.S. income, regardless of immigration status, to have to file a U.S. tax return. The ITIN, a nine-digit number that begins with the number 9 is formatted like an SSN (NNN-NN-NNNN). The ITIN was created for use on tax returns only for those taxpayers who do not qualify for a Social Security Number.

Who Needs an ITIN?

If a taxpayer must file a U.S. tax return or can be listed on a U.S. tax return as a spouse or dependent they must have a taxpayer identification number (TIN), in the form of an SSN or an ITIN. SSNs were discussed earlier. The issuance of an ITIN does not:

- Entitle the recipient to Social Security benefits or the Earned Income Credit (EIC);
- Create an inference regarding the individual's immigration status;
- Give the individual the right to work in the U.S. Any individual who is legally eligible for employment in the U.S. must have an SSN.

Except for overseas military personnel (described below), all new ITIN applicants will have to show a federal tax purpose for seeking the ITIN. For those seeking an ITIN to meet their income tax filing obligations, this will require attaching a federal tax return to the Form W-7 when they are ready to file their tax return with the IRS. ITIN applications without proof of need for tax administration purposes will be rejected.

A small number of non-U.S. residents apply for an ITIN to report income under a tax treaty, and a small number of U.S. resident and non-resident applicants apply for an ITIN to report income from a U.S. bank or brokerage account. Neither type of applicant will be required to file a tax return along with their ITIN application. Non-resident applicants will be required to furnish evidence of their ownership of the asset that gave rise to the reporting obligation. Resident applicants will be required to furnish evidence of actual rather than intended ownership of the bank or brokerage account.

GUIDANCE ON PREPARATION OF A RETURN WHEN THE TAXPAYER HAS AN ITIN AND PRESENTS W-2'S WITH AN INVALID SSN

What is an ITIN/SSN Mismatch?

Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) holders frequently file tax returns under their ITIN with attached Forms W-2 showing Social Security Numbers (SSN) of other individuals to substantiate their withholding claims, creating an ITIN/SSN mismatch. A mismatch return causes IRS' document-matching program to erroneously attribute the income and resulting tax to the SSN owner, rather than the ITIN holder. This creates inaccuracies in both the SSN owner's tax account and Social Security Administration records.

ITIN Tax Preparation Guidelines (Effective January 1, 2004)

When an individual comes to a volunteer tax preparation site with a W-2 reflecting an SSN requesting return preparation and produces an ITIN, the volunteer may prepare the tax return with the documents provided.

Reminder: Prior to completion of any tax return, the volunteer must request proof of identity. Two forms of identification are required. One must be photo identification such as:

Passport

National Identity Card

Drivers License (U.S.)

State Identification Card (U.S.)

Military Identification Card

VISA

For ITIN holders, the second form of identification must be the original or a copy of the ITIN Card or Letter.

One or both of the forms of identification should reflect the taxpayer's current mailing address. If the taxpayer cannot substantiate their identity, or if the volunteer is uncomfortable accepting the items presented as proof of identity, the taxpayer should seek paid professional tax assistance.

Returns prepared with an ITIN/SSN mismatch cannot be filed electronically. Do not change any information on the Form W-2. Volunteers may prepare a paper return for the taxpayer once identity has been verified.

The return should reflect the ITIN for the taxpayer. The erroneous SSN on the Form W-2 should not be used on the return.

A paper return must be filed. Publication 1345, Handbook for Authorized IRS e-file Providers of Individual Income Tax Returns, states that the information on a W-2 should never be altered. In order to e-file, the taxpayer identification number (TIN) on the W-2 must match the TIN on the federal return. Since the W-2 shows an SSN and the return shows an ITIN, these returns cannot be electronically filed. As a precaution and reminder to the volunteers, if the volunteer is using electronic return preparation software (e.g. TaxWise), the ITIN/SSN mismatch should show up as an error and the program will not allow the return to be e-filed. Volunteers should NOT attempt to override this error. The return must be printed and given to the taxpayer to be mailed to the IRS.

The taxpayer is not eligible for the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC). Based on Chief Counsel Advice, dated May 15, 2001, if the taxpayer becomes a permanent resident of the United States and secures a valid SSN at a later date, he/she can later file amended returns and claim the EITC for all years for which the statute of limitations has not expired.

Returns prepared with no ITIN:

The new ITIN application requirements announced by IRS Commissioner Everson on December 17, 2003, require a federal tax return be associated with all Form W-7 applications (with some exceptions as noted in the instructions for Form W-7). Federal tax returns cannot be filed using electronic return preparation software without a TIN (taxpayer identification number). Therefore, guidance is being provided to allow the use of electronic return preparation software when completing paper returns for these taxpayers. These returns cannot be electronically transmitted. In this scenario, a temporary identification number can be used for purposes of accessing the electronic return preparation program and generating an accurate paper return.

Scenario: Taxpayer one, his spouse and his dependents (if applicable) are applying for ITINs by completing Forms W-7. The volunteer is completing the federal tax return for association with the taxpayers Form W-7 application. If the taxpayer is working under an erroneous social security number, that social security number should not be used on the return. Create the return by following these procedures: In the TIN field, enter the number “99” followed by six zeros and a numerical sequence starting with the number “1”.

For example in the scenario above,

The taxpayer’s TIN would be: 990-00-0001

The spouse’s TIN would be: 990-00-0002

The dependent’s TIN would be: 990-00-0003,

And so on ... changing the last digits of the TIN each time a new taxpayer, spouse or dependent applying for an ITIN needs a return prepared. After 990-00-0009, the volunteer can use 990-00-0010, 990-00-0011, etc.

Upon completion of the return:

1. Print the return package,
2. Completely cross-out in INK the TIN on each form reflecting the temporary number, and
3. Provide the return package to the Taxpayer to mail with Forms W-7 to the address shown in Form W-7 instructions.
4. If the taxpayer has a family pack that includes multiple Form W-7’s with one return, or multiple returns with one Form W-7, these forms should be staggered and stapled together to show the entire package as a family pack. This will prevent separation of the forms/returns that could delay the processing time.

When an individual comes in to a volunteer tax preparation site and needs assistance with completion of Form W-7, volunteers should refer taxpayers to seek professional assistance, unless a volunteer at that site has been specifically trained in completion of Form W-7 or an authorized acceptance agent is present to provide assistance.

Note: The taxpayer is responsible for mailing their federal tax return and/or Form W-7 to the IRS' Philadelphia Service Center ITIN Unit, Bensalem, PA 19020. SPEC employees, partners, and/or volunteers may not accept these forms for submission.

NEW PROCEDURES FOR INDIVIDUAL TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS (ITINs) EXCEPTION FOR OVERSEAS MILITARY

Background:

All military personnel stationed overseas (not currently assigned to a U.S. base or post) may apply for an ITIN for their spouse and/or dependents(s) without attaching a tax return. The IRS suggests, however, that whenever possible they do file the application with their return so IRS can process both the application and the return together.

Procedure for filing an ITIN application without attaching a tax form:

If an ITIN applicant is a spouse or dependent (reason "d" of "e" on Form W-7) of a member of the U.S. military stationed overseas, they may apply for the ITIN in advance of filing the related tax return. The applicant must indicate their relationship by marking the appropriate reason for applying, Spouse of (check box "e") or Dependent of (check box "d") and notate on the adjacent line the name of the U.S. person and their SSN. In addition, you must check box "h" (Other) and notate on the adjacent line "Overseas Military." (Dependents must be otherwise eligible and appropriate identification documents must be provided.) Once the application is sent, you should wait for the ITIN to be issued before filing the tax return.

Frequently Asked ITIN Questions and Answers

What should I do if a customer comes to the site with a completed Form W-7 and needs a federal return completed to attach to the W-7 for submission to the IRS?

If the customer has his/her tax records and meets all other volunteer site requirements, such as income, type of return, etc., you may complete a federal tax return and any state or local return agreed upon for your site.

Unless you are an authorized acceptance agent, advise the customer to mail the tax return, Form W-7, and applicable documentation to:

Internal Revenue Service
Philadelphia Service Center
ITIN Unit
P.O. Box 447
Bensalem, PA 19020
DPN280

Or take Form W-7 with the federal return and required identity documents (refer to instructions for Form W-7) to an authorized acceptance agent or the nearest IRS Taxpayer Assistance Center (TAC). The taxpayer can call 1-800-829-1040 to obtain the closest TAC in their area. Note: Currently IRS TAC will not prepare tax returns requiring an ITIN.

What if a customer comes in and does not have a SSN (Social Security Number) or ITIN (Individual Tax Identification Number)?

A Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) is required to file a federal tax return. A TIN may be an SSN, or an ATIN, or an ITIN. If the customer is eligible for an SSN, (US citizen or Resident Alien), they should apply for the SSN prior to completing their federal return; advise the customer to complete Form SS-5, Social Security Number Application. Form SS-5 should be submitted to Social Security Administration Office.

If the customer is not eligible for an SSN (not a U.S. Citizen or Resident Alien) but has a filing requirement (refer to Publication 678, Filing Requirement) the customer must complete Form W-7, Application for an Individual Tax Identification Number. Unless you are specifically trained on how to complete Form W-7, the customer should seek professional assistance.

The customer may also choose to apply for an ITIN through an authorized Acceptance Agent. Explain to the customer that some agents charge a fee for this service. For a list of Acceptance Agents in their area the customer can call the IRS at 1-800-829-1040 or go to www.irs.gov and search for Acceptance Agent.

What if a customer's spouse or dependents do not have a TIN or wages?

To file a joint return or claim dependents on a federal tax return both the spouse and dependents must have a TIN. Refer to instructions above for guidance on applying for an SSN, ATIN, or ITIN.

What if the taxpayer comes in with the correct SSN on one Form W-2 and an incorrect SSN on a second Form W-2?

Advise the taxpayer to contact the employer for the incorrect Form W-2 and ask for a corrected Form W-2. If he/she receives the corrected W-2 before your site closes for the season, he or she may come back to the site for free tax preparation.

What if a taxpayer or spouse has an ITIN and SSN?

Both numbers cannot be valid. If you can determine the valid number, you may complete the return. If you cannot determine the valid number the taxpayer should seek professional assistance.

SUMMING UP THIS SUBJECT

- All taxpayers and dependents listed on a tax return must have an identification number.
- An Identification Number can be either an SSN, ATIN, or an ITIN.
- Use caution when completing the entity section of the tax return.

PERSONAL AND DEPENDENCY EXEMPTIONS

After completing this section, you will be able to:

- Define personal exemption.
- Define dependency exemption.
- Use the five tests to determine a qualifying dependent.

There are two kinds of exemptions: personal and dependency. While both exemptions are worth the same amount, different rules apply to each type.

Personal exemptions are allowed to the taxpayer and to the taxpayer's spouse.

Dependency exemptions are allowed to the taxpayer for qualifying dependents who meet five specific tests.

The taxpayer can usually deduct the exemption amount ($3,100 for 2004) when figuring taxable income.

PERSONAL EXEMPTIONS

The Taxpayer

The taxpayer can claim a personal exemption for himself or herself unless the taxpayer is eligible to be claimed as a dependent on another person's return. If this is true, the taxpayer cannot claim an exemption for himself or herself, even if the other taxpayer does not actually claim the dependency exemption.

The Spouse

Generally, if the taxpayer's spouse is claimed as a dependent on another person's return, the taxpayer cannot claim the spouse's exemption on his or her return. (One spouse is never considered the dependent of the other.)

To claim an exemption for a spouse, the taxpayers must be married by December 31, the last day of the year. If the taxpayer files a separate return, he or she can claim the exemption for his or her spouse only if his or her spouse had no gross income (defined later) and was not the dependent of another taxpayer. This is true even if the other taxpayer does not actually claim the taxpayer's spouse's exemption. If a taxpayer is divorced or legally separated at the end of the tax year, he or she cannot claim his or her (former) spouse's exemption.

If the taxpayer's spouse died during the year and the taxpayer did not remarry by December 31, the taxpayer can generally claim the personal exemption for the deceased spouse. This exemption can be claimed only if the taxpayer was not divorced or legally separated from his or her spouse on the date of the death and would have been able to claim the exemption under regular circumstances.

ALERT

Establish if taxpayer was considered married on 12/31/04.

ALERT

For 2004 the exemption amount increased to $3,100.

ALERT

Ask if the taxpayer's spouse died during the year.

ALERT

Ask if the taxpayer and/or spouse is a U.S. citizen or resident alien.

Following is a set of interview questions designed to familiarize you with probing techniques. In some cases the the question may reference topics that will be discussed in later lessons. Refer to the questions now and again when you get to applicable lessons to help you understand any unclear information.

INTERVIEW TIPS

Personal Exemptions

Probe/Action: Ask the taxpayer:

Step 1: Were you married during any part of the tax year? (answer yes if state common law rules met)	If YES , go to Step 2. If NO , go to Step 7.
Step 2: Were you still married on December 31st of the tax year?	If YES , go to Step 5. If NO , go to Step 3.
Step 3: Did you obtain a final decree of divorce or separate maintenance by December 31st of the tax year?	If YES , you cannot claim a personal exemption for your former spouse. Go to Step 7. If NO , go to Step 4.
Step 4: Did your spouse (or you, the taxpayer, if this is a final return for the deceased) die during the tax year?	If YES , go to Step 5. If NO , go back through Steps 1-3 and clarify answers that brought you to Step 4. Explain abandonment does not change marital status but might affect filing status.
Step 5: Are you filing a joint tax return?	If YES , go to Step 7. If NO , go to Step 6.
Step 6: Did your spouse have income and/or can anyone else claim your spouse as a dependent?	If YES , you cannot claim a personal exemption for your spouse. Go to Step 7 to see about your own personal exemption. If NO , you can claim a personal exemption for your spouse.
Step 7: Can anyone meet all five dependency tests to claim you, and/or your spouse if you answered YES to Steps 1 and 2 above, as a dependent?	If YES , you cannot claim a personal exemption for yourself, and/or spouse, if someone else can claim you as a dependent, even if the other person does not claim a dependency exemption for you or your spouse. If NO , you can claim a personal exemption.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Your spouse is never considered your dependent. You may be able to take one exemption for your spouse only because you are married.

A dependent is a person, other than the taxpayer or spouse, who entitles the taxpayer to claim a dependency exemption. A taxpayer can claim a dependency exemption only if all five of the following dependency tests are met.

1. Member of Household or Relationship
2. Citizen or Resident
3. Joint Return
4. Gross Income
5. Support

1. The Member of Household or Relationship Test

To meet this test, the person must either:

- A. Live with the taxpayer for the entire year as a member of his or her household, or
- B. Be related to the taxpayer in one of the ways listed later, under Relatives who do not have to live with the taxpayer.

Note:

A person away on temporary absences is considered to live and be a member of the household the entire year. Temporary absences include attending school, taking vacations, hospital stays due to illness, and military service. In addition, the relationship must not violate local law.

Relatives who do not have to live with the taxpayer

A person related to the taxpayer in any of the following ways does not have to live with the taxpayer the entire year as a member of his or her household to meet this test.

- Child, grandchild, great grandchild, etc. (A legally adopted child is considered the taxpayer's child)
- Stepchild
- Brother, sister, half brother, half sister, stepbrother, stepsister
- Parent, grandparent, or other direct ancestor, but not foster parent
- Stepmother or stepfather
- Brother or sister of your father or mother
- Son or daughter of your brother or sister
- Father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law

ALERT

A foster child must live with the taxpayer the entire year to be considered for a dependency exemption.

ALERT

You cannot claim a dependency exemption for persons who do not have a valid taxpayer identification number (TIN) except for your child who was born and died in the tax year.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

There are two tests within the Member of Household or Relationship test. Passing this test requires meeting only one or the other of the test criteria.

If a child was born alive during the year and meets the dependency tests, the taxpayer can take the exemption, even if the child lived only for a moment. No exemption is allowed for a stillborn child. State or local laws determine if a child was born alive or stillborn.

A legally adopted child is considered to be the taxpayer's child. If an adoption is finalized and the child begins living with the taxpayer on or before December 31, the member of the household test is met.

If a foster child has lived with the taxpayer for the entire year (except for temporary absences) and the taxpayer cares for the child as his or her own, the child is treated as the taxpayer's own child.

A person who died during the year and was a member of the taxpayer's household until death meets the member of household test.

A cousin must live with the taxpayer for the entire year (except for temporary absences) to meet the member of household test. A cousin does not meet the relationship test.

INTERVIEW TIPS

Dependency Exemptions, Member of Household or Relationship Test

Probe/Action: Ask the taxpayer:

Step 1: Did the person live with you as a member of your household for the entire year?	(Answer yes if your child died in the tax year.) If YES, the Member of Household or Relationship Test is met. Proceed to the next test - Citizen or Resident Test. If NO, go to Step 2.
Step 2: Is the person a qualifying relative? Child or descendant of child, child of your brother or sister, stepchild, brother, sister, half brother, half sister, stepbrother stepsister, parent, grandparent, or other direct ancestor, stepmother or stepfather, brother or sister of your father or mother, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law	(Answer yes if legal adoption for your child was finalized on or before December 31 or if the adoption is not yet final, but the child was placed with you for legal adoption by an authorized placement agency.) If YES, the Member of Household or Relationship Test is met. Proceed to the next test - Citizen or Resident Test. If NO, STOP. You cannot claim this person as a dependent.

2. Citizen or Resident Test

To meet this test, a person must be for some part of the year:

- a U.S. citizen or resident, or
- a resident of Canada or Mexico.

Children usually are citizens or residents of the country of their parents. A child born in a foreign country can be recognized as a U.S. citizen for tax purposes if either parent is a U.S. citizen.

There are two exceptions to the gross income test. The gross income test does not apply if:

- the taxpayer's child is under 19 years of age at the end of the year, or
- the taxpayer's child is under 24 years of age at the end of the year and is a full-time student

To be considered a student, the taxpayer's child must attend school full-time for some part of each of five calendar months of the year. The five months need not be consecutive in order to qualify. School generally does not include night schools, on-the-job training courses, or correspondence schools.

ALERT

The Gross Income test is a limitation on claiming a dependency exemption. The exemption is denied even if the other dependency tests are met for a dependent that had gross income of $3,100 or more for the tax year. However, the exemption is allowed if the test does not apply.

INTERVIEW TIPS

Dependency Exemptions, The Gross Income Test

Probe/Action: Ask the taxpayer:

Step 1: Did the person have gross income of $3,100 or more during the year?	If YES, go to Step 2. If NO, the Gross Income Test does not apply. Proceed to the next test - The Support Test.
Step 2: Was the person your child?	If YES, go to Step 3. If NO, STOP. You cannot claim this person as a dependent.
Step 3: Was your child under age 19 at the end of the year?	If YES, the Gross Income Test does not apply. Proceed to the next test - The Support Test. If NO, go to Step 4.
Step 4: Was the child under age 24 at the end of the year and a full-time student for some part of each of the five months during the year?	If YES, the Gross Income Test does not apply. Proceed to the next test - The Support Test. If NO, STOP. You cannot claim this person as a dependent.

5. The Support Test

The support test requires that the taxpayer provide more than half of a person's total support for the entire year in order to claim that person as a dependent.

There are two exceptions to the support test:

- Multiple support, and
- Children of divorced or separated parents

(Both of these exceptions will be covered later in this section.)

To determine if the taxpayer provided more than half of the dependent's support, compare the amount that the taxpayer contributed to the person's support with the entire amount of support the person received from all sources. (Exhibit 1 provides a worksheet for figuring whether the taxpayer provided more than half of a dependent's support.)

State benefit payments like welfare, food stamps, and housing are considered support provided by the state, not by the parent, regardless of how the parent actually spends the funds.

Support provided for the dependent includes support paid from these sources: amounts withdrawn from savings; borrowed amounts, such as student loans and car loans; and tax-exempt income, including social security benefits, life insurance proceeds, nontaxable pensions, gifts, and tax-exempt interest.

Only the amount of a dependent's own funds that is actually spent on support is counted. Scholarships received by fulltime students are not included in total support.

Do not include in support any amounts that are:

- paid from a dependent's own funds for income and social security taxes,
- paid as life insurance premiums, or
- not spent, but saved or invested.

Total support items include food, clothing, shelter at fair rental value, education, medical and dental care, recreation, and transportation. Some support items, like food and rent, benefit more than one member of a household. Divide the value of these support items among the number of household members that benefit. Capital items like furniture, appliances, or autos should be included in support if the items are solely for the dependent's own use or benefit.

Example 1

Alexis, age 20, lived all year with her parents and younger sister in an apartment. Alexis earned $4,000 from her part-time job. She saved $1,000 for college and $500 was withheld for income and social security taxes. Alexis spent the remaining $2,500 on clothing, transportation, and recreation.

Alexis provided $2,500 of her own support. The college savings will not be counted as support until the money is spent. The funds used to pay income and social security tax are not considered to be support.

In order for Alexis' parents to claim her as a dependent, they must provide additional support of more than $2,500. Included in support items are one-fourth of the family's rent, utilities, grocery bills, and any additional amounts paid for Alexis' medical expenses and education.

No. You do not meet the support test for the person. You cannot claim an exemption for the person unless you can do so under a multiple support agreement. See Multiple Support , later.

Multiple Support

Sometimes, no one person provides more than half of an individual's support, but two or more persons together do. In this situation, anyone who separately provides over 10 percent of the person's total support and meets the other tests can claim the exemption for the dependent. Nonetheless, only one person can claim the exemption. All other persons who provided more than 10 percent of the support and who meet the other tests must sign a written statement agreeing not to claim the exemption for that year. Form 2120, *Multiple Support Declaration, is used to identify each of the others not claiming the exemption. The person who claims the exemption attaches Form(s) 2120 to his or her current year's tax return and must keep for his records the signed statement from the person agreeing not to claim the exemption.

Example 2

Henry E. and Harold S. Loras each provide more than 10 percent of the total support of their mother Angela S. Loras, but neither provides more than 50 percent. Together, Henry and Harold provide more than 50 percent. They decide that Henry will claim the exemption this year. Exhibit 2 shows the completed Form 2120 that Henry will attach to his return.

Children of Divorced or Separated Parents

The parent who has custody of the child for the greater part of the year (the custodial parent) will generally be considered as having provided over half of the child's support if all of the following conditions are met.

- The child received over half of his or her total support from one or both parents.
- The parents are divorced, legally separated, separated under a written separation agreement, or have lived apart at all times during the last six months of the calendar year.
- The child was in the custody of one or both parents for more than half of the calendar year.

The custodial parent will not be considered as having provided over half of the child's support if any of the following conditions exist.

- Over half of the support of the child is considered to have been received from a third party, such as a relative or friend, or the government (welfare benefits).
- The custodial parent signed Form 8332, Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents, or a similar statement, that allows the noncustodial parent to claim the exemption (this statement must be attached to the noncustodial parent's return).
- A decree or agreement that went into effect after 1984 unconditionally states that the noncustodial parent can claim the child as a dependent.
- A qualified pre-1985 agreement provides that the noncustodial parent shall be entitled to the exemption for the child and the noncustodial parent contributed at least $600 toward the child's support during the tax year, unless the pre-1985 agreement is modified after 1984 to specify that this provision will not apply.

Example 3

Ellen M. and Richard A. Stonehill are divorced. Under the terms of the 1984 divorce, Richard has custody of their two children, Alan R. and Mary E. The divorce decree specifies that Ellen can claim the dependency exemptions. Ellen provided $1,500 of support for each child. Assuming all other tests are met, Ellen can claim both children as dependents.

If Ellen had provided only $500 of support for each child, she could not claim dependency exemptions for the two children. To claim the exemptions, she must provide at least $600 of support for each child.

If the divorce occurred after 1984 and Richard and Ellen had agreed that Ellen would claim the dependency exemptions for the children, Ellen would attach Form 8332 or a similar statement to her tax return. Exhibit 3 shows a completed Form 8332 for Ellen.

DETERMINING THE NUMBER OF EXEMPTIONS TO CLAIM

When determining the number of exemptions to claim, first look at the personal exemptions and then review each of the tests for dependency exemptions. There are many factors to consider as well as several major exceptions.

REMEMBER: Do not claim an exemption for a person who can be claimed on another return.

Exhibit 5

Can You Claim an Exemption for a Dependent?

¹If the person was your legally adopted child and lived in your home as a member of your household for the entire tax year, answer "yes" to this question.

²If neither the person nor the person's spouse is required to file a return, but they file a joint return only to claim a refund of tax withheld, answer "no" to this question.

³Answer "yes" to this question if you meet the multiple support requirements under Multiple Support Agreement.

⁴Gross income for this purpose does not include income received by a permanently disabled individual at a sheltered workshop.

COMPLETING THE EXEMPTION SECTION OF FORMS 1040A AND 1040

Exemptions are claimed on lines 6a through 6d. The taxpayer's personal exemption is claimed on line 6a. The personal exemption for the taxpayer's spouse is claimed on line 6b. The total of lines 6a and 6b is entered on the line in the right-hand margin. The dependency exemptions are claimed on line 6c. The columns on line 6c are self explanatory. In column 3, enter the specific relationship for each dependent: son, daughter, grandson, granddaughter, etc. Column 4 is checked if the taxpayer's dependent is also a qualifying child for the child tax credit (see lesson 11). The line 6c exemptions are totaled on the three right-hand-margin lines that relate to:

- Children who lived with the taxpayer,
- Children who did not live with the taxpayer due to divorce or separation, and
- Other dependents not entered on the lines above.

Line 6d shows the total number of exemptions (See Exhibit 6).

▶▶ Summing Up This Section ◀◀

There are two types of exemptions: personal and dependency. Each exemption reduces taxable income by $3,100 in 2004.

A personal exemption can be claimed for a taxpayer and spouse if neither the taxpayer nor the spouse can be claimed on another taxpayer's return.

To claim a dependency exemption, the dependent must meet all of 5 tests.

1. The Member of Household or Relationship Test.
2. The Citizen or Resident Test.
3. The Joint Return Test.
4. The Gross Income Test.
5. The Support Test.

There are two exceptions to the gross income test.

- ▶ Taxpayers' children under age 19.
- ▶ Taxpayers' children under age 24 who are full-time students.

There are two exceptions to the support test.

- ▶ The multiple-support agreement.
- ▶ Children of divorced or separated parents.

DEPENDENCY EXEMPTIONS

Lesson 1
Military Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVE

The basic segment explained the tests that must be met before a person can be claimed as a dependent. In this segment you will find more information about the support and citizen or resident tests to help you assist members of the Armed Forces.

SUPPORT TEST

Armed Forces Member as a Dependent

A person who has been in the Armed Forces for the entire year cannot be claimed as a dependent because the support test will not have been met. A person in the Armed Forces for only part of the year can be claimed as a dependent if all the dependency tests are met. All amounts received from the Armed Forces that are used for the person's support must be taken into account.

If a person is appointed to one of the Armed Forces academies and is at the academy all year, he or she cannot be a dependent. An appointee at the academy for only part of the year may qualify as a dependent if all the tests are met.

Exercise 1

Kathleen Simmons is 18 and single. Kathleen graduated from high school in June 2004 and entered the U.S. Air Force in September 2004. Kathleen provided $3,400 (wages of $2,400 and $1,000 for other items provided by the Air Force) for her own support, and her parents provided $3,600. Can Kathleen's parents claim a dependency exemption for her for 2004?

Answer _____

Armed Forces Member Claiming a Dependent

If a member of the military has authorized a dependency allotment and the allotment is used to support dependents who did not live with him or her for reasons other than divorce or separation, the member can claim the exemptions if all the dependency tests are met.

Example

Army Pvt. Gary Fairfield authorized a dependency allotment for his mother. She used the amount received to support herself and Gary's 10-year-old sister. Gary provided no other funds for their support. If the allotment provides more than half of their total support for the year and all other dependency tests are met, Gary can claim exemptions for both his mother and his sister, even though the allotment was authorized for his mother only.

Exercise 2

Cpt. Jim Mills authorized a dependency allotment for his son, John. The allotment ($150 a month) was in effect for all of 2004. How much support should Cpt. Mills consider he provided for John in 2004?

Answer _____

CITIZEN OR RESIDENT TEST

To meet the citizen or resident test, the taxpayer's dependent must be a U.S. citizen, a U.S. resident, or a resident of Canada or Mexico for some part of the calendar year in which the taxpayer's tax year begins.

Exercise 3

The wife of Col. William Bates is a Greek citizen. Her sister, Athena, who is also a Greek citizen, lived in the Bates' home in Greece for the entire tax year. Col. Bates provided more than 50% of Athena's total support.

- a. Can Col. Bates claim his sister-in-law as a dependent?

Answer _____

- b. What would be your answer to (a) if Athena were a Canadian citizen living in the Bates' home in Greece for the entire year?

Answer _____

Children are usually citizens or residents of the country of their parents. If you were a U.S. citizen when your child was born, the child may be a U.S. citizen although the other parent was a non-resident alien and the child was born in a foreign country.

A U.S. citizen who has legally adopted a child who is not a U.S. citizen or resident can claim the child as a dependent if the other dependency tests are met and if, for the entire tax year:

1. The taxpayer's home is the child's main home, and
2. The child is a member of the taxpayer's household.

Exercise 4

Sgt. John Ranger, a U.S. citizen who has been in the U.S. Army for 13 years, is stationed in Germany. His wife is a German citizen who has never lived in the United States. Their 2-year-old son was born in Germany. Sgt. Ranger's stepdaughter, a German citizen whom Sgt. Ranger has not adopted, also lives with them. The Rangers provide total support for the two children. How many dependency exemptions can Sgt. Ranger claim on a joint return?

Answer _____

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS SEGMENT ◀◀

In this segment you have learned how the support and citizen or resident tests for the dependency exemption apply to some military situations.

DEPENDENCY EXEMPTIONS

Lesson 1
Military Segment

ANSWERS TO EXERCISES

1. Yes. The support test is met.
2. $1,800.
3.
 - a. No. His sister-in-law was not a citizen or resident of the United States at any time during the year.
 - b. No. Athena would have to reside in Canada for at least some part of the year to qualify.
4. One. The stepdaughter does not qualify as a U.S. citizen or resident. The son qualifies because his father is a U.S. citizen.

EXEMPTION FOR A FOREIGN SPOUSE

Lesson 1
Military Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

There are special tax laws and filing procedures that must be followed in order to prepare to file federal income tax returns accurately for citizens or residents of the United States who have spouses who are nonresident aliens. When we are finished with this segment you will be able to determine if a taxpayer is entitled to claim the personal exemption for a foreign spouse.

PERSONAL EXEMPTIONS

Each taxpayer is allowed a personal exemption (unless the taxpayer is claimed by someone else). On a Married Filing Separate return a spouse's personal exemption may be claimed by the taxpayer if the spouse had no gross income and is not claimed by anyone else. Remember: a spouse is never the dependent of the taxpayer.

If your spouse is a nonresident alien, he or she can choose to file a joint return with you. If the nonresident alien spouse makes this choice, they will be treated like a resident alien for tax purposes. This means that they will have to include all of their worldwide income on the joint U.S. tax return. Your spouse does not have to be from Canada or Mexico to make this choice.

Example 1

Pat Simpson, a U.S. citizen, is married to Frank, a nonresident alien. Pat and Frank make the choice to treat Frank as a resident alien by attaching a statement to their joint return. Pat and Frank must report their worldwide income for the year they make the choice and for all later years unless the choice is ended or suspended. Although Pat and Frank must file a joint return for the year they make the choice, they can file either joint or separate returns for later years. If your nonresident alien spouse does not choose to be treated as a resident alien, you may be able to claim an exemption for the spouse on a married filing separate return. The nonresident spouse must not have any gross income for U.S. tax purposes and cannot be the dependent of another U.S. taxpayer. The spouse must have a Taxpayer Identification Number.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS SEGMENT ◀◀

- ▶ In general, a taxpayer can claim an exemption for a nonresident alien spouse if he or she chooses to file a joint return with them and be taxed as a resident alien.
- ▶ A taxpayer can claim a nonresident alien spouse on his or her married filing separate return if the nonresident alien spouse has no income for U.S. tax purposes and is not the dependent of another U.S. taxpayer.
- ▶ Every person claimed on a return must have a Taxpayer Identification Number.

EXEMPTIONS FOR FOREIGN SPOUSE OR DEPENDENT

Lesson 1

International Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will explain the special rules that may affect a taxpayer's ability to claim a foreign spouse and/or dependent on their return.

After completing this lesson, you should be able to:

- Determine whether the taxpayer is a non-resident alien or resident alien
- Differentiate between a resident for tax purposes and a resident for immigration purposes
- Apply the dependency test for taxpayer living overseas

PERSONAL AND DEPENDENCY EXEMPTIONS

Each taxpayer is allowed a personal exemption (unless the taxpayer is claimed by someone else). On a Married Filing Separate return a spouse's personal exemption may be claimed by the taxpayer if the spouse had no gross income and is not claimed by anyone else. Remember: a spouse is never the dependent of the taxpayer.

The five dependency tests are essentially the same for taxpayers living overseas.

Citizenship Test. To meet this test a person must be a U.S. citizen or national, or a resident of the U.S., Canada or Mexico for some part of the tax year. If a U.S. citizen marries a nonresident alien, any child born to them may be entitled to U.S. citizenship. In most instances the U.S. parent will register the child with the U.S. Embassy or Consulate closest to where they live. If the child may claim U.S. citizenship, the child meets the citizenship test for dependency purposes, even though the family is living in a foreign country. Proof of citizenship is not required to be attached to the return. But if the item is questioned by the IRS, the U.S. citizen parent will have to obtain the necessary documentation from the U.S. government.

Example 1

Betty Glinn, a U.S. citizen, is married to Giovanni Glinn, an Italian citizen. They are currently living in Rome. Their daughter, Patricia, meets the citizenship test for dependency since she is entitled to U.S. citizenship because of her U.S. parent.

Occasionally, you will encounter a situation where a U.S. citizen adopts a child who is not a U.S. citizen. In those circumstances, the adopted child can meet the citizenship test if he or she lives with the U.S. citizen parent for the entire tax year (except for temporary absences).

DETERMINING ALIEN STATUS

Throughout this course material, we refer to U.S. citizens or resident aliens. In order to apply the tax law correctly, you need to determine alien status.

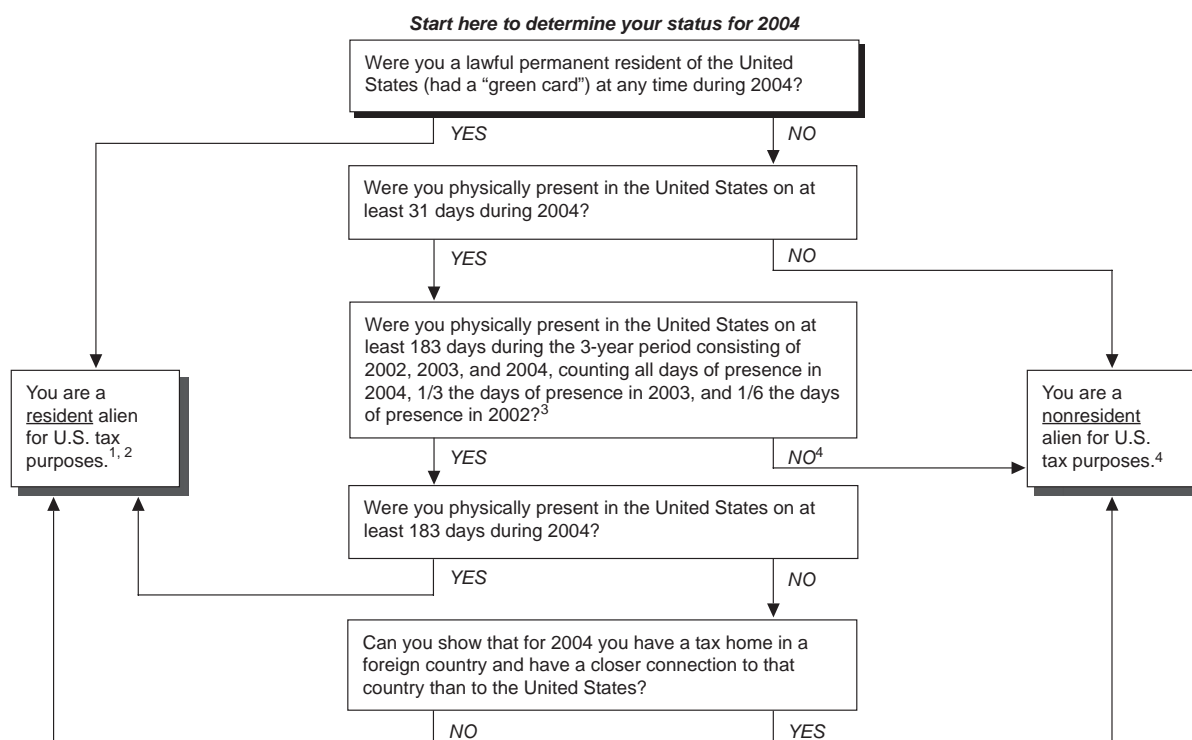

The first issue that must be decided is whether the taxpayer is a nonresident alien. If he/she is a nonresident alien then the taxpayer must be referred to get specialized help. Your training covers only the tax law as it applies to a citizen or a resident alien so this determination is very important. Remember that we are discussing taxes here. A resident for tax purposes is not necessarily a resident for immigration purposes.

The following is an excerpt from Publication 519 (U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens). This section discusses the rules for determining alien status. These issues are complex. In this lesson, we will use examples to review the differences between resident and non-resident aliens.

Glance or read over the following material, especially the flow chart, and get a feel for what is involved.

Exhibit 1. Nonresident Alien or Resident Alien?

¹ If this is your first or last year of residency, you may have a dual status for the year. See Dual Status Aliens in Pub. 519.

² In some circumstances you may still be considered a nonresident alien under an income tax treaty between the U.S. and your country. Check the provisions of the treaty carefully.

³ Do not count the days you were unable to leave the United States because of a medical condition that arose while you were in the United States.

⁴ If you meet the substantial presence test for 2005, you may be able to choose treatment as a U.S. resident alien for part of 2004. For details, see Substantial Presence Test under Resident Aliens and First-Year Choice under Dual-Status Aliens in Pub. 519.

If the taxpayer is an alien (not a U.S. citizen), he or she is considered a nonresident alien unless he or she meets either the green card test or the substantial presence test.

Green Card Test

You are a resident for tax purposes if you are a lawful permanent resident of the United States at any time during the calendar year. (However, see Dual Status, later.) This is known as the “green card” test. You are a lawful permanent resident of the United States at any time if you have been given the privilege, according to the immigration laws, of residing permanently in the United States as an immigrant. You generally have this status if the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services (BCIS) has issued you an alien registration card, also known as a “green card.” You continue to have resident status under this test unless it is taken away from you or is administratively or judicially determined to have been abandoned.

Substantial Presence Test

You will be considered a U.S. resident for tax purposes if you meet the substantial presence test for the calendar year. To meet this test, you must be physically present in the United States on at least:

1. 31 days during the current year, and
2. 183 days during the 3-year period that includes the current year and the two years immediately before that, counting:
 - a. All the days you were present in the current year (2004) and
 - b. 1/3 of the days you were present in the first year before the current year (2003) and
 - c. 1/6 of the days you were present in the second year before the current year (2002).

Example 1

You were physically present in the United States on 120 days in each of the years 2002, 2003, and 2004. To determine if you meet the substantial presence test for 2004, count the full 120 days of presence in 2004, 40 days in 2003 (1/3 of 120), and 20 days in 2002 (1/6 of 120). Since the total for the 3-year period is 180 days, you are not considered a resident under the substantial presence test for 2004.

The term United States includes the following:

1. All 50 states and the District of Columbia
2. The territorial waters of the United States, and
3. The seabed and subsoil of those submarine areas that are adjacent to the U.S. territorial waters and over which the United States has exclusive rights under international law to explore and exploit natural resources.

The term does not include U.S. possessions and territories or U.S. air space.

Days of Presence in the United States

You are treated as present in the United States on any day if you are physically present in the country at any time during the day. However, there are exceptions to this rule. Do not count the following as days of presence in the United States for the substantial presence test:

1. Days you regularly commute to work in the United States from a residence in Canada or Mexico.
2. Days you are in the United States for less than 24 hours when you are in transit between two places outside the United States.
3. Days you were unable to leave the United States because of a medical condition that developed while you were in the United States.

4. Days you were an exempt individual.

Regular commuters from Canada or Mexico. Do not count the days on which you regularly commute to work in the United States from your residence in Canada or Mexico. You are considered to commute regularly if you commute to work in the United States on more than 75 percent of the workdays during your working period.

For this purpose, commute means to travel to work and return to your residence within a 24-hour period. Workdays are the days on which you work in the United States or Canada or Mexico.

Working period means the period beginning with the first day in 2004 which you are physically present in the United States to work. If your work requires you to be present in the United States only on a seasonal or cyclical basis, your working period begins on the first day of the season or cycle on which you are present in the United States to work and ends on the last day of the season or cycle on which you are in the United States to work. Thus, you may have more than one working period in 2004, and your working period may begin in one calendar year and end in the following calendar year.

Exempt individual. For the substantial presence test, do not count days for which you are an exempt individual. The term “exempt individual” does not refer to someone exempt from U.S. tax, but to anyone in the following categories.

1. An individual temporarily present in the United States as a foreign government-related individual.
2. A teacher or trainee, temporarily present in the United States under a “J” or “Q” visa, who substantially complies with the requirements of the visa.
3. A student, temporarily present in the United States under an “F,” “J,” “M,” or “Q” visa, who substantially complies with the requirements of the visa.
4. A professional athlete temporarily in the United States to compete in a charitable sports event.

After reviewing the rules above, if there are still questions, refer the taxpayer to Publication 519 or to the IRS Information line for alien status determination.

DUAL STATUS

In general, for the first and last year of resident alien status the taxpayer will be considered a “dual status” alien (both resident and nonresident) and special rules apply. Generally, dual status aliens should be referred to the IRS or paid tax professional.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS SEGMENT ◀◀

A resident alien is treated the same as a citizen for tax purposes. The main issues are:

1. Does the taxpayer have a “green card”? If so, then the taxpayer will be considered a resident alien and will meet the citizenship test.
2. Has the taxpayer been here in the U.S. long enough to qualify for the substantial presence test? If so, then the taxpayer is considered a resident alien on a year by year basis (this applies even though the person may be considered “illegal”) and would meet the citizenship test.
3. Remember that certain people are “exempt individuals” and do not count days toward the substantial presence test. They will not be treated as a resident and will not meet the citizenship test for dependency.

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn how to determine the correct filing status to use when completing a tax return. You will also learn how to establish whether there is a filing requirement and which tax form to use. You must choose the correct filing status before you can determine if there is a filing requirement. The filing status is also used to determine whether you are eligible to claim certain deductions and credits.

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Apply the requirements for each of the five filing statuses.
- Determine who must file.
- Determine who should file.
- Select the appropriate tax form to use.

TRAINING MATERIALS AND ON-SITE REFERENCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS publications and forms. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the publications or forms, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form 1040A and Form 1040, Filing Status section

LESSON REVIEW - FILING STATUS

1. Students may wonder when spouses filing separately can achieve a lower tax. If one spouse has high medical or miscellaneous expenses or large casualty losses, for example, separate returns may result in lower taxes because a lower adjusted gross income allows more expenses or losses to be deducted.
2. Students may wonder which absences qualify as “temporary” in determining head of household filing status. Remind them that temporary absences include those that are for school, vacation, illness, business, or military service.

ALERT

Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide has helpful charts and interview questions to assist you in determining the correct filing status.

GUIDED QUESTIONS - FILING STATUS

- 1. Is married filing jointly the only status available to spouses? (No; they can file married filing separately.)
- 2. Can a married couple file separate returns even if one spouse had no income? (Yes)
- 3. If a married couple files separately, can only one spouse itemize deductions? (No; if one itemizes, the other must itemize because he or she cannot take the standard deduction.)
- 4. Must the person who qualifies the taxpayer as head of household be claimed as the taxpayer's dependent? (Yes, unless the person is the taxpayer's child—with some exceptions.)

TEACHING TIPS - FILING STATUS

- Review with students, from the earlier discussion of the head of household status, which individuals qualify as a “child.” Included are a natural child, a grandchild, a stepchild, and an adopted child. Explain that each of these individuals also qualifies as a “child” when determining qualifying widow(er) with dependent child filing status.
- Remind students that this filing status is only available for 2 years following the year of death of the spouse.
- The material in this section deals with the surviving spouse's return. However, volunteers should know that a tax return must sometimes be filed on behalf of a deceased person. If the surviving spouse files a joint return with the deceased spouse for the year of death, a separate return is not required for the deceased spouse. A tax return must be filed on behalf of any other deceased taxpayer whose income exceeded the limits outlined in this Lesson. See Publication 559, Survivors, Executors, and Administrators, for more information.

GUIDED QUESTIONS - HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD

- 1. For a relative to qualify a taxpayer for the head of household filing status, how long must the taxpayer's home be the main home of the relative? (More than half the year.)
- 2. What happens when the name of the qualifying person is not entered on a head of household return? (The IRS will delay processing the return and correspond with the taxpayer because the return cannot be processed without this information. See the Tax Tips feature in the student text.)

GUIDED QUESTIONS - FILING STATUS - WIDOW(ER)

- 1. What information must you know in order to determine if a widow or widower can use the qualifying widow(er) with dependent child filing status? (The year the spouse died; whether or not the taxpayer was entitled to file a joint return for the year that the spouse died; and whether or not the taxpayer has furnished over half the cost for the year of keeping up the main home of a child, foster child, stepchild, or adopted child, who qualified as the taxpayer's dependent.)
- 2. If a taxpayer has not remarried, is there a limit to the number of years after the death of a spouse that he or she may use the qualifying widow(er) with dependent child filing status? (Yes; the taxpayer can only use the qualifying widow(er) status for the two years following the year of death; if all other qualifications are met.)

GUIDED QUESTIONS - FILING STATUS

- 1. Why is it important to select the correct filing status? (Because the filing status factors in how much tax will be due.)
- 2. What two filing statuses generally yield the lowest tax due? (Married filing jointly and qualifying widow(er) with dependent child.)
- 3. Do filing statuses vary depending on the tax form? (No.)
- 4. When a taxpayer is eligible for more than one filing status, which status do you select? (You recommend the taxpayer select the one that yields the lowest tax.)

TEACHING TIPS - RELATED PUBLICATIONS

Remind students that Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax, and Publication 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information are excellent tools to assist with determining filing status.

GUIDED QUESTIONS - WHO MUST FILE

- 1. What information must a volunteer have in order to determine if an individual must file a tax return? (The individual's filing status, age, gross income, and type of income are needed. The volunteer must also determine: if some of the income is excludable, whether the individual can be claimed as a dependent on another tax return, if the individual is blind, and whether the individual received advance earned income credit payments.)
- 2. With which group of individuals should volunteers use Chart A—For Most People? (Individuals who cannot be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return.)

3. What chart should be used with all individuals, regardless of their dependency status? (Chart C—Other Situations When You Must File.)
4. Direct students’ attention to Chart A—For Most People, and ask, “How does the information in the right-hand column determine if an individual must file?” (If the individual’s gross income is at least the amount listed in the right-hand column, the individual must file a return.)
5. What charts and checklists apply specifically to individuals who can be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer’s return? (Chart B—For Children and Other Dependents, and Dependents Who Must or Should File a Return.)

LESSON REVIEW - BLIND DEPENDENTS

1. Students may ask whether a single individual who is blind (and can be claimed as a dependent) must also be 65 years or older to use the Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind in the form instructions. Review Form 1040 (or Form 1040A) and its instructions to help students understand that if a taxpayer is EITHER blind or 65 or older, the Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind must be used. Review also the Standard Deduction Worksheet for Dependents (in the instructions) that is used if the taxpayer is a dependent.
2. Point out to students that “blindness” may not be a simple determination. Individuals whose sight is not better than 20/200 in their best eye while wearing contact lenses or glasses, or whose field of vision is 20 degrees or less, might be legally blind. Remind students that determining if an individual is legally blind requires volunteers to use some of their effective interviewing skills.
3. Remind students to appropriately complete the age/blindness boxes on the tax return. Stress to students that quality-review checks revealed that the failure to complete the age/blindness indicator was one of the most frequent errors.

Also stress that if any of these boxes are checked, the Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind must be used. If the taxpayer is also a dependent, use the Standard Deduction Worksheet for Dependents. The chart and the worksheet are both in the form 1040 instructions.

TEACHING TIPS - TAX TERMS AND WHO MUST FILE

1. Despite the advice given in the student text, some students will insist that it is important for them to know the meanings of all the unfamiliar tax terms NOW.

Explain that, just as taxpayers will have to trust the students' expertise when they assist them, you are asking students to trust you. Assure them that they can accomplish the objectives of this lesson quite successfully without understanding the meaning of the vocabulary in question.

2. As you lead students in using the charts to determine whether an individual MUST or SHOULD file a return, think of how we interchangeably use the words must and should in everyday speech. For the purposes of tax assistance situations, it is important that students recognize and respect the different implications of these words for taxpayers. As you conduct in-class discussions, listen carefully to make certain that your students are using the words in the correct context.

GUIDED QUESTIONS - FILING REQUIREMENTS

1. In what situation should a dependent be required to file a tax return, although Chart B may indicate that he or she does not have to file? (A married dependent with at least $5 of income whose spouse itemizes deductions on a separate return; a dependent with at least $400 of net self-employment income; and a dependent who is not required to file but had income tax withheld.)
2. What is self-employment income? (Earned income from farming or a trade, business, or other profession that is not paid by an employer.)
3. What chart should you use as a last step in determining who must file? (Chart C—Other Situations When You Must File.)
4. In what three instances should an individual file a return, even if the charts noted in this lesson indicate that filing is not necessary? (To claim a refund of withheld taxes, to claim the earned income credit, and to claim the additional child tax credit.)

GUIDED QUESTION – FILING STATUS – MILITARY SEGMENT

1. Can a taxpayer ever be considered unmarried even though they are married on December 31?

Yes, for head of household filing status only—if the spouse is a nonresident alien and does not choose to be treated as a resident alien for tax purposes the taxpayer may be considered unmarried. All other head of household qualifications must be met.

STUDENT NOTES

Filing Status and Filing Requirements

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn how to determine the correct filing status to use when completing a tax return. You will also learn how to establish whether there is a filing requirement and which tax form to use. You must choose the correct filing status before you can determine if there is a filing requirement. The filing status is also used to determine whether the taxpayer is eligible to claim certain deductions and credits.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Apply the requirements for each of the five filing statuses.
- Determine who must file.
- Determine who should file.
- Select the appropriate tax form to use.

FILING STATUS

There are five filing statuses:

1. Single
2. Married filing jointly
3. Married filing separately
4. Head of household, and
5. Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child

In general, the taxpayer's filing status depends on whether they are considered unmarried or married. Determining the appropriate filing status is critical to accuracy of the taxpayer's return.

SINGLE

A taxpayer is considered single if, on the last day of the year, either of the following is true.

- The taxpayer was never married.
- The taxpayer was legally separated, according to state law, under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance.

A taxpayer can also be considered single if the taxpayer was widowed before January 1, 2004, and did not remarry in 2004. However, the taxpayer may be able to use another filing status that will give a lower tax. See Head of Household and Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child, later.

MARRIED FILING A JOINT RETURN

Taxpayers may use the married filing jointly status if they are married. They are considered married if, on the last day of the year, one of the following applies:

- They are married and live together as husband and wife.
- They live together in a common-law marriage recognized in the state where they now live or in the state where the common-law marriage began.
- They are married and live apart but are not legally separated under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance.
- They are separated under an interlocutory (not final) divorce decree.
- The taxpayer's spouse died during the year and the taxpayer has not remarried.

If taxpayers file a joint return, combine the husband's and wife's tax items (for example, income) on the same return. Both the husband and wife must sign the return and both are responsible for any tax owed on that return. Taxpayers can choose the married filing joint status even if only one spouse has income.

Taxpayers filing a joint return generally have a lower tax than their combined tax for any other filing status.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

A common-law marriage is recognized for federal tax purposes if the marriage is recognized by the state where the taxpayers now live or in the state in which the common-law marriage was entered. Legal advice may be required to determine if a common-law marriage exists.

MARRIED FILING A SEPARATE RETURN

Taxpayers who are married may choose to file separately. The husband and wife report their own incomes and deductions on separate returns. Taxpayers may choose the married filing separately status even if one spouse had no income.

If the taxpayers live in a community property state, they must follow state law to determine their separate income. For more information, see Publication 555, Community Property.

If a married couple files separately and one spouse itemizes deductions, the other spouse must also itemize deductions because he or she cannot take the standard deduction. See Lesson 5 for more information on itemized deductions.

Taxpayers filing separate returns generally have a higher tax than when filing jointly. Occasionally, however, separate returns may result in a lower tax. If you think this might be the case, compute the tax liability for (a) married filing jointly and (b) married filing separately. Choose the filing status that results in the lower tax.

When a married taxpayer files separately, the taxpayer must show his or her spouse's name and social security number on the return in the label section or line 3.

HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD

In general, the head of household status is for unmarried taxpayers (or those considered unmarried) who pay more than half the cost of keeping up a home for a qualified relative during the year.

Generally, taxpayers who file under the head of household filing status have a lower tax than if they file as single. If they qualify, taxpayers should use the head of household status instead of the single status.

Head of Household Qualifications

1. The taxpayer must be unmarried (single, divorced, or legally separated) on the last day of the year

OR

The taxpayer must meet the tests for married persons living apart with dependent children (explained later in this lesson)

AND

2. The taxpayer must have paid more than half the cost of keeping up a home that was the main home for more than half the year (except for temporary absences) of any of the following:

- A. The taxpayer's unmarried child who must have lived with the taxpayer but does not have to have been the taxpayer's dependent,
- B. The taxpayer's foster child who must have lived with the taxpayer and must have been the taxpayer's dependent, the entire year, or
- C. Only the relatives listed at the end of this discussion that lived with the taxpayer and who were the taxpayer's dependents.

EXCEPTION: The taxpayer may claim head of household filing status if the taxpayer's parent is claimed as a dependent, even if the parent does not live with the taxpayer. However, the taxpayer must pay more than half the cost of maintaining the parent's home for the entire year.

- D. The taxpayer's married child—who must have lived with the taxpayer and who must have been the taxpayer's dependent unless:

- The child is not a dependent because the taxpayer signed a written declaration allowing the noncustodial parent to claim the child as a dependent, or
- The child is not a dependent because the noncustodial parent provides at least $600 of support for the child and claims the child as a dependent under a pre-1985 divorce decree or agreement.

ALERT

A foster child must live with the taxpayer for the entire year to qualify as a dependent.

“Child” includes:

- Grandchild; stepchild; adopted child

“Relative” includes:

- Parent, grandparent
- Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister
- Half brother, half sister
- Stepmother, stepfather
- Mother-in-law, father-in-law
- Brother-in-law, sister-in-law
- Son-in-law, daughter-in-law

AND (if related by blood)

- Uncle, or aunt, nephew, or niece

“Relative” does not include cousins and more distant relatives.

Keeping Up the Home

The taxpayer must pay more than half the cost of keeping up the home. The cost of keeping up a home includes: rent, mortgage interest, real estate taxes, insurance on the home, repairs, utilities, domestic help, and food eaten in the home. Welfare payments are not considered amounts that the taxpayer furnishes to keep up a home.

The home must have been the main home for more than half the year except for temporary absences. Temporary absences include those for school, vacation, illness, business, or military service.

The following chart may help you decide who is eligible to claim head of household filing status.

Exhibit 1

Qualifying Relations for Head of Household
Relationship to Taxpayer	Must Live with Taxpayer?	Must be Taxpayer's Dependent?
1. Unmarried child, grandchild, or step child	Yes	No
2. Married child, grandchild, or step child	Yes	Yes*
3. Foster child	Yes	Yes
4. Mother or father	No	Yes
5. Other relatives	Yes	Yes
Exceptions:
* The married child does not have to be the taxpayer's dependent if a noncustodial parent claims the child as a dependent under the rules for children of divorced or separated parents.
 Cousins and more distant relatives do not qualify as "relatives" in determining head of household status.
NOTE: The taxpayer's home must be the main home of the relative for more than half the year. The relative cannot be a person who files a joint return.
The foster child must live with the taxpayer for the entire year.

Married Persons Living Apart With Dependent Children

Some married taxpayers who live apart from their spouses may be considered unmarried for tax purposes. If so, these taxpayers are permitted to file as head of household and receive the benefit of lower tax amounts.

A married taxpayer can file as head of household if:

1. The taxpayer files a separate return,
2. The taxpayer paid more than half the cost of keeping up his or her home for the year,
3. The taxpayer's spouse did not live in the home during the last six months of the year,
4. The taxpayer's home was the main home of the taxpayer's child, stepchild, or adopted child for more than half of the year or of the taxpayer's foster child for the entire year, and
5. The taxpayer claims the child, stepchild, adopted child, or foster child as a dependent, unless one of the following exceptions for divorced or separated parents applies:
 - the taxpayer signed a statement allowing the noncustodial parent to claim the child as a dependent, or
 - the noncustodial parent provided at least $600 for the child's support and can claim the dependent under a pre-1985 agreement.

Reporting Head of Household Filing Status

Taxpayers must enter the name of the person who qualifies them for the head of household status. If the person is a dependent, enter the dependent's name on line 6c of the exemption section of the tax return. If the qualifying person is not a dependent, enter the name of the nondependent person on line 4 in the filing status section of the tax return.

Example 4

Darlisa is divorced and provided over half the cost of keeping up a home. Her five-year-old daughter, Pam, lived with her for seven months last year. Darlisa does not claim Pam as a dependent; her ex-husband does.

Darlisa may use head of household status. Darlisa must write Pam's name in the space on Form 1040 or 1040A, on line 4.

Exhibit 2

	Check only one box.

QUALIFYING WIDOW(ER) WITH DEPENDENT CHILD

A widow or widower, with one or more dependent children, may be able to use the qualifying widow(er) with dependent child filing status. This filing status yields the lowest tax rate (the same tax for married filing jointly).

If the taxpayer's spouse died during 2002 or 2003 and the taxpayer did not remarry before the end of 2004, the taxpayer may be able to file as a qualifying widow(er) with dependent child. To qualify, the taxpayer must:

- Have been entitled to file a joint return for the year the spouse died (it does not matter whether or not a joint return was actually filed),

AND

- Have a child, foster child, adopted child, or stepchild who qualifies as the taxpayer's dependent for the year,

AND

- Have furnished over half the cost of keeping up a home that was the main home of the child for the entire year.

An "adopted child" includes a child placed with the taxpayer by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption.

Social Security survivor benefits received on behalf of the child are considered to be amounts furnished by the child, not by the parent.

In the year a taxpayer's spouse dies, if the taxpayer does not remarry, he or she can use the married filing jointly filing status or married filing separately filing status and can claim an exemption for the deceased spouse. For two years after the year of death, the taxpayer may file as a qualifying widow(er) with dependent child, but may not claim an exemption for the deceased spouse. After the second year following the year of death, the taxpayer can no longer use the qualifying widow(er) filing status. The taxpayer may use either the head of household or single filing status depending on his or her situation then.

The following chart may help you decide which filing status to use for a taxpayer with a qualifying dependent if the spouse is deceased and the taxpayer has not remarried.

Exhibit 3

Filing Status After Death of Spouse

1. Year of Death	Married (joint) OR Married (separate)	Yes
2. First Year after death	Qualifying widow(er)*	No
3. Second year after death	Qualifying widow(er)*	No
4. After the second year after death	Head of household OR Single	No
* With a qualifying dependent.
 With a qualifying relative.

You may find the flowchart shown in Exhibit 4 helpful in determining the correct filing status. It has some of the same questions as shown in the Interview Tips on the following page.

INTERVIEW TIPS

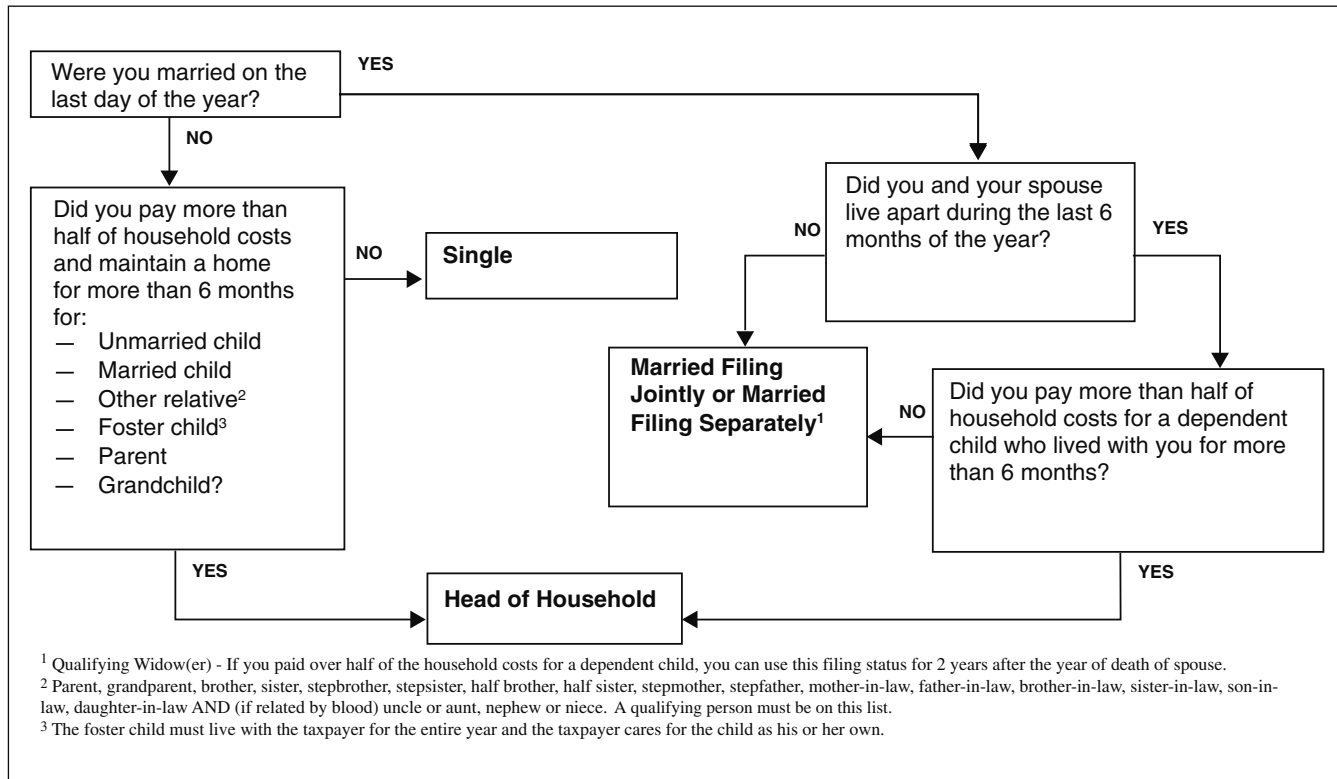

Filing Status

Probe/Action: Ask the taxpayer:

Step 1: Were you considered married as a legal union between a man and a woman as husband and wife on December 31st of the tax year (answer yes if state common law rules met)?	If YES, go to Step 2. If NO, go to Step 5.
Step 2: Do you and your spouse wish to file a joint return?	If YES, STOP. Your filing status is Married Filing Jointly. If NO, go to Step 3.
Step 3: Did you have a child living in your home during the tax year?	If YES, go to Step 4. If NO, STOP. Your filing status is Married Filing Separately.
Step 4: Can you be considered unmarried? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ You file a separate return ■ Paid more than half the cost of keeping up a main home ■ Your spouse did not live in your home during the last 6 months (including temporary absences) of the tax year ■ Your home was the main home of your child, stepchild, or adopted child for more than half the year or was the main home of your foster child for the entire year ■ You must be able to claim an exemption for the child (Exception – non-custodial parent correctly claims exemption) 	If YES, STOP. Your filing status is Head of Household. If NO, STOP. Your filing status is Married Filing Separately.
Step 5: Did your spouse die in 2002 or 2003?	If YES, go to Step 6. If NO, go to Step 7.
Step 6: Can you be considered a qualifying widow(er) with a dependent child? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ You were entitled to file a joint return with your spouse for the year your spouse died ■ You did not remarry before the end of this tax year ■ You have a dependent child you can claim as an exemption ■ You paid more than half the cost of keeping up a main home for you and that child for the entire year 	If YES, STOP. Your filing status is Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child. If NO, go to Step 7.
Step 7: Do you have a qualifying person for Head of Household Filing status? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ You paid more than half the cost of keeping up a main home ■ A qualifying person* lived with you more than half the year (Exception for dependent parent, foster child, and kidnapped child) 	If YES, STOP. Your filing status is Head of Household. If NO, STOP. Your filing status is Single.

*See Exhibit 4, footnote 2, for a list of qualifying persons.

When using TaxWise to prepare a tax return, you will need to have the Social Security Number of anyone who qualifies the taxpayer for Head of Household filing status and is not the taxpayer's dependent.

For Qualifying Widow(er) filing status, you must enter the year of death of the deceased spouse.

For Married Filing Separate status, you will need the spouse's full name and Social Security number.

►► Summing Up This Section ◀◀

When completing their tax returns, taxpayers can use one of five filing statuses:

Tax Status

(from lowest tax to highest tax)

1. Married filing jointly*
2. Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child*
3. Head of household
4. Single
5. Married filing separately

* Numbers 1 and 2 yield the same (lowest) tax.

Filing status is indicated on lines 1 through 5 of Forms 1040A and 1040. Selecting the correct filing status is one of the most important aspects of completing a tax return because the filing status factors in how much tax will be due. Remember that filing status requirements do not change, regardless of the tax form used. If a taxpayer is qualified to use more than one filing status, choose the one that will result in the lowest tax.

WHO MUST FILE—WHO SHOULD FILE

WHO MUST FILE

To decide who must file a tax return, you will need to know the individual's:

- filing status,
- age,
- gross income,

and if:

- special taxes might be owed on different types of income,
- some of the income is excludable or exempt,
- the individual can be claimed as a dependent on another's tax return,
- the individual is blind, or
- the individual received advance earned income credit payments.

You may not be familiar with some of the terms used on the list. These terms will be explained in later lessons. For now, concentrate on learning how to use the charts and checklists.

How to Use the Charts and Flowcharts

You will use a set of charts to determine who must file. An individual who cannot be claimed as a dependent on another tax-payer's return will use Chart A—For Most People. Based on the individual's circumstances, a person who can be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return will use one of the other charts. Chart C—Other Situations When You Must File should be reviewed for every individual.

Exhibit 5

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

If a checklist or chart indicates that a person must file a return, he or she should do so even if no tax is owed. If a minor child must file a return but cannot do so, the child's parent or guardian must complete and sign a return for the child.

Chart B—For Children and Other Dependents (See the instructions for line 6c on page 18 to find out if someone can claim you as a dependent.)

If your parent (or someone else) can claim you as a dependent, use this chart to see if you must file a return. In this chart, unearned income includes taxable interest, ordinary dividends, and capital gain distributions. Earned income includes wages, tips, and taxable scholarship and fellowship grants. Gross income is the total of your unearned and earned income.

If your gross income was $3,100 or more, you usually cannot be claimed as a dependent unless you were under age 19 at the end of 2004 or a student and under age 24 at the end of 2004. For details, see Pub. 501.

Single dependents. Were you either age 65 or older or blind?

DEPENDENTS WHO MUST OR SHOULD FILE A RETURN—CHECKLIST

The dependents listed in the following checklist must or should file a return.

Exhibit 7

Checklist—Children and Other Dependents

- A married dependent with at least $5 of income whose spouse itemizes deductions on a separate return on Form 1040 must file a return.
- A dependent with at least $400 of net self-employment income must file a return. Self-employment income is earned income from a trade, business, farming or profession that is not paid by an employer. For example, seamstresses and lawn-care workers who work for themselves (and not for someone else) are considered self-employed.
- A dependent who is not required to file but had income tax withheld should file a return to get a refund.
- A dependent who has to pay a tax, such as the alternative minimum tax, must file a return.

OTHER SITUATIONS

Remember to review the Chart C—Other Situations When You Must File chart after you use the other charts.

Chart C — Other Situations When You Must File

You must file a return if any of the four conditions below apply for 2004.

1. You owe any special taxes, such as:
 - Social security and Medicare tax on tips you did not report to your employer,
 - Uncollected social security and Medicare or RRTA tax on tips you reported to your employer or on group-term life insurance,
 - Alternative minimum tax,
 - Recapture taxes (see the instructions for lines 43 and 62 that begin on pages 33 and 40), or
 - Tax on a qualified plan, including an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), or other tax-favored account. But if you are filing a return only because you owe this tax, you can file Form 5329 by itself.
2. You received any advance earned income credit (EIC) payments from your employer. These payments are shown in box 9 of your Form W-2.
3. You had net earnings from self-employment of at least $400.
4. You had wages of $108.28 or more from a church or qualified church-controlled organization that is exempt from employer social security and Medicare taxes.

WHO SHOULD FILE A RETURN?

The charts, noted previously in this lesson, may indicate that an individual does not have to file a tax return. However, in three instances, individuals should file a return:

- to claim a refund of withheld taxes,
- to claim a earned income credit, and
- to claim the additional child tax credit.

HELPING THOSE WHO DON'T NEED TO FILE

The Reduce Unnecessary Filing Program (RUF) is intended to help certain individuals determine their need to file a federal income tax return. Use Form 9452, Filing Assistance Program Worksheet, to help potential unnecessary filers determine whether or not they need to file.

Thank you for helping to save time and effort for your VITA and TCE clients and for helping to reduce the cost to all taxpayers of processing unnecessary returns by helping your clients with Form 9452 and related materials, as needed.

TAXWISE HINT

After completing the tax return refer back to the Main Information screen and select the appropriate tax form.

WHICH FORM TO USE?

FORM 1040EZ

Form 1040EZ is for single and joint filers with no dependents. The form instructions booklet has a worksheet for taxpayers who can be claimed as dependents.

FORM 1040A

Form 1040A is a two-page form. Page 1 of the form shows the filing status, exemptions, income, and adjusted gross income. Page 2 of the form shows the standard deduction, exemption amount, taxable income, tax, credits, payments, amount owed or refund, and signature. Form 1040A may have four schedules. Use Schedule 1 to report interest and/or dividend income that is more than $1,500. Use Schedule 2 to report child and dependent care expenses and to figure the credit. Claim the credit for the elderly or the disabled on Schedule 3. This credit is explained in Lesson 6. If the taxpayer can take the earned income credit and has a qualifying child, use Schedule EIC to give information about that child. Schedule EIC is discussed and illustrated in Lesson 10.

FORM 1040

Form 1040 is a two-page form. Page 1 of the form shows the filing status, exemptions, income, and adjusted gross income. Page 2 shows the standard deduction or itemized deductions, the exemption amount, taxable income, tax, credits, other taxes, payments, and the amount owed or refund due.

IRS e-file offers quick and easy options to traditional paper returns. These options include filing electronically through an authorized tax practitioner, over the telephone, and by personal computer. For those expecting a refund, these options all offer Direct Deposit to a bank account. For those with a balance due, paying is made easier with the option of payment by credit card or a direct debit to their bank account.

Why e-file? Because IRS e-file makes filing faster and more accurate and gets the taxpayer their refund in half the usual time....even faster with Direct Deposit!

As a volunteer, you should become familiar with these options as there will be occasions when you are called upon to answer questions from taxpayers regarding one or more of them. You may even have the opportunity to volunteer at a VITA or TCE site that has been set up to offer electronic tax filing. If so, you will receive additional specialized training on using return preparation software and on other procedures unique to this type of site.

TeleFile

Eligible 1040EZ filers, single or married filing jointly, who receive a TeleFile tax booklet and have the same address as the previous year, can file their federal income taxes by using a touch tone telephone and dialing a toll-free telephone number found in the tax booklet. (Note: Taxpayers in Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Oklahoma, Oregon, or West Virginia have the option to TeleFile both their federal and state tax returns in the same toll-free telephone call.)

Here's how it works: the taxpayer completes the TeleFile Tax Record found in the booklet before making the call. The call, which prompts the taxpayer through recorded instructions, takes less than ten minutes. The TeleFile system calculates the tax and refund (or balance due) and then files the tax return. If the taxpayer requests Direct Deposit, a refund can be issued in as little as 10 days. TeleFile is completely paperless; no forms are mailed to IRS, not even W-2s! The taxpayer "signs" the return with a special Customer Service Number (CSN) provided in the booklet.

TeleFile is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, through August 15. It is also available to users of TDD/TTY equipment. Credit card and direct debit payment options are available for balance due returns.

Because TeleFile is so easy to use, and because it is completely paperless, its use should be encouraged at every VITA and TCE site that encounters an eligible taxpayer with a TeleFile tax booklet. Even if there is no touch tone telephone available at the site, you should do everything possible to convince the taxpayer to file from home, or wherever a touch tone phone is available.

STUDENT NOTES

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

As you have learned, many areas of a tax return are directly tied to the filing status of the taxpayer. After completing this segment you will be able to apply special rules for Head of Household status when the spouse is a nonresident alien.

HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD

Because of the complexity of this issue errors often occur. In general, in order to claim Head of Household status, the taxpayer must be unmarried or considered unmarried on the last day of the year and pay more than half the cost of keeping up a home, for over six months, that includes the taxpayer and a qualifying individual.

SPECIAL RULE

For Head of Household purposes, “you are considered unmarried if your spouse was a nonresident alien at any time during the year, and you do not choose to treat your spouse as a resident alien.” All of the other qualifications for Head of Household must also be met.

Example 1

Raul is in the U.S. Army in Japan. His wife and children live with him and he is able to claim the children as dependents. Raul’s wife (a citizen of Japan) chooses not to be treated as a resident alien. Even though Raul is married, he can claim Head of Household status because of the rule above. If Raul had not passed all of the other qualifications for Head of Household, he would have to file as a married person (either as Married Filing Separate or Married Filing Joint).

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS SEGMENT ◀◀

- ▶ The taxpayer may be considered unmarried if the spouse was a nonresident alien at any time during the year and the taxpayer does not choose to treat the spouse as a resident alien.

STUDENT NOTES

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will explain additional factors to consider in selecting the married filing joint and head of household filing status for taxpayers who are U.S. citizens or resident aliens. The criteria for selecting the married filing separate, single and head of household filing status are the same as discussed in the basic text.

At the end of this segment, you will be able to:

- Determine the correct filing status for resident aliens.
- Explain how to treat a nonresident alien's spouse as a resident.

MARRIED NON-RESIDENTS FILING JOINTLY

In order to file Married Filing Jointly, the taxpayers must be married on the last day of the tax year and agree to file a joint return. However, "A joint return generally cannot be made if either spouse is a nonresident alien at any time during the tax year." (Pub 17).

Treating Non-Resident Spouse as a U.S. Resident

If, at the end of the tax year, the taxpayer is married and one spouse is a U.S. citizen or a resident alien and the other spouse is a nonresident alien, the taxpayer can elect to treat the non-resident spouse as a U.S. resident. This includes situations in which one spouse is a nonresident alien at the beginning of the tax year, but a resident alien at the end of the year, and the other spouse is a nonresident alien at the end of the year.

If this choice is made, the taxpayer and spouse are treated for income tax purposes as residents for the entire tax year.

For example, neither the taxpayer nor the spouse can claim tax treaty benefits as a resident of a foreign country for a tax year for which the choice is in effect. Taxpayers must file a joint income tax return for the year the choice is made, but the taxpayer and spouse can file joint or separate returns in later years.

Example 1

Debra Green, a U.S. citizen for all of tax year 2004, is married to Charles, a nonresident alien. Debra and Charles make the choice to treat Charles as a resident alien by attaching a statement to their joint return for 2004. Debra and Charles must report their world-wide income in 2004 and later years unless the choice is ended or suspended. Although they must file a joint return for 2004, they can file joint or separate returns for later years.

Example 2

Jim and Judy Adams are married and both are nonresident aliens. In June 2004, Jim became a resident alien and remained a resident for the rest of the year. Jim and Judy both choose to be treated as resident aliens by attaching a statement to the 2004 joint return. Jim and Judy must report their world-wide income in 2004 and later years unless the choice is ended or suspended. They must file a joint return for 2004, but they can file either joint or separate returns for later years.

THE "CHOICE" DECLARATION

A statement containing the following information must be signed by both spouses and attached to the joint return for the first tax year for which the choice applies.

1. A declaration that one spouse was a nonresident alien and the other spouse a U.S. citizen or resident alien on the last day of the tax year, and that the taxpayer and spouse chose to be treated as U.S. residents for the entire tax year, and
2. The name, address, and social security number or ITIN of each spouse. (If one spouse died, include the name and address of the person making the choice for the deceased spouse.)

The choice can also be made by filing a joint amended return. Publication 54 contains specifics on this option.

Suspending the Choice

The choice to be treated as a resident alien does not apply to any later tax year if neither spouse is a U.S. citizen or resident alien at any time during the tax year.

Example 3

Dick Brown was a resident alien on December 31, 2001, and married to Judy, a nonresident alien. They chose to treat Judy as a resident alien and filed joint returns for tax years 2001 and 2002. On January 10, 2003, Dick became a nonresident alien. Judy had remained a nonresident alien throughout the period. Dick and Judy can file joint or separate returns for 2003. However, since neither Dick nor Judy is a resident alien at any time during 2004, their choice is suspended for that year. If either has U.S. source income or foreign source income effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business in 2004, they must file separate returns as nonresident aliens. If Dick becomes a resident alien again in 2005, their choice is no longer suspended.

Ending the Choice

Once made, the choice to be treated as a resident applies to all later years unless suspended or ended in one of the ways shown below. If the choice is ended for any of these reasons, neither spouse can make a choice in any later tax year.

Revocation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Either spouse can revoke the choice for any tax year. • The revocation must be made by the due date for filing the tax return for that year. • The spouse who revokes must attach a signed statement declaring that the choice is being revoked. If the spouse revoking the choice does not have to file a return and does not file a claim for refund, send the statement to the Internal Revenue Service Center where the last joint return was filed. • The statement revoking the choice must include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The name, address, and social security number (or taxpayer identification number) of each spouse. • The name and address of any person who is revoking the choice for a deceased spouse. • A list of any states, foreign countries, and possessions that have community property laws in which either spouse is domiciled or where real property is located from which either spouse receives income.
Death	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The death of either spouse ends the choice, beginning with the first tax year following the year the spouse died. • If the surviving spouse is a U.S. citizen or resident and is entitled to the joint tax rates as a surviving spouse, the choice will not end until the close of the last year for which these joint rates may be used. • If both spouses die in the same tax year, the choice ends on the first day after the close of the tax year in which the spouses died.
Divorce or Legal Separation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A divorce or legal separation ends the choice as of the beginning of the tax year in which the legal separation occurs.
Inadequate records	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Internal Revenue Service can end the choice for any tax year that either spouse has failed to keep adequate books, records, and other information necessary to determine the correct income tax liability, or to provide adequate access to those records.

HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD

In general, in order to claim Head of Household status, the taxpayer must:

1. Be unmarried or considered unmarried on the last day of the year and
2. Have paid more than half the cost of keeping up a home for the year and
3. Have a qualifying person in the home for more than half the year.

These general rules for discussed in the basic text and in more detail in Publication 17.

A U.S. citizen or resident alien (for all 12 months of the tax year) is considered unmarried if their spouse was a nonresident alien at any time during the year and the taxpayer did not make one of the choices discussed earlier in this segment to treat their spouse as a resident alien for the entire year.

STUDENT NOTES

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson gives students practice in using the forms needed to complete the income section of the taxpayer's Form 1040EZ, 1040A, or 1040, as appropriate. Students will practice using Forms W-2, 1099-INT, and 1099-DIV, Schedules B and C-EZ, and others.

Approximately 1 1/2 to 3 hours should be devoted to covering the objectives of this lesson. See the Suggested Class Schedule (Appendix B) for additional information.

After completing this lesson each student should be able to:

- Determine what is taxable and nontaxable income.
- Determine where to report income on Forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ.
- Identify who can file Schedule C-EZ.
- Identify who must file Schedule SE.

TRAINING MATERIALS AND ON-SITE REFERENCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS publications and forms. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the publications or forms, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement
- Form 1099-INT, Interest Income
- Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions
- Form 1099-G, Certain Government Payments
- Form 1040 EZ and Instructions
- Form 1040A and Instructions
- Schedule 1 (Form 1040A)
- Form 1040 and Instructions
- Schedule B (Form 1040)
- Schedule C-EZ (Form 1040)
- Schedule SE (Form 1040)
- Form 4137, Social Security and Medicare Tax on Unreported Tip Income
- Form 4852, Substitute for Form W-2 or Form 1099R
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Reference Guide is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage. Direct the student to the tab

“Income Section” for this lesson and make sure the student is aware of the content of the tab and how it should be used when assisting taxpayers.

TEACHING TIPS — TAXABLE AND NONTAXABLE INCOME

If students have difficulty answering the Guided Questions, direct their attention to the lists of taxable and nontaxable income. Point out that the exceptions to taxable interest income are listed under nontaxable income. Review with students questions in Exercise 1. Ask students to use the chart to explain why each form of income named was either included or excluded when computing the total taxable income for each taxpayer.

TEACHING TIPS — EARNED INCOME

1. Make students aware that if the taxpayer paid cash wages of $1,400 or more for the year to an employee working in his or her home, the taxpayer must pay the taxes on the employee’s wages with Form 1040. Taxpayers in this situation should be advised to seek paid professional tax assistance and refer to Publication 926, Household Employer’s Tax Guide. This topic is beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE Program.
2. If the taxpayer was a household employee who did not receive a Form W-2 because he or she was paid less than $1,400, the income must still be included on line 1 (Form 1040EZ), or line 7 (Form 1040A or 1040).
3. In past years, some household employees have reported their wages on Form 4137, Social Security and Medicare Tax on Unreported Tip Income, when a Form W-2 was not given to them by their employer. Instructors should reinforce that wages of household employees should not be reported on Form 4137.
4. If, after requesting a Form W-2 from the employer, the household employee does not receive a Form W-2, then he or she should file a Form 4852, Substitute for Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement or Form 1099-R, Distributions from Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRA’s, Insurance Contracts, Etc. Form 4852 is used only to meet the filing deadline. Instructors may want to review the Form 4852 with the students, using an overhead projector. Many students may not know of the use and availability of this form.

TEACHING TIPS — TAX-EXEMPT INTEREST

1. Remind students that, while tax-exempt interest is not included as part of taxable income, it still must be shown on Form 1040 or 1040A or 1040EZ.
2. Students should refer to a paid professional tax preparer any taxpayer who has OID income under either of these two situations: (1) the taxpayer bought the obligation after its original issue or (2) the taxpayer did not hold the obligation all year. IRS Publication 550, Investment Income and Expenses, and Publication 1212, List of Original Issue Discount Instruments, provide useful information about OID income in these situations.

3. Direct students' attention to box 4 on Form 1099-INT. Ask students to name the section (Payments) and the line (63) of Form 1040 on which federal income tax withheld should be reported.
4. Ask students to give examples of tax-exempt interest that can be shown on line 8b of Forms 1040 or 1040A. Check their answers against the list of nontaxable income.

TEACHING TIPS — STATE AND LOCAL TAX REFUNDS

1. Caution students not to assume that because there is an entry in box 2 of a taxpayer's Form 1099-G, they must automatically make an entry on line 10 of Form 1040.
2. Remind students that if a taxpayer did not itemize deductions on his or her 2003 return and received a refund of 2003 state or local tax, the taxpayer does not have to include the refund in taxable income in 2004.

TEACHING TIPS — INCOME FROM BUSINESS (OPTIONAL TOPIC)

1. It is important to stress that taxpayers must keep records of all expenses claimed even though they do not have to be individually listed on Schedule C-EZ.
2. Taxpayers cannot take depreciation and standard mileage at the same time for business use of a car. If they decide to take depreciation instead of standard mileage, the volunteer should refer this taxpayer to a paid professional tax preparer.

GUIDED QUESTIONS

1. Differentiate between taxable and nontaxable income. (Taxable income is any income that is subject to tax. It must be reported on a tax return, unless the individual is not required to file a return. Nontaxable income is income that is exempt from tax. If a return must be filed, some types of nontaxable income will be shown on the return but will not be subject to tax.)
2. Although interest is generally considered taxable income, identify some types of interest that are not taxable. (Interest from state and local bonds and qualified Series EE and/or I savings bonds used to pay for higher education expenses.)

- 3. Under what circumstances must a taxpayer complete Schedule B of Form 1040?
(If taxable interest or dividend income is over $1500, if the taxpayer claims an exclusion of interest from Series EE or I U.S. savings bonds issued after 1989, or if another situation listed in the Schedule B instructions applies.)
- 4. When are long-term obligations considered to be issued at a discount?
(When they pay no interest before maturity.)
- 5. Define Original Issue Discount.
(Original Issue Discount is the difference between the principal amount [redemption price at maturity] of a long-term debt instrument, such as a bond or note, and its issue price.)
- 6. How does a taxpayer report taxable interest income from long-term obligations that pay no interest until maturity?
(Taxpayers report as interest income the portion of the Original Issue Discount each year until the obligation matures.)
- 7. Compare the two forms (sent to the taxpayer and the IRS) that report interest income.
(Form 1099-INT, Interest Income, reports interest income of $10 or more; Form 1099-OID, Original Issue Discount, reports the amount of Original Issue Discount income that a taxpayer should report as interest income for the year.)
- 8. What corporate distributions do VITA and TCE cover?
(Ordinary and qualified dividends and capital gain distributions.)
- 9. Which type of dividends can be reported on Form 1040A?
(Ordinary and qualified dividends.)
- 10. On what form is dividend income reported to the taxpayer and to the IRS?
(Form 1099-DIV.)
- 11. Where on Form 1040 or Form 1040A are ordinary dividends reported?
(If the amount in box 1 of Form 1099-DIV totals $1500 or less, the total is entered on line 9a. If the amount totals more than $1500, each amount is listed on Schedule B, Form 1040 or Schedule 1, Form 1040A, Part II.)
- 12. Where on Form 1040 or Form 1040A are capital gain distributions reported?
(Taxpayers who have capital gain distributions can file a Form 1040 or 1040A. Capital gain distributions are reported on line 13a of Form 1040 or line 10a of Form 1040A, if the taxpayer has only capital gain distributions as evidenced by an entry in box 2a of the 1099-DIV. If the taxpayer has gains from the sale of assets or entries in boxes 2b, 2c, 2d, 3 or 6 through 9 the capital gain distribution is reported on line 13a of Schedule D.)

13. Which taxpayers meet the qualifications to use Schedule C-EZ?

(Refer to bulleted list under Who Can Use Schedule C-EZ.)

14. Where can the taxpayer find the Principal Business Code?

(In the instructions for Schedule C.)

15. On which line of Form 1040EZ, Form 1040A, or Form 1040 is unemployment compensation reported?

(Unemployment compensation paid from the Federal Unemployment Trust Fund is reported on line 3 of Form 1040EZ, line 13 of Form 1040A, or line 19 of Form 1040. Supplemental benefits provided from an employer's fund to which the employee did not contribute are reported on line 1 of Form 1040EZ or on line 7 of Form 1040A or 1040.)

16. What form is sent to recipients of unemployment compensation?

(Form 1099-G)

LESSON REVIEW — EARNED INCOME

1. Students may wonder what procedure to follow when a Form W-2C is received after the return is filed. Explain that the taxpayer must file an amended return (Form 1040X) and attach Form W-2C to it. Timing is important in filing an amended return, so the taxpayer should contact the IRS with any questions.

LESSON REVIEW — TIP INCOME

Since tips may be paid in the form of jewelry, tickets, or meals, students may ask how such tips can be reported as taxable income. Explain that the taxpayer should report the fair market value of the property received as a tip.

LESSON REVIEW — TAXABLE INTEREST INCOME

Series I Bonds are inflation-indexed bonds designed to protect the purchasing power of the investment by providing a rate of return over and above the rate of inflation.

LESSON REVIEW — INCOME FROM BUSINESS

1. Remind students that Schedule C-EZ can only be used by a taxpayer who operates one business as a self-employed individual.
2. Individuals who have more than one business must file separate Schedule Cs but combine the income on one Schedule SE. These individuals should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer.
3. Remind students that one-half of the self-employment tax may be claimed as an adjustment to income on line 30 of Form 1040.

GUIDED QUESTIONS – INCOME – MILITARY SEGMENT

- 1. Why do you need to know what military pay is includible and excludible?

To verify the accuracy of the information conveyed on the W-2.

- 2. If you find out that the person's W-2 is wrong because it includes some income that should have been excluded, what do you do?

Send the person to their pay office with the pertinent information so that the pay office can send the information in for a W-2C to be issued. The person MUST wait for the W-2C to be issued or file an amended return when the W-2C is received.

- 3. How is a combat zone determined?

There must be an Executive Order declaring the area as a combat zone.

- 4. If a person is hospitalized while in a combat zone and sent back to the states for continued hospitalization when is the person considered to leave the combat zone?

He/she is considered to be in the combat zone until they are released from the hospital for the injury/illness that they were hospitalized for from the combat zone.

TEACHING TIP – OTHER INCOME – MILITARY SEGMENT

Tax returns that include depreciation are not in the scope of the M-VITA Program.

GUIDED QUESTIONS – SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX – INTERNATIONAL

1. Who is responsible for determining how much income has been received when a person is self-employed?

The self-employed individual is responsible and should keep good permanent records to record the income and expenses.

2. Who can file a Schedule C-EZ?

A self-employed person that meets the following criteria:

- Less than $5,000 in business expenses
- Uses cash method of accounting
- Has no inventory
- Has a profit
- Has only one business
- Has no employees

3. What is the Schedule SE?

This schedule is used to calculate the self-employment tax on self employment income.

GUIDED QUESTION – RENTAL INCOME AND EXPENSES – INTERNATIONAL SEGMENT

1. How do taxpayers report rental income and expenses?

Schedule E is used to report the income and expenses from rental property activity. The taxpayer should be referred to the legal assistance office. Depreciation is beyond the Scope of this program.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn to distinguish between taxable and nontaxable income. You will also learn where to report the different types of income. In addition, you will learn to make income entries on Forms 1040EZ, 1040A, and 1040.

This lesson will help you achieve the following objectives.

- Determine what is taxable and nontaxable income.
- Determine where to report income on Forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ.
- Identify who can file Schedule C-EZ.
- Identify who must file Schedule SE.

TAXABLE AND NONTAXABLE INCOME

Taxable income is any income that is subject to tax. It must be reported on a tax return, unless the amount is so small that the individual is not required to file a return.

The following types of income are taxable:

- Wages, salaries, bonuses, and commissions
- Certain fringe benefits
- Tips and other compensation for personal services
- Interest*
- Dividends
- Refunds of state and local taxes
- Alimony received or separate maintenance payments received
- Business income
- Hobby income (a hobby loss is not deductible)
- Capital gains
- Gain from the sale of property
- Pensions and annuities (part may be nontaxable)
- IRA distributions (part or all may be nontaxable)
- Rents received
- Royalties

- Estate or trust income
- Supplemental unemployment benefits
- Unemployment compensation
- Railroad retirement benefits (part may be taxable)
- Social security benefits (part may be taxable)
- Jury duty pay
- Executors' fees
- Gambling winnings (including lotteries, contests, raffles, etc.)
- Nonqualifying scholarships and fellowships
- Payments for punitive damages and compensatory damages not attributable to physical injuries or sickness
- Certain long-term care benefits. If the taxpayer received copy B of Form 1099-LTC, refer him or her to a paid professional preparer because some of the benefits may be taxable.

*Some interest is not taxable (for example, interest on certain state and local bonds and on qualified Series EE and Series I savings bonds used to pay for higher education expenses).

Refunds of state and local taxes are taxable only if the taxpayer itemized deductions in the year the taxes were paid and the individual's tax liability was REDUCED because of the deduction.

Nontaxable income is income that is exempt from tax. If a return must be filed, some types of nontaxable income will be shown on the return but will not be added into the amount of income subject to tax.

The following types of income are nontaxable:

- Child support
- Federal income tax refunds
- Certain dividends on life insurance
- Gifts, bequests, and inheritances (may be subject to other taxes)
- Insurance and certain other payments for physical injury and sickness
- Interest on certain Series EE and Series I savings bonds redeemed to pay for qualified higher education expenses
- Interest on certain state and local obligations (municipal bonds)
- Most life insurance proceeds paid upon death (and certain accelerated death benefits or payments received under a life insurance contract on the life of a terminally or chronically ill individual before the individual's death)
- Public assistance payments (certain TANF payments)
- Certain railroad retirement benefits (part may be exempt)
- Social security benefits (part may be exempt)

- Veterans' disability benefits
- Workers' compensation
- Qualified scholarships and fellowships
- Certain dependent care services provided by employer
- Interest on insurance dividends left with the VA
- Certain employer-provided educational benefits (up to $5,250)
- Employer-provided assistance for qualifying adoption expenses. (Refer taxpayers with adoption expenses to a paid professional tax preparer and to Publication 968, Tax Benefits for Adoption)
- Restitution payments and excludable interest received by Holocaust victims, their heirs, or their estates, for persecutions are not taxable.
- Certain long-term care benefits. If the taxpayer received copy C of Form 1099-LTC, he or she is not the policyholder. The form is for information only and should be disregarded because none of the benefits are taxable to him or her. If the taxpayer received copy B of Form 1099-LTC, refer him or her to a paid professional preparer because some of the benefits may be taxable.

Example 1

Robert received the following income: wages, interest, child support, alimony, inheritance, workers' compensation, and lottery winnings.

The wages, interest, alimony, and lottery winnings are taxable income and will appear on Robert's tax return.

Child support, inheritance, and workers' compensation are nontaxable income and will not appear on Robert's tax return.

Exercise 1

Indicate whether the income listed is taxable or nontaxable.

1. Wages	_____	_____
2. Dividends from stock	_____	_____
3. Veterans' disability benefits	_____	_____
4. Child Support	_____	_____
5. Credit union dividends	_____	_____
6. Cash bonuses	_____	_____
7. Inheritances	_____	_____
8. Tips	_____	_____
9. Worker's compensation	_____	_____
10. Veteran's life insurance dividends	_____	_____

WHERE TO REPORT INCOME

Taxpayers can report only wages, salaries, tips, unemployment compensation, qualified state tuition program payments, Alaska Permanent Fund dividends, taxable scholarship and fellowship grants, and interest income of $1,500 or less on Form 1040EZ.

In addition to the types of income that can be reported on Form 1040EZ, ordinary and qualified dividends, capital gains distribution, interest income greater than $1,500, IRA distributions, pension and annuity income, and taxable social security and equivalent railroad retirement benefits can be reported on Form 1040A.

These and all other types of income can be reported on Form 1040.

EARNED INCOME

Wages and Salaries

The total of wages, salaries, tips, and taxable scholarships and fellowships are reported on Form 1040EZ, line 1, Form 1040A or Form 1040, line 7.

Wages, salaries, and tips are primary examples of earned income received for services performed. Wages and salaries are compensation received. Tips are money and goods received as a gratuity by food servers, maids, porters, etc.

Form W-2. Form W-2, Wages and Tax Statement, shown in Exhibit 1, reports the employee's earned income for the year. Employers should issue Form W-2 to every employee and a copy to the Social Security Administration. Box 1, Wages, tips, and other compensation, shows the amount of payments received in cash, goods and services, bonuses, supplemental unemployment benefits, awards, and taxable employee benefits. This amount should be included on the return.

An individual taxpayer or a couple filing jointly might have one or more Forms W-2 from various employers. When the taxpayer and/or spouse receive Forms W-2 from their employers, add the amounts from Box 1 of each Form W-2 and report the total amount on the return.

Generally, if a household employee earned less than $1,400 a year while working in the employer's home, the employer is not required to provide the taxpayer with a Form W-2 but, the income must be included on line 7 (Form 1040A or 1040) or line 1 (Form 1040EZ). However, a Form W-2 is required if the employer withheld federal income taxes.

If a taxpayer does not get a Form W-2, or if the one he or she gets is not correct, the taxpayer will have to contact his or her employer as soon as possible. Only an employer can issue a Form W-2 or a Form W-2c.

In the event that the employer prepared an incorrect W-2, a Form W-2c, Corrected Wage and Tax Statement, should be issued. Use the Form W-2c amounts on the return. Be sure to attach the Form W-2c to the taxpayer's return.

All wage, salary, and tip income must be reported on the return, even if the employee did not receive a Form W-2.

If the taxpayer does not receive a Form W-2 by January 31, he or she should first contact the employer and find out if or when the Form W-2 was mailed. If after allowing a reasonable amount of time for the employer to issue or reissue the Form W-2, the Form W-2 still has not been received, he or she should contact the IRS for assistance at 1-800-829-1040, but not before February 15.

If after requesting a Form W-2 from the employer the taxpayer does not receive it by the due date of the return, he or she should file a Form 4852, Substitute for Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement or Form 1099-R, Distributions from Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRA's, Insurance Contracts, Etc.

The taxpayer should keep a copy of Form 4852 for his or her records and file a copy with the Social Security Administration to ensure proper social security credit.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Volunteers should be alert to the following possible indications of fraudulent activity:

- Forms W-2 that are typed, handwritten or have noticeable corrections
- Form W-2 from a firm in the area that is different from other Forms W-2 issued by the same firm
- Suspicious person accompanying the taxpayer and observed on other occasions
- Multiple refunds directed to the same address or P.O. Box
- Employment or earnings, that are a basis for refundable credits, that are not well documented
- Similar returns (e.g. same amount of refund, or same number of dependents, or same number of Forms W-2)

Form 1099-MISC. Taxpayers with earnings reported on Form 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income, shown in Exhibit 2, may be considered self-employed. These amounts are reported on Schedule C-EZ or Schedule C. Net losses and profits are reported on line 12 of Form 1040. Self-employment income is discussed later in this lesson.

Some employers misclassify workers as independent contractors and report their earnings on Form 1099-MISC. Taxpayers who believe they have been misclassified should contact the IRS.

Tip Income

All tip income is taxable. Individuals who receive $20 or more per month in tips while working one job must report their tip income to their employer. Tips that are reported to employers are included with wages on Form W-2, box 1. If the taxpayer received tip income of $20 or more in a month and did not report all of those tips to the employer, he or she must report the social security and Medicare taxes on the unreported tips as additional tax on Form 1040. Form 4137, Social Security and Medicare Tax on Unreported Tip Income, should be used to compute and report the additional tax.

Individuals who receive less than $20 per month in tips while working one job do not have to report their tip income to their employer. Additionally, noncash tips (for example, tickets or passes) do not have to be reported to the employer. Tips of less than $20 per month or noncash tips are not subject to social security and Medicare taxes. However, this tip income is subject to federal income taxes and must be reported on line 7 of Form 1040 or Form 1040A, or line 1 of Form 1040EZ.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

If the taxpayer fails to report tip income as required to the employer, the taxpayer may be subject to a penalty equal to 50% of the social security and Medicare taxes owed on unreported tips.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

The following individuals cannot file Form 1040EZ or 1040A; they must file Form 1040:

- (1) Individuals who received $20 or more in tips in any month while working for one employer and who did not report the full amount to the employer. (These tips are subject to social security and Medicare tax.)
- (2) Taxpayers whose Form W-2 has an amount entered in box 8, Allocated tips, that they must report as income. For more information, see Publication 531, Reporting Tip Income.

Allocated tips are tips an employer assigns to an employee. They are in addition to the tips the employee reported to the employer. The taxpayer may have allocated tips if he or she worked in a restaurant, cocktail lounge, or similar business that must allocate tips to employees.

Allocated tips are shown separately in box 8 of Form W-2. They are not included in the amount in box 1. The taxpayer must report allocated tips on his or her tax return unless either of the following exceptions applies.

- 1) The taxpayer kept a daily tip record, or other evidence that is as credible and as reliable as a daily tip record, as required. (See Pub. 531, Reporting Tip Income).
- 2) The taxpayer's tip record is incomplete, but it shows that his or her actual tips were more than the tips reported to his or her employer plus the allocated tips.

If either exception applies, report actual tips on the return. Do not report the allocated tips.

If the taxpayer is required to report allocated tips on the return, the amount on Form W-2, box 8, should be added to the amount in box 1. The total is reported on line 7 of Form 1040. Allocated tips cannot be reported on Form 1040EZ or 1040A, and are subject to social security and Medicare taxes. Form 4137 should be used to compute and report the additional tax.

The taxpayer should keep a copy for his or her records and file a copy with the local Social Security Administration to ensure proper social security credit.

Example 2

Fred works as a repairman during the week and as a barber on alternate Saturdays. His tips are less than $20 in any month and he does not report them to his employer. The amounts from box 1 on his Forms W-2 show income of $23,500 (repairman) and $1,950 (barber). His unreported tip income was $200.

Fred will report $25,650 on Form 1040A, line 7. This is the total of his Forms W-2, box 1 income and his unreported tip income ($23,500 plus $1,950 plus $200).

If Fred reported his tip income to his employer, the tips would be included in box 1 of the Form W-2. The amount in box 1 of that Form W-2 would be $2,150 ($1,950 plus $200). Fred would still enter $25,650 on line 7 ($23,500 plus $2,150).

Scholarships and Fellowships

Some scholarships and fellowships may be partially taxable. If the taxpayer received a Form W-2 for the scholarship or fellowship, add the amount in box 1 to any other box 1 amounts. Enter the total on line 1, Form 1040EZ, or line 7, Form 1040A or 1040.

Even if the taxpayer did not receive a Form W-2 for the scholarship or fellowship, the taxable portion of the scholarship or fellowship must be reported. Add the taxable portion to other Form W-2, box 1 amounts and unreported tip income. Enter the total on line 7 (Form 1040 or 1040A) or line 1 (Form 1040EZ). Write "SCH" and the amount not reported on Form W-2 in the space to the left of line 7 or line 1, whichever applies.

Exercise 2

- A. Mike worked two jobs. He was a quality inspector during the week and a bartender on the weekends. He reported all of his tip income ($3,000) to his employer. His Forms W-2, box 1, showed income of $21,000 (quality inspector) and $8,250 (bartender). What amount will Mike report on his Form 1040A, line 7? _____
- B. John works as a food server in an expensive restaurant. He tells you that he did not report his tip income of $18,100 to his employer. Can John file Form 1040A? _____
- C. Randy had several employers during the tax year. On February 3, 2005, he comes into the VITA site to have his return prepared. He tells you that he has not received the Form W-2 for XYZ Inc. What should you tell Randy? _____

INTEREST INCOME

Money earns interest when it:

- is deposited in accounts in banks, savings and loans, credit unions,
- is used to buy certificates of deposit or bonds, or
- is lent to another person or business.

Interest income is considered unearned income. Money, not a person, is working to earn the income.

TAXABLE INTEREST INCOME

Savings Accounts

Interest is reported in the year that it is credited to the taxpayer's account and is available for withdrawal by the taxpayer. The taxpayer should report all interest received during the year, even if the interest is not entered in the taxpayer's passbook.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Some savings and loans, credit unions, cooperative banks, and mutual savings banks call their distributions "dividends." These "dividends" are really interest and are reported as interest. True dividends are different and will be discussed later in this lesson.

U.S. Savings Bonds

Interest on U.S. savings bonds is earned in one of two ways.

- Some bonds are issued at a “discount” and the interest earned equals the increase in the bond’s value over a period of time.
- Some bonds pay interest at stated intervals of time.

Series EE and Series I Bonds. Series EE bonds are the most common type. They are issued at a discount; this means that the purchase price is less than the face value (the amount shown on the bond). The interest is the difference between the purchase price and the amount received when the bonds are redeemed (cashed in).

Series I bonds were first offered in 1998. They are issued at face value with a maturity period of 30 years. Interest on these bonds is paid when the bond is redeemed.

Taxpayers can choose one of two ways to report interest income from these bonds.

- Report the increase in value when the bond is cashed in or when the bond matures, whichever is earlier.
- Report the increase in the bond’s value each year.

Generally, taxpayers must use the same method for all Series EE and Series I bonds they own.

If a U.S. savings bond is issued in the names of co-owners, such as the taxpayer and child, or the taxpayer and spouse, interest on the bond is generally taxable to the co-owner who purchased the bond. To determine who is responsible for paying the tax on a bond see the table below.

Exhibit 3

Who Pays Tax on U.S. Savings Bond Interest
IF...	THEN tax on the bond interest must be paid by...
You use your funds to buy a bond in your name and the name of another person as co-owners.	You.
You buy a bond in the name of another person, who is the sole owner of the bond.	The person for whom you bought the bond.
You and another person buy a bond as co-owners, each contributing part of the purchase price.	Both you and the other co-owner, in proportion to the amount each paid for the bond.
You and your spouse, who live in a community property state, buy a bond that is community property.	You and your spouse. If you file separate returns, both you and your spouse generally pay tax on one-half.

Example 3

Barbara owns a $500 U.S. Series EE savings bond. She paid $250 for the bond. When the bond matures, Barbara will receive $500. At the end of the first year, the bond was worth $265.

Barbara can report interest income in one of two ways.

- She can report $250 of interest income when the bond matures. This is the difference between the $500 value at maturity and the $250 she paid for the bond. Barbara would report interest income only once, at maturity.
- She can report $15 of interest income at the end of the first year. This is the increase in value at the end of the year ($265 minus $250). Barbara would report interest income each year until maturity.

Excludable Interest on U.S. Savings Bonds. Taxpayers may be able to exclude from income all or part of the interest received from certain qualified U.S. savings bonds. The taxpayer must have paid for qualified higher education expenses the same year the bonds are cashed. The bonds must be either Series EE bonds issued after 1989 or Series I bonds in the taxpayer's name or, if married, the taxpayer's name or spouse's name. The individual in whose name the bonds were issued must be 24 years of age or older before the bonds were issued. The taxpayer cannot file married filing separately.

Qualified higher education expenses include tuition and fees paid to an eligible educational institution for the bond owner, the bond owner's spouse, or the bond owner's dependent for whom the bond owner claims an exemption. An eligible educational institution is any college, university, vocational school, or other postsecondary educational institution eligible to participate in a student aid program administered by the Department of Education.

Qualified expenses include any contribution to a qualified state tuition program or to a Coverdell ESA. (For more information, see Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Higher Education).

Use Form 8815, Exclusion of Interest From Series EE and I U.S. Savings Bonds Issued After 1989 (For Filers with Qualified Higher Education Expenses), to report the exclusion of interest income. The excludable amount is transferred from Form 8815 to Part I, line 3 of Schedule 1 (Form 1040A) or to Schedule B (Form 1040).

Series HH Bonds. The interest on these bonds is paid twice a year. Report the interest on these bonds in the year in which it is received.

Other U.S. Obligations. Interest on other U.S. obligations, such as U.S. Treasury notes and bonds, is fully taxable when received.

Savings Certificates, Money Market Certificates, and Other Deferred Interest Accounts

Interest that is paid at fixed intervals of one year or less is included in taxable income when it is received or when the taxpayer could receive it (that is, when it is credited to the account, even if it is not withdrawn) without paying a substantial penalty. If an account matures in one year or less and provides a single interest payment at maturity, include the interest in taxable income when the account matures and the interest is received.

Example 4

Duane has a six-month certificate of deposit (CD) that matures in January 2005. He will receive $75 in interest income.

Duane will report the interest income on the certificate of deposit on his 2005 tax return. It matures in one year or less with a single interest payment at maturity.

Certificates of Deposit with Maturities of Over One Year

If interest on a CD is deferred for more than one year, the taxpayer must include a part of the interest in income each year. The taxpayer should receive Form 1099-INT stating the amount to report.

Example 5

Deborah has a two-year CD that pays interest every three months. She bought the CD on March 1, 2004. It matures on February 29, 2006.

For 2004, Deborah reports the interest income earned from March through December. For 2005, she will report 12 months of interest. For 2006, she will report two months of interest.

Original Issue Discount. Long-term obligations that pay no interest before maturity are considered to be issued at a discount.

Original Issue Discount (OID) is the amount by which the principal amount (redemption price at maturity) of a long-term debt instrument, such as a bond or note, exceeds its issue price.

Taxpayers generally report a portion of the OID each year until the obligation matures.

Example 6

Roger purchased a $1,000 U.S. Treasury Zero Coupon Bond for $350. When the bond matures, Roger will receive $1,000. He will receive no interest income until the bond matures many years later.

The difference between the redemption amount ($1,000) and the issue price ($350) is the OID ($650). Each year until maturity, Roger must recognize part of the OID as taxable interest income.

Interest on Insurance Proceeds

Life insurance proceeds include interest. Taxpayers can receive life insurance policy benefits paid upon the death of the insured either in a lump sum or in installments. Generally, if the payments are received in installments, the portion that is interest must be included in the taxpayer's income. However, if the insured individual died before October 23, 1986, and was the taxpayer's spouse, the first $1,000 of interest income received each year is not taxed if the payments are received in installments. This exclusion does not apply if proceeds are left on deposit with the insurance company and only interest is paid.

Life insurance dividends generally are not taxable. These dividends may be used to reduce life insurance premiums due, purchase additional paid-up insurance, or earn interest. In general, the interest earned on life insurance dividends is taxable when it is credited to the taxpayer's account.

Interest on insurance dividends that have been left on deposit with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is not taxable. Do not include this interest in taxable income.

COVERDELL ESA

Contributions to a Coverdell ESA are not deductible. Amounts in the ESA grow (tax deferred) until they are distributed. Generally, if the beneficiary has qualified education expenses that are greater than the distribution during the year, then no tax is due.

If the taxpayer received Form 1099-Q, showing a distribution from a Coverdell ESA, ask the taxpayer if the funds were used for qualified education expenses. Coverdell ESA qualified education expenses include elementary, secondary, and postsecondary (higher) education expenses.

If the entire amount of the distribution was spent on qualified elementary and secondary expenses, the distribution is tax-free. Tax-free distributions are not reported. If the taxpayer paid for qualified higher (postsecondary) education expenses, the taxpayer may be eligible for the Hope Credit or Lifetime Learning Credit, which may be more beneficial.

Refer the taxpayer/beneficiary to a paid professional tax preparer and/or Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Higher Education, if:

- The funds were not used for qualified education expenses.
- The distribution is more than the amount spent for qualified expenses.

- Part or all of the distribution is taxable and earnings must be computed.
- The taxpayer/beneficiary received other education benefits such as a distribution from a Qualified Tuition Program, employer provided educational assistance, or a scholarship, or used U.S. Savings Bonds to pay for qualified education expenses.
- If any amount needs to be reported, report it on Form 1040, line 21. Additional tax may be due. Use Part II of Form 5329, Additional Taxes on Qualified Plans (including IRAs) and Other Tax Favored Accounts, to figure any additional tax.

TAX-EXEMPT INTEREST

Certain types of interest are exempt from federal income tax. Bonds issued by the following entities generally pay tax-exempt interest:

- State and political subdivisions (county or city),
- District of Columbia, and
- U.S. possessions and political subdivisions.

Examples of tax-exempt bonds are those issued by:

- Port authorities
- Toll-road commissions
- Utility service authorities
- Community redevelopment agencies
- Qualified volunteer fire departments
- Amounts indicated on broker statements as tax-exempt interest or dividends

Although tax-exempt interest is not taxable, the taxpayer must report all tax-exempt interest on Form 1040, 1040A or 1040EZ.

Form 1099-INT

Interest income is reported to the taxpayer on Form 1099-INT, Interest Income, shown in Exhibit 4. A copy of Form 1099-INT is also sent to the IRS.

Box 1 shows taxable interest income from various institutions.

Some taxpayers withdraw funds from a time deposit before the maturity date of the account and, therefore, incur an interest penalty. The early withdrawal penalty is reported on Form 1099-INT in box 2. Report the total interest earned, shown in box 1 of Form 1099-INT, on line 8a of Form 1040. Do not subtract the penalty from the total interest. The early withdrawal penalty is an adjustment to income and is entered on line 33 of Form 1040.

Box 3 shows U.S. savings bond and Treasury obligations interest. Be sure to ask the taxpayer about this interest income. The amount shown on Form 1099-INT may be too high if the taxpayer was not the original owner of the bond or if the taxpayer has reported the interest income each year as it was earned.

Some Forms 1099-INT will have entries in box 4 indicating that federal income tax has been withheld from the interest paid. Be sure to include the amount shown in box 4 with other tax withheld on Form 1040EZ, line 7, Form 1040A, line 39, or Form 1040, line 63.

Form 1099-OID

Form 1099-OID, Original Issue Discount, reports the amount of Original Issue Discount income that a taxpayer should report as income for the year. A copy of Form 1099-OID is also sent to the IRS.

Box 1 shows the amount of interest (OID) for the year if the taxpayer bought the obligation at its original issue and held the issue all year.

Box 2 shows regular interest paid on the obligation other than the OID income.

Reporting Interest Income

If the taxpayer is a 1040EZ filer, taxable interest income is reported on line 2. 1040EZ filers should report tax-exempt interest by writing “TEI” and the amount of tax-exempt interest on line 2 as shown in the example below. Do not include tax-exempt interest in the Dollars/Cents portion of line 2. If the taxpayer’s interest income is more than $1500, he or she cannot file a Form 1040EZ.

Example 7

Jennifer received taxable interest income of $65 and tax-exempt interest income of $23. She would report her interest income on Form 1040EZ as shown in the exhibit below.

Taxpayers who file Forms 1040A or 1040, report taxable interest income on line 8a and tax-exempt interest on line 8b.

If the taxpayer files Forms 1040A or 1040 and:

- Has interest income of more than $1500,
- Wants to claim an exclusion for savings bond interest in the same year that he or she paid for qualified higher education expenses, or
- Receives a Form 1099-INT for tax-exempt interest,

Schedule 1, Part I (1040A) or Schedule B, Part I (1040) must be completed, before making an entry on line 8a or 8b.

If the tax-exempt interest is shown on a Form 1099-INT, and a Schedule 1 or B must be filed, the taxpayer must include tax-exempt interest on Schedule 1 or B. It should be reported on line 1 but it should not be included in the total on line 2. Instead, under the last entry on line 1, a subtotal of all interest listed should be made. Below the subtotal, the taxpayer should write “Tax-exempt interest” and show the amount. Subtract it from the subtotal and the result should be entered on line 2.

On Schedule 1 or Schedule B, Part I, list the interest payers’ names and the various amounts received for each form, even if there are two or more forms from the same source.

Exercise 3

- A. Randy and Ann have three Forms 1099-INT: Epping National Bank, $62; Epping Credit Union, $178; and Brenton Savings and Loan, $760.
1. How much interest income will be reported on Schedule 1 (Form 1040A)? _____
 2. How much interest income will be reported on Form 1040A, line 8a? _____
- B. Catherine received $398 interest income this year. She files Form 1040EZ. How much interest income is reported on her return, and where is it reported? _____
- C. Emily and Andrew file a joint return on Form 1040. They have the following interest income: City Savings and Loan (joint), $320; Third National Bank (Andrew), $100; U.S. Series HH Savings Bonds (joint), $45; and Welder's Credit Union (Emily), $30. _____
- How much interest is reported on their Form 1040, and where is it reported? _____

DIVIDEND INCOME AND OTHER CORPORATE DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividends are payments made by corporations to shareholders. Dividends can also be paid through partnerships, estates, or trusts.

There are several types of corporate distributions, including ordinary and qualified dividends, capital gain distributions, nontaxable distributions, stock dividends, and others. Ordinary dividends are paid out of the earnings and profits of a corporation and are ordinary income to you. Qualified dividends are the ordinary dividends received in tax years beginning after 2002 that are subject to the same 5% or 15% maximum tax rate that applies to net capital gain. Most dividends are paid in cash. Some dividends, however, are paid in property, services, or additional shares of stock. Only ordinary and qualified dividends can be reported on Form 1040A. Any other dividends or distributions received are reported on Form 1040. Taxpayers with dividend income may not use Form 1040EZ. Other types of dividends and distributions include the following:

- Dividend reinvestment — Through dividend reinvestment, instead of receiving cash (a dividend check), some stockholders ask the corporation to use their dividends to purchase more shares of the corporation's stock. The shareholders "reinvest" their dividends. The dividend is taxable at the time it would be paid if it were in cash.
- Capital gain distributions — Mutual funds (regulated investment companies) and real estate investment trusts (REITs) pass capital gains to their investors in the form of capital gain distributions. Capital gain distributions are treated as long-term capital gains, regardless of how long the taxpayer holds the shares. See Lesson 12, Sale of Stock, for more information on capital gains.

- Return of capital — A return of capital represents a return of part of the taxpayer's investment in the stock of the company. A return of capital reduces the basis of the stock and is not taxed until the taxpayer's basis in the stock is fully recovered. Any return of capital in excess of basis is treated as a capital gain and is reported on Schedule D, Capital Gains and Losses.
- Stock dividends — Stock dividends increase the taxpayer's number of shares in the company. Generally, stock dividends are not taxable.

Other types of nontaxable dividends are:

- Exempt-interest dividends paid by mutual funds (This interest is listed on Form 1040, line 8b.)
- Dividends on insurance policies, as long as they do not exceed the total of all net premiums paid by the taxpayer
- Dividends on veterans' insurance
- Certain patronage dividends

Reporting Dividends and Capital Gain Distributions

The payer reports dividends and certain other distributions on Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions.

Ordinary dividends are reported in box 1a of Form 1099-DIV. Add the amounts in box 1a from all the Forms 1099-DIV the taxpayer received. If the total is:

- $1500 or less, enter the total on line 9a of Form 1040A or 1040.
- over $1500, complete Schedule 1 (Form 1040A), Part II, or Schedule B (Form 1040), Part II. Transfer the result to line 9a of Form 1040A or 1040.

On Schedule 1 or Schedule B enter the payer's name and the amount received for each Form 1099-DIV even if the same corporation used separate forms to report more than one distribution. If the taxpayer has a substitute Form 1099-DIV from a brokerage firm, it may show a total for dividends received. Enter the brokerage firm as the payer of the dividends and enter the total dividend amount. Do not list the dividends individually.

Some taxpayers receive dividend income from shares that the husband and wife own jointly. If they file a joint return, enter the total dividend in the appropriate place on the return. If they file separate tax returns, divide the dividend by two. Report half on the husband's return and half on the wife's return.

Qualified dividends. Report qualified dividends (box 1b of Form 1099-DIV) on line 9b of Form 1040 or Form 1040A. Do not include any of the following on line 9b.

- Qualified dividends received as a nominee.
- Dividends on stock for which the holding period was not met.
- Dividends on any share of stock to the extent that there is an obligation to make related payments for positions in substantially similar or related property.
- Payments in lieu of dividends, but only if it is known or reason to have known that the payments are not qualified dividends.

See chapter 1 of Publication 550 for further details.

If qualified dividends are reported, tax must be figured by completing either Schedule D (Form 1040) or the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet in the Form 1040 or 1040 A instructions.

If no capital gain or loss are reported, including capital gain distributions from 1099-DIV, Schedule D (Form 1040) is not required; therefore, the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet is used to figure the lower tax on qualified dividends. To see a copy of the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet, refer to Lesson 12, Exhibit 9.

Capital gain distributions occur when a mutual fund (regulated investment company) sells assets for more than their cost, and the realized capital gain is distributed to the fund's shareholders. This should not be confused with a capital gain that occurs when the owner of a mutual fund or a capital asset sells shares in the fund or the asset for more than the cost and realizes a capital gain. For more information on capital gains and losses, see Lesson 12, Sale of Stock.

Payers report capital gain distributions in box 2a of Form 1099-DIV, see Exhibit 6. Taxpayers can report capital gain distributions directly on Form 1040A or Form 1040 if:

- The only amounts the taxpayer has to report on Schedule D are capital gain distributions (box 2a),
- The taxpayer does not have any qualified 5-year gain (box 2c) unrecaptured section 1250 gain (box 2d), or section 1202 gain (box 2e), and
- If the taxpayer files Form 4952, Investment Interest Expense Deduction, the amount on line 4e of Form 4952 is not more than zero.

If the taxpayer does not meet the requirements to report the capital gain distribution directly on Form 1040A or Form 1040, a Schedule D, Capital Gains and Losses must be filed. If a Schedule D is not required, the capital gain distributions can be reported directly on line 13 of Form 1040, or line 10 of Form 1040A. Capital gain distributions are not reported on Form 1040EZ.

If capital gain distributions are reported directly on Form 1040 or Form 1040A:

- Check the box next to line 13, Form 1040 and
- Use the Qualified Dividend and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet from either the Form 1040A or 1040 instruction booklet to compute tax.

The volunteer should be careful not to ignore other boxes on the Form 1099-DIV.

- Box 2c, Qualified 5-year gain. If the taxpayer has an entry in box 2c, see Lesson 12 for the proper treatment of the gain.
- Box 4, Federal income tax withheld. Be sure to include this amount on line 39 of Form 1040A or line 63 of Form 1040.

- Box 5, Investment expenses. If the taxpayer files Form 1040 and itemizes deductions on Schedule A, report the amount from box 5 as a miscellaneous itemized deduction subject to the 2%-of-adjusted-gross-income limit. (See Itemized Deductions in Lesson 4.)
- Box 6, Foreign tax paid. If the taxpayer has an entry in box 6, see Lesson 6 for the proper treatment of the tax. The taxpayer may be able to claim the Foreign Tax Credit.

A capital gain distribution is reported on a Schedule D when the taxpayer has more than capital gain distributions to report, for example when boxes 2b, 2c, 3, 8, or 9 have entries, or when the taxpayer has sold a capital asset. Capital gain distributions are always treated as long-term capital gains, regardless of how long the taxpayer holds the shares, and are reported on line 13, column (f) of the Schedule D.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

If the state or local income tax refund reflects any deductions, credits, or payments for years other than 2003, refer the taxpayer to a paid professional tax preparer.

STATE AND LOCAL TAX REFUNDS

Taxpayers who receive a refund of state or local taxes may receive a Form 1099-G, Certain Government Payments, see Exhibit 7. If the taxpayer claimed the standard deduction on the 2003 return and received a refund of 2003 state or local tax, the taxpayer does not have to include the refund in taxable income for tax year 2004. However, if the taxpayer itemized deductions and received a state or local tax refund, the taxpayer may have to include part or all of the refund in taxable income in 2004. Use the State and Local Income Tax Refund Worksheet—Line 10 in the Form 1040 instruction booklet to determine what part, if any, of the refund is taxable. Enter the taxable portion of state and local refunds on Form 1040, line 10.

ALIMONY RECEIVED

Alimony or separate maintenance payments made under a court decree are taxable income to the person receiving them. They are reported on Form 1040, line 11. The person making the payments deducts them on Form 1040, line 34a, as an adjustment to gross income.

Child support payments are not alimony. The person making the payments cannot deduct them. The person receiving child support payments does not have to include them in income.

ALERT

The amount of allowable business expenses on Form 1040, Schedule C-EZ, Net Profit From Business was increased from $2,500 or less to $5,000 or less.

INCOME FROM BUSINESS (OPTIONAL TOPIC)

Business income or loss is reported first on Schedule C (Form 1040), Profit or Loss From Business, or Schedule C-EZ, Net Profit From Business, and then transferred to Form 1040, line 12.

Taxpayers who must file a Schedule C should see a paid professional tax preparer.

VITA and TCE volunteers who have received training on this topic, at the discretion of the site coordinator, may assist self-employed individuals who qualify to use Schedule C-EZ, shown in Exhibit 8.

Who Can Use Schedule C-EZ

A taxpayer can use Schedule C-EZ only if he or she:

- Had business expenses of $5,000 or less,
- Uses the cash method of accounting,
- Did not have an inventory at any time during the year,
- Did not have a net loss from his or her business,
- Had only one business as a sole proprietor,
- Had no employees during the year,
- Is not required to file Form 4562, Depreciation and Amortization, for this business (See the instructions for Schedule C, line 13, to find out if the taxpayer must file.),
- Does not deduct expenses for business use of his or her home, and
- Does not have prior year unallowed passive activity losses from this business.

Completing Schedule C-EZ

Schedule C-EZ has three parts:

Part I: General Information

Part II: Figure Your Net Profit

Part III: Information on Your Vehicle

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Many taxpayers erroneously report amounts from Form 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income, with wages or other income. This income should instead be reported on Schedule C or C-EZ and on Schedule SE, Self-Employment Tax. If the income is reported incorrectly, IRS may later issue a notice of proposed tax increase for the self-employment income and tax.

Part I: General Information

Part I is used to determine whether or not the taxpayer is eligible to use this form instead of Schedule C for reporting self-employment income. If all the criteria are met, the taxpayer then completes Part I.

Line B, Principal Business Code, is determined by looking at the code list in the Instructions for Schedule C, Profit or Loss From Business.

Line D, Employer ID Number, is a number that the Internal Revenue Service supplies to businesses and other professional activities. If the taxpayer does not have one, the space should be left blank. The taxpayer cannot use the taxpayer's social security number.

Part II: Figure Your Net Profit

Gross receipts are all receipts from a trade or business including income reported on a Form 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income. All items of taxable income actually or constructively received during the year are included. Gross receipts are entered on line 1.

Total expenses include the total amount of all deductible business expenses actually paid during the year. Examples of these expenses include advertising, car and truck expenses, commissions, insurance, interest, legal and professional services and fees, office expense, rent or lease expense, repairs and maintenance, supplies, taxes, travel, 50% of business meals and entertainment, and utilities (including telephone). Total expenses of $5,000 or less are entered on line 2.

If the taxpayer uses his or her car or truck for business purposes, he or she can deduct expenses related to using the car or truck. To determine the amount of car and truck expenses that can be deducted, the taxpayer must use either the:

- Standard Mileage Rate, or
- Actual Car Expenses.

Standard Mileage Rate. If the taxpayer can and does choose to use the standard mileage rate, business miles are multiplied by the applicable mileage rate and added to the deductible parking and tolls. Car expenses using the standard mileage rate are computed as follows:

Business miles incurred during the year × 37.5¢ per mile
+ Parking and tolls incurred while on business

ALERT

The 2004 rate for business use of your vehicle is 37.5 cents a mile.

Actual Car Expenses. If the taxpayer chooses to use the actual car expenses, only the business portion of the expenses is deductible. Deductible expenses under the actual method are computed as follows:

1. Compute the percentage of business use:

$$\frac{\text{Business miles}}{\text{Total miles}} = \% \text{ of business use}$$

2. Determine the deductible expenses:

$$\begin{aligned} & (\% \text{ of business use} \times \text{total actual expenses}) \\ + & \underline{\underline{\text{Parking and tolls incurred while on business}}} \end{aligned}$$

NOTE: If taxpayers depreciate their car or truck, or their total expenses are more than $5,000, they cannot use Schedule C-EZ and should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer.

Subtract line 2 from line 1 and enter the net amount on line 3 to determine the net profit or loss.

If line 3 shows a profit, transfer this amount to Form 1040, line 12, and to Schedule SE, line 2 (except statutory employees). Attach Schedule C-EZ to Form 1040 in the correct sequence.

If line 3 is zero, show zero amount on Form 1040, line 12.

If line 3 shows a loss, the taxpayer cannot use Schedule C-EZ and should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer.

Schedule C-EZ (Form 1040) 2004

Self-Employment Tax

Self-employment tax is a social security tax for persons who work for themselves. It is similar to the social security tax and Medicare tax withheld from employees' wages.

Special exemptions from self-employment tax may apply to members of the clergy, members of certain religious sects, and certain nonclergy church employees.

The tax is computed on Schedule SE and transferred to the Form 1040 to be added to other taxes owed. The Schedule SE is attached to the Form 1040.

Who Must File Schedule SE

A taxpayer must file Schedule SE if he or she has:

- Net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more, other than church employee income (line 4 of Short Schedule SE),

OR

- Church employee income of $108.28 or more (line 5a of Long Schedule SE).

Exception: If the only self-employment income was from earnings as a minister, member of a religious order, or Christian Science practitioner AND the taxpayer has filed Form 4361, Application for Exemption From Self-Employment Tax for Use by Ministers, Members of Religious Orders and Christian Science Practitioners, and has received IRS approval not to be taxed on these earnings, he or she does not have to file Schedule SE. Instead, write "Exempt—Form 4361" on Form 1040, line 57.

Most taxpayers will need to complete only Section A of Schedule SE, also known as the Short Schedule SE. Follow the chart on the form to determine whether the taxpayer qualifies to file the short form. Anyone who does not qualify and who must file the long form should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer.

If the taxpayer qualifies for the short form, enter the net profit from Schedule C-EZ, line 3, on lines 2 and 3 of the Schedule SE.

Follow the instructions on the form to determine net earnings from self-employment on line 4 and the self-employment tax on line 5.

Enter the amount from line 5 on Form 1040, line 57.

Deduction of Self-Employment Tax

Self-employed people may claim an adjustment to income of one-half of the social security and Medicare taxes they pay.

Enter the amount from Schedule SE, line 6, on Form 1040, line 30 as an adjustment to income.

Who Must File Schedule SE

You must file Schedule SE if:

- You had net earnings from self-employment from other than church employee income (line 4 of Short Schedule SE or line 4c of Long Schedule SE) of $400 or more or
- You had church employee income of $108.28 or more. Income from services you performed as a minister or a member of a religious order is not church employee income (see page SE-1).

Note. Even if you had a loss or a small amount of income from self-employment, it may be to your benefit to file Schedule SE and use either “optional method” in Part II of Long Schedule SE (see page SE-3).

Exception. If your only self-employment income was from earnings as a minister, member of a religious order, or Christian Science practitioner and you filed Form 4361 and received IRS approval not to be taxed on those earnings, do not file Schedule SE. Instead, write “Exempt-Form 4361” on Form 1040, line 57.

May I Use Short Schedule SE or Must I Use Long Schedule SE?

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Form 1099-R reports pension income, not earned income. Form 1099-R amounts are not included on line 7 of Form 1040. They are reported on Form 1040A, lines 12a and 12b or Form 1040, lines 16a and 16b. You will learn how to report pensions in Lesson 14, Pensions.

CAPITAL GAINS AND LOSSES

Both the sale of stock and the sale of a home are reported on Form 1040, line 13. The amount entered on Form 1040, line 13, is transferred from Schedule D (Form 1040), Capital Gains and Losses. See Lessons 12 and 13 for more information about these types of sales.

SALE OF BUSINESS PROPERTY

The sale or involuntary conversion of business property is reported on Form 1040, line 14. If taxpayers are reporting the sale of business property, they should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer.

PENSION AND ANNUITY INCOME

Generally, payers of pension and annuity income send Form 1099-R to the recipients. The total pension or annuity income is reported on Form 1040A, line 12a, or Form 1040, line 16a; the taxable portion is reported on line 12b (1040A) or 16b (1040). If all of the pension or annuity is taxable, make an entry on line 12b or 16b only.

For more information on pension and annuity income, see Lesson 14, Pensions.

RENTS, ROYALTIES, PARTNERSHIPS, ESTATES, AND TRUSTS

Income from rental property, royalties, partnerships, estates, and/or trusts is reported on Form 1040, line 17. Refer any taxpayer who receives income from these sources to a paid professional tax preparer.

FARM INCOME

Farm income is reported on Form 1040, line 18. Advise taxpayers with farm income to see a paid professional tax preparer.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

Unemployment compensation includes benefits to unemployed individuals that a state or the District of Columbia paid from the Federal Unemployment Trust Fund. It is reported to the recipient on Form 1099-G, Certain Government Payments. All unemployment compensation is taxable. Transfer the amount in (See Exhibit 7) box 1 of Form 1099-G to line 3 of Form 1040EZ, line 13 of Form 1040A, or line 19 of Form 1040.

Supplemental benefits provided from an employer's fund to which the employee did not contribute are sometimes thought of as unemployment benefits also. They are reported to the employee on Form W-2. Include them on line 7 of Form 1040A or 1040, or on line 1 of Form 1040EZ.

TaxWise HINTS

- When entering income for the taxpayer you have the following three choices:
Go to Line 7 and click F9 (Link),
Click the right mouse and select “Link” or Click on add form and select “W-2”.
- All the information entered into TaxWise should be exactly what is on the W-2.

Note: TaxWise automatically rounds numbers.

- When an entry is made for Alimony paid, TaxWise requires the Social Security Number of the spouse receiving the alimony.
- Form 4852, Substitute for Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement or Form 1099-R, Distributions from Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRA's, Insurance Contracts, etc. is available and can be completed in TaxWise.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

Form 1040EZ can be used to report only income from wages, salaries, tips, qualified tuition program earnings, Alaska Permanent Fund dividends, taxable scholarships and fellowship grants, interest of $1500 or less, and unemployment compensation.

You can report several types of income on Form 1040A:

- ▶ Wages, salaries, tips, scholarships and fellowship grants, qualified tuition program payments, and Alaska Permanent Fund dividends
- ▶ Interest income
- ▶ Dividend income
- ▶ Capital gain distributions
- ▶ Unemployment compensation

Use Form 1040A, Schedule 1, or Form 1040, Schedule B, to report:

- ▶ Interest and/or dividend income over $1500 and
- ▶ Interest from Series I and/or Series EE savings bonds, issued after 1989, that is excluded from taxable income.

Report any early withdrawal penalties on Form 1040, line 33, as an adjustment to income. Do not subtract penalties from interest income.

Report capital gain distributions directly on Form 1040, line 13a or Form 1040A, line 10, if the taxpayer is not required to file Schedule D.

State and local tax refunds are included in taxable income if:

- ▶ the taxpayer itemized deductions AND
- ▶ received a tax benefit by including the state and local tax in itemized deductions.

Alimony and separate maintenance payments are taxable income to the person receiving these payments. The person paying these payments can subtract them as an adjustment to income.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

Business income or loss is generally beyond the scope of VITA or TCE. However, in some cases, trained volunteers may help self-employed taxpayers who qualify to use Schedule C-EZ.

Taxpayers with net self-employment income of $400 or more must complete Schedule SE to compute self-employment tax.

Some nontaxable income is reported but is not included in taxable income:

- ▶ Tax-exempt interest
- ▶ Nontaxable portion of IRA distributions, including rollovers

Other income, such as prizes, awards, lottery winnings, and jury duty pay, is reported on line 21 of Form 1040, including the amount and description.

Volunteers should refer taxpayers with any of the following items to paid professional tax preparers:

- ▶ Sales of business property
- ▶ Income from rental property, royalties, partnerships, estates, or trusts
- ▶ Farm income

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This segment discusses whether to include specific items in gross income. You should be aware, however, that certain items related to moving or travel expenses generally must be accounted for even if they are not considered income.

This lesson includes information about the combat zone exclusion. For additional tax benefits, see Lesson 17, Tax Options for Combat Zone Participants.

This segment will help you to achieve the following objectives:

1. Determine which items received by Armed Forces members are includible in gross income.
2. Determine if an amended return must be filed for a taxpayer who received medical separation pay.
3. Determine who qualifies for exclusion of pay from income because of service in a combat zone.
4. Identify qualifying items of military pay received for service in a combat zone.

FORM W-2

Includible military income will generally be the amount shown in box 1 of Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement. If this amount differs from the last Leave and Earnings Statement for 2004, advise the person to contact his or her local accounting and finance or payroll office for an explanation.

The wages shown in box 1 of the 2004 Form W-2 should not include military pay excluded from an individual's income under the combat zone exclusion provisions. Tax exempt earned income, basic allowance for subsistence (BAS), basic allowance for housing (BAH), and certain in-kind allowances are no longer reported in box 12 of Form W-2.

INCLUDIBLE INCOME

Members of the Armed Forces receive many different types of pay and allowances. Some are includible in gross income while others are excludable from gross income. Includible items are subject to tax and must be reported on the taxpayer's tax return. Excludable items are not subject to tax, but may have to be shown on the tax return. The following items are includible in gross income, unless the pay is for service in a combat zone declared by an executive order of the President or in a qualified hazardous duty area declared by statute:

Accrued Leave Payment	Aviation Career Incentive Pay
Basic Pay	Continuation Pay
Diving Pay	Enlistment Bonus *
Flight Duty Pay	Foreign Duty Pay
Hostile Fire Pay	Imminent Danger Pay
Hazardous Duty pay	Medical Separation Pay
Medical/Dental Officer Pay	Overseas Extension Bonus
Nuclear Qualified Officer Pay	Proficiency Pay
Personal Money Allowance	Responsibility Pay
Reenlistment Bonus *	Sea Duty Pay
Scholarships (AFHPSP)	Student Loan Repayments
Separation Pay	Veterinary Officer Pay

* Enlistment and reenlistment bonuses fall under the category of taxable income. Income tax will be deducted from these entitlements before they are paid to the service member. Income tax is withheld at a flat rate of 27% as bonuses are treated as supplemental wages. Service members will not need to account for enlistment and reenlistment bonuses separately when preparing their tax returns as the payments and withholdings will be reflected on their Form W-2. If a service member feels this information is incorrect they will need to contact their local accounting and finance or payroll office.

A reenlistment bonus may be tax free if the voluntary extension or reenlistment occurs in a month the service member served in a combat zone.

EXCLUDABLE INCOME

The following qualified military benefits do not have to be reported as income on Form 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ. The exclusion applies whether the item is furnished in kind or is a reimbursement or allowance. The personal use of a vehicle cannot be excluded from gross income as a qualified military benefit.

Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH)	Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS)
Combat Zone Compensation (including hostile fire pay or imminent danger pay) (limited amount for officers)	Congressional Medal of Honor Pension
Death Allowances	Defense Counseling
Dislocation Allowances	Evacuation Allowance
Family Allowances	Group-term Life Insurance
Interment Allowance	Medical Benefits
Moving and Storage	Other Quarters Allowances
Overseas Housing Allowance (OHA)	Per Diem (Including reservist)
Professional Education	Qualified Hazardous Duty Pay
ROTC Educational and Subsistence Allowances	Survivor and Retirement Protection Plan Premiums Deducted from Military Retired Pay
Uniform Allowance
Trailer Allowance	Veterans' Benefits

Note: If the person you are helping is a member of the Armed Forces and was provided a commuter highway vehicle (such as a van) by his or her employer in 2004, refer the taxpayer to Publication 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income, and to a paid professional preparer.

MEDICAL SEPARATION PAY

Service members who have been separated from the service for years of service or medical reasons are given severance pay, which are taxable as wages. If any portion of their pay is subject to medical disability, only the Veteran's Affairs (VA) can make that determination and assign what percentage is attributable to medical disability pension due. This process takes several months and sometimes years. The service member will receive the total "pension" which is taxable until the VA makes the determination and sends the discharged service member a letter of determination.

Disability compensation is a monetary benefit paid to veterans who are disabled by injury or disease incurred or aggravated during active military service. The service of the veteran must have been terminated through separation or discharge under conditions that were other than dishonorable. Disability compensation varies with the degree of disability and the number of dependents, and is paid monthly. The benefits are not subject to federal or state income tax.

Once the letter of determination is received, any future pension payments will be off-set by that percentage and paid directly from the VA. The payments received directly from the VA are not taxable and will not be include in the Form W-2. However, the payments received prior to the letter of determination being issued have already been taxed and the letter also exempts that percentage of pay already received from taxes. The service member needs to file an amended return, if a return has already been filed, and attach a copy of the letter of determination to the Form 1040X.

The payment of military retirement pay, disability severance pay and separation incentive payments known as SSB and VSI (Special Separation Benefits and Voluntary Separation Incentives) also affects the amount of VA compensation paid.

Example

Anita Bennett, an active duty service member, was separated due to a medical condition in February 2003. At the time of her separation she was given medical separation pay or severance pay in the amount of $10,000.00. She receives a service pension in the amount of $3000 per month. Her 2003 Form W-2 showed $48,000 in wages of which $43,000 ($$10,000 + ($3000 \times 11 \text{ months})$) was considered pension. She filed and claimed the full amount on her 2003 tax return. In 2004 the Veteran's Administration (VA) determined that due to her medical condition she was entitled to a VA disability pension of 50% from the date of her discharge. She receives her determination letter from the VA in March 2004, the tax return that includes her severance pay should be amended to exclude the 50% of the pension pay she received in 2003, $21,500.00 ($($10,000 + 33,000) \times 50\%$). She would attach a copy of the letter of determination to the amended return. She also will need to adjust her pension received January thru March 2004 by the 50%., the other months will reflect the correct taxable amount. In 2004 she will also need to attach a copy of the letter to her return to show why the amount is different from the Form W-2. The Form W-2 that she receives in 2005 and forward will show the correct amount of taxable wages.

COMBAT ZONE EXCLUSION

Members of the U.S. Armed Forces who serve in a combat zone (defined later) may exclude certain pay from their income. They do not have to receive the pay while in a combat zone, in a hospital, or in the same year they served in a combat zone. However, the entitlement to the pay must have fully accrued in a month during which they served in the combat zone or were hospitalized as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving in the combat zone. The following military pay can be excluded from their income.

- Active duty pay earned in any month during which they served in a combat zone.
- Imminent danger/hostile fire pay
- A reenlistment bonus if the voluntary extension or reenlistment occurs in a month during which they served in a combat zone.
- Pay for accrued leave earned in any month during which they served in a combat zone. The Department of Defense must determine that the unused leave was earned during that period.
- Pay received for duties as a member of the Armed Forces in clubs, messes, post and station theaters, and other nonappropriated fund activities. The pay must be earned in a month during which they served in a combat zone.
- Awards for suggestions, inventions, or scientific achievements to which members are entitled to because of a submission they made in a month during which they served in a combat zone.
- Student loan repayments that are attributable to their period of service in a combat zone.

Retirement pay does not qualify for the combat zone exclusion.

Partial (month) service. Members of the U.S. Armed Forces who serve in a combat zone for one or more days during a particular month, are entitled to an exclusion for that entire month.

Combat Zone

A combat zone is any area the President of the United States designates by Executive Order as an area in which the U.S. Armed Forces are engaging or have engaged in combat. An area usually becomes a combat zone and ceases to be a combat zone on the dates the President designates by Executive Order.

Afghanistan area. By Executive Order No. 13239, Afghanistan (and airspace above) is designated as a combat zone beginning September 19, 2001.

Yemen area. Executive Order No. 13239 was extended to include Yemen as a designated combat zone beginning April 10, 2002.

The Kosovo area. By Executive Order No. 13119 and Public Law 106-21, the following locations (including air space above) were designated as a combat zone and a qualified hazardous duty area beginning March 24, 1999.

- Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (Serbia/Montenegro)
- Albania
- The Adriatic Sea

- The Ionian Sea—north of the 39th parallel (including all of the airspace in connection with the Kosovo operation.)

Persian Gulf area. By Executive Order No. 12744, the following locations (and airspace above) were designated as a combat zone beginning January 17, 1991.

- The Persian Gulf,
- The Red Sea,
- The Gulf of Oman,
- The part of the Arabian Sea that is north of 10 degrees north latitude and west of 68 degrees east longitude,
- The Gulf of Aden, and
- The total land areas of Iraq, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Oman, Bahrain, Qatar, and the United Arab Emirates.

In addition, the Department of Defense has certified these locations for combat zone tax benefits due to their direct support of military operations, beginning on the listed dates:

In support of Operation Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan combat zone):

- Pakistan, Tajikistan and Jordan – September 19, 2001
- Incirlik Air Base, Turkey – September 21, 2001
- Kyrgyzstan and Uzbekistan – October 1, 2001
- Philippines – January 9, 2002
- Yemen – April 10, 2002
- Djibouti – July 1, 2002

In support of Operation Iraqi Freedom (Arabian Peninsula Areas combat zone):

- Israel and Turkey – January 1, 2003
- The Mediterranean

Qualified hazardous duty area. Beginning November 21, 1995, a qualified hazardous duty area in the former Yugoslavia is treated as if it were a combat zone. The qualified hazardous duty area includes:

- Bosnia and Herzegovina,
- Croatia, and
- Macedonia.

Members of the Armed Forces deployed overseas away from their permanent duty station in support of operations in a qualified hazardous duty area, or performing qualifying service outside the qualified hazardous duty area, are treated as if they are in a combat zone solely for the purposes of the extension of deadlines discussed in Lesson 16. These personnel are not entitled to other combat zone tax benefits.

Serving in a Combat Zone

Service in a combat zone includes any periods that military members are absent from duty because of sickness, wounds, or leave. If, as a result of serving in a combat zone, a person becomes a prisoner of war or is missing in action, that person is considered to be serving in the combat zone so long as he or she keeps that status for military pay purposes.

Qualifying service outside combat zone. Military service outside a combat zone is considered to be performed in a combat zone if:

- The service is in direct support of military operations in the combat zone, and
- The service qualifies a member for special military pay for duty subject to hostile fire or imminent danger.

Military pay received for this service will qualify for the combat zone exclusion if the other requirements are met.

Non-qualifying presence in combat zone. The following military service does not qualify as service in a combat zone.

- Presence in a combat zone while on leave from a duty station located outside the combat zone,
- Passage over or through a combat zone during a trip between 2 points that are outside a combat zone, and
- Presence in a combat zone solely for a member's personal convenience.

Note. Military Members are considered to be serving in a combat zone if they are either assigned on official temporary duty to a combat zone or they qualify for hostile fire/imminent danger pay while in a combat zone.

Amount of Exclusion

Enlisted members. Enlisted members, warrant officers, or commissioned warrant officers who serve in a combat zone during any part of a month, can exclude all of their military pay for that month from their income. They can also exclude military pay earned while they are hospitalized as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred in the combat zone. The exclusion of their military pay while they are hospitalized does not apply to any month that begins more than 2 years after the end of combat activities in that combat zone. Their hospitalization does not have to be in the combat zone.

Officers. Commissioned officers (including Limited Duty Officers), may exclude their pay according to the rules just discussed. However, the amount of their exclusion is limited to the highest rate of enlisted pay (plus imminent danger/hostile fire pay they received) for each month during any part of which they served in a combat zone or were hospitalized as a result of their service there.

Hospitalized while serving in the combat zone. If a member is hospitalized while serving in the combat zone, the wound, disease, or injury causing the hospitalization will be presumed to have been incurred while serving in the combat zone unless there is clear evidence to the contrary.

Example

Ron Brady is hospitalized for a specific disease after serving in a combat zone for 3 weeks, and the disease for which he is hospitalized has an incubation period of 2 to 4 weeks. The disease is presumed to have been incurred while he was serving in the combat zone. On the other hand, if the incubation period of the disease were one year, the disease would not have been incurred while he was serving in the combat zone.

Hospitalized after leaving the combat zone. In some cases the wound, disease, or injury may have been incurred while serving in the combat zone, even though the member was not hospitalized until after he/she left.

Example

Martha Marshall was hospitalized for a specific disease 3 weeks after she left the combat zone. The incubation period of the disease is from 2 to 4 weeks. The disease was considered incurred while serving in the combat zone.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY

The community property states are Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Washington, and Wisconsin. Special rules apply to married persons who file separate returns or who were divorced during the tax year and were domiciled in a community property state.

For military personnel in community property states, the key word is “domicile.” Domicile describes someone’s legal, permanent residence. It is not always where the person presently lives.

Whether an item is subject to community property laws depends on the nature of the payment.

Armed Forces pay. State community property laws apply to active military pay. Generally, the character of the pay as separate to community income is determined by the marital status and domicile of the Armed Forces member and his or her spouse while the member is in active military service.

Armed Forces retired or retainer pay. Retired or retainer payments to a member of the Armed Forces may be subject to community property laws.

For more information, see Publication 555, Community Property.

Answer _____

Exercise 2

Sergeant James Wells was medically separated, in November 2003, from active duty military service due to a medical condition that interfered with his ability to perform his military duties. James was entitled to and received $12,000 in medical separation pay. After taxes he received $8,640. Prior to his separation he submitted the required documentation to the Veteran's Affairs applying for disability pay. James filed his tax return in March 2004 and received a $567 refund. In August of 2004 James received his determination letter from VA informing him he was entitled to an $800 disability pension per month from the date of his discharge.

- A. Does James need to file an amended tax return?

Answer _____

- B. What amount of pay will James need to exclude from his pay when he files an amended tax return?

Answer _____

- C. When will James start receiving his disability pension?

You have learned that certain items received by members of the Armed Forces are included in their gross income. Certain other items are specifically excluded by law. Pay for service in a combat zone is not taxed for an enlisted member of the U.S. military. The amount of income that is not taxed for commissioned officers serving in a combat zone is limited to the highest rate of enlisted pay plus the amount of imminent danger pay per month.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In the first part of this lesson we discussed what the definition of gross income is. Included in this definition was self-employment income and rental income. In this segment we will learn how to handle self-employment income and what is required in order to prepare a tax return with a Schedule C-EZ. Many military members and their spouses may earn additional income as sole proprietors and not be aware of their responsibility to report it. In some cases, income received is reported to those individuals by means of Form 1099-MISC. In many cases no Form 1099-MISC is received, just cash or checks paid to the taxpayer. We will learn about rental income and how to report it.

When this segment is completed, we will be able to:

1. Determine when business income must be reported using Schedule C-EZ.
2. Determine when Schedule SE must be filed.
3. Explain when Schedule E must be filed.

DETERMINING WHICH TAX YEAR TO REPORT THE BUSINESS INCOME

Under the cash method, a self-employed taxpayer includes in his or her business gross income all items of income actually or constructively received during the tax year. If a taxpayer received property or services, he or she must include the fair market value of those items received in income.

Example

On December 30, 2003, a customer mailed a check for interior decorating services provided by Kathy (your taxpayer). Kathy received the check on January 2, 2004. Kathy must include the amount of the check in income for 2004.

Constructive receipt. You have constructive receipt of income when an amount is credited to your account or made available to you without restriction. You do not need to have possession of it. If you authorize someone to be your agent and receive income for you, you are treated as having received it when your agent received it.

Example

Interest is credited to your bank account in December 2004. You do not withdraw it or enter it into your passbook until 2005. You must include it in your gross income for 2004.

Delaying receipt of income. You cannot hold checks or postpone taking possession of similar property from one tax year to another to avoid paying tax on the income. You must report the income in the year the property is received or made available to you without restriction.

Example

Frances Jackson, a service contractor, was entitled to received a $10,000 payment on a contract in December 2004. She was told in December that her payment was available. At her request, she was not paid until January 2005. She must include this payment in her 2004 income because it was constructively received in 2004.

Checks. Receipt of a valid check by the end of the tax year is constructive receipt of income in that year, even if you cannot cash or deposit the check until the following year.

Example

Mrs. Reed received a check for $500 on December 31, 2004, from a parent in her day care business. She could not deposit the check in her business account until January 2, 2005. She must include this fee in her income for 2004.

INCOME

Business income may be reported to taxpayers in various ways or even not at all. Some taxpayers receive informational returns such as the Form 1099-MISC; other times it may be just a check or cash for services performed. Regardless of how income is received, self-employed taxpayers are responsible for recording the amount of income received, and related expenses, in their permanent books of record. Normally, the easiest record keeping is maintaining a separate business checking account.

From these records the taxpayer should be able to state to you the total gross receipts or sales for the year, any returns and allowances (although normally a cash based taxpayer should not have any of these since income is reported at the end of the year) and the Cost of Goods Sold. We will discuss deductions for expenses later in the lesson.

DEDUCTIONS FOR EXPENSES

In earlier chapters you learned about deductions from gross income. The same concept applies to business gross income. Self-employed taxpayers are allowed to deduct from income those “ordinary and necessary” expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying out a trade or business.

Auto Expenses

Business auto expenses can be calculated by either the actual cost method or the standard mileage method. The taxpayer usually makes the choice of which method to use the first year that the vehicle is used for the business. It is permissible to switch from the standard mileage method to the actual expense method; however, taxpayers generally are not permitted to switch from actual method to the standard mileage method.

The Standard Mileage Method is available for both owned and leased autos. However, the vehicle must not be used for hire (such as a taxi or shuttle van). The election to use the standard mileage method must generally be made in the year the auto is first used in business. In a later year the taxpayer may switch to the actual expense method but cannot claim any depreciation, if the vehicle is considered fully depreciated. In leased cars the standard mileage method must be for the entire lease period of the auto.

In 2004 the standard mileage rate is 37.5¢.

Expenses not included in the standard mileage allowance and deductible in addition to the standard mileage allowance are business parking fees and tolls, and interest on auto loan (business portion).

A taxpayer is limited to the actual expense method if any of the following are true:

1. ACRS or MACRS Depreciation has previously been claimed on the auto.
2. A section 179 expense has been claimed on the auto.
3. Any method of depreciation on the auto other than straight line over the estimated useful life of the auto.

Under this method the taxpayer determines the actual cost of those items listed under the standard mileage rate and deducts that amount. Both methods should be considered to determine which gives the most beneficial deduction to the taxpayer.

CRITERIA FOR FILING SCHEDULE C-EZ

In order to file the EZ version of the Schedule C the taxpayer must meet the criteria listed below:

1. Have less than $5,000 in business expenses
2. Use the Cash method of accounting
3. Have no inventory at any time during the year
4. Have positive net income (not have a net loss)
5. Operate only one business as a sole proprietor during the tax year
6. Have no employees during the year.

ALERT

The amount of allowable business expenses on Form 1040, Schedule C-EZ, Net Profit From Business was increased from $2,500 or less to $5,000 or less.

Example

Jerry owns and operates a one-person tax preparation business during the filing season. His income is $1,500 accounted for via the cash method; this is the only business he operated during the year. He has the following expenses, paper $400 and ink $200. Since Jerry's expenses total $600 Jerry has met all the requirements and therefore can use the Schedule C-EZ for reporting his business income.

Exercise 1

Jim is the civilian spouse of Lt. Carry Ann. He operates a business (sole proprietorship) as a lawyer. His gross income from business is $70,000. His total business expenses amount to $1,800. Can he use the Schedule C-EZ, yes or no?

Answer _____

Exercise 2

Martha is the wife of Stuart, a Marine stationed in California. During the year Martha operates a sole proprietorship called Squared Away Child Care services. She comes to you for help with her return. A review of her records reflect the following:

Income: $6,700

Expenses:

Advertising	$600
Car & Truck	$150
Office Expense	$500
Toys and Games	$200
Telephone	$800
Utilities	$300
Total Expenses	$2,550
Net Income	$4,150

Can Martha file a Schedule C-EZ?

Answer _____

SCHEDULE SE

If the net income on the Schedule C or Schedule C-EZ is $400 or more, you will need to file a Schedule SE. The Schedule SE calculates the self-employment tax, which is comprised of the Social Security and Medicare taxes.

SCHEDULE E

For the military, rental income and expenses is a frequent occurrence since many military members are not able to sell their homes when they get orders to relocate. Many homeowners rent out their old home. The income and the expenses from the rental of the property are recorded on Schedule E. This section will provide basic guidance on how to complete the Schedule E.

We will not discuss the calculation of depreciation. Depreciation is a complex subject. If the taxpayer provides you with the depreciation amount, you can enter it on the tax return. If the taxpayer does not know the depreciation amount, you may need to refer them to the military legal assistance office.

In the first year of the rental, you might have to divide the mortgage interest and real estate taxes between Schedule A and Schedule E. You simply divide the total mortgage interest and property taxes by twelve and multiply by the number of months the home was used for each purpose.

Example

Sgt. Judson lived in his home through September 2004. He received orders and rented his home out in October. Nine months of the mortgage interest and property taxes would go on his Schedule A and the other three months would go on the Schedule E. Remember, also, that three months of his property insurance is also a deductible item on Schedule E, even though this expense is not deductible when the home is his residence.

Other expenses that are deductible for rental property are: cleaning and maintenance, repairs, utilities that are paid for the tenant, legal and professional fees, management fees you pay a real estate company or individual to care for your property in your absence, auto and travel expense to check on the property, long distance phone calls, etc.

Once you deduct all of the expenses and the depreciation from the rent received, you may come up with a loss. The net income or loss from rental property is usually considered passive. If the taxpayer actively participates in the renting of the property (such as making decisions, determining who can rent the property), the loss is fully deductible up to limit. Rental losses up to $25,000 ($12,500 for married taxpayers filing separate and living apart for the entire year) may be used to offset any and all nonpassive income if the taxpayer actively participates in the residential rental activity.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will provide insights into the misconception that a U.S. citizen or resident alien only files a U.S. tax return if he or she has income from the United States, especially if taxes are paid to another country.

At the end of this segment, you will be able to:

- Define worldwide income and compute the U.S. dollar value of a foreign currency if given an exchange rate table.
- Determine when to use average annual exchange figures.

WORLDWIDE INCOME

U.S. citizens and U.S. resident aliens are required to file a U.S. tax return based on their worldwide income. It has been a popular misconception that a person only has to file a U.S. tax return if he or she has income from the United States, especially if he or she pays taxes to another country. While U.S. citizens and U.S. resident aliens living abroad can claim tax benefits such as the foreign earned income exclusion and the foreign tax credit (later lessons), they have the same filing requirements as U.S. citizens living in the United States. This applies whether their income is from within or outside the U.S. Types of income, such as child support, which would not be taxed in the U.S., are generally not taxed if from outside the U.S. But, types of income which would be taxable if from within the U.S. are also taxable if from outside the U.S.

You may wish to refer to the lists of taxable and nontaxable income on the applicable pages of the basic Military Section of the text.

Example 1

In 2004, Joe Adams earned $40,000 while working in Austin, Texas, for XYZ Corporation. In September 2004, he transferred to their office in Stuttgart, Germany. While in Germany, he earned $30,000. His worldwide wages earned in 2004 would be $70,000. Line 7 of his Form 1040 would show $70,000.

Exercise 1

Marta Brener lives in Mussbach, Germany. Her 2004 income included $22,000 in wages earned in Germany. She earned $3,000 in interest from her U.S. bank and $2,000 unemployment compensation from the state of Iowa. What is Marta's worldwide gross income?

Exercise 2

Mary Carlton lives in Belgium. Her 2004 income included $10,000 in wages from her Belgian employer. She received $2,000 interest from her U.S. bank, $8,000 in alimony payments and $8,000 in child support payments from her ex-spouse. What is her worldwide gross income?

Exercise 3

Would Marta Brener (Exercise 1) have to file a U.S. tax return for 2004? Would Mary Carlton (Exercise 2) have to file a U.S. tax return for 2004?

Exchange Rates

Another question that you will frequently be asked is "What exchange rate do I use?" The exchange rates of foreign currencies to the U.S. tax dollar change on a daily basis. All amounts on the U.S. tax return must be stated in U.S. dollars. Since most taxpayers abroad receive some kind of income in foreign currency, you will find situations when you will need to convert foreign income into U.S. dollars in order to put these income amounts on the return. Most countries have a medium of currency compared to which the value of the dollar is larger. Very few countries have mediums compared to which the U.S. dollar is smaller. Exchange rates are stated in two ways: the foreign currency to the U.S. dollar, and the dollar's value in the foreign currency.

When making a conversion, you should make sure that the exchange rate is stated in foreign currency to one U.S. dollar. To convert a sum of money into U.S. dollars, you would divide the foreign currency by the exchange rate.

Example 2

If you received 3,000 Euros on a day that the exchange rate was 1.7115 Euros to $1 U.S., you would have $1,752.85 in equivalent

U.S. dollar value ($3,000/1.7115 = 1,752.85$). To convert a sum of money into U.S. dollars when the currency unit is larger in value, you can use the same process.

Example 3

Caryn received 200 Euros on a day that the exchange rate was .5514 Euros to one U.S. dollar. In U.S. dollars, she would have $362.71 ($200/.5514 = 362.71$).

Exercise 4

Convert the following amounts to U.S. dollars.

- a. 36,000 Euros (1.7115 exchange rate) _____
- b. 800 Euros (.5514 exchange rate) _____

When to Convert. Now that you have information on how to calculate exchange rates, we now need to discuss what exchange rates to use. Actually, what exchange rate to use is determined by the date of the transactions; that is the date on the check or the date money is credited to the taxpayer's account. If the taxpayer has income which was received evenly throughout the year, he or she can use the average annual exchange rate if the foreign exchange rate was relatively stable during the year. The average annual exchange rate is available from IRS offices throughout the world generally starting around January 15.

IRS also distributes information to its worldwide offices concerning the quarterly exchange rates for various currencies.

Example 4

Edward Pasco worked in Dallas for Megacorp Incorporated from January until September 2004. On September 29, he was transferred to their Mexico City office where he will be working for 3 years. While in the U.S., Edward earned his salary in U.S. dollars. When he moved to Mexico, he was paid in Mexican pesos. Since he did not receive his salary in foreign currency throughout the year, he should not use the annual average exchange rate. He should use the average rates for October, November, and December.

Where to Obtain Exchange Rates

To obtain exchange rates, you can call the IRS International office at 215-516-2000, or the overseas IRS offices. The phone numbers of these offices are listed in Publication 54. You may also contact banks who provide international currency exchange services. Since a taxpayer "should use the rate that most nearly reflects the value of the foreign currency" (Publication 54) at the time he or she receives the income, the taxpayer may use an exchange rate that is different from the rates posted in our worldwide offices if he finds it to be a truer representation.

Exercise 5

Deborah Vance lives and works in Manila, Philippines. In 2004, she had the following income: 16,000 Filipino pesos in wages, 1,200 Filipino pesos interest income and $500 in U.S. interest from her U.S. bank. On June 7, 2004, she sold her car and made a profit of 2,000 Philippine pesos (fully taxable capital gain). Since these items are fully taxable, what is the total income to be reported on her U.S. tax return (in U.S. dollars)?

For this exercise assume that the 2004 average annual exchange rate for the Philippine peso is 40.25 pesos to 1.00

U.S. dollar and the exchange rate for June 7, 2004 was 32.55 pesos to 1.00 U.S. dollar.

Wages _____

Interest _____

Capital Gain _____

Total 2004 Income _____

Sometimes, you may get questions on exchanging money when there is “blocked income” or “soft currency”. Questions on these issues should be referred to IRS. “Blocked income” refers to a situation where a taxpayer cannot convert foreign currency to U.S. dollars. This is generally due to local law or local government policy. There are special tax rules that exist when there is blocked income which allows a person to choose to put off reporting part of their income. “Soft currency” refers to a situation where a person can only convert back to U.S. dollars an amount that equals what he brought into that country in U.S. dollars.

STUDENT NOTES

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will explain when a self-employed taxpayer living abroad is subject to U.S. income tax requirements and their filing obligations.

At the end of the segment, you will be able to:

1. Determine who is a self-employed individual.
2. Compute the self-employment tax for a U.S. citizen or resident abroad.
3. Compute the deduction for self-employment tax.

EMPLOYEE OR SELF-EMPLOYED

A self-employed person is generally one who either:

1. Carries on a trade or business as a sole proprietor or independent contractor.
2. Is a member of a partnership that carries on a trade or business.
3. Otherwise in business for himself or herself.

SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX

The self-employment tax is a social security tax for individuals who work for themselves. It is similar to the social security tax withheld from the pay of wage earners.

Social security benefits are available to individuals who are self-employed just as they are to wage earners. Payments of self-employment tax contribute to an individual's coverage under the social security system.

Income Limits. You must pay self-employment tax if you have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more a year.

Self-employment tax consists of two parts, social security and medicare. For 2004, social security tax is paid on the first $87,900 of net income. The medicare tax is imposed on the full amount of net earnings.

Note: If your self-employment income is $400 or more, you must file a return even though your income is below the minimum amount for income tax filing purposes.

Effect of Foreign Earned Income Exclusion. You must take all of your earned income into account in figuring your self-employment tax, even though the income is exempt from income tax because of the foreign earned income exclusion.

Example 1

You are in business abroad as a consultant and qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion. Your foreign earned income is $70,000, business expenses $20,000, resulting in net earnings of $50,000. You must pay self-employment tax on the net income even though you excluded all of your earned income.

Exemption from U.S. Self-Employment Tax. The United States may reach agreements with foreign countries to eliminate dual coverage and dual contributions (taxes) to social security systems for the same work. As a general rule, self-employed persons who are subject to dual taxation will only be covered by the social security system of the country where they reside.

For more information, consult Publication 54, “Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad.”

WHICH FORMS TO USE

Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, is used to report self-employment tax. Both income tax and self-employment tax are due at the same time. Schedule SE, Social Security Self-Employment Tax, is used to figure the tax. Even if the taxpayer is not otherwise required to file an income tax return, he or she must file both Form 1040 and Schedule SE to pay self-employment tax.

The Schedule SE includes a flowchart to determine if the short or long form is required.

COMPUTING THE SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX

Although there are three methods available to compute self-employment tax, VITA volunteers will only use the regular method. Taxpayers who wish to use the other methods should seek paid—professional assistance. There are no limits on who may use the regular method. Most taxpayers use this method.

Under the regular method, the net income from your business or profession is generally your net self-employment earnings from Schedules C, C-EZ, F, and K-1 (Form 1065).

If you have more than one trade or business, your net earnings from self-employment are the combined net earnings from each of your businesses. A loss in one business will reduce the income earned in another. You must claim all allowable deductions including depreciation when figuring your net earnings from self-employment.

Even though the income may be exempt from income tax because of foreign earned income exclusion, you must take all of your earned income into account in figuring your self-employment tax. Refer to Publication 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad, regarding the effect of the foreign earned income exclusion on U.S. self-employment tax.

Example 2

Susan J. Brown is sole proprietor of a dress shop, “Milady Fashions.” Her Schedule C shows a net profit of $35,100. Susan’s completed Schedule SE is shown at the end of this section.

If Susan were the proprietor of more than one business, she would have combined the profits and losses from all of them and filled out only one Schedule SE. If, in addition to operating her dress shop, Susan had worked for wages totaling $87,900 or more, she would have already paid the maximum amount of social security tax owed on her wages, but she would still be subject to the medicare portion (2.9%) of self employment tax. In this case, she would use the long Schedule SE.

The line numbers shown below in bold type refer to the line numbers on the sample filled-in Schedule SE on the following page.

Line 1. Since Susan has no earnings from farm self-employment, she leaves line 1 blank.

Line 2. Susan enters the net profit from her Schedule C, $35,100.

Line 3. Since Susan has no farm income, she enters the same amount on line 3.

Line 4. Multiply the amount of line 3 by .9235 and enter the result.

Line 5. Susan determines her self-employment tax by using the first option on Line 5. She multiplies $32,415 on Line 4 by 15.3%. She enters $4,959 on Line 5. This is her self-employment tax. She also enters this amount on Line 57 of Form 1040.

- You had church employee income of $108.28 or more. Income from services you performed as a minister or a member of a religious order is not church employee income (see page SE-1).

Note. Even if you had a loss or a small amount of income from self-employment, it may be to your benefit to file Schedule SE and use either "optional method" in Part II of Long Schedule SE (see page SE-3).

Exception. If your only self-employment income was from earnings as a minister, member of a religious order, or Christian Science practitioner and you filed Form 4361 and received IRS approval not to be taxed on those earnings, do not file Schedule SE. Instead, write "Exempt-Form 4361" on Form 1040, line 57.

This deduction for one-half of the SE tax will reduce Susan's income subject to income tax. However, if all of Susan's self-employment income qualifies for the foreign earned income exclusion, this deduction is allocable to the excluded income and must be included on line 42 the Form 2555. This prevents the deduction from reducing other taxable income. See the earlier chapter on foreign earned income exclusion for additional information.

Instead, write "Exempt-Form 4361" on Form 1040, line 57.

RENTAL INCOME AND EXPENSES

Lesson 3

International Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will explain the rental income reporting requirements for U.S. citizens and resident aliens. Generally, you must include in gross income all amounts received from rental properties, including rental receipts received from your former residence. Both United States citizens and resident aliens must report rental income, regardless whether the rental property is located in the United States or in a foreign country.

At the end of the segment, you will be able to:

1. Determine how to report rental income.
2. Determine how to report rental expenses.
3. Determine how to report rental income when property is used for personal purposes either part of the year or during the entire year.
4. Determine how to compute deductible depreciation expense.
5. Identify the application of at-risk and passive activity rules.

NOTE: The information and explanation of this issue is beyond the usual scope of Volunteer training. An exception has been made to serve the military and other Volunteers living abroad due to limited access to both resources and the professional preparers.

WHICH FORMS TO USE

Rental income and expenses are reported on Schedule E (Form 1040), Supplemental Income Schedule, Part 1. Additional information on rental income can be found in Publication 527, "Residential Rental Property," and Publication 946, "How to Depreciate Property."

RENTAL INCOME

Rental income may include other payments in addition to the normal and ordinary rents received. Include in gross rental income advance rent, security deposits, payments for canceling a lease, expenses paid by the tenant, and the fair market value of property or services received in exchange for rental payments. The security deposit is not included when the taxpayer plans on returning the deposit at the end of the lease. A taxpayer using the cash basis of accounting, reports the income when actually received. Taxpayers using the accrual accounting method report the income in the year they are entitled to receive payments.

RENTAL EXPENSES

The deductible rental expenses are reported on the Schedule E, Part I, (see Exhibit 1) lines 5 through 18.

Deductible expenses include any ordinary and necessary expenses, such as expenses for repairs, maintenance, certain operating expenses and depreciation.

Repairs vs. Improvements. The cost of a repair is a current year deduction, however, the cost of an improvement must be depreciated over the useful life of the improvement. The distinction between a repair and an improvement is that a repair keeps the property in good operating condition, whereas an improvement materially adds to the life or value of the property or adapts it to new uses. The following chart helps illustrate the difference between repairs and improvements.

REPAIRS

Painting

Fixing Gutters

Repairing Driveways

Replacing Window Glass

Repairing the Roof

IMPROVEMENTS

Adding a Room

Putting up a Fence

Putting in plumbing or wiring

Replacing hot water tank

Putting on a new roof

Since an improvement is a capital expenditure and must be depreciated, the total cost including material, labor, and installation increases the basis of the property. Depreciation will be discussed later in this chapter.

Other Expenses. Some of the other ordinary expenses that may be deducted from gross rental income include salary and wages, utilities, rental of equipment, insurance premiums, interest expense (mortgage interest), advertising, taxes, and commissions paid for collecting rental income. If any part of the property tax is for local benefits, such as putting in streets and sidewalks, that portion of the property tax is added to the basis of the property rather than deducted as an ordinary expense. Insurance premiums paid in advance must be prorated over the period covered by the policy by both the cash basis and accrual basis taxpayer. If the rental is a condominium or cooperative, the maintenance fee is deductible. See Publication 527, Residential Rental Property, for taxes and interest deductions on cooperatives. Generally, mortgage interest expense is fully deductible. However, if the taxpayer has interest expense other than mortgage interest, refer him or her to the Internal Revenue Service or a professional preparer.

Ordinary and necessary travel and transportation expenses attributable to the production of rental income are deductible. If a personal automobile is used, the taxpayer may use the standard mileage rate for business mileage. The standard mileage rate is 37.5 cents per mile for the year 2004. When using the standard mileage rate, parking fees and tolls may also be deducted. The standard mileage rate method (MACRS) may be selected on a yearly basis. However, if changing to actual expense after using the standard mileage method, accelerated depreciation may not be used. In order to claim depreciation under the actual expense method for transportation expenses, the vehicle must be used more than 50 percent for business, including for the production of rental income. If the travel incurred on behalf of a rental property is into or outside of the United States, the trip may have a dual purpose. Substantiation of the pleasure vs. business purpose and allocation of the expenses may be required. When a tenant does not pay the rent, the cash-basis landlord cannot take a deduction for the unpaid rent, since a deduction can never be taken for a payment that has never been included in income.

SPECIAL ALLOCATION

Special rules apply when rental property is used for personal purposes, or as a rental without the intent to make a profit. When renting part of the property, certain expenses must be divided between rental use and personal use. When figuring the division of expenses, the taxpayer may use any reasonable method. The most common methods used are based on the number of rooms in the dwelling or on the total area of the dwelling.

Example 1

Mary Alma rents one room in her house. The total square footage of her house is 1,000 square feet. The rental room measures 10 feet by 10 feet (100 square feet). She may deduct 10% of any allowable expense that benefited the renter. She may deduct 100% of any expenses that relate only to the rental portion of the house, such as painting the rented room.

Exercise 1

Mary Alma, in the example above, has the following expenses attributable to the entire property:

Taxes	$ 1,000
Utilities	$ 600
Mortgage Interest	$ 800
Depreciation	$ 500

Also wallpapering expense of $100 for the tenant's room only.

- What are the allowable expense deductions on Schedule E?
Answer: _____
- What are the allowable expense deductions on Schedule A?
Answer: _____

For property changed to rental use in the tax year other than the beginning of the year, the allocation of expenses should be made between the number of days in the year for personal use and the number of days for rental use.

Example 2

John Princeton is transferred overseas and begins renting out his residence on October 1, 2004. For 2004, he may deduct three-twelfths (25 percent) of his yearly expenses such as taxes, interest and utilities as rental expenses.

Vacation Home and Other Dwelling Units. Certain limitations apply to rental expenses for vacation homes or other dwellings that are used by the taxpayer for personal use during the year. A dwelling unit for this purpose includes a house, apartment, condominium, mobile home, boat or similar property. However, the limitation does not apply to hotel, motel, inn or similar dwelling unit. The limitation on deductions applies if a dwelling unit is used as a residence during the tax year for personal purposes for greater than:

1. 14 days or
2. 10 percent of the number of days during the tax year the property is rented at fair market value.

See Publication 527 for a discussion of the limitations.

Use as home before or after renting. If you use a dwelling unit as your main home before or after renting it, or trying to rent it, you may not have to count the days you use it as your main home as days of personal use.

12 months or more. If for 12 or more consecutive months, you rent or try to rent a dwelling unit at a fair rental price, some of the days on which you use the property as your main home are not counted as days of personal use.

Do not count as days of personal use the days you used the property as your main home.

- a) During the year in which you began renting it or offering it for rent, but before you began renting it or offering it for rent, or
- b) During the year in which you stopped renting it or offering it for rent, but after you stopped renting it or offering it for rent.

Example 3

On February 28, 2002, you moved out of the house you had lived in for 6 years because you accepted a job in another town. You rent your house at a fair rental price from March 15, 2002, to May 14, 2004. On June 1, 2004, you move back to town and move back into your house.

Your use of the house as your main home from January 1 to February 28, 2002, and from June 1 to December 31, 2004, is not counted as personal use.

Since these days are not counted as days of personal use the limitations on deductions discussed above do not apply.

Depreciation

The cost of property with a useful life of one year or more and used in a trade or business or held for the production of income is recovered by allowing an annual deduction called depreciation. The most common methods for the depreciation are called ACRS (Accelerated Cost Recovery System) for property placed in service after 1980 and before 1987 and MACRS (modified ACRS) for property placed in service after 1986. Both of these depreciation methods have an alternative method that may be chosen that generally increases the number of years the property is depreciated over and therefore decreases the annual deduction. The method used for property placed in service before 1981 is referred to as straight line or declining balance.

Depreciable property includes buildings, machinery, furniture, equipment and vehicles. As discussed earlier any cost for additions or improvements to the rental property must also be depreciated. Depreciation is allowed or allowable. What this means is, if you did not claim depreciation that you were entitled to claim in an earlier year you must still reduce your basis in the property by the amount of depreciation that you did not deduct. The depreciation deduction is determined by considering several factors. These factors are discussed next in this chapter. When depreciating real property the value of land is not depreciable.

Basis. The total of the yearly deductions for depreciation can never total more than the cost or other basis of the property. Generally, the cost (purchase price) of the property including the cost of improvements is the basis for depreciation. However, if the taxpayer acquired the property, other than buying it, the basis may be figured differently than using the original cost. An example is an acquisition through inheritance or gift. For further information on the basis of inherited or gifted property refer to Publication 551, Basis of Assets. When property is converted from personal use to rental use the basis is the lesser of the adjusted basis or fair market value (FMV) at the time of conversion.

Jen and Tom purchased a house in 1985 for $85,000. In 2004, they were transferred overseas and decided to rent out their personal residence. The value in 2004 was $125,000. The basis for depreciation is $85,000. Assume that the value of land was excluded in determining the cost of the house.

Adjusted Basis. The basis of property must be increased or decreased to reflect certain adjustments before the depreciation deduction is computed. For example, to the purchase price of a home add the cost of any improvements, minus any casualty losses or depreciation previously deducted and minus the land value to find the adjusted basis. Since land can never be depreciated, an allocation between land and building must be done based generally on assessed value. Where property is acquired in a purchase along with a trade-in, the basis must be adjusted.

Example 5

Neil Bates traded in old appliances used for his rental property with an adjusted basis of $500 and got new appliances with a fair market value of $2,000. He paid $1,000.00 in cash, his basis for depreciation in the new appliances is $1,500 (the $500 adjusted basis plus the $1,000 cash).

Placed in Service. For depreciation purpose, property is considered placed in service when it is in a condition or state of readiness and availability for use. However, a depreciation deduction may not be claimed until the property is used in business or for the production of income.

Property Classes and Recovery Periods. The Accelerated Cost Recovery System (ACRS) and Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System (MACRS) use the class life of depreciable property to determine the recovery period. If property was used as a personal residence before 1987 and converted to rental property after 1986, use the MACRS method to figure depreciation. Under MACRS, tangible property used in a rental activity generally falls into a 5-, 7-, or 27.5-year recovery period.

A home converted in 1998 to a rental property would be depreciated over a recovery period of 27.5 years. A stove also used in this same rental would be assigned a 7 year recovery period. Property, both real and personal, located outside the United States has a longer recovery period. Although the true physical life of the property may be less, under MACRS the recovery period is fixed. MACRS requires that a convention for half-year or mid-quarter be used. Under this special rule, in the year the property is placed in service the depreciation deduction is prorated. Publication 946, How to Depreciate Property, contains tables of depreciation with the conventions already incorporated. Examples of the tables are shown below.

For property located outside of the United States, the taxpayer must use an alternative method of depreciation under MACRS. Therefore, residential rental property located in a foreign country would be depreciated over a 40-year recovery period.

REPORTING DEPRECIATION

The depreciation deduction is shown on line 20 of Schedule E (see Exhibit 2). Use Form 4562, Depreciation and Amortization only if you placed an asset in service in the current year, you depreciate listed property or you claim a Section 179 expense.

AT-RISK AND PASSIVE LOSS

Very often rental property shows a net loss because the rental expenses are greater than the rental income. In this situation there are two potential restrictions on how much of the loss can offset other sources of income.

The first restriction is the at-risk rule. This rule provides that you can claim a loss for no more than you could actually lose from the activity. That is, you can claim a loss only up to the amount for which you are personally at-risk in the activity. Generally you are considered at-risk for the amount of cash and property contributed to the activity from which you are not protected against personal liability with the exception of casualty insurance.

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 added other limitations to deducting rental losses. Prior to the law, losses from passive activities could offset all other income (for example wages, interest, and dividends) without any restrictions. Rental activities, by definition of the law, are always considered to be a passive activity. The passive activity law states that passive activity losses can only be deducted from passive activity income. A passive activity is a trade or business being conducted without that taxpayer materially participating. Material participation may be defined by the regular continuous and substantial involvement of the taxpayer in the operation of the trade or business, where for rental property active participation does not require regular, continuous and substantial involvement. Active participation requires that the taxpayer participate in making management decisions or arranging for others to provide services in a significant and bona fide sense. Management decisions include approving new tenants, setting rental terms, approving capital or repair expenditures and similar decisions.

It is important to understand the difference between active and material participation as it pertains to rentals, because of a special $25,000 offset allowed for certain rental losses. Rental losses up to $25,000 ($12,500 for married taxpayers filing separate and living apart for the entire year) may be used to offset any and all non-passive income if the taxpayer actively participates in the residential rental activity. The following list is an example of nonpassive income.

1. Salaries, wages, commissions or tips.
2. Self-Employment income from a trade or business in which the taxpayer materially participates (may be partnership, but not limited partnership income).
3. Distributive shares of income through pass-through entities (such as S corporations) that is not income from a passive activity.
4. Portfolio income (gross income from interest, dividends, annuities, or some royalties).

Example 6

Lynn Ferris, a United States citizen, lives in Europe and has wages paid by the U.S. Government of $25,000 and interest income of $100. She rented out her home located in the United States in 2004, and incurred $1,000 in rental loss. Although her sister collects the rent, Lynn makes all of the bottom line decisions as to whom, and, for what amount, the property will be rented. While Lynn is outside of the United States, she pays her sister to manage the property. The rental loss of $1,000 may be offset against her gross income of $25,100 because she is considered to be an active participant in the rental activity.

Phase-Out of Offset. The amount allowed to offset nonpassive income is reduced once the taxpayer's adjusted gross income exceeds $100,000 ($50,000 for married filing separately). It is completely phased out when AGI exceeds $150,000 ($75,000 for married filing separately). Refer taxpayers with an AGI over $100,000 to the Internal Revenue Service or a professional preparer.

REPORTING RENTAL LOSS

Form 8582, Passive Activity Loss Limitations is filed to summarize losses and income from all passive activities. Check the instructions for Form 1040 to determine if the taxpayer is required to file Form 8582 when he or she has rental losses. Generally, taxpayers who have only one passive loss generated from a rental activity and an adjusted income of less than $100,000 will not be required to file Form 8582. If any questions arise beyond the scope of this lesson regarding filing Form 8582, refer the taxpayer to the Internal Revenue Service or a professional preparer.

SELLING RENTAL PROPERTY

The sale of rental property is reported on Form 4797, Sales of Business Property. A gain is the amount realized minus the adjusted basis of the property.

Example 7

Pat Drake sold her rental property for $60,000. She had purchased the house for $30,000 and had claimed $10,000 for depreciation. Her gain is $40,000

The gain is figured as follows:

1. Selling price		$60,000
2. Less selling expenses		0
3. Amount realized		$60,000
4. Basis	$30,000
5. Less depreciation	$10,000
6. Adjusted basis	$20,000	$20,000
7. Gain (line 3 minus 6)		$40,000

The gain may be either capital gain or ordinary gain depending on the depreciation claimed. If part of the property was also used for personal uses, the sale is reported as two separate sales. A loss is the adjusted basis of the property minus the amount realized. A loss for any personal use of property cannot be deducted.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS SEGMENT ◀◀

As a volunteer, you will assist taxpayers who have rental properties. In this lesson you learned what qualified as rental income and rental expenses. You studied how to figure and report the following:

- ▶ The proration needed when the property is used both for personal and rental purposes.
- ▶ Depreciation expense.
- ▶ Rental losses.

ANSWERS

Exercise 1

- $390 (10% of total expenses of $2,900=$290 plus $100 for wallpaper)
- $1,620 (90% of mortgage interest and taxes)

LESSON OVERVIEW

This lesson will explain the six adjustments to income covered in the VITA/TCE program. These adjustments are traditional IRA deductions; student loan interest deduction; tuition and fees deduction; penalty on early withdrawal of savings; alimony paid; and jury duty.

The remaining adjustments — moving expenses; self-employment health insurance deduction; and self-employed SEP, SIMPLE, and qualified plans — are beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE training. It is important to reiterate to the volunteers to refer taxpayers with these issues to a paid professional tax preparer.

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

MATERIALS

This lesson will refer to the following IRS publications and forms. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the publications or forms, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form 8606, Nondeductible IRAs
- Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs)
- Traditional IRA Deduction Worksheet (Form 1040 Instructions)
- Tuition and Fees Deduction Worksheet (Form 1040 Instructions)
- Student Loan Interest Deduction Worksheet (Form 1040 Instructions)

TEACHING TIP

IRA Contributions

A taxpayer who was 70 ½ years of age or older at the end of 2004 might ask volunteers to deduct those traditional IRA contributions that they made in 2004 prior to turning 70 ½. Volunteers should be prepared to explain that when a taxpayer is 70 ½ years old or older by the end of the tax year, NO traditional IRA contributions should have been made or can be deducted for the year.

Student Loan Interest Deduction

Remind students that a taxpayer cannot deduct as interest on a student loan any amount he or she can deduct under any other provision of the tax law.

- 1. Define interest as it pertains to the student loan interest deduction. (Interest, loan origination fees, capitalized interest, interest on revolving lines of credit, interest on refinanced student loans)
- 2. Can a taxpayer filing married filing separately take this deduction? (No)
- 3. Are there income limitations to this deduction? (Yes; $65,000 for single, head of household and qualifying widow; $130,000 for married filing jointly)

Alimony Paid

Emphasize to students the importance of entering on Form 1040, line 32b, the social security number of the person to whom the taxpayer paid alimony or separate maintenance payments. Volunteers should explain to taxpayers who wish to omit the recipient's social security number that the penalties for doing so include a disallowance of the deduction and a penalty.

Jury Duty Pay Given to Employer

Students may question the fairness of requiring a taxpayer to report as income the total amount of jury duty pay he or she has received when that pay has been turned over to the employer. Remind students that the taxpayer will report the total amount of jury pay as an adjustment to income. Since adjustments to income are subtracted from income to yield adjusted gross income, the jury pay will not be included in the taxpayer's adjusted gross income (or taxable income).

GUIDED QUESTIONS

- 1. Explain the relationship between adjustments and adjusted gross income. (Total income minus adjustments results in adjusted gross income.)

IRA Contributions

2. What is a traditional IRA? (A traditional IRA is any IRA that is not a Roth IRA, a SIMPLE IRA, or an Education IRA. An IRA is an individual retirement arrangement, a tax-sheltered savings plan set up by the taxpayer.)
3. When are earnings on traditional IRA contributions taxed? (When they are withdrawn from the traditional IRA.)
4. Who is eligible to contribute to a traditional IRA? (Anyone who is under 70 1/2 years of age by the end of the year and who has taxable compensation can contribute to a traditional IRA.)
5. For traditional IRA purposes, what constitutes taxable compensation? (Compensation consists of wages, salaries, commissions, tips, bonuses, professional fees, earnings from self-employment, and alimony or separate maintenance payments that are included in total income.)
6. In any one year, what is the maximum contribution a taxpayer can make to all his or her individual traditional IRAs? (Usually, the taxpayer's traditional IRA contribution cannot exceed the lesser of either the taxpayer's total taxable compensation or $3,000 ($3,500 if the taxpayer is age 50 or older).)
7. Identify at least two factors that determine whether or not traditional IRA contributions can be deducted from taxable income. (The taxpayer's modified AGI, filing status, and whether the taxpayer is covered by a retirement plan at work for any part of the year.)
8. When would a taxpayer complete Form 8606? (Each year that non-deductible contributions are made.)
9. When are earnings and gains taxed on non-deductible contributions? (Earnings and gains are not taxed until distributed.)
10. How is an employee's traditional IRA deduction affected if the employee is not covered by a retirement plan at work? (The taxpayer's deduction is not limited by his or her modified AGI.)
11. How is an employee's traditional IRA deduction affected if the employee is covered by a retirement plan provided by the employer? (The deduction may be reduced or eliminated depending on the modified adjusted gross income and the filing status.)

Tuition and Fees Deduction

- 12. What is included in qualified fees? (Course related books, supplies, and equipment and student activity fees when required as a condition of enrollment or attendance.)

Penalty on Early Withdrawal of Savings

- 13. Under what circumstances do depositors suffer penalties for withdrawing funds from a savings account? (When funds are withdrawn from time deposit before the maturity date.)
- 14. Can the early withdrawal penalty be reported as an adjustment to income on Form 1040EZ or 1040A? (No; the early withdrawal penalty can only be reported as an adjustment to income on Form 1040.)
- 15. Is the amount of early withdrawal penalty that can be reported on Form 1040 as an adjustment to income limited by either: (1) the amount of interest earned from a time deposit, or (2) a taxpayer's adjusted gross income? (No; the full amount of early withdrawal penalty can be reported — even if the penalty to more than the interest is earned.)

Moving Expenses – Military Segment

- 16. What form is used to report moving expenses?

Form 3903, Moving Expenses is used to compute and report moving expenses. The computation is then forward to the adjustment section of the Form 1040.

- 17. If the Military moves all your goods and pays for everything does the person need to file a Form 3903?

No, but, they can file Form 3903 if they have allowable unreimbursed expenses to claim.

LESSON REVIEW

To review students' understanding of adjustments and adjusted gross income as they pertain to taxpayers filing Form 1040 or Form 1040A, ask students if each of the adjustments listed below is within the scope of VITA/TCE Program. If it is within the scope, ask where on Form 1040 or Form 1040A the adjustment is reported.

- 1. One-half self-employment tax (Within the scope of the VITA/TCE Program; report on Form 1040, line 32.)
- 2. Jury duty pay given to an employer (Within the scope of the VITA/TCE Program; report on Form 1040, line 35, and write "jury pay" dotted on line.)

- 3. Contributions to a traditional IRA (Within the scope of the VITA/TCE Program; report on Form 1040, line 25, or on Form 1040A, line 17.)
- 4. Self-employed SEP, SIMPLE, and qualified plans (Outside the scope of the VITA/TCE Program.)
- 5. Self-employed health insurance (Outside the scope of the VITA/TCE Program.)
- 6. Alimony paid (Within the scope of the VITA/TCE Program; report on Form 1040, line 34a, along with recipient's social security number.)
- 7. Penalty on early withdrawal of savings (Within the scope of the VITA/TCE Program; report on Form 1040, line, 33.)
- 8. Moving expenses (outside the scope of the VITA/TCE Program.)
- 9. Student loan interest deduction (Generally within the scope of the VITA/TCE Program; report on Form 1040, line 26, or on Form 1040A, line 18.)
- 10. Tuition and fees deduction (Within the scope of the VITA/TCE Program; report on Form 1040, line 27 or on Form 1040A, line 19.)

STUDENT NOTES

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn about adjustments to income. There are six adjustments covered in this lesson. They are traditional IRA deductions, student loan interest deduction, tuition and fees deduction, penalty on early withdrawal of savings, alimony payments, and jury duty. Lesson 3 discusses an additional adjustment to income covered in the VITA/TCE training — one-half of self employment tax.

The remaining adjustments — moving expenses; self-employed health insurance deduction; and self-employed SEP, SIMPLE, and qualified plans — are not covered in traditional VITA/TCE training. Taxpayers who need assistance with these adjustments should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Calculate and accurately report adjustments to income.
- Identify which IRA contributions are within the scope of the VITA/TCE program.
- Identify contribution limits for IRAs.

ADJUSTMENTS TO INCOME

Adjustments are subtractions from total income. Total income minus adjustments results in adjusted gross income (AGI), an important number for tax purposes. Adjusted gross income is used to figure some limitations. In addition, it is used to figure income tax in some states.

Taxpayers cannot take any adjustments to income on Form 1040EZ. On Form 1040EZ total income and adjusted gross income are the same. Form 1040A filers can take adjustments for contributions to a traditional IRA, the student loan interest deduction, and tuition and fees payments. Form 1040 filers can take any of the adjustments for which they are eligible.

INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ARRANGEMENTS

An Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) is a tax-sheltered savings plan set up by the taxpayer, generally for retirement income. This lesson discusses only traditional IRAs (IRAs other than Roth IRAs, SIMPLE IRAs, or Coverdell education savings accounts (ESAs)). Contributions to the nontraditional IRAs are not deductible as adjustments to income.

Information on nontraditional IRAs can be found in Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs).

Contributions to a traditional IRA can be either deductible or nondeductible. Earnings and gains on the contributions are not taxed until withdrawn from the traditional IRA account.

Example 2

Anna contributed a total of $2,500 over the last two years to her traditional IRA account. During 2004 she earned $140 of interest on her traditional IRA. All of the interest was added to her traditional IRA savings account.

Anna will not have to pay tax on the interest until she withdraws it from her traditional IRA account.

Contributions

Anyone under 70 1/2 years of age (at the end of the tax year) who has taxable compensation can contribute to a traditional IRA. If both the taxpayer and spouse have compensation and both are under age 70 1/2, each can set up an IRA. However, they cannot participate in the same IRA — they must have separate accounts.

Compensation includes wages, salaries, commissions, tips, bonuses, professional fees, and earnings from self-employment. Alimony or separate maintenance payments that are included in total income are also compensation for traditional IRA purposes. Compensation does not include interest, rents, dividends, pension and annuity income, deferred compensation received, or income you can exclude.

General Contribution Limits

The most that can be contributed for any year to a traditional IRA is the lesser of:

- $3,000 ($3,500 if age 50 or older), or
- Compensation that is includible in gross income for the year.

If a taxpayer has more than one traditional IRA, the taxpayer must combine all of the traditional IRAs and treat them as one when figuring the amount that can be contributed for the year.

Example 3

Dan, a college student, working part time earned $1,500 in 2004. His IRA contributions for 2004 are limited to $1,500 (the lesser of $3,000 or compensation includible in income for the year).

Example 4

George has three traditional IRA accounts. During 2004 he contributed $1,000 to each. His total IRA contributions for 2004 will be $3,000.

Deemed IRAs

Employers who provide qualified employer retirement plans can maintain a separate account or annuity under the plan to receive voluntary employee contributions. This separate account is referred to as a deemed IRA. A deemed IRA can be a traditional IRA or a Roth IRA, and the same limits apply whether they are deemed or not. If a taxpayer has both a regular IRA and a deemed IRA, the taxpayer can divide contributions between them in any manner, but total contributions to both cannot exceed the $3,000/$3,500 limit.

Spousal IRA limit

If taxpayers file a joint return and one spouse's compensation is less than that of the other spouse's compensation, the most that can be contributed for that spouse is the lesser of:

- 1) $3,000 ($3,500 if age 50 or older), or
- 2) The total compensation includible in the gross income of both spouses for the year, reduced by:
 - a) IRA contributions for the spouse with the greater compensation,
 - b) Any contribution for the year to a Roth IRA for the spouse with the greater compensation.

The total combined contributions to both traditional IRAs cannot exceed the lesser of:

- $6,000 ($7,000 if both individuals are age 50 or older), or
- The total taxable compensation of both spouses.

Example 5

Kristen, a full time student with no taxable compensation, marries Jeremy during the year. Neither will be 50 by the end of the year. For the year, Jeremy has taxable compensation of $30,000. He will contribute $3,000 to a traditional IRA. If he and Kristen file a joint return, each can contribute $3,000. This is because Kristen, who has no compensation, can add Jeremy's compensation, reduced by his IRA contribution ($$30,000 - $3,000 = $27,000$) to her own compensation (0) to figure her maximum contribution. In her case, $3,000 is her contribution limit, because $3,000 is less than $27,000 (her compensation for purposes of the figuring the spousal IRA).

Example 6

Tom and Darcy are married and both are 53. They both work and each has a traditional IRA. Tom earned $1,800 and Darcy earned $48,000 in 2004. Because of the spousal IRA limit rule, even though Tom earned less than $3,500, they can contribute up to $3,500 in each of their IRAs if they file a joint return. If they file separate returns, the amount that can be contributed to Tom's IRA is limited to $1,800 (his taxable compensation).

Excess Contributions

Generally, an excess contribution is the amount contributed to a traditional IRA that is more than the lesser of the:

- 1) Taxable compensation for the year, or
- 2) $3,000 ($3,500 if age 50 or older).

This limit applies whether the contributions are deductible or nondeductible. Contributions made in the year the taxpayer reaches age 70 1/2 and any later year are also excess contributions.

In general, if the excess contribution for a year and any earnings on it are not withdrawn by the due date of the tax return (including extensions), the taxpayer is subject to an additional 6% tax. The additional 6% tax must be paid each year on the excess amounts that remain in the traditional IRA at the end of the tax year. The tax cannot be more than 6% of the value of the IRA as of the end of the tax year. The excise tax is figured on Form 5329, Additional Taxes on Qualified Plans (Including IRAs) and Other Tax-Favored Accounts.

A taxpayer who has taxable compensation, but can no longer contribute to a traditional IRA because of age (70 1/2 years or older) may continue to contribute to a spouse's traditional IRA until the year in which the spouse reaches 70 1/2.

Example 7

Eldridge is a 73-year-old attorney. He earned $12,000 during the year.

Eldridge had compensation for traditional IRA purposes but he cannot make an IRA contribution because he is 70 1/2 or older. If Eldridge files a joint return with his spouse who is 68 years old, he can still contribute up to $3,500 to his spouse's IRA.

Exercise 1

- A. Liz receives alimony which is included in her total income. All of her other income is from interest and dividends. Can Liz make a traditional IRA contribution? Explain. _____

- B. David is 73 and works part time in a hardware store. David's wife, Mary, does not work outside of the home. Mary is 68. Can David make a traditional IRA contribution for Mary? Explain _____

- C. Carla receives all her income from a rental property, interest income, and dividends. Can Carla make a traditional IRA contribution? Explain. _____

- D. Joy is 62 years old. Most of her income comes from a pension. However, Joy did earn $1,250 doing consumer testing. How much can Joy contribute to a traditional IRA? Explain. _____

Deductible IRA Contributions

Generally, you can deduct the lesser of the contributions to your traditional IRA for the year or the general limit (or the spousal IRA limit, if it applies).

The actual deductible amount for a traditional IRA depends on the following:

- Whether or not the taxpayer or taxpayer's spouse is covered by a retirement plan set up by an employer for any part of the year,
- The taxpayer's modified adjusted gross income, and
- The taxpayer's filing status.

Modified Adjusted Gross Income

Generally, modified adjusted gross income is the adjusted gross income without consideration of certain deductions. The modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) can be figured as follows:

AGI (Form 1040 Line 36) plus

- IRA deduction
- Student loan interest deduction
- Tuition and fees deduction
- Foreign earned income exclusion
- Foreign housing exclusion or deduction
- Exclusion of qualified savings bond interest shown on Form 8815
- Exclusion of employer-paid adoption expenses shown on Form 8839.

Not covered by an employer retirement plan.

A taxpayer whose filing status is single, head of household, or qualifying widow(er), and who is not covered by an employer retirement plan, can take a full traditional IRA deduction of either his or her taxable compensation or $3,000 (whichever amount is smaller). The $3,000 amount is increased to $3,500 if the taxpayer is age 50 or older.

Example 8

Cyril is single and 40 years of age. His modified adjusted gross income is $50,000. He is not covered by a retirement plan at work. Cyril's traditional IRA contribution of $3,000 is deductible.

Married taxpayers who file separate returns for a taxable year and who live apart at all times during the taxable year are treated as single and can take a full IRA deduction, if not covered by an employer plan. This is true even if the other spouse is covered by an employer retirement plan.

Married taxpayers who file jointly or separately may each be able to take the full IRA deduction of $3,000 ($3,500 if age 50 or older) or taxable compensation (whichever amount is smaller), if they had taxable compensation and both were not covered by an employer retirement plan. The total deduction for a joint return cannot exceed $6,000 ($7,000 if both individuals are age 50 or older). When determining the allowable deduction each spouse figures the deduction separately.

Covered by an employer retirement plan.

If the taxpayer is covered by a retirement plan at work, the traditional IRA deduction will be reduced or eliminated, as shown in Table 1, depending on filing status and modified AGI.

NOTE: If Box 13, Retirement Plan, on Form W-2 is checked, the taxpayer is covered by an employer retirement plan. If taxpayers do not agree with the Form W-2 they must contact their employer. Volunteers cannot make a determination on whether or not a taxpayer is covered by an employer retirement plan. Refer taxpayers with questions on their employer retirement plans to their employer or Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs).

Married filing separately ¹	$0.01	$10,000	$10,000 or more
¹ If the taxpayer did not live with his or her spouse at any time during the year, his or her filing status is considered Single for this purpose.

Example 9

Emily, 36 years old, is single. Her modified AGI was $54,900. She is covered by a retirement plan at work. Emily's $3,000 traditional IRA contribution will be reduced or modified on her tax return because her modified AGI is between $45,000 and $55,000.

If either the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse is covered by an employer retirement plan, he or she may be entitled to only a partial deduction or no deduction at all, depending on filing status and modified adjusted gross income, as shown in Table 2.

Married filing separately ¹	$0.01	$10,000	$10,000 or more

¹The taxpayer is entitled to the full deduction if he or she did not live with their spouse at any time during the year.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

When determining the allowable deduction, each spouse figures the deduction separately.

Example 10

David and Ruth are filing a joint return. David earned $78,000 and is covered by his employer’s retirement plan. Ruth, age 32, is a homemaker, and has no compensation. David, age 36, contributed $2,800 to his traditional IRA and $3,000 to a traditional IRA for Ruth.

Because David is covered by his employer’s retirement plan, the modified AGI limits apply (Table 1). Based on Table 1, David is not allowed a deduction for his traditional IRA contributions. Because David made traditional IRA contributions for Ruth, they can take a deduction on the tax return for her IRA contributions. Ruth is not covered by an employer’s retirement plan. Their compensation for IRA purposes is $78,000 and their modified AGI is not more than $150,000 (see Table 2).

Example 11

Assume still that David earned $78,000 and is covered by his employer's retirement plan. Assume too that Ruth is employed; she earned $66,000 and she is not covered by her employer's retirement plan. David cannot deduct his traditional IRA contribution, but Ruth can deduct hers. The modified AGI limits that apply to David are shown in Table 1. Table 2 modified AGI limits apply to Ruth's deduction. Her deduction would not be reduced unless the couple's modified AGI was more than $150,000. It would not be eliminated unless their modified AGI was $160,000 or more.

Exercise 2

- A. Angela and Joe are married and file a joint return. Joe, age 23, is covered by a retirement plan at work, but Angela, age 25, is not. Joe earned $25,000 and Angela earned $20,000; their modified AGI is $45,000. Is any portion of Angela's traditional IRA contribution deductible, and why? _____

- B. Annette, age 26, is single. She earned $23,000, and her modified AGI is $24,500. She made a $500 contribution to a traditional IRA. Annette is covered by a retirement plan at work. Is any portion of her contribution deductible, and why? _____

- C. Richard and Lynn are married and lived together during the year. They file separate returns. Richard is covered by a retirement plan at work. Lynn is not covered by a retirement plan at work. Richard, age 40, earned $17,000 and contributed $1,400 to a traditional IRA. Lynn, age 33, worked part-time and earned $4,500. She contributed $1,000 to a traditional IRA. Can Richard or Lynn deduct any of the IRA contributions, and why? _____

When to Deduct Traditional IRS Contributions

Individuals may deduct traditional IRA contributions on their 2004 tax return if the contributions are made in 2004 or by April 15, 2005. Taxpayers may not deduct on their 2004 tax return contributions made in 2004 which were deducted on the 2003 tax return. The contributions do not have to be made before the return is filed. However, if the taxpayer deducts traditional IRA contributions on the 2004 tax return but does not make the traditional IRA contributions by April 15, 2005, for the exact amount deducted, the taxpayer must file an amended tax return.

Using the Worksheet and Reporting the Deduction

Use the IRA Deduction Worksheet in the Form 1040A or Form 1040 instructions booklet to figure the traditional IRA deduction.

The traditional IRA deduction is reported on Form 1040A, line 17 or Form 1040, Line 25. On joint returns when both spouses are making deductible traditional IRA contributions, enter the total contribution.

Example 12

Nick and Susan file a joint return. Both work, and Nick, age 27, was covered by a retirement plan, but Susan, age 25, was not. Nick earned $12,300 and Susan earned $10,990. Their total income (Form 1040, line 22) is $23,400. Nick and Susan each contributed $500 to a traditional IRA.

The completed worksheet is shown in Exhibit 1. The information for Nick is shown in the column for Your IRA. The information for Susan is shown in the column for Spouse's IRA.

 TIP You may also be able to take the retirement savings contributions credit. See the instructions for line 33 on page 37.

Need more information or forms? See page 7.

Nondeductible IRA Contributions

Although the deductible amount of traditional IRA contributions can be reduced or eliminated because of the modified adjusted gross income limitation, a taxpayer can make nondeductible contributions to new or existing traditional IRAs. Earnings and gains on these contributions are not taxed until they are distributed to the taxpayer.

The total traditional IRA contribution, whether deductible or nondeductible, cannot be more than the taxpayer's taxable compensation or $3,000 ($3,500 if age 50 or older), whichever amount is smaller.

Taxpayers must complete Form 8606, Nondeductible IRAs, for each year that nondeductible contributions are made.

If taxpayers do not report nondeductible contributions, all of the contributions to a traditional IRA will be treated as deductible. This means all distributions will be taxed unless the taxpayer can show, with satisfactory evidence, that nondeductible contributions were made.

Example 13

Rachel, age 35, is single and wants to contribute the maximum amount possible to her traditional IRA. She is covered by her employer's retirement plan and her total income, Form 1040, Line 22, is $47,000. Her total basis in traditional IRAs from line 14 of her 2003 Form 8606 is $10,000. The completed IRA Deduction Worksheet and Form 8606 are shown in Exhibits 2 and 3.

Exercise 3

Bill and Kathy are both employed and each earned $15,000 in 2004. Both Bill and Kathy are age 32. Bill was covered by an employer retirement plan but Kathy was not. In July 2004, Bill contributed $1,200 to his 2004 traditional IRA. In February 2005, he contributed $800 to his 2004 traditional IRA. Kathy contributed $400 to her 2004 traditional IRA. They file a joint return. Their total income on line 22 is $30,000. They have no other adjustments to income.

Complete their IRA deduction worksheet (Exhibit 4).

Additional Taxes and Penalties

Taxpayers are generally subject to additional taxes and penalties for:

- Contributing more to a traditional IRA than is allowed,
- Making traditional IRA withdrawals before age 59 1/2, and
- Not withdrawing enough traditional IRA funds after age 70 1/2.
- Investing in collectibles
- Prohibited transactions, such as borrowing money from one's own IRA or selling property to it.

There are penalties for overstating the amount of nondeductible contributions and for failure to file Form 8606, if required.

Refer to Lesson 6 to determine if a taxpayer is also eligible to receive the credit for qualified retirement savings contributions based on their contributions to an IRA.

STUDENT LOAN INTEREST DEDUCTION

If a taxpayer paid interest on a student loan in 2004, he or she may be able to deduct up to $2,500 of the interest paid.

If the taxpayer paid $600 or more in interest to a single lender, the taxpayer should receive a statement from the lender showing the amount of interest paid. This information will assist you in completing the student loan interest deduction.

Qualified Student Loan Interest

Generally, student loan interest is the interest paid during the year on a loan for qualified higher education expenses that were:

1. For the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or a person who was the taxpayer's dependent when the loan was obtained.
2. Paid within a reasonable period of time before or after obtaining the loan, and
3. For an eligible student.

Interest can be the interest paid during the life of the loan (voluntary and required interest payments), loan origination fees, capitalized interest, interest on revolving lines of credit, and interest on refinanced student loans.

Interest does not include interest on any of the following:

1. A loan from a related person.
2. A loan from a qualified employer plan.
3. A loan for which the taxpayer is not legally liable.

Who Can Claim the Deduction

Generally, a taxpayer can claim the deduction if all the following requirements are met:

1. Taxpayer cannot use married filing separately filing status.
2. Taxpayer cannot be claimed as a dependent on someone else's return.
3. The interest is on a loan to pay tuition and other qualified higher education expenses for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or someone whom the taxpayer can claim as a dependent, when the loan was taken out.
4. The education expenses were paid or incurred within a reasonable period of time before or after the loan was taken out.
5. The person for whom the expenses were paid or incurred was an eligible student.

Qualified Higher Education Expenses

Generally, qualified higher education expenses include tuition and fees; room and board; books, supplies and equipment; and other necessary expenses.

These costs must be reduced by the following:

1. Employer provided educational assistance benefits.
2. Tax-free withdrawals from a Coverdell ESA.
3. Tax-free withdrawals from a qualified tuition program.
4. U.S. savings bond interest excluded from income because it is used to pay qualified higher education expenses.
5. Certain scholarships.
6. Veteran's educational assistance benefits.
7. Any other nontaxable payments (other than gifts, bequests, or inheritances) received for educational expenses.

Eligible educational institution

An eligible educational institution is any college, university, vocational school or other postsecondary educational institution eligible to participate in a student aid program administered by the Department of Education. It includes virtually all accredited public, nonprofit, and privately owned profit-making postsecondary institutions.

For the student loan interest deduction only, an eligible educational institution also includes an institution conducting an internship or residency program leading to a degree or certificate from an institution of higher education, hospital, or health care facility that offers postgraduate training.

If a taxpayer does not know if the educational institution is an eligible institution, the taxpayer should contact the school.

Eligible student

An eligible student is a student who is enrolled at least half-time in a program leading to a degree, certificate, or other recognized educational credential.

The standard for what is half the normal full-time work load is determined by each eligible educational institution.

Deduction Limits

The student loan interest deduction is generally the smaller of $2,500 or the interest payments paid in 2004.

This amount may be gradually reduced (phased out) or eliminated based on the taxpayer's filing status and modified adjusted gross income (MAGI). Table 3 depicts when the limits apply.

Table 3

Limit on Student Loan Interest Deduction
If your filing status is	AND your modified AGI is	THEN...
Single, head of household, or qualifying widow(er)	$50,000 or less	You can deduct all your interest, up to $2,500
	More than $50,000, but less than $65,000	Your deduction is limited
	$65,000 or more	You cannot claim this deduction.
Married filing jointly	$100,000 or less	You can deduct all your interest up to $2,500
	More than $100,000, but less than $130,000	Your deduction is limited
	$130,000 or more	You cannot claim this deduction.

Figuring the Deduction

Use the Student Loan Interest Deduction worksheet found in the Form 1040 or Form 1040A instructions to figure the deduction.

Claiming the Deduction

The student loan interest deduction is entered on Form 1040, Line 26, or Form 1040A, Line 18.

Example 14

During 2004, Rick paid $2,650 in qualified interest on his student loan. His total income, Form 1040, line 22, is $35,000. He has no other adjustments to his income. His completed student loan interest deduction worksheet, Exhibit 5, shows Rick is entitled to $2,500. Although his MAGI falls within the income limits, he is only entitled to a maximum $2,500 deduction.

Before you begin:

- ✓ Complete Form 1040, lines 28 through 34a, if they apply to you.
- ✓ Figure any write-in adjustments to be entered on the dotted line next to line 35 (see page 33).
- ✓ See the instructions for line 26 that begin on this page.
- ✓ Be sure you have read the Exception above to see if you can use this worksheet instead of Pub. 970 to figure your deduction.

1. Enter the total interest you paid in 2004 on qualified student loans (defined above). Do not enter more than $2,500	1.	2,500.00
2. Enter the amount from Form 1040, line 22	2.	35,000.00
3. Enter the total of the amounts from Form 1040, lines 23 through 25, 28 through 34a, plus any write-in adjustments you entered on the dotted line next to line 35	3.
4. Subtract line 3 from line 2	4.	35,000.00
5. Enter the amount shown below for your filing status.
• Single, head of household, or qualifying widow(er)—$50,000	}	5. 50,000.00
• Married filing jointly—$100,000
6. Is the amount on line 4 more than the amount on line 5?	6.
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No. Skip lines 6 and 7, enter -0- on line 8, and go to line 9.
<input type="checkbox"/> Yes. Subtract line 5 from line 4
7. Divide line 6 by $15,000 ($30,000 if married filing jointly). Enter the result as a decimal (rounded to at least three places). If the result is 1.000 or more, enter 1.000	7.	.
8. Multiply line 1 by line 7	8.
9. Student loan interest deduction. Subtract line 8 from line 1. Enter the result here and on Form 1040, line 26. Do not include this amount in figuring any other deduction on your return (such as on Schedule A, C, E, etc.)	9.	2,500.00

TUITION AND FEES DEDUCTION

Taxpayers can deduct an amount equal to the qualified tuition and related expenses paid during the tax year as an adjustment to income. The adjustment is reported on Form 1040, Line 27, or Form 1040A, Line 19.

To claim the deduction the taxpayer must have incurred qualified expenses for an eligible student to attend an eligible educational institution during the tax year. In addition, the taxpayer must include on the tax return the name and taxpayer identification number of the qualified student.

Qualified Expenses

Qualified tuition and related expenses include tuition and fees required for enrollment or attendance at an eligible educational institution and generally include fees for:

- Course-related books, supplies and equipment, and

The fees must be paid to the institution as a condition of enrollment or attendance.

Qualified tuition and related expenses do not include the cost of:

- Insurance,
- Medical expenses (including student health fees),
- Room and board,
- Student activities.
- Transportation or similar personal, living or family expenses, even if the fees must be paid to the institution as a condition of enrollment or attendance.
- Athletic fees.
- Other expenses unrelated to an individual's academic course of instruction.

Eligible Student

The deduction can be claimed for the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse (if filing a joint return) and any dependent (for whom the taxpayer claims a dependency exemption).

Married taxpayers that file as married filing separately cannot take the deduction.

An individual who is the dependent of another taxpayer cannot claim the deduction.

Eligible Educational Institution

An eligible educational institution is generally any accredited public, nonprofit, or private postsecondary institution eligible to participate in the student aid programs administered by the Department of Education. It includes virtually all accredited, public, nonprofit, and privately owned profit-making post secondary institutions.

If the taxpayer does not know if the educational institution is an eligible institution, he or she should contact the school.

Deduction Amount

The deduction amount is determined by the taxpayer's filing status and adjusted gross income. Table 4 depicts when the income limitations apply.

The total amount of qualified tuition and related expenses are reduced by:

- Distributions from qualified state tuition programs
- Distributions from Coverdell ESAs
- Interest from savings bonds used for higher education expenses

Table 4. Limit on Tuition and Fees Deduction

IF your filing status is...	AND your modified AGI is...	THEN...
Single, Head of Household, or Qualifying widow(er)	Equal to or less than $65,000	You can deduct all of your qualified tuition and fees up to $3,000.
	More than $65,000	You cannot claim the credit
Married filing jointly	Equal to or less than $130,000	You can deduct all of your qualified tuition and fees up to $3,000
	More than $130,000	You cannot claim the credit.
Married filing separately	Any amount	You cannot claim the credit.

Modified adjusted gross income for purposes of the deduction for qualified tuition and related fees is adjusted gross income before the deduction for qualified tuition and related fees and after adding back the following:

- Foreign earned income exclusion,
- Foreign housing exclusion or deduction,
- Exclusion of income for bona fide residents of Guam, Puerto Rico, American Samoa, or the Northern Mariana Islands.

Figuring the Deduction

Use the Tuition and Fees Deduction worksheet found in the Form 1040 or Form 1040A instructions to figure the modified adjusted gross income and the resulting deduction amount.

Example 15

Luis and Priscilla file a joint return for 2004. Their 1040 line 22 total income is $49,620. In 2004, Priscilla paid $1,300 for classes taken at the local university. She had allowable IRA deductions of $1,500. Their allowable tuition and fees deduction is $1,300, shown in Exhibit 6.

No Double Benefits

A taxpayer cannot:

- Deduct qualified tuition and related expenses if the same expense is deductible on a different line of the return.
- Claim the Hope credit or the lifetime learning credit for an individual in the same year as a deduction for qualified tuition and related expenses are claimed.
- Claim a credit based on expenses paid with a tax-free scholarship, grant, or an employer-provided educational assistance.

ONE-HALF OF SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX

Report on Form 1040, Line 30, the adjustment for one-half of self-employment tax from Schedule SE. This subject was covered in Lesson 2, for volunteers who will be helping self-employed taxpayers.

PENALTY ON EARLY WITHDRAWAL OF SAVINGS

Depositors may withdraw funds from ordinary savings accounts any time they wish. However, if they withdraw funds from a time deposit (such as a certificate of deposit) before the maturity date, a penalty is charged. Form 1099-INT reports the interest earned as well as any early withdrawal penalties.

As you learned in Lesson 2, taxpayers must report the total amount of interest earned. They cannot subtract the early withdrawal penalty from the interest earned and report the difference. The early withdrawal penalty can be claimed as an adjustment only on Form 1040, Line 33. The entire penalty is deducted, even if it is greater than the interest income.

Example 16

Arlene has one Form W-2 and one Form 1099-INT and no other income. Her Form 1099-INT shows both interest income and an early withdrawal penalty. Arlene does not pay alimony, and she did not make a contribution to a traditional IRA. She will not itemize deductions, and she cannot claim any tax credits. Normally, she would be able to file Form 1040A.

However, Arlene must file Form 1040 to claim the adjustment for the penalty on early withdrawal of savings.

ALIMONY PAID

As you learned in Lesson 2, alimony and separate maintenance payments are taxable to the person receiving these payments. The person paying the alimony or separate maintenance can claim it as an adjustment to income. This adjustment can be claimed only on Form 1040. The amount paid during the year and the recipient's social security number are entered on Line 34a and 34b, respectively. Claim the adjustment only for amounts paid during the tax year.

Child support is not the same as alimony or separate maintenance payments. Child support is not taxable to the recipient and cannot be claimed as an adjustment by the payer.

JURY DUTY PAY GIVEN TO EMPLOYER

As you learned in Lesson 2, Income, jury duty pay received by taxpayers is included in other income on line 21 of Form 1040.

Some employees receive their regular wages from their employers when they are serving on a jury instead of working at their jobs. Often the jury duty pay the employees receive is turned over to their employers. The amount given to the employer may be claimed as an adjustment to income. On the dotted line next to Line 35, write "jury pay" and the amount. Include jury duty pay with the adjustments claimed on Lines 23 through 35.

OTHER ADJUSTMENTS

The other adjustments that can be claimed on Form 1040 are beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE Program. Taxpayers who have adjustments that aren't discussed in this lesson should be advised to seek paid professional tax assistance.

TOTAL ADJUSTMENTS AND ADJUSTED GROSS INCOME

Add all adjustments and enter the total on Form 1040A, line 20, or Form 1040, line 35. Subtract the total adjustments from total income on Form 1040A, line 15, or Form 1040, line 22. Enter the result on Form 1040A, line 21, or Form 1040, line 36. This is adjusted gross income and is often referred to as "AGI." Adjusted gross income is used to compute some limitations, such as the medical and dental deduction on Schedule A and the credit for child and dependent care expenses.

TAXWISE HINTS

TaxWise will quickly complete any worksheets needed to determine adjustments to income.

There is one worksheet for student loan interest deduction and tuition and fees deduction. You can link to this form from Form 1040, Lines 26 or 27.

Link to the Deductible and Non-deductible IRA Worksheet from Form 1040, Line 25. Once the IRA contribution is input for the taxpayer (and spouse if married), TaxWise will complete the Form 8606, if necessary, and input the entry on Form 1040, Line 25.

One half the self employment tax will be entered automatically when completing Schedule C or C-EZ.

The penalty on withdrawal from savings should be entered by linking to the Interest Received Worksheet. This worksheet is a link from Schedule B.

TaxWise breaks out the remaining adjustments. Simply input the appropriate amount.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

- An adjustment is an amount subtracted from total income. The result is adjusted gross income.
- Adjustments covered in the VITA program are:
 - ▶ Contributions to a traditional IRA
 - ▶ Student loan interest deduction
 - ▶ Tuition and fees paid
 - ▶ One-half of self-employment tax paid (volunteers trained to prepare Schedule C-EZ and SE can assist taxpayers claiming this adjustment)
 - ▶ Penalty on early withdrawal of savings
 - ▶ Alimony paid
 - ▶ Jury duty pay given to employer
 - ▶ The adjustments for traditional IRA contributions, student loan interest deduction, tuition and fees deduction, and educator expenses deduction can be claimed either on Form 1040A or Form 1040. The other adjustments can be claimed on Form 1040 only.
- Persons 70 1/2 years of age or older by the end of the tax year cannot make traditional IRA contributions for that tax year.
- Traditional IRA contributions generally cannot be more than the taxpayer's taxable compensation or $3,000 ($3,500 if age 50 or older), whichever amount is smaller.
- Individuals who are not covered by retirement plans at work may make deductible IRA contributions regardless of their modified adjusted gross income. Taxpayers who are covered by retirement plans at work may deduct all, part, or none of their traditional IRA contributions depending on their modified adjusted gross income and filing status.
- Taxpayers may be subject to additional tax for contributing more to a traditional IRA than is allowed, making traditional IRA withdrawals before age 59 1/2, and not withdrawing enough traditional IRA funds after 70 1/2.

Exercise 1

- (A) Yes; alimony is considered compensation for traditional IRA purposes.
- (B) Yes; But only if they file a joint return.
- (C) No; Carla has no compensation for traditional IRA purposes.
- (D) $1,250; The lesser of taxable compensation or $3,500.

Exercise 2

- (A) Yes; all of her contribution up to $3,000 is deductible because their combined modified adjusted gross income is not more than $150,000.
- (B) Yes; all of it is deductible because her modified adjusted gross income is less than $45,000.
- (C) Richard may not deduct any of his contribution because his modified adjusted gross income is at least $10,000. Lynn will be able to deduct a portion of her IRA contribution because she is not covered by an employer-sponsored retirement plan and her income is less than $10,000.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This segment covers the moving expenses of military personnel. When a member of the Armed Forces is transferred to a new permanent duty station he or she may deduct certain moving expenses.

In preparing returns for the military, you will need to:

- Identify qualifying moves by assisting in determining if the move qualifies as a permanent change of station (PCS).
- Determine when allowances and reimbursements must be included in income.
- Identify deductible moving expenses.
- Compute the moving expense deduction using Form 3903, Moving Expenses, for moves within and outside the United States.

PERMANENT CHANGE OF STATION

For military moves, only expenses incurred as a result of a permanent change of station are deductible. A permanent change of station includes:

- A move from home to the area of the first post of duty.
- A move from one permanent post of duty to another.
- A move from the last post of duty to home or to a nearer point in the United States. The member must move within one year of ending active duty or within the period allowed under the Joint Travel Regulations.

Spouse and dependents. If a member of the Armed Forces deserts, is imprisoned, or dies, a permanent change of station for the spouse or dependents includes a move to the place of enlistment, the home of record, or any nearer point in the United States.

If the Armed Forces moves a member and his or her spouse or dependents to or from separate locations, the moves are treated as a single move to the member's post of duty. The qualified expenses of both moves are combined and deducted on the same tax return.

Exercise 1

Which of the following is a permanent change of station?

- A. A move by an Air Force pilot to an airbase for a 6-month detail.
- B. A move by an Army sergeant to his home 2 years after he ended active duty.
- C. A move by a new enlistee from her home to her first post of duty.

Answer _____

REQUIREMENTS

The moving expense deduction includes only expenses that are reasonable for the circumstances of the move. For example, the costs of any side trips for sightseeing are not deductible. The cost of lavish and extravagant lodging also is not deductible.

Although civilians must meet a distance test and a time test to deduct moving expenses, members of the military can disregard such tests for moves required by a permanent change of station.

PAYMENTS IN KIND, ALLOWANCES, AND REIMBURSEMENTS

The service member must include in gross income any payments he or she receives from the government for a do-it-yourself (DITY) permanent change of station (PCS) move. A DITY move payment is based on government estimates of the cost to move household goods, not on actual expenses and receipts. The service member will receive a separate Form W-2 for the DITY payment. The amount in box 1 of the Form W-2 must be included on line 7 of Form 1040. He or she must also complete Form 3903 to compute total qualified moving expenses that can be deducted on line 29, Form 1040. These line 7 and line 29 entries on Form 1040 will report the income and applicable related expenses for the move on the Form 1040.

The service member does not include any of the following in his or her gross income.

- Moving or storage services furnished to the member.
- Non-taxable allowances such as:
 - Dislocation allowance
 - Temporary Lodging Allowance
 - Mileage Allowance in Lieu of Transportation
 - Per Diem Allowance

Generally, if total reimbursements or allowances received by the service member are more than his or her qualified moving expenses, the excess will be included with his or her wages in box 1 of Form W-2. However, if reimbursements or allowances (other than nontaxable allowances like the ones listed above) exceed the cost of moving and they are not included in the Form W-2, the service member must still include the excess on line 7 of Form 1040.

Use Form 3903 to deduct qualified expenses that exceed reimbursements and allowances (including nontaxable allowances like the ones listed above).

Exercise 2

- A. A member of the Armed Forces must include in gross income all reimbursements, allowances, and the value of moving and storage services that the military organization furnishes. True or false?

Answer _____

- B. If a member of the Armed Forces receives reimbursements or allowances (that are not excludable from gross income) in excess of the actual moving expenses, he or she must include in income only the amount that exceeds actual expenses. True or false?

Answer _____

DEDUCTIBLE MOVING EXPENSES

Any qualifying moving expenses that exceed allowances or reimbursements from the government are deductible.

Members of the military will need to determine whether they have excess expenses and, if so, whether the expenses are deductible on their federal tax return.

Qualifying moving expenses are:

- The cost of moving household goods and personal effects, including hauling a trailer and packing, storage, and insurance. It does not include the expense of moving furniture or other goods that the taxpayer bought on the way from the old home to the new home.
- The cost of reasonable travel and lodging expenses from the old home to the new home, including actual automobile expenses (or 12 cents per mile), airfare, and lodging for the taxpayer and members of his or her household. Members cannot deduct the cost of meals while traveling from the old home to the new home.

Foreign moves. A foreign move is one from the United States or its possessions to a foreign country or from one foreign country to another. It is not a move from a foreign country to the United States or its possessions.

Exercise 3

Which of the following are deductible moving expenses for Major Boone? (Assume the member received no reimbursements from the government.)

- A. Payment to Fulton Construction Company for home improvements made to Major Boone's former home.
- B. Security deposit to Towner Apartments on the Boones new apartment.
- C. Commission to Mercer Real Estate for the sale of the Boones' former home.
- D. Payment to Shelby Transport Company to ship a piano that the Boones bought on the way to their new home.
- E. Cost of transporting Major Boone's second car to the new job location.
- F. Payment for meals while on the way to the new permanent duty station.

Answer _____

REPORTING MOVING EXPENSES

Moving expenses are deductible as an adjustment to income on Form 1040, line 29. Only deductible expenses that are more than reimbursements and allowances can be claimed.

If the service member was not reimbursed, he or she can deduct allowable moving expenses either in the year incurred and paid or in the year they were paid.

If the member was reimbursed for expenses, he or she can deduct allowable expenses either in the year incurred or in the year paid

If the member uses the cash method of accounting, which is used by most individuals, he or she can choose to deduct moving expenses in the year of reimbursement if:

- (1) The expenses were paid in a year before the year of reimbursement, or
- (2) The expenses were paid in the year immediately after the year of reimbursement but by the due date, including extensions, for filing his or her return for the reimbursement year.

Moving expenses are reported on Form 3903, Moving Expenses. For more information, see Publication 521, Moving Expenses.

The following example illustrates applications of the rules discussed in this lesson.

Example

Capt. Shirley M. Holmes (SSN 000-00-9876) transferred in 2004 from one base to another. The government reimbursed her $350 for her travel and lodging expenses on the way to her new job location. The travel and lodging reimbursements were not reported as income on Form W-2. The $5,000 expense for transporting her household goods was furnished in kind by the military. No other reimbursements or allowances were made.

Capt. Holmes incurred the following expenses:

Travel and lodging en route – $500

The moving expense is computed on Form 3903 as follows:

The travel and lodging reimbursements and the dislocation allowance were not reported as wages on Form W-2. Using the following information furnished by the Coes, complete Form 3903.

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson presents information about reducing adjusted gross income by using the standard deduction or itemizing deductions. Approximately 2 to 2½ hours should be devoted to covering the objectives of this lesson. See the Suggested Class Schedules in Appendix B for additional information.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Identify the correct standard deduction.
- Calculate and accurately report itemized deductions on Schedule A.
- Identify the miscellaneous deductions reported on Schedule A, line 27.
- Complete the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet.
- Explain the process to calculate and report tax liability.

TEACHING TIPS — STANDARD DEDUCTIONS

Emphasize the criteria that apply for blindness listed below.

1. A taxpayer who was totally blind on the last day of 2004 should attach a statement to the tax return describing the blindness.
2. A taxpayer who was partially blind on the last day of 2004 must get a certified statement from an eye physician or registered optometrist, verifying that the taxpayer's vision in the best eye is not better than 20/200 with glasses or contact lenses, or that the field of vision is not more than 20 degrees. If the taxpayer's partial vision will never improve beyond one of these two conditions, he or she also must get a statement attesting to this. The taxpayer must keep the statement for his or her records.

TEACHING TIPS — ITEMIZED DEDUCTIONS

1. Explain the procedure to follow when you start page 2 of Form 1040A or 1040.
(Transfer the adjusted gross income from line 21 or 36 to line 22 or 37, respectively.)
2. Identify at least two reference tools used to compute taxpayers' standard deduction.
(Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind, and Standard Deduction Worksheet for Dependents.) Refer students to Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide.
3. Review with students that some taxpayers may itemize deductions even if the standard deduction is greater.
When this happens, volunteers should enter "IE" (itemized elected) next to line 39, Form 1040.
4. Emphasize to students that the only types of points that can be deducted on Schedule A are the points paid for the use of money (as a form of interest), including seller-paid points (deductible by buyer). Any other points paid for a service (such as those paid for the lender's appraisal fee) are NOT considered interest, and, therefore, are not deductible.
5. Students should be aware that taxpayers cannot deduct as charitable contributions any money spent buying raffle tickets, playing bingo, or playing other games of chance.

- 6. Taxpayers who have made deductible contributions based on fair market value may ask volunteers if they can deduct the appraisal fees they paid to find the fair market value of the items. Volunteers should explain to taxpayers that appraisal fees are not deductible as contributions, but as miscellaneous expenses on Schedule A, line 22.

GUIDED QUESTIONS — STANDARD DEDUCTIONS

- 1. Name at least three factors that determine the taxpayer's standard deduction amount.

(The taxpayer's filing status, whether the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse is 65 or older and/or blind, and whether the taxpayer can be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return.)

- 2. How is the standard deduction affected when the taxpayer's filing status is married filing a separate return and the taxpayer's spouse files Form 1040 and itemizes deductions?

(The taxpayer's standard deduction in this case is zero; if the taxpayer wishes to itemize deductions, he or she should file Form 1040.)

- 3. Mary is 68 years old and blind. She cannot be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return. What reference will you use to figure her standard deduction?

(Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind.)

- 4. Consuela is 14 years old and is claimed as a dependent on her father's return. What reference tool will you use to figure her standard deduction?

(You must use the Standard Deduction Worksheet for Dependents.)

- 5. Louis and Carmella are married filing separate returns. Louis itemized his deductions on Form 1040. Can Carmella take a standard deduction?

(Yes, but her standard deduction amount will be zero.)

- 6. Lu is blind. Her daughter and son-in-law claim her as a dependent. What reference tool will you use to figure Lu's standard deduction?

(Standard Deduction Worksheet for Dependents.)

GUIDED QUESTIONS — ITEMIZED DEDUCTIONS

- 1. How do standard deductions and itemized deductions affect adjusted gross income?
(They are subtracted from adjusted gross income and result in a smaller taxable income.)
- 2. When might a married taxpayer lose the option to either take the standard deduction or itemize deductions?
(If married taxpayers are filing separate returns and one spouse itemizes deductions, the other spouse should also itemize deductions. Otherwise, his or her standard deduction is zero.)
- 3. Should itemized deductions be figured on Schedule A before or after figuring adjusted gross income?
(Itemized deductions should be figured on Schedule A after figuring adjusted gross income. For some itemized deductions, only the portion that exceeds a specific percentage of adjusted gross income is deductible.)
- 4. What three conditions must be met in order for a tax to be deductible?
((1) The tax must be imposed on the taxpayer. (2) The tax must be paid by the taxpayer. (3) The tax must be paid during the tax year.)
- 5. Can a taxpayer deduct income taxes and real estate taxes paid to a state, local, or foreign government? (Yes; a taxpayer can deduct income taxes and real estate taxes that are paid to any of these governments.)
- 6. Are all federal, state, and local taxes, including general sales tax, deductible?
(No; many federal, state, and local taxes, such as general sales tax, are not deductible.)
- 7. The amount of mortgage interest that a taxpayer can deduct depends upon what three conditions?
(The date of the loan, the amount of the loan, and the use of the proceeds of the loan.)
- 8. After what date do restrictions apply on the deductible amount of a taxpayer's mortgage interest debt?
(October 13, 1987.)
- 9. Can taxpayers deduct contributions made directly to needy individuals?
(No; in order to be deductible, contributions must be made to a qualified organization, not an individual.)

- 10. How do taxpayers use the fair market value of a charitable contribution?
(Taxpayers can deduct the fair market value of clothing, furniture, etc. given to qualifying organizations, and they can deduct the amount of their contribution that was in excess of the fair market value for items such as merchandise and tickets to charity balls or sporting events.)
- 11. Are all deductible contributions reported on Schedule A on the same line?
(No; report cash and check contributions on line 15 [the car mileage deduction for charity is treated as a cash contribution]; report all other contributions on line 16.)
- 12. Taxpayers should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer if their non-cash contributions exceed what amount?
($500)
- 13. What constitutes Total Itemized Deductions, reported on line 28 of Schedule A?
(Total Itemized Deductions is the sum of these deductible amounts: medical and dental expenses (line 4), taxes (line 9), interest (line 14), gifts to charity (line 18), casualty and theft losses (line 19), job expenses and most other miscellaneous deductions (line 26), and other miscellaneous deductions (line 27).)
- 14. How is the amount of Total Itemized Deductions used to determine the amount entered on Form 1040, line 39?
(The amount of Total Itemized Deductions is compared with the standard deduction, and then the larger amount is entered on Form 1040, line 39.)

LESSON REVIEW

1. Students may ask whether the attorney's fee for drawing up a will qualifies as "tax counsel and assistance" which is deductible on Schedule A as a miscellaneous itemized deduction. Explain to students that the attorney's fee for a will is considered a "personal legal expense," and, therefore, is not a deductible expense. Review with students that in order for a legal expense to qualify as a miscellaneous itemized deduction, the expense must be incurred in one of the following ways: to produce or collect income; to manage, conserve, or maintain property held for producing income; or to determine, contest, pay, or claim a refund of any tax.
2. Tell volunteers that the 2004 exemption amount is $3,100 for each personal and dependency exemption the taxpayer can take. This information is built into the computation on the return forms (Form 1040, line 41; Form 1040A, line 26; Form 1040EZ, line 5).

GUIDED QUESTION – TRAVEL EXPENSES – MILITARY SEGMENT

- 1. Can the person elect not to file a travel voucher for reimbursement with their employer and elect to file a Form 2106 with their return?

No, you cannot file a Form 2106 for any expense that would have been reimbursed by the employer if a claim had been made.

GUIDED QUESTIONS – MISCELLANEOUS ITEMIZED DEDUCTIONS – MILITARY SEGMENT

- 1. What are the criteria for taking military uniforms and their upkeep as a deduction?

It must state in the military local policy that the uniform cannot be worn off-duty and the amount must be reduced by the amount of any clothing allowance the military member receives.

- 2. What type of educational expenses can be taken as miscellaneous itemized deductions?

Education expenses that are required by the employer or government entity to maintain the person's current position and not reimbursed by the employer and/or maintains or improves skills required in the person's current position.

STANDARD AND ITEMIZED DEDUCTIONS, AND TAX COMPUTATION

Lesson 5

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn about the standard deduction, itemized deductions and tax computations. You will learn which expenses can be included in itemized deductions. You will also learn when the taxpayer will use the tax tables and the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet to compute their total tax.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Identify the correct standard deduction.
- Calculate and accurately report itemized deductions on Schedule A.
- Identify the miscellaneous deductions reported on Schedule A, line 27.
- Complete the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet.
- Explain the process to calculate and report tax liability.

STANDARD DEDUCTION

The standard deduction is a dollar amount that reduces the amount of income on which you are taxed. The standard deduction depends on:

- the taxpayer's filing status,
- whether the taxpayer (or the taxpayer's spouse) is 65 or older and/or blind, and
- whether the taxpayer can be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return.

Based on the taxpayer's situation, you will figure the standard deduction by using one of the following:

- Standard Deduction Chart for Most People (Exhibit 1),
- Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind, (Exhibit 2) or
- Standard Deduction Worksheet for Dependents (Exhibit 3).

ALERT

Remind students that Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, has the Standard Deduction charts, and amounts.

Exhibit 1 Standard Deduction Chart for Most People*

If Your Filing Status is:	Your Standard Deduction is:
Single	$4,850
Married filing joint return or Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child	9,700
Married filing separate return	4,850
Head of household	7,150

*Do not use this chart if you were 65 or older or blind, or if someone else can claim an exemption for you (or your spouse if married filing jointly). Use Exhibit 2 or Exhibit 3 instead.

Exhibit 2 Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind*

Check the correct number of boxes below. Then go to the chart.

You 65 or older Blind

Your spouse, if claiming spouse's exemption 65 or older Blind

Total number of boxes you checked

If Your Filing Status is:	And the Number in the Box Above is:	Your Standard Deduction is:
Single	1	$6,050
	2	7,250
Married filing joint return or Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child	1	10,650
	2	11,600
	3	12,550
	4	13,500
Married filing separate return	1	5,800
	2	6,750
	3	7,700
	4	8,650
Head of household	1	8,350
	2	9,550

*If someone can claim an exemption for you (or your spouse if married filing jointly), use Exhibit 3, instead.

If you are married filing a separate return and your spouse itemizes deductions, or if you are a dual-status alien, you cannot take the standard deduction even if you were 65 or older or blind.

Exhibit 3 Standard Deduction Worksheet for Dependents*

If you were 65 or older or blind, check the correct number of boxes below. Then go to the worksheet.

You 65 or older Blind

Your spouse, if claiming spouse's exemption 65 or older Blind

Total number of boxes you checked

1. Enter your earned income (defined below). If none, enter -0-.	1. _____
2. Additional amount	2. $250
3. Add lines 1 and 2.	3. _____
4. Minimum amount.	4. $800
5. Enter the larger of line 3 or line 4.	5. _____
6. Enter the amount shown below for your filing status. Single or Married filing separately—$4,850 Married filing jointly or Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child—$9,700 Head of household—$7,150	6. _____
7. Standard deduction. a. Enter the smaller of line 5 or line 6. If under 65 and not blind, stop here. This is your standard deduction. Otherwise, go on to line 7b. b. If 65 or older or blind, multiply $1,200 ($950 if married or qualifying widow(er) with dependent child) by the number in the box above. c. Add lines 7a and 7b. *Use this worksheet only if someone else can claim an exemption for you (or your spouse if married filing jointly).

Example 1

Bob is 55 years old and is married to Janice, age 50. If they are filing a joint return and neither is blind, they can enter $9,700 on either Form 1040 or Form 1040A for their standard deduction amount.

Example 2

John is 73 years old, blind, and files a single tax return. To find his standard deduction, use the Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind. His standard deduction is $7,250.

PERSONAL EXEMPTION IN CONNECTION WITH STANDARD DEDUCTION ON FORM 1040EZ

If the taxpayer (or his or her spouse, if married filing a joint return) can be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return, check the Yes box on line 5 of the Form 1040EZ. To fill in the amount on line 5 for this taxpayer, you must then turn the form over and complete the worksheet (Exhibit 4 shows a completed worksheet from Form 1040EZ, page 2).

If the taxpayer (or his or her spouse, if filing a joint return) cannot be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return, check the No box on line 5. Enter on line 5 the amount shown below that applies to the taxpayer (and spouse, if married filing jointly).

- A. Single, enter $7,950. This is the total of the taxpayer's standard deduction ($4,850) and personal exemption ($3,100).
- B. Married, enter $15,900. This is the total of the taxpayer's and spouse's standard deduction ($9,700), exemption for the taxpayer ($3,100), and exemption for the taxpayer's spouse ($3,100).

Example 3

Clarence is 22 years old and a full time student. He is single and can be claimed as a dependent on his parents' tax return. Clarence works part-time and earned $4,650 during 2004. His savings account earned $56 in interest. Clarence's standard deduction is $4,850. See Exhibit 4 above.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Entering an incorrect standard deduction amount is a frequently made error on tax returns. Take care to report the correct standard deduction amount.

Exercise 1

Use Exhibits 1 thru 3 on page 5-2 to determine the standard deduction amounts below.

- A. James is 37 years old. He has two children who live with him and he files as head of household. What is James' standard deduction? _____
- B. Paul is 37 years old. He was divorced in 2004. He is blind and has no dependent children. What is Malcom's standard deduction? _____
- C. Carl is 67 years old and married to Sue, who is 59 years old. Neither is blind. If they file a joint return, what is their standard deduction? _____
- D. If they are filing separate returns, what is Carl's standard deduction? _____
- E. If they are filing separate returns, what is Sue's standard deduction? _____
- F. Shirley is 15 years old and is claimed as a dependent on her parents' tax return. She earned $1,500 during the summer and deposited it all into her savings account, where she earned $40 in interest. What is her standard deduction? _____
- _____

ITEMIZED DEDUCTIONS

Taxpayers can either claim the standard deduction or itemize their deductions. Both the standard deduction and itemized deductions reduce adjusted gross income. Most taxpayers choose the larger of their itemized deductions or the standard deduction. However, there are some exceptions:

- A married taxpayer filing a separate return cannot claim the standard deduction if the taxpayer's spouse itemizes deductions, and
- Nonresident aliens cannot claim the standard deduction.

When itemizing, you should complete the taxpayer's return through line 37 of Form 1040. Then figure itemized deductions on Schedule A.

Medical and Dental Expenses

Claim medical and dental expenses paid in 2004 on lines 1 through 4 of Schedule A. Include expenses incurred for:

- the taxpayer and spouse,
- dependents claimed on the return, and
- others who could have been claimed as dependents except that they had gross income of $3,100 or more, or they filed a joint return.

If a child of divorced or separated parents is claimed as a dependent on either parent's return, each parent may deduct the medical expenses that he or she pays for the child.

Deductible expenses include:

- Prescription medicines and drugs (including insulin)
- Medical, dental, and nursing care, including amounts paid for unreimbursed qualified long-term care services
- Medical and hospital insurance premiums, including amounts paid for eligible long-term care (subject to certain limitations based on the insured person's age — see Exhibit 5, next page.)
- Prescription eyeglasses, hearing aids, crutches, wheelchairs, braces, and guide dogs
- Transportation for medical care at 14 cents a mile, or actual out-of-pocket expenses, plus parking fees and tolls
- Certain lodging expenses
- Certain home improvements made for medical care purposes or to make the home suitable for a disabled person
- Medicare A premiums for persons not enrolled in Social Security
- Medicare B
- Certain weight-loss programs to treat disease diagnosed by a physician, including obesity
- Unreimbursed costs of smoking-cessation programs, including the cost of prescription drugs designed to alleviate nicotine withdrawal
- Expenses for admission and transportation to a medical conference relating to the chronic disease of a dependent (if the costs are primarily for and essential to the medical care of the dependent).

Total medical and dental expenses must exceed 7.5 percent of a taxpayer's adjusted gross income (Form 1040, line 37) for Schedule A deduction.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Explain to taxpayers that they can only deduct expenses in the year they are paid. They cannot deduct expenses that are owed but not paid.

ALERT

The standard mileage rate for operating a vehicle for medical transportation is 14 cents a mile.

Nondeductible expenses include:

- Medical expenses paid from a medical savings account (MSA). [Refer taxpayers with MSAs to Publication 969, Medical Savings Accounts (MSAs), Publication 502, Medical and Dental Expenses, and a paid professional tax preparer.]
- Payroll tax paid for Medicare A
- Life insurance policy premiums
- Babysitting, child care, and nursing care for a normal healthy baby
- Controlled substances
- Nonprescription drugs or medicines
- The cost of purchasing diet food items
- Nonprescription nicotine gum and patches designed to stop smoking
- Funeral, burial, or cremation costs
- Unnecessary cosmetic surgery (surgery that does not correct a congenital abnormality or an abnormality caused by injury or disease)
- Income protection policies, including nursing home policy premiums, if the policy ensures a maximum out-of-pocket expense per day
- Meals and lodging while attending a medical conference relating to the chronic disease of a dependent.

Eligible Long-Term Care Premiums

41-50	$490
51-60	$980
61-70	$2,600
71 or older	$3,250

These figures should always be checked against the figures in the instructions for the Form 1040, Schedule A.

Exercise 2

Sam and Paula Ferris file a joint return. Sam's social security number is xxx-xx-xxxx. Their adjusted gross income is $40,000. They paid the following medical bills:

Unreimbursed doctor's bills	$ 500
Unreimbursed orthodontist bill for braces	1,200
Hospital insurance premiums	300
Life insurance premiums	500
Unreimbursed prescription medicines	100
Vitamins	70
Hospital bill (before deducting $500) reimbursed by insurance company)	2,000
Smoking cessation program	150

Complete the Medical and Dental Expenses section of Schedule A for the Ferris family.

Taxes

To be deductible, a tax must be imposed on and paid by the taxpayer. Taxpayers cannot deduct:

- a tax that they do not owe, but pay for someone else,
- a tax that they owe, but someone else pays, or
- a tax that was not paid in 2004.

Report deductible taxes on lines 5 through 9 of Schedule A.

State and Local Taxes — State and local taxes that are deductible are either withheld taxes, estimated tax payments, or other tax payments made during the year.

Taxpayers who receive a refund of state and local income taxes in a year after the year in which they were paid, may have to report the refund as income on line 10 of Form 1040, as taxable refunds.

If the taxpayer did not itemized their deductions in the previous year, then they are not required to include the refund as income.

If the taxpayer deducted taxes on Schedule A in the previous year, then the refund should be included on line 10 as taxable refunds.

Real Estate Taxes — State, local, or foreign taxes on real property, such as the taxpayer's house or land, are deductible. Real estate taxes are deductible when paid. If the taxes are paid with a mortgage payment and held in escrow, do not deduct the taxes until they are paid by the bank or mortgage lender.

Members of the clergy and military personnel can deduct real estate taxes even if they receive a housing allowance that is excluded from income. Also, they can deduct allowable mortgage interest even if the interest was paid from a nontaxable housing allowance.

Assessments to pave a street or install lighting or a sewer generally are not deductible.

Personal Property Taxes — Taxes that state and local governments charge on the value of personal property are deductible (for example, ad valorem taxes paid on car tags). A portion of the cost of personal vehicle registration may fall in this category.

Nondeductible Taxes — Many federal, state, and local government taxes are not deductible. The following taxes are not deductible:

- General sales tax
- Federal taxes—income tax, social security (FICA), Medicare, railroad retirement tax, gift tax, and excise taxes or customs duties
- Hunting licenses and dog licenses
- Water and sewer taxes
- Taxes on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, and tobacco
- State, local, and federal taxes on gasoline, diesel, and other motor fuels used in a nonbusiness vehicle
- Utility taxes — telephone, gas, electricity, etc.

Interest

Interest is the amount that is paid in order to borrow money. Only taxpayers who are legally liable for the debt can deduct the interest in the year it is paid or accrued. Interest expenses are reported on lines 10 through 14 of Schedule A.

Home Mortgage Interest — The amount of mortgage interest that a taxpayer can deduct depends on the:

- date of the loan,
- amount of the loan, and
- use of the proceeds of the loan.

If the mortgage debt was incurred on or before October 13, 1987, and was secured by a main or second home, the interest on that debt is fully deductible, regardless of the amount of the loan or the use of the loan proceeds.

If the mortgage debt was incurred after October 13, 1987, and was secured by a main or second home, the interest is fully deductible if:

- the loans plus any grandfathered debt do not exceed $1 million ($500,000 if married filing separate returns), and
- the proceeds were used to buy, build, or improve the home or homes.

In addition to loans used to buy, build, or improve a main or second home, taxpayers can deduct interest on other loans secured by a main or second home, regardless of the use of the proceeds, if:

- the total of these loans does not exceed $100,000 ($50,000 if married filing separate returns), and
- the total amount of the secured debt is not more than the home's fair market value minus any outstanding acquisition debt and any grandfathered debt on the home.

Points. Certain charges paid by a borrower and/or a seller to a lender to secure a loan are called points. They are also called loan origination fees (including VA and FHA loan origination fees), maximum loan charges, premium charges, loan discount, or discount points.

Points paid only for the use of money are considered prepaid interest. This interest, even if it qualifies as home mortgage interest, must be spread over the life of the mortgage and is considered paid and deductible over that period unless it meets the following exception.

Exception. A taxpayer may fully deduct points in the year he or she pays them only if all of the following conditions apply:

- The taxpayer itemizes deductions.
- The taxpayer's loan is secured by his or her main home. (The main home is the one the taxpayer lives in most of the time.)
- Paying points is an established business practice in the area where the loan was made.
- The points paid were not more than the points generally charged in that area.
- The taxpayer uses the cash method of accounting. (The cash method means that the taxpayer reports income in the year received and deducts expenses in the year paid.)
- The points were not paid in place of amounts that ordinarily are stated separately on the settlement statement, such as appraisal fees, inspection fees, title fees, attorney fees, and property taxes.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Personal interest cannot be claimed as an itemized deduction. Personal interest includes interest on car loans, credit card balances, and installment plan loans that are incurred for personal use or for personal expenses.

- The taxpayer uses his or her loan to buy or build his or her main home.
- The points were computed as a percentage of the principal amount of the mortgage.
- The amount is clearly shown on the settlement statement (such as Form HUD-1) as points charged for the mortgage.
- The points may be shown as paid from either the taxpayer's or the seller's funds.
- The funds the taxpayer provided at or before closing, plus any points the seller paid, were at least as much as the points charged. The funds the taxpayer provided do not have to have been applied to the points. They can include a down payment, an escrow deposit, earnest money, and other funds the taxpayer paid at or before closing for any purpose. The taxpayer cannot have borrowed these funds from his or her lender or mortgage broker.

Charges by the lender for specific services, such as appraisal fees, preparation costs, VA funding fees, or notary fees, may be called points. However, these charges are not considered interest and are not deductible.

Points paid by the seller are deductible as interest by the buyer.

Points paid to refinance a mortgage are generally not deductible in full in the year the taxpayer paid them (unless they are paid in connection with the improvement of a main home and the first seven statements, discussed earlier under Exception, are true).

Points paid in excess of those generally charged in the area and points paid to refinance a mortgage can be deducted over the life of the mortgage. Deduct points reported to the taxpayer on Form 1098 on line 10 of Schedule A (Form 1040). Deduct points not reported to the taxpayer on Form 1098 on line 12 of Schedule A (Form 1040).

Investment Interest. Interest that is paid on money borrowed to buy or carry property held for investment is called investment interest. Taxpayers with investment interest expense that exceeds investment income (interest and ordinary dividend income) should see a paid professional tax preparer.

Interest that cannot be deducted. Interest that cannot be deducted includes:

- Interest on car loans where the car is used for personal use and other personal loans,
- Credit investigation fees,
- Loan fees; aid for services necessary to get a loan,
- Interest on a debt the taxpayer is not legally liable to pay, and
- Finance charges on credit card purchases of personal items.

Exercise 3

John and Shannon file a joint return. During the year, they paid the bank $2,180 of interest on their home mortgage that was reported to them on Form 1098 (all qualified), $400 in credit card interest, $300 on an installment loan, and $2,000 on a car loan. Complete the Interest You Paid section of Schedule A for John and Shannon.

Contributions

Taxpayers can deduct contributions to organizations that are:

- Organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, educational, scientific, or literary purposes,
- Organizations that work to prevent cruelty to children or animals, and
- Organizations that foster national or international amateur sports competition if they do not provide athletic facilities or equipment.

To be deductible, contributions must be made to an organization, not an individual. Qualifying organizations include:

- Churches, synagogues, temples, mosques, Salvation Army, Red Cross, CARE, United Way, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, World Wildlife Fund, etc.,
- Fraternal orders (if used for the purposes listed above),
- Nonprofit schools and hospitals,
- Nonprofit medical research organizations,
- Veterans' groups and certain cultural groups, and
- Federal, state, and local governments (if the gifts are exclusively for public purposes).

Nonqualifying organizations include:

- Business organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce,
- Civic leagues and associations,

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

If the taxpayer makes a contribution to a qualifying organization that is more than $75 and is partly for goods or services, the qualifying organization must give the taxpayer a written statement. For more information, see Publication 526, Charitable Contributions.

- Political organizations and candidates,
- Social clubs,
- Foreign organizations,
- Homeowners' associations, and
- Communist organizations.

Deductible items include:

- Money gifts,
- Dues, fees, and assessments paid to qualified organizations above the value of the benefits received (not country clubs or other social organizations),
- Fair market value (FMV is the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller, neither having to buy or sell, and both having reasonable knowledge of all the necessary facts.) of used clothing, furniture, (i.e., the price paid in used clothing stores, consignment shops, and thrift stores)
- Cost and upkeep of uniforms that have no general use but must be worn while performing donated services,
- Unreimbursed transportation expenses that relate directly to the services the taxpayer gave the qualified organization, including bus fare, parking fees, tolls, and either the actual cost of gas and oil or a standard mileage charge of 14 cents per mile, and
- The part of a contribution above the fair market value for items such as merchandise and tickets to charity balls or sporting events.

Nondeductible items include:

- Cost of raffle, bingo, or lottery tickets,
- Tuition,
- Value of a person's time or service,
- Blood donated to a blood bank or the Red Cross,
- Car depreciation, insurance, general repairs, or maintenance,
- Direct contributions to an individual,
- Sickness or burial expenses for members of a fraternal society, and
- The part of a contribution that personally benefits the taxpayer (such as the fair market value of the meal eaten at a charity dinner).

Report cash and check contributions on Schedule A, line 15. Contributions other than cash or check are entered on line 16. Taxpayers with noncash contributions exceeding $500 should see a paid professional tax preparer.

The taxpayer must keep records to prove the amount of the cash and noncash contributions he or she makes during the year.

A taxpayer can claim a deduction for any single contribution of $250 or more only if he or she has a written acknowledgment of the contribution from the qualifying organization. You do not have to see the written acknowledgement, but you should ask the taxpayer if they have one.

Exercise 4

Rose contributed $600 to St. Martin's Church (church gave letter verifying amount), $32 to the Girl Scouts, and $40 to a family whose house burned. She purchased $50 worth of lottery tickets and spent $100 playing bingo at her church. She donated used furniture with a fair market value of $200 to Goodwill.

Complete the Gifts to Charity section of Schedule A for Rose.

Casualty and Theft Losses

A casualty occurs when property is damaged as a result of a sudden, unexpected, or unusual event such as fire, storm, shipwreck, flood, earthquake, or automobile accident. Theft is the unlawful taking and removing of money or property with the intent to deprive the owner of it. Theft does not include the mere disappearance of money or property.

A casualty or theft may result in a gain if the insurance proceeds or other reimbursements exceed the adjusted basis of destroyed or stolen property.

Usually, however, a casualty or theft results in a loss. Part of a casualty or theft loss may be deductible if the taxpayer can prove that the casualty or theft occurred to property that the taxpayer owned. The taxpayer must also prove the dollar amount of the loss. Taxpayers with a casualty and theft loss should seek assistance from a paid professional tax preparer.

Miscellaneous Itemized Deductions

Certain employee expenses, expenses of producing income, and other qualifying expenses are reported as miscellaneous itemized deductions on Schedule A. Miscellaneous itemized deductions that exceed 2% of adjusted gross income are deductible. There are some miscellaneous itemized deductions that are deductible, regardless of a taxpayer's adjusted gross income.

Examples of deductions that are subject to the 2% limit and that are reported on lines 20 through 22 of Schedule A are:

- Union dues and fees,
- Professional society dues,
- Uniforms not adaptable to general use,
- Small tools and supplies,
- Professional books, magazines, journals,
- Employment-related educational expenses,
- Expenses of looking for a new job,
- Investment counsel fees,
- Investment expenses,
- Tax counsel and assistance,
- Fees paid to an IRA custodian, and
- Safe deposit box rental for investment documents.

Examples of deductions that are not subject to the 2% limit and that are reported on line 27 of Schedule A are:

- Unrecovered after-tax pension contributions (see Lesson 14).
- Gambling losses to the extent of gambling winnings, and
- Work-related expenses for an individual with a disability, such as attendant-care services at the individual's place of work, that are necessary for the person to work.

Nondeductible expenses include:

- Burial or funeral expenses,
- Wedding expenses,
- Fees and licenses, such as car and marriage licenses and dog tags,
- Fines and penalties, such as parking tickets,
- Home repairs, insurance, and rent,
- Illegal bribes and kickbacks,
- Insurance premiums (except medical insurance premiums),
- Losses from the sale of a taxpayer's home, furniture, or personal car,
- Lost or misplaced cash or property,
- Personal legal expenses, and
- Commuting expenses to and from work.

ELECTING TO ITEMIZE

Even if the taxpayer's itemized deductions are less than the amount of his or her standard deduction, he or she may want to do this, for example, if the tax benefit of being able to itemize the deductions on his or her state tax return is greater than the tax benefit he or she loses on their federal return by not taking the standard deduction. To make this election, he or she must enter "IE" (itemized elected) on the dotted line next to line 39, Form 1040.

FINDING THE TAX

Taxpayers with taxable income of less than $100,000 use the Tax Table to find their tax. However, children under 14 years of age who have more than $1,500 of investment income (interest, dividends, etc.) might not be able to use the Tax Table. Their income might have to be taxed at the parents' tax rate. These taxpayers should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer.

The Tax Table is in the back of this book. The tax is based on the person's filing status and taxable income. To find the tax, use the taxable income from the tax forms (1040EZ, line 6; 1040A, line 27; and 1040, line 42), and:

- locate the income bracket for the taxable income,
- read across that line until you reach the column for the appropriate filing status, and
- find the amount where the taxable income and filing status meet. This is the tax liability.

If the taxable income is the same as the ending amount in an income bracket, go to the next bracket to find the tax.

Qualifying widows(ers) use the married filing jointly column.

Enter the tax on Form 1040EZ, line 10, Form 1040A, line 28, or Form 1040, line 43.

Double check the amount entered. Common errors include:

- Using the wrong standard deduction,
- Incorrectly figuring the exemption amount,
- Using an amount other than taxable income to find the tax,
- Picking up the wrong number from the Tax Table, and
- Transposing the numbers when entering the tax amount.

TAXABLE INCOME COMPUTATION

Once you have determined the standard deduction, compare it to the total itemized deductions. In most cases, you will enter the larger of the two amounts on Form 1040, line 39. Subtract line 39 from line 37 and enter the result on line 40. Then subtract the exemption deduction (line 41) to compute the taxable income.

If the taxpayer has capital gain distributions that are reported directly on Form 1040 or Form 1040A, the taxpayer should use the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet to determine if the tax is less.

The taxpayer should:

- Check the box next to line 13, Form 1040 and
- Use the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet (Exhibit 11) from either the Form 1040A or 1040 instruction booklet to compute tax.

Example 4

Marjorie is a single taxpayer with taxable income of $46,575. She files Form 1040 and does not have to file a Schedule D. In 2004, she received capital gain distributions of $650 from XYZ Investments. Marjorie pays less tax by using the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet (Exhibit 11).

Before you begin: ✓ See the instructions for line 43 on page 36 to see if you can use this worksheet to figure your tax.

TAXWISE HINT

If a taxpayer wants to determine whether the standard or itemized deduction is best for him or her, input Schedule A information. TaxWise will automatically select the deduction that is more beneficial.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

Both the standard deduction (or total itemized deductions, if greater) and exemption amounts are subtracted from adjusted gross income to arrive at taxable income.

The standard deduction depends upon:

- ▶ filing status,
- ▶ age, eyesight, and
- ▶ whether the taxpayer can be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return.

Determine the standard deduction by using the:

- ▶ Standard Deduction amount for the appropriate filing status from the appropriate tax form, or
- ▶ Standard Deduction Chart for Most People
- ▶ Standard Deduction Chart for People Age 65 or Older or Blind, or
- ▶ Standard Deduction Worksheet for Dependents

Itemized deductions are specifically allowed by law. Claim itemized deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040).

Itemized deductions include:

- ▶ Medical and dental expenses
- ▶ Taxes paid
- ▶ Home mortgage and certain investment interest paid
- ▶ Charitable contributions
- ▶ Casualty and theft losses
- ▶ Miscellaneous itemized deductions.

Medical and dental expenses that exceed 7.5 percent of adjusted gross income are deductible.

To be deductible as a charitable contribution, a donation of $250 or more must be acknowledged in writing by the charitable organization that received the donation.

Most miscellaneous itemized deductions that exceed 2% of adjusted gross income are deductible. However, there are certain miscellaneous itemized deductions that are fully deductible, regardless of gross income.

If deducted investment interest expense exceeds investment income, refer the taxpayer to a paid professional tax preparer.

If you are uncertain whether an expense qualifies as a deduction, do not guess. Use on site reference material to determine.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

Most taxpayers compare their total itemized deductions to their standard deduction and enter the larger amount on Form 1040, line 39.

Do not use the Tax Table for taxpayers with taxable income of $100,000 or more.

Common errors include:

- ▶ Using the wrong standard deduction,
- ▶ Incorrectly figuring the exemption amount,
- ▶ Using an amount other than taxable income to find the tax,
- ▶ Picking up the wrong number from the Tax Table, and
- ▶ Transposing the numbers when entering the tax amount.

STUDENT NOTES

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This segment identifies and explains how to apply the rules concerning travel and transportation expenses for members of the Armed Forces.

When we have concluded this segment you will be able to identify travel and transportation expenses (including meals) deductible by Armed Forces personnel.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Fully reimbursed employee business expenses, such as travel and transportation expenses, generally are not reported on your tax return if an adequate accounting is made to the employer and any excess reimbursement is required to be returned to the employer.

Armed Forces employees must substantiate their expenses to the federal government and return any excess reimbursement. The records must be adequate and complete. Adequate records include documents such as receipts and checks, account books, diaries, trip sheets, or similar items. To be considered adequate, the records should show the business purpose, time, place, and amount of the expense. If automobile expenses are involved, the records must include the total miles driven and total business miles driven.

FORM 1040

Deductible employee business expenses are reported generally on Form 2106, Employee Business Expenses, and can only be taken as an itemized deduction on Schedule A, Form 1040. Only expenses that exceed 2% of adjusted gross income (AGI) can be deducted.

Excess reimbursements for employee business expenses that are not returned to the employer must be included in income on line 7 of Form 1040. These reimbursements do not include any “qualified military benefit,” such as per diem.

FORM W-2

If the employee is reimbursed under a plan that requires the employee to adequately account for all business connected expenses and return any funds that are more than the substantiated expenses, the reimbursement should not be included as income in Box 1 of Form W-2. Therefore, the employee cannot deduct these expenses.

Temporary duty (TDY) and temporary additional duty (TAD) allowances for travel and transportation are not reported as income on Form W-2. If there are excess expenses on some trips and the employee wants to claim them as employee business expenses, the employee must report all TAD and TDY trip expenses incurred during the year on Form 2106 and include all TAD and TDY allowances received as reimbursements.

FORM 2106

To claim unreimbursed job related expenses, such as travel or transportation expenses, Armed Forces personnel must complete Form 2106 and attach it to their Form 1040. Form 2106 will not have to be used if the Armed Forces member is claiming only unreimbursed employee business expenses for professional dues, subscriptions to professional journals, educational expenses, and uniform expenses. These expenses are reported on line 20 on Schedule A as miscellaneous itemized deductions subject to the 2% AGI limit.

Example 1

Capt. Glendale traveled from his duty station in California to Washington, DC, for a conference. He was away for 5 days. The Army advanced Capt. Glendale $700 for the trip. Capt. Glendale's actual expenses were $625. When he filed his travel voucher with the Army, he returned the excess of $75. The Captain does not have to complete Form 2106.

Remember, if the Armed Forces member does not claim reimbursement for expenses that he or she is entitled to, no deduction for those expenses is allowed.

MEALS

The cost of meals can be an employee business expense. This includes meals while on business travel away from home and for business-related entertainment. The deduction for meals is generally limited to 50% of the actual expenses. For employees subject to Department of Transportation (DOT) hours of service limits, deductible meal expenses incurred while away from home on business increased in 2004 from 50% to 70%.

The deduction is taken on Form 2106 where the 50% limit is applied before the amount is carried to line 20 on Schedule A where it is subject to the 2% AGI limit.

If the employee is fully reimbursed for the meals under an accountable plan that excludes reimbursement from gross income, there is no amount to deduct and, therefore, no amount subject to the 50% limit.

TRAVEL EXPENSES

To be deductible, travel expenses must be ordinary and necessary expenses of traveling away from home temporarily for your job and must be greater than the total of any advances, allowances, and reimbursements you receive for such expenses. “Ordinary” expenses are customary or usual in the employee’s field, trade, business, or profession. “Necessary” expenses are appropriate or helpful in the employee’s job or business. Such expenses include airfares, the costs of operating and maintaining a car, and meals and lodging. For a more complete list, see Publication 463.

Deductible travel expenses are reported on Form 2106 (or Form 2106-EZ, if you qualify) and are deductible as a miscellaneous itemized deduction on Schedule A of Form 1040.

Away From Home

For costs other than local transportation to be deductible, the traveler must be away from home. The term “away from home” has a special meaning for tax purposes.

“Home,” for this purpose, generally is the taxpayer’s main place of business or post of duty. This includes the entire city or general area where his or her business or work is located, regardless of where the taxpayer or his or her family lives. For the military, “home” is the permanent duty station. A naval officer assigned to permanent duty aboard a ship that has regular eating and living facilities has a tax home aboard ship for travel expense purposes.

“Away from home” means away for a period substantially longer than an ordinary day’s work, during which taxpayers need time off for sleep or rest to meet the demands of work.

Members of the Armed Forces are away from home if they are away from their permanent duty stations long enough to require significant rest or sleep in order to be able to conduct and complete their duties.

Note: Away from home assignments that last, or are realistically expected to last more than one year are not temporary in nature. Therefore, taxpayers cannot deduct travel expenses incurred while on an assignment of more than one year.

No Deduction for Personal Expenses

For travel expenses to be deductible, there must be a work-related purpose for the travel. The taxpayer may not deduct expenses for personal travel, such as vacations, sightseeing, entertaining, or family visits.

Allowable Expenses

Common travel expenses for a member of the Armed Forces include:

- Expenses incurred while on TDY or TAD if away from home (ship, base, or station).
- Expenses of a reservist attending drills away from home overnight.
- Meals and lodging of a reservist temporarily called to active duty.

- Travel expenses, including meals and lodging, incurred in connection with deductible educational activities.
- Travel expenses incurred when carrying on official business while on “No Cost” (to the government) orders.

Mess bills afloat are not deductible by an officer assigned to permanent duty aboard a ship. Bills may be deductible as travel expenses by individuals and members of mobile units in a travel or TAD status while away from their permanent ships or stations.

Travel expense deductions are available to air squadron personnel when away from the squadron’s home base on TAD and to Army personnel when on field duty or maneuvers in a TDY status. Air squadron personnel and members of staffs permanently embarked on ships on extended deployments may not deduct expenses of living aboard ships as travel expenses.

Officers assigned permanent duty afloat may deduct the cost of meals and lodging incurred while on travel or TAD ashore if the ship is not berthed at the temporary duty station, or if the ship is berthed at the temporary duty station but quarters aboard are not available. No deduction is permitted for meals or lodging furnished or available in kind at the place of TAD, even if they are not used.

ARMED FORCES RESERVISTS

Unreimbursed travel expenses, including meals and lodging, are deductible for military reservists who, under competent orders and with or without compensation, must remain away from their main place of business to perform authorized drills and training duty.

Temporary active duty. Reservists temporarily called to active duty may deduct meals and lodging while on active duty if they kept their regular job while on active duty, returned to it after release, and were stationed away from the general area of that job or business. These expenses are deductible only if the reservists pay for meals and lodging at their official military post and only to the extent the expenses exceed BAH and BAS.

Traveling more than 100 miles from home. If a taxpayer is a member of a reserve component of the Armed Forces of the United States and he or she travels more than 100 miles away from home in connection with his or her performance of services as a member of the reserves, he or she can deduct his or her travel expenses as an adjustment to gross income rather than as a miscellaneous itemized deduction. The amount of expenses he or she can deduct as an adjustment to income is limited to the regular federal per diem rate (for lodging, meals, and incidental expenses) and the standard mileage rate (for car expenses) plus any parking fees, ferry fees, and tolls. Any expenses in excess of these amounts can be claimed only as a miscellaneous itemized deduction subject to the 2% limit.

Member of a reserve component. A member of a reserve component of the Armed Forces of the United States is a member in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, or Coast Guard Reserve, the Army National Guard of the United States, the Air National Guard of the United States, or the Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service.

How to report. If a member has reserve-related travel that takes him or her more than 100 miles from home, he or she should first complete Form 2106 or Form 2106-EZ. Then include his or her expenses for reserve travel over 100 miles from home, up to the federal rate, from line 10 of Form 2106 or line 6 of Form 2106-EZ in the total on line 24 of Form 1040. Write “RC” and the amount of these expenses in the space to the left of line 24 of Form 1040. Subtract this amount from the total on line 10 of Form 2106 or line 6 of Form 2106-EZ and deduct the balance as an itemized deduction on line 20 of Schedule A (Form 1040).

A member cannot deduct expenses of travel that does not take him or her more than 100 miles from home as an adjustment to gross income. Instead, he or she must complete Form 2106 or 2106-EZ and deduct those expenses as an itemized deduction on line 20 of Schedule A (Form 1040).

Exercise 1

- a. Sgt. Martin’s permanent duty station is in Korea. His wife and children could not accompany him and have remained at their home in the United States. Can he deduct the cost of his meals and lodging?

Answer _____

- b. Can Sgt. Martin, in the circumstances above, deduct the cost of meals and lodging for his wife and children?

Answer _____

- c. Can Sgt. Martin take a deduction for the cost of returning home to visit his family?

Answer _____

EDUCATIONAL EXPENSES

In Lesson 9, Education Credits, you will learn about deductions for educational expenses. Taxpayers cannot deduct as a business expense the cost of travel that in itself constitutes a form of education. If educational expenses qualify for a deduction under the rules given in Lesson 9, travel for that education is travel for a business purpose, and the unreimbursed transportation and meals and lodging expenses may be deducted according to the relevant rules discussed in this lesson.

Example 2

Airman Drake is sent from his permanent duty station to a technical school 500 miles away to learn the latest uses of computers for diagnosing engine performance and maintenance requirements. If his expenses for travel exceed the allowances and reimbursements he receives, he can take the excess as a miscellaneous itemized deduction, subject to the 2% AGI limit.

Lesson 9 will explain which other educational expenses can be deducted.

Exercise 2

Which of the following can be taken as deductions?

- a. Travel expenses in excess of allowances and reimbursements when the taxpayer is on TAD trips.
- b. Mess bills of an officer permanently assigned to a ship.
- c. Meals that are not lavish or extravagant, but cost more than allowances or reimbursements while the taxpayer attends assigned schooling away from his or her permanent station.
- d. Laundry expenses the taxpayer incurs while traveling on TAD and for which no allowance or reimbursement is received.

Answer _____

LOCAL TRANSPORTATION EXPENSES

Local transportation expenses are generally the expenses of getting from one work place to another while not traveling away from home. Such expenses include the costs of operating and maintaining a car, but not meals and lodging. If taxpayers are required during their time on duty to go from one place to another (for example, as a courier or to attend meetings) without being away from home, their unreimbursed transportation expenses are deductible. When they must use their own vehicle, they can deduct transportation expenses. You may be able to use the standard mileage rate to figure the deductible costs of operating your car for business purposes. Beginning January 1, 2004, the standard mileage rate is 37.5 cents a mile for all business miles driven on or after that date. This rate is adjusted periodically for inflation. Commuting expenses are usually not deductible. However, you may be able to deduct certain daily transportation expenses, as explained next, under Temporary Work Location.

TEMPORARY WORK LOCATION

A taxpayer can deduct local transportation expenses.

Local transportation expenses include the ordinary and necessary costs of all of the following.

- Getting from one workplace to another in the course of the taxpayer's business or profession when he or she is traveling within the city or general area that is his or her tax home.
- Visiting clients or customers.

- Going to a business meeting away from the taxpayer's regular workplace.
- Getting from the taxpayer's home to a temporary workplace when he or she has one or more regular places of work. These temporary workplaces can be either within the area of his or her tax home or outside that area.

Local business transportation does not include expenses the taxpayer has while traveling away from home overnight. Those expenses are deductible as travel expenses.

If the taxpayer's employment at a work location is realistically expected to last (and does in fact last) for one year or less, the employment is temporary unless there are facts and circumstances that would indicate otherwise. If the taxpayer's employment at a work location is realistically expected to last for more than one year or if there is no realistic expectation that the employment will last for one year or less, the employment is not temporary, regardless of whether it actually lasts for more than one year. If employment at a work location initially is realistically expected to last for one year or less, but at some later date the employment is expected to last for more than one year, that employment will be treated as temporary (unless there are facts and circumstances that would indicate otherwise) until the taxpayer's expectation changes. It will not be treated as temporary after the date the taxpayer determines it will last for more than one year.

- ▶ Travel and transportation expenses can be taken as miscellaneous itemized deductions on Schedule A, subject to the 2% AGI limit.

- ▶ Commuting and other personal expenses are not deductible.
- ▶ Travel costs associated with deductible educational expenses are treated like other business travel costs.
- ▶ Form 2106 and Schedule A (Form 1040) are used to figure and claim the itemized deduction for employee business expenses that exceed reimbursement.

OTHER JOB EXPENSES AND MISCELLANEOUS DEDUCTIONS

Lesson 5
Military Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVE

As you learned earlier in this lesson, certain miscellaneous itemized deductions, which includes unreimbursed employee business expenses and investment expenses, are deductible only if the total itemized deductions are more than 2% of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income (AGI). All deductible miscellaneous itemized deductions discussed in this Military segment are subject to the 2% AGI limit. In this segment we will cover additional itemized deductions of special interest to members of the military. To claim these expenses, a taxpayer must itemize using Schedule A (Form 1040), Itemized Deductions.

At the end of this segment you will be able to identify other job related expenses and miscellaneous deductions, other than travel, of particular interest to the military.

UNIFORMS

Taxpayers can deduct the cost of buying and maintaining uniforms if the uniforms are specifically required as a condition of employment and they are not adaptable to general use as regular clothing.

Generally, members of the Armed Forces are required to wear uniforms when they are on duty but may be allowed to wear them when they are off duty. Because their uniforms can be worn in place of regular civilian clothing, members of the military cannot claim a deduction for uniform cost and upkeep. However, if military regulations prohibit off-duty wear of certain uniforms, the member can deduct the cost and upkeep of these uniforms. But he or she must reduce any deductible uniform costs incurred by any nontaxable uniform allowances or reimbursements received to pay for these expenses.

Active Duty & Reservist Uniforms

Members of the Armed Forces on active duty can deduct amounts spent to buy and maintain required military battle dress uniforms and utility uniforms if local military regulations prohibit their off-duty wear. The member must reduce the expense by any nontaxable uniform allowance or reimbursement received.

Articles Not Replacing Regular Clothing

A member of the Armed Forces can deduct the cost of required items that do not replace regular clothing. Such items include insignia of rank, corps devices, epaulets, aiguillettes, and swords.

Exercise 1

Indicate if the following are deductible or nondeductible by a member of the Armed Forces.

- a. The cost of an Army dress blue uniform (without shoulder boards or gold stripe on pants), including cape. Off-duty wear is not prohibited.

Answer _____

- b. The cost of a full Army green uniform (without braid) that can be worn anytime.

Answer _____

- c. The cost of gold braid for decoration of a cap and uniform.

Answer _____

- d. The cost of battle dress uniforms and utility uniforms that can be worn only while on duty or while traveling to and from duty.

Answer _____

PROFESSIONAL DUES

Taxpayers, including members of the Armed Forces, can deduct dues paid to professional societies that are directly related to their trade or business. For example, Lt. Margaret Allen, an electrical engineer at Maxwell Air Force Base, can deduct professional dues paid to the American Society of Electrical Engineers.

However, members of the Armed Forces cannot deduct amounts paid to an officers' club or a noncommissioned officers' club.

EDUCATIONAL EXPENSES

Travel and transportation expenses for educational purposes are discussed in Lesson 9. In this segment, you will learn what educational expenses can be claimed as miscellaneous deductions on Schedule A. Certain rules must be met, however, for the expenses to qualify as a deduction.

Qualifications

A member of the Armed Forces can deduct expenses for education, even though the education may lead to a degree, if the education:

- Is required by the taxpayer's employer or by law or regulations for the taxpayer to keep salary, status, or job (if these requirements serve a business purpose of his or her employer); or
- Maintains or improves the skills required in the taxpayer's present work.

A taxpayer cannot deduct educational expenses, even though the above requirements are met, if the education:

- Is to meet the minimum educational requirements needed to qualify the taxpayer in his or her trade or business, or
- Is part of a program of study that will qualify the taxpayer for a new trade or business, even if he or she has no plans to enter that trade or business.

Some examples will help illustrate the various rules.

Example 1

Warrant Officer Newberry, an Army pilot, incurred educational expenses to obtain an accounting degree. He cannot deduct these expenses as a work related educational expense but he can take the lifetime learning credit if he takes the course to acquire new job skills.

Example 2

Lieutenant Commander Morris, who has a degree in financial management, is in charge of base finance at her post of duty. She incurred educational expenses when taking an advanced finance course. She can deduct educational expenses that were more than the educational allowance she received because she had already met the minimum qualifications of her job. By taking the course, she improved skills in her current position. The course did not qualify her for a new trade or business. Depending on her tax liability it may be more beneficial to take the nonrefundable credit (lifetime learning credit).

Deductible Expenses

Educational expenses and certain travel and transportation expenses related to education may be claimed on Form 2106, Employee Business Expenses. Expenses in excess of reimbursement are deductible only as a miscellaneous itemized deduction on Schedule A, subject to the 2% AGI limit discussed earlier.

Deductible educational expenses include amounts spent for tuition, books, supplies, laboratory fees, correspondence courses, costs of research, and typing as part of an educational program, and travel. Educational expenses of a personal nature are not deductible. For example, a taxpayer cannot deduct the cost of dinner on campus

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Remind students that qualified educational expenses can be deducted as an adjustment to income, educational credit, or as a miscellaneous itemized deduction.

The volunteer should calculate the various ways and claim these expenses where they are most beneficial.

while he or she attends evening classes. Also, deductible educational expenses do not include items of a capital nature, such as computers or desks.

Treatment of Allowances and Reimbursements

A member of the Armed Forces must reduce deductible educational expenses by any allowance or reimbursement he or she receives. Any educational services provided in kind are not deductible. For example, base-provided transportation to or from class cannot be claimed.

Exercise 2

Sgt. Stephen Butler is a mess sergeant. On his own, he takes courses at the local university in early childhood education. Does he have deductible educational expenses? Why?

Answer _____

Exercise 3

Specialist Bates is a qualified X-ray technician. Would he have deductible educational expenses if he took a course required by the Army in new radiology techniques? Assume his expenses exceed reimbursement or allowance received.

Answer _____

Exercise 4

Which of the following can be claimed as miscellaneous itemized deductions by a member of the Armed Forces?

- a. Payment to an officers' club.
- b. Expenses incurred by a flight operations officer to obtain an accounting degree.
- c. Cost of epaulets.
- d. Cost and upkeep of a reservist's uniform when local military regulations prohibit off-duty wear. (No uniform allowance received.)
- e. Expenses incurred by a Navy disbursing clerk to learn television repair.

Answer _____

►► SUMMING UP THIS SEGMENT ◀◀

In this segment, you learned about some of the more common itemized deductions of special interest to military members. The total of these miscellaneous deductions must be more than 2% of adjusted gross income to be deductible.

BUSINESS TRAVEL EXPENSES

Lesson 5

International Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will explain how to compute business travel expenses for a U.S. citizen or resident aliens living aboard.

At the end of this segment, you will be able to:

- Determine when employee business expenses are deductible.
- Determine what expenses are deductible.
- Determine how to report the expenses.
- Complete Form 2106 “Employee Business Expenses”.
- Determine how to compute the expenses when the taxpayer is eligible and elects to take the foreign earned income exclusion.

TRAVEL EXPENSES

Travel expenses incurred must be ordinary and necessary when carrying out the duties of your employer while away from your home, for your job. Ordinary expenses are those that are customary for the type of travel being done. Necessary expenses are those that are appropriate and helpful to achieving the purpose of the travel. Treatment of the various expenses, allowances, and reimbursements depends on whether allowances and reimbursements were received and whether the expenses were more than allowances and reimbursements, or whether the allowances and reimbursements were more than the expenses. It also depends on whether or not your employer included these allowances and reimbursements as income on Form W-2. These situations will be discussed in this lesson.

Away from Home Overnight. For costs other than transportation the taxpayer must be “away from his tax home overnight”. “Tax Home” is defined as the taxpayer’s main place of business. “Overnight” is defined as a period substantially longer than an ordinary day’s work during which the taxpayer would need time off for sleep or rest.

Example 1

You live with your family in Manchester, England, but work in London where you have lodging and meal expenses during the week. You travel back and forth from London to Manchester on weekends. You may not deduct any of your expenses for travel, meals, and lodging in London because that is your main place of business and the travel on weekends is not for business reasons.

DEDUCTIBLE EXPENSES

Travel expenses that are ordinary and necessary while traveling away from your home for business purposes include such things as:

1. Air, rail and bus transportation,
2. Operating and maintaining your car,
3. Taxi fares or other costs of transportation between the airport or station and your hotel, from one customer to another, or from one place of business to another.
4. Transportation from the place where you eat and sleep to your temporary work assignment,
5. Baggage and charges and transportation costs for sample and display material,
6. Meals and lodging when you are away from home on business.
7. Cleaning and laundry expenses,
8. Telephone and telegraph expenses,
9. Public stenographer's fees,
10. Operating and maintaining house trailers,
11. Tips that are incidental to any of these expenses, and
12. Other ordinary and necessary expenses related to travel.

Car Expenses. If you use your car for business purposes you are entitled to the actual expenses which would include such things as gas, oil, repairs, insurance and depreciation on your car or, you can use the standard mileage rate. The standard mileage rate is 37.5 cents per mile for 2004. If you use the car for both business and personal mileage you should maintain a log book. You will have to allocate the expenses between business and personal use. If you lease a car to use for qualified business expenses you may have to include an amount called the inclusion amount in your income, depending on the FMV of the vehicle. Refer the taxpayer to a professional preparer.

Meal Expense. Expenses for meals claimed on a taxpayer's return are only 50% deductible. When an employee is reimbursed for substantiated meal expenses, the reimbursement will generally be nontaxable and the expenses will not be claimed. For employees subject to Department of Transportation (DOT) hours of service limits, deductible meal expenses incurred while away from home on business increased in 2004 from 50% to 70%.

HOW TO REPORT

The following discusses how the taxpayer should report his/her allowable expenses for travel, meals & lodging. Self-employed individuals must report their expenses on the appropriate form used to report their business income and expenses by using Schedule C or Schedule C-EZ, Form 1040. Employees, including outside sales persons, must complete Form 2106, Employee Business Expenses, and attach it to their Form 1040 to claim these expenses.

Expenses paid by an employee under a “reimbursement or other expense allowance arrangement” with an employer generally do not need to be claimed and the employer will not include the reimbursement as taxable income on the employee’s Form W-2. To qualify as nontaxable reimbursements, the arrangement must require that the employee substantiate the expenses to the employer and return any excess reimbursements. Per Diem or other fixed allowance reimbursements that are similar to allowances specified by the Federal government will also be nontaxable to the extent that the amounts do not exceed government rates.

Form 2106 needs to be completed if:

1. The taxpayer received a reimbursement or an allowance and the employer included the amount on Form W-2, or a Form 1099 MISC as taxable income,
2. The taxpayer seeks to deduct expenses in excess of the amounts paid under a reimbursement allowance arrangement,
3. The taxpayer received no reimbursement for his or her employee business expenses, or,
4. The taxpayer received reimbursement or an allowance and did not account to his or her employer for the expenses.

If the expenses equal the reimbursements and the taxpayer accounted to his or her employer, the taxpayer does not have to complete Form 2106 unless item (1) above applies.

Example 2

George Belmont has incurred qualified employee business expenses. His company’s policy is that all employees must turn in a travel voucher showing all expenses incurred and the company reimburses the employee an amount equal to the expenses. George does not have to file a Form 2106 because he reports directly to his employer and is reimbursed in full.

Example 3

Judy Coe incurred employee business expenses of $1,500. Her Form W-2 shows that her employer reimbursed Judy $2,000. Judy will have to file Form 2106 and claim $1,500 as an employee business expense on Form 2106 subject to the 50% meals limitation and 2% limitation on Schedule A. The entire $2,000 reimbursement must be reported as income on line 7, Form 1040.

Claiming Employee Business Expenses on Form 1040.

The taxpayer can only claim employee business expenses on Form 1040 as a miscellaneous itemized deduction subject to the overall 2% limitation. Exceptions are provided for certain government officials, qualified performing artists, and individuals with a disability.

Example 4

Frank Fisk has a total of $2,000 of unreimbursed employee business expenses after reducing meals by 50% and no other miscellaneous itemized deductions. His total adjusted gross income is $52,000. Frank is entitled to a total of $960 ($2,000 - [52,000 \times .02] = \960) as a miscellaneous itemized deduction.

COMPLETING FORM 2106

Form 2106 is divided into 2 parts. See Exhibit 1, Form 2106, pages 1 and 2. Part I deals with all the expenses and Part II deals specifically with car expenses. Part II should be completed, if applicable, before entering an amount in Line 1, Part I.

Part II, section B of Form 2106 will be used if the taxpayer owns the vehicle and chooses, or has previously chosen, to use the standard mileage rate for the same vehicle.

As mentioned previously the taxpayer is entitled to 37.5 cents per mile for business mileage. The business standard mileage rate may not be used to compute the deductible expenses of vehicles used for hire, such as taxicabs, two or more automobiles used simultaneously (such as fleet operations), or any vehicle that is leased, rather than owned, by the taxpayer. The business standard mileage rate may not be used if the automobile has previously been depreciated using a method other than straight-line for its estimated useful life. The standard rate may not be used if additional first-year depreciation has been claimed, or if the taxpayer used ACRS or MACRS depreciation.

The front side of Form 2106 is divided into 3 steps. Let's look at each step and how it will apply to the taxpayer.

Step 1 of Form 2106 is used to summarize the employee business expenses of the taxpayer. Column A is used for all expenses except meals and entertainment. Column B is used only for meals and entertainment expenses. Step 1 must always be filled out. (Note: If the employer did not reimburse the employee for any of the expenses, skip Step 2 and go directly to Step 3 to figure the amount deductible.)

Step 2 is filled out only if the taxpayer is reimbursed by the employer and the reimbursement is not shown as income to the taxpayer on a Form W-2 or Form 1099 MISC, and the employee seeks a deduction for additional expenses not paid by the employer. On line 7, only include amounts from Box 13 of Form W-2 identified as code "L".

Many overseas employees will receive Forms W-2 reflecting only a portion of their total compensation while others will receive no Form W-2 at all.

Reimbursements received under a reimbursement arrangement described above need not be shown as income on Form 1040 and will be reflected on Form 2106, line 7 only if additional expenses are claimed. Reimbursements for the unsubstantiated travel expenses must be included as income on Form 1040 and will not be included in Step 2 of Form 2106.

Step 3 is used when the employer did not reimburse the employee in full. This section will show how much the taxpayer is allowed as a miscellaneous itemized deduction on the taxpayer's Schedule A, Form 1040. This amount will be reduced by 2% of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income unless the taxpayer is a qualified performing artist.

Example 5

John Taft (xxx-xx-xxxx) lives and works in England. He is a U.S. citizen and an employee of an American company. He normally works as a sales manager out of their London office. However, John was temporarily assigned to the Paris office for the last 7 months of 2004. He had his car sent there so he could carry out his duties. He purchased the car on 6-1-2003, and did incur employee business expenses for that year. He elected in 2003 to use the standard mileage rate on his 2003 tax return. While in France he did some sight-seeing and had recorded personal mileage. John incurred the following expenses during 2004:

Lodging—$10,640

Meals—$7,350

Transportation to & from Paris office from London office—$300

Total mileage on car for 2003—23,720

Average daily roundtrip commute—10 miles

Commuting mileage for 2003—1,530

Business mileage—16,290

Parking fees & tolls—$586

John is reimbursed $8,300 for lodging and $4,000 for meals. The $4,000 for the meals is shown as income on John's W-2 Form. The $8,300 is not shown as taxable income on John's Form W-2 because the lodging expenses were properly accounted for. See Exhibit 1 for how the Form 2106 would be filled out.

He will be entitled to an itemized miscellaneous deduction of $13,010. If John's adjusted gross income was $60,000, John would have to reduce the $13,010 by $1,200 ($$60,000 \times .02$) giving him a total of $11,810 as a net miscellaneous deduction if John had no other miscellaneous deductions.

FOREIGN EARNED INCOME EXCLUSION

If the taxpayer is eligible and elects the foreign earned income exclusion he or she must adjust the amount of the business deductions related to the income excluded. The disallowed portion of the expenses is calculated by dividing the excluded foreign earned income by total foreign earned income.

Example 6

Harold Wells is a U.S. citizen, employed as a salesperson in a foreign country and is eligible and elects to exclude $78,000 of his $98,500 a year salary. His AGI is $30,000. He had a total of $2,000 of unreimbursed employee business expenses of which $500 was for meals; these expenses are deductible only as miscellaneous itemized deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040). First, it is necessary to complete Form 2106. On that form Harold reduces the meal expenses by 50% of the $500 amount spent, yielding a total of $1,750 ($250 & $1,500).

Harold must reduce the $1,750 by 79% ($78,000/98,500$) because he excluded 79% of his earned income. Thus $1,383 of his expenses are not deductible. Harold carries the $367 ($$1,750 - $1,383$) deductible amount to Schedule A.

Harold also has \$500 of other miscellaneous deductions subject to the 2% of AGI limit. He adds the \$367 from Form 2106 plus the \$500 for a total of \$867 miscellaneous expenses. 2% of Harold's AGI is \$600 ($.02 \times 30,000$). Harold's deductible miscellaneous itemized deductions are \$267 ($\$867 - \600).

If Harold did not have the other miscellaneous expenses of $500 he would not have been able to claim any miscellaneous deductions. His remaining expenses ($367) would have been less than 2% of his AGI ($600).

Answer _____

3. When are employee business expense reimbursements not included in gross income?

Answer _____

4. When are the employee business expenses itemized miscellaneous deductions?

Answer _____

5. How are reimbursements that are more than expenses incurred treated?

Answer _____

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS SEGMENT ◀◀

Reimbursements from an accountable plan for substantiated employee business expenses are not included as income on the employee's return if the employee is required to return, and does return, any excess reimbursements.

- ▶ If the reimbursements are included as income, deductible expenses are allowed as miscellaneous itemized deductions subject to the 2% limitation.
- ▶ Travel expenses for meals, lodging and incidentals must be incurred while "away from home overnight" to be deductible.
- ▶ Form 2106 is used to calculate the amount of itemized deductions that are in excess of reimbursements.
- ▶ If reimbursements exceed expenses, the excess is income to the employee and must be reported on Form 1040. (If reimbursements exceed the expenses it is probably a nonaccountable plan, and therefore the entire reimbursement is taxable).
- ▶ If it is the company's policy for the employees to account for business expenses to the employer by supplying the employer with documented evidence and the employer reimburses the employee for the amount in full, Form 2106 is not required.

If the taxpayer is eligible for and elects the foreign earned income exclusion, certain adjustments must be made to the gross amount deductible as employee business expenses.

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn about four “miscellaneous credits.” The credit for the elderly or the disabled, the mortgage interest credit, the foreign tax credit and the credit for qualified retirement savings are covered in this lesson.

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Calculate the credit for the elderly or the disabled using Schedule R or Schedule 3.
- Calculate the credit for qualified retirement savings contributions by using Form 8880.
- Accurately report the foreign tax credit if Form 1116 is not required.
- Be aware of the mortgage interest credit.

Important tax terms presented in this lesson appear in boldfaced type in the student text. Emphasize these terms as they are introduced:

- credit rate
- maximum allowable contribution
- eligible contributions
- testing period

MATERIALS

This lesson refers to a number IRS publications and forms. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the publications and forms, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Publication 524, Credit for the Elderly or Disabled
- Schedule R (Form 1040), Credit for the Elderly or Disabled
- Schedule 3 (Form 1040A), Credit for the Elderly or Disabled

TEACHING TIPS

Some elderly or disabled taxpayers may feel entitled to the tax credit even if they are ineligible. Advise students that it is important to be as tactful as possible when assisting these taxpayers. If the taxpayer becomes emotional, the volunteer should listen to what the taxpayer has to say. Then, the volunteer should calmly explain why the taxpayer is ineligible, using actual information from the taxpayer’s forms.

Students may ask whether a taxpayer is considered to be permanently and totally disabled if, because of a physical or mental condition, the taxpayer cannot engage in the trade or profession in which he or she is trained or experienced. Point out that, for the purposes of this tax credit, the taxpayer must not be able to perform any substantial gainful activity and a physician must have determined that the taxpayer's disabling physical or mental condition has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year or can lead to death.

A substantial gainful activity consists of the performance of significant duties over a reasonable period of time for pay or for profit, or performance of such duties which generally are done for pay or for profit. Full-time or part-time work done at the employer's convenience, in a competitive work situation for at least the minimum wage, shows that a taxpayer is able to engage in a substantial gainful activity.

The fact that a taxpayer has not worked for an extended period of time is not conclusive evidence that the taxpayer cannot engage in substantial gainful activity.

Emphasize to students that, as volunteers, they should not treat disabled taxpayers differently from other taxpayers. Even though it may be tempting to help disabled taxpayers with more than their taxes, explain to students that most disabled people are self-sufficient and resent being patronized. It is usually best to wait for the disabled person to ask for assistance.

Some taxpayers may be eligible to take a nonrefundable tax credit for first-time homebuyers if they buy a main home in the District of Columbia. The credit is based on the purchase price and cannot exceed $5,000. To claim this credit, a taxpayer must file a Form 1040 and complete Form 8859, District of Columbia First-Time Homebuyer Credit. For additional information on this credit, see the instructions for Form 8859.

GUIDED QUESTIONS

1. What two criteria determine whether a taxpayer is permanently and totally disabled?

A taxpayer is permanently and totally disabled if he or she cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition, and a physician certifies that the disability has lasted, or is expected to last, continuously for one year or more, or is expected to result in death.

2. How is disability income reported?

Before the taxpayer reaches mandatory retirement age, disability income is reported as normal wages on Form W-2. After the taxpayer has reached retirement age, disability income is reported on Form 1099-R.

3. What type of foreign tax qualifies for the foreign tax credit?

The tax must be a tax imposed on income similar to the income tax imposed by the U.S.

4. How can a person get the benefit of paying foreign taxes on their return?

The person can either take a deduction on their Schedule A as an itemized deduction or complete the Form 1116 for the Foreign Tax Credit.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn about four “miscellaneous credits”. The credit for the elderly or the disabled, the mortgage interest credit, the foreign tax credit and the credit for qualified retirement savings are covered in this lesson.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Determine who is a qualified individual for the credit for the elderly or disabled and apply the income limits.
- Calculate the credit for the elderly or the disabled.
- Calculate the credit for qualified retirement savings contributions by using Form 8880.
- Accurately report the foreign tax credit if Form 1116 is not required.
- Be aware of the mortgage interest credit.

CREDITS

A credit is a dollar-for-dollar reduction of the taxpayer’s tax liability. A refundable credit can be greater than the tax. Taxpayers not only can have their tax reduced to zero; they can also receive a “refund” of excess credit. A nonrefundable credit can also be greater than the tax, but the nonrefundable credit can only reduce the tax to zero. Therefore, taxpayers will not receive a refund for any excess nonrefundable credit. All of the credits discussed in this lesson are non-refundable.

CREDIT FOR THE ELDERLY OR THE DISABLED

Elderly individuals and individuals who are permanently and totally disabled may be able to claim a special credit on their tax returns if they are a U.S. citizen or resident.

To be eligible for the credit, an individual must be:

- At least 65 years old by the end of the year, or
- Under age 65, retired on permanent and total disability by the end of the year and did not reach mandatory retirement age before this year. They must also have received taxable disability income for this year.

Although physician statements are no longer required to be attached to the return, they must be completed and kept with the taxpayer's records.

Certain work offered at qualified locations to persons with disabilities or with mental retardation is considered sheltered employment. Because a person has accepted sheltered employment is not proof of the person's ability to engage in substantial gainful activity.

Exhibit 1 helps to determine if the taxpayer is a qualified individual for this credit.

Income Limits

Taxpayers cannot exceed the income limits for their filing status (see Exhibit 2).

CALCULATE THE CREDIT

If the taxpayer is a qualified individual and meets the income limits, complete a Schedule 3 for 1040A filers or a Schedule R for 1040 filers. Schedule R (Form 1040) and Schedule 3 (Form 1040A) are nearly identical.

Example 1

John (000-00-9850) and Sarah Hillsdale are married and file a joint return. Their respective ages are 66 and 68. They received nontaxable social security benefits of $4,500 in 2004. They had adjusted gross income (line 36, Form 1040) of $13,000. Parts I and III of the Schedule R will be completed and the schedule attached to their Form 1040 for 2004. (Part II need not be completed since both are age 65 or older.) See Exhibits 3 and 4.

¹ If you were a nonresident alien at any time during the tax year and were married to a U.S. citizen or resident at the end of the tax year, see U.S. citizen or resident under Qualified individual. If you and your spouse both choose to be treated as U.S. residents, answer yes to this question.

² Mandatory retirement age is the age set by your employer at which you would have been required to retire, had you not become disabled.

Even if you qualify, you CANNOT take the credit if:
Your filing status is	AND your adjusted gross income (AGI)* is equal to or more than	OR your nontaxable social security or other nontaxable pension(s) is equal to or more than
Single, Head of household, or Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child	$17,500	$5,000
Married filing a joint return and both spouses qualify in Figure A	$25,000	$7,500
Married filing a joint return and only one spouse qualifies in Figure A	$20,000	$5,000
Married filing a separate return and you did not live with your spouse at any time during the year	$12,500	$3,750

TAXWISE HINTS

The credit for the elderly will be calculated automatically. The software will check age, income, and filing status to determine eligibility. However, it is extremely important to input Social Security Benefit income even if you know it is not taxable. Without this information the software may incorrectly calculate the credit.

CREDIT FOR QUALIFIED RETIREMENT SAVINGS CONTRIBUTIONS

If the taxpayer contributed to a retirement plan or an IRA, he or she may be eligible for the credit for qualified retirement savings contributions credit. The amount of the saver's credit is determined by the taxpayer's filing status, adjusted gross income, and his or her qualified contributions.

The credit is reported on line 52 of Form 1040, or line 33 of Form 1040A.

To be eligible for the saver's credit, the taxpayer:

- Must be age 18 or older by the end of the tax year,
- Cannot be claimed on another person's tax return, and
- Cannot be a full-time student.

A full-time student is anyone who attends school full-time for some part of each of five calendar months of the year. The five months need not be consecutive. An individual is a full-time student if he or she is enrolled for the number of hours or courses the school considers as full-time attendance.

FIGURING THE CREDIT

The credit for qualified retirement savings contributions is figured by multiplying the credit rate by the lesser of the:

- Maximum allowable contribution ($2,000) or
- Eligible contributions.

The credit rate is determined by using the following table.

IF your filing status is...	AND your adjusted gross income is...	THEN your credit rate is...
Married filing jointly	Less than $30,001	50%
	Between $30,001 and $32,500	20%
	Between $32,501 and $50,000	10%
	Over $50,000	0
Head of Household	Less than $22,501	50%
	Between $22,501 and $24,375	20%
	Between $24,376 and $37,500	10%
	Over $37,500	0
Single, Married filing separately, or qualifying widow(er)	Less than $15,001	50%
	Between $15,001 and $16,250	20%
	Between $16,251 and $25,000	10%
	Over $25,000	0

Adjusted gross income is determined without regard to:

- The foreign income exclusion
- The foreign housing exclusion or deduction
- Income from sources within Guam, American Samoa, and the Northern Mariana Islands
- Income from Puerto Rico

Eligible contributions are determined by reducing the taxpayer's qualified retirement savings contributions by the following distributions that were received during the testing period.

- Any distribution that is included in the taxpayer's gross income from a qualified retirement plan or from an eligible deferred compensation plan.
- Any distribution from a Roth IRA that is not a qualified rollover contribution.

If the distributions received by the taxpayer are for loans or for excess IRA contributions returned before the due date of the return, they are not used to reduce the taxpayer's qualified retirement savings contributions.

Qualified retirement savings contributions are contributions made to a traditional or Roth IRA and salary reduction contributions to a 401(k) plan (including a SIMPLE 401(k)), a tax-sheltered annuity (403(b)) plan, an eligible deferred compensation plan of a state or local government (457(b)) plan), a SIMPLE IRA plan, or a salary reduction SEP.

Qualified retirement savings contributions also include voluntary after-tax employee contributions to a tax-qualified retirement plan or a tax-sheltered annuity (403(b)) plan. For purposes of the credit, an employee contribution will be voluntary as long as it is not required as a condition of employment.

The testing period includes:

- The tax year,
- The two preceding tax years, and
- The period between the end of the tax year and the due date of the return (including extensions).

Example 1

Terry contributes $3,000 to a 401(k) plan during 2004. In 2003, Terry withdrew $500 from his IRA. In 2004, he withdrew $900 from his IRA. Neither of these withdrawals were rolled over. In 2004, Terry's adjusted gross income was $23,000 and his filing status was head of household. Based on these facts, Terry would figure his saver's credit as follows:

(Qualified retirement contributions – withdrawals) x credit rate
(per table)

$$($3,000 - $1,400) \times .20$$

$$$1,600 \times .20 = $320 \text{ saver's credit}$$

The credit is figured on Form 8880, Credit for Qualified Retirement Savings Contributions.

Married filing jointly. If the taxpayer is married filing a joint return, he or she and his or her spouse may both use the credit. Both the taxpayer and spouse are eligible for a credit of the maximum annual contribution amount of $2,000.

If the taxpayers file a joint return, the qualified contribution is reduced by the taxable distributions received by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse if the taxpayers filed jointly for both:

- the year a distribution was made, and
- the year the credit is claimed.

Exercise 1

Jason is 22 and earned $30,000 in 2004. He is single and contributed $3,000 to his 401(k) plan at work. Is Jason eligible for the credit for qualified retirement savings contributions?

Exercise 2

Martha Barnard (000-00-0088) is 32 and files as Head of Household. Her only income is wages of $26,819. This year, she was able to contribute $1,000 to her employer's 401(k) plan. She did not put any money in an IRA. Use Exhibit 1 to complete Martha's Form 8880 through line 10.

MORTGAGE INTEREST CREDIT

Taxpayers who hold qualified mortgage credit certificates under a qualified state or local government program may claim a credit for mortgage interest paid. The certificate must be for the taxpayer's main home. If the interest is paid to certain related parties (such as relatives), the credit cannot be claimed.

The credit is figured on Form 8396, Mortgage Interest Credit. Include the amount of the credit on Form 1040, Line 49. Also, check box a on Line 49 for Form 8396.

Any mortgage interest credit that the taxpayer cannot use in 2004 can be carried forward for up to three tax years. Figure the carry-forward credit in Part II of Form 8396.

Reduce the mortgage interest deduction claimed on Schedule A, Form 1040, by the amount shown on Line 3 of Form 8396.

Caution: If the taxpayer was issued (and used) a qualified mortgage credit certificate after 1990 for a home, the taxpayer may have to recapture (repay) all or part of the benefit if the taxpayer sells that home within 9 years. The recapture is figured on Form 8828, Recapture of Federal Mortgage Subsidy.

FOREIGN TAX CREDIT

If the taxpayer paid income, war profits, or excess profits taxes to any:

- Foreign country,
- U.S. possession, or
- Any political subdivision, or agency or instrumentality of the country or possession, he or she may be able to take a Foreign Tax Credit (FTC) for taxes paid.

To determine if the tax paid is eligible for the foreign tax credit, the taxpayer may need to consult a paid professional preparer.

Generally, to claim the FTC, a taxpayer is required to file Form 1116, Foreign Tax Credit (Individual, Estate, Trust, or Nonresident Alien Individual); however, the taxpayer does not have to file Form 1116 to take the credit if he or she meets all of the following requirements.

- All of the taxpayer's gross foreign source income is from interest and dividends that are reported on Form 1099-INT, or Form 1099-DIV (or substitute statement)
- If the taxpayer has dividend income from shares of stock, he or she held those shares for at least 16 days.
- The taxpayer is not filing Form 4563, Exclusion of Income for Bona Fide Residents of American Samoa, or excluding income from sources within Puerto Rico.
- The total of the taxpayer's foreign taxes is less than or equal to $300 ($600 if married filing jointly).

- All of the taxpayer's foreign taxes were:
 - Legally owed and not eligible for a refund, and
 - Paid to countries that are recognized by the United States and do not support terrorism.

For additional information, see the Instructions for Form 1116.

If the taxpayer meets all of the requirements listed above, enter the foreign tax credit on line 50 of Form 1040. Form 1116 is not required.

Example 2

Tabitha received a 1099-DIV that shows $219 of foreign taxes (box 6) in 2004. According to Tabitha she paid no other foreign taxes. She can claim the $219 on line 50 of Form 1040.

Exercise 3

Clyde comes to your site seeking help with his foreign tax credit. He is single and his 1099-DIVs show a total of $423 of foreign tax. Does Clyde need Form 1116 to claim his credit?

HEALTH COVERAGE TAX CREDIT

The Health Coverage Tax Credit (HCTC) is a federal tax credit established by the Trade Act of 2002 to assist

1. Workers who lose their jobs due to the effects of international trade and/or
2. People who receive benefits from the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) and are at least 55 years old.

The HCTC is beyond the scope of the Volunteer Return Preparation Program. Taxpayers who are potentially eligible should be referred to a paid preparer or to www.irs.gov for more information.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

- ▶ Due to the income limitations, very few taxpayers are eligible to receive the credit for the elderly or disabled.
- ▶ The credit for the elderly or the disabled is based on filing status, age, and income.
- ▶ The credit is calculated and reported on Form 1040, Schedule R, or Form 1040A, Schedule 3.

Exercise 1

No; Jason is not eligible for the credit because his income exceeds the threshold limit.

Exercise 2

See the completed Form 8880 on the next page.

Exercise 3

Yes, Clyde needs to complete a Form 1116 since his foreign taxes exceed $300. Clyde will need to seek the assistance of a paid professional preparer.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will discuss how to compute the foreign tax credit in situations where a U.S. citizen could pay taxes twice on the same income—once to the government of the foreign country where the income was sourced and once to the U.S. Government. This segment will address the foreign tax credit only as it applies to U.S. citizens and residents.

In the IN segment of the income lesson, the topic of worldwide income was discussed. U.S. citizens and residents compute their U.S. taxes based on their worldwide income. This sometimes leads to a situation when a U.S. citizen may be paying tax twice on the same income. In order to avoid double taxation, a foreign tax credit was created. This allows an individual to take a tax credit for those taxes paid to a foreign government on income from sources in a foreign country.

Like other tax credits, the foreign tax credit is a dollar-for-dollar reduction in the amount of tax. However, in some cases, not all taxes paid to a foreign government can be used in the computation of the foreign tax credit.

After completing this lesson, you should be able to supplement the information you learned in the basic text and:

- Determine which taxes are eligible for the foreign tax credit.
- Apply the criteria for claiming the foreign tax credit
- Accurately compute the foreign tax credit using Form 1116 or tax preparation software
- Assist taxpayer in compiling the documents necessary for a paid professional to complete the return.

WHAT TAXES QUALIFY FOR THE CREDIT

There are several factors to consider when determining if a tax paid to a foreign government is eligible for the foreign tax credit. They include:

1. Was the income foreign source?
2. What type of tax was paid to the foreign government?
3. Will the taxpayer receive some kind of specific economic benefit from the payment of this tax?

In this part of the lesson, we'll study the criteria for claiming the foreign tax credit.

The taxpayer must have income from a foreign country on which he/she is taxed by a foreign country. The tax imposed on the income must be similar to the income tax imposed in the U.S. This simply means that the income must be from a country other than the U.S. and that the tax paid must be similar to U.S. income tax. Let's look at some examples.

Example 1

Robb and Betty Grant are U.S. citizens who reside in France. The schedule B on their U.S. tax return contains the following:

$500, Lee County National Bank (U.S.)

$600, Banque National de Paris (French)

They paid income taxes on both types of interest to both countries. On their U.S. tax return, they can compute a foreign tax credit against the taxes that they pay to the U.S. on the interest received from the French bank. They would need to check with the French taxing authorities to determine if they can claim a similar tax credit on their French tax return for the interest income from the U.S. bank.

Example 2

Marie Elliott is a U.S. citizen who lives in Hong Kong. She owns a house in Hong Kong and paid $2,000 in real estate taxes for her home and $1,000 in personal property taxes. She also paid $300 in income taxes to the government of Hong Kong. She is not able to claim a foreign tax credit for either the real estate taxes paid or the personal property taxes paid since these two taxes are not income taxes. She can, however, use the $300 in income taxes paid to Hong Kong to compute a foreign tax credit. (Note—she can take the real estate taxes that she paid and deduct them as itemized deductions if she itemizes on her U.S. tax return. Foreign personal property taxes are only deductible if they relate to the production of income or a trade/business.)

Exercise 1

The following is a list of the income on Anne's U.S. income tax return. She is a U.S. citizen living in Canada. She also had to pay taxes on each of these types of income to Canada. Indicate on which of the following a foreign tax credit may be computed.

- _____ a. Wages from her job in the U.S.
- _____ b. Interest income from a U.S. bank.
- _____ c. Interest income from a Canadian bank.
- _____ d. Dividend income from a U.S. corporation.
- _____ e. Dividend income from a Canadian corporation.

Exercise 2

Determine if the following taxes paid to a foreign government can be used to compute the foreign tax credit. All taxpayers are U.S. citizens.

- a. Martha pays $1,200 a year in taxes. This tax is based on the number and types of appliances which she owns and uses in her home.
- b. Jean pays an inheritance tax to the Spanish government. It is based on an inheritance she received upon the death of an uncle.
- c. Dorothy lives in Jamaica. She paid $1,500 to the Jamaican government for her salaried income which she earned in Jamaica.
- d. Henry lives in Haiti. He paid $100 in taxes to the Haitian government. This tax was based on his type of living accommodations, the location of his residence and the size of this family.

In addition to the requirements that the tax be paid to the foreign country on income derived from a foreign country and the tax be an income tax similar to the income tax as defined under U.S. law, the tax must also not be payment for a specific economic benefit. Simply put, the “tax” cannot actually be a “payment” that results in an individual receiving goods, services or the right to use certain properties which are not available to others who are subject to the income tax that is generally imposed by the foreign country. A taxpayer cannot receive any specific benefit, directly or indirectly from paying a tax.

Example 3

Bob lives in Country X. He owns and operates his own business in this country. This country has a two tier income tax system. Everyone pays income tax at graduated rates depending upon their income. Bob also pays income tax based upon the profits of his business. This second level of income tax gives Bob the right to reduced fees for telephones, utilities and rents for his business. The government of Country X calls it an income tax because it is based upon the profits of the business. If Bob did not pay this tax, he could not rent a government-owned building and he would pay significantly more for the utilities and his business telephone usage. Since Bob receives a specific economic benefit for the second tier of income tax that he pays, he cannot use those tax payments to compute a foreign tax credit on his U.S. tax return. However, the first tier of income taxes are similar to U.S. income taxes and can be used to figure his foreign tax credit.

Country Restrictions. Aside from the restrictions that we have already discussed, there are also certain countries to which a taxpayer may pay foreign income taxes but cannot claim a foreign tax credit. Generally the reason a credit may not be claimed for tax paid to one of these countries is because the Secretary of State has designated the country as one that repeatedly provides support for acts of international terrorism.

The credit can also be denied to countries with which the United States has no diplomatic relations, or countries whose government the United States does not recognize. At the time of this writing, income taxes paid to the following countries are not eligible for the foreign tax credit.

CUBA

IRAN

IRAQ

LIBYA

NORTH KOREA

SYRIA

SUDAN

Example 4

Ralph is a U.S. citizen who has investments in both Belgium and Iran. On these investments Ralph pays income tax to these two countries by withholding tax from his dividend checks. Ralph can claim the taxes paid to Belgium when computing the foreign tax credit. The income taxes paid to Iran do not qualify for a foreign tax credit.

TYPES OF INCOME

A separate Form 1116 must be completed for each different type of income. We will only be studying three income categories: passive income, high withholding tax, interest and general limitation income. Remember that you can only check one income category per form and separate Forms 1116 must be submitted for each category. Your tax preparation software will do this for you.

Passive Income. Passive income generally includes the following types of income: dividends, interest, royalties, rents and annuities. If you are assisting a person who has one of these types of passive income from a foreign country, and he or she paid income taxes to a foreign country, you can use your software to compute a foreign tax credit.

Example 5

Darlene is a U.S. citizen living in Venezuela. She keeps a bank account in the Banco Nacional de Venezuela. In 2004, she received $380 in interest income from the Venezuelan bank. She also paid Venezuelan income taxes on this interest income. On her U.S. return, she would claim a foreign tax credit for the taxes paid to Venezuela on her interest income. She would check the box for the “Passive income” category on Form 1116.

High Withholding Tax Interest. Certain interest income is not included in the passive income category. If the taxpayer you are helping had interest income on which at least 5% foreign gross income tax was withheld, then this income is classified as high withholding tax interest and not passive income.

Example 6

Michael is a U.S. citizen who lives in the United Kingdom. He maintains a bank account in a London bank. According to local law, the bank withholds a mandatory 27.5% of interest income as income tax. Since the withholding rate is at least 5%, the high withholding tax interest category would be checked on his Form 1116.

Example 7

Regina lives in Singapore and is a U.S. citizen. She has both dividend income and interest income from countries outside the United States. Her foreign bank withholds 15% of her interest income for income taxes. She also pays foreign income taxes on her dividend income. Regina must complete two Forms 1116. Her foreign dividend income is “passive income” and indicated as such on one Form 1116. Her foreign interest income is in the “high withholding tax interest” category and is on another Form 1116. The credits on these separate Forms 1116 will eventually be combined. This will be studied later in this lesson.

General Limitation Income. The final income category on Form 1116 is the “general limitation income” category. If the person you are helping has foreign income that does not come under any of the other categories on Form 1116, then that foreign income comes under the general limitation income category. Most often, this would be wages earned in a foreign country that an individual does not exclude, or excludes only part of, under the foreign earned income exclusion.

Example 8

Siegfried lives in Switzerland and is a U.S. citizen. He works in Switzerland and pays income taxes to Switzerland on his earnings. He does not elect to claim a foreign earned income exclusion. He can claim a foreign tax credit for the taxes paid on his earnings to the Swiss government. He checks the box for the general limitation income category on his Form 1116.

High Taxed Income. If the individual you are assisting has passive income which is taxed by a foreign government at a rate that is higher than the highest U.S. income tax rate, then the foreign tax credit for that income would be computed under the general limitation category. (Passive income was discussed earlier in this lesson.) In 2004, the highest U.S. income tax rate is 38.6%. Therefore, if the person pays more than 38.6% on the foreign source passive income for which he or she claimed the credit, then the credit is computed under the “general limitation” category.

Example 9

Maria lives in Brazil and is a U.S. citizen. She has a bank account in Brazil and pays 45% income tax on her interest income. Even though interest income is normally passive income for purposes of the foreign tax credit, this income would be listed under the “general limitation” category on Form 1116 since the rate of income tax she pays on this passive income is higher than the highest U.S. income tax rate.

Example 10

Bernard is a resident of Barbados and a U.S. citizen. He keeps a bank account in Barbados. In 2004 he paid 17% income tax on his interest income from his bank account in Barbados. Since 17% (the tax rate he paid) is not more than 38.6% (the highest U.S. income tax rate) and since the 17% that Bernard paid was not paid by withholding, this income fails into the “passive income” category of Form 1116.

OTHER FOREIGN TAX CREDIT CONCEPTS

We have already discussed the income categories that are listed on separate sections of the Form 1116. In addition, the top of Form 1116 has a line to indicate the name of the country of residence of the taxpayer. This will need to be entered for tax software to correctly figure the tax credit.

Part I is used to figure the taxable income from foreign sources in each income category. If the person you are helping has one type of foreign income that comes from several foreign countries, you use one Form 1116. You will note that there is room on Form 1116 for up to 3 countries.

Example 11

George is both a U.S. citizen and resident. He has interest income from both Canada and Mexico, as well as the U.S. His software will print only one Form 1116 since all the interest income is in the passive income category.

On Line 1, list all foreign income that fits under the category checked at the top of Form 1116. You will list that income separately for each foreign country.

Example 12

George had $300 in interest income from his Canadian bank and $200 in interest income from his Mexican bank. See the completed Form 1116, Line 1 for his income in Exhibit 2 which follows.

Exhibit 2

Form 1116, Line 1

Note: If the taxpayer you are assisting has claimed the foreign earned income exclusion, enter on Line 1 of Form 1116 for general limitation income only the amount of earned income not excluded.

Example 13

Monique lives in France and is a U.S. citizen. She earned $84,000 in 2004 in France. Monique claimed the foreign earned income exclusion of $80,000 (discussed in an earlier lesson). As illustrated in Exhibit 3 below, she would only enter $4,000 on Line 1 of her Form 1116 ($84,000 earned Income – $80,000 exclusion).

Exhibit 3

1	Gross income from sources within country shown above and of the type checked above (see page 7 of the instructions):
		4,000			1 4,000

Lines 2–5 are probably the hardest and most confusing lines to complete on the Form 1116. Let’s review the situations that we will not be studying.

- Expenses directly allocable to the income. If the person you are assisting has expenses that are related directly to the income claimed on Line 1 such as employee business expenses, and the income claimed on Line 1 was earned income, then you may recommend that this person seek professional assistance or contact the IRS.
- Investment Interest Expense. If a person borrowed money in order to purchase investment property such as stock, then some special allocations may need to be done. They may wish to contact the IRS or seek a professional preparer.
- Foreign Losses. If the person you are helping had any type of foreign losses such as net losses from selling capital assets or a net loss from being a limited partner, they may wish to hire a professional preparer or contact the IRS if they wish to prepare their own return.

Now that we have discussed what areas are beyond the scope of VITA, let’s continue with the completion of Part I.

Line 3. Your software will complete Line 3a if you completed a Schedule A for the person you are assisting to itemize his or her deductions. The total of the itemized deductions not directly related to foreign or U.S. income are medical expenses, real estate taxes and gifts to charity.

If the person you are assisting does not itemize deductions, then the standard deduction claimed on Line 39 of the Form 1040 would be entered on Line 3a.

Example 14

Betty is claiming a foreign tax credit. She is single and had itemized deductions of $6,900 for 2004. Her Schedule A includes $6,200 of real estate taxes and $700 of charitable contributions. (See Exhibit 4.)

Exhibit 4

Form 1116, Line 3

3 Pro rata share of other deductions not definitely related:
a Certain itemized deductions or standard deduction (see instructions)	6,900
b Other deductions (attach statement)
c Add lines 3a and 3b	6,900
d Gross foreign source income (see instructions)
e Gross income from all sources (see instructions)
f Divide line 3d by line 3e (see instructions)
g Multiply line 3c by line 3f.

Example 15

Rebecca wishes to claim a foreign tax credit. She is single and had itemized deductions of $2,500. Since the standard deduction for a single person for 2004, is $4,850, it is more advantageous to take the standard deduction. Rebecca’s Form 1116 would therefore have a $4,850 entry on Line 3a. (See Exhibit 5.)

All income from foreign sources in the category checked at the top of Form 1116 is listed on Line 3d. If the foreign earned income exclusion was claimed on Form 2555 and if the Form 1116 is for the general limitation category, then the amount of the claimed exclusion is included here as well. For example, on Line 3d for Monique from one of our prior examples the entry would be $84,000. That’s the sum of $4,000 from Line 1 plus the $80,000 exclusion she claimed. Under most circumstances, Line 3d and Line 1 will be the same.

Line 3e is gross income from all sources. Usually, this line will be the same as Line 22 of the Form 1040. If a Form 2555 was completed and the Foreign Earned Income Exclusion was claimed, then the amount of the exclusion must be added back to the gross income amount on Line 22.

The software’s next step is to determine the percentage of foreign source income to total income. This is done by dividing Line 3d by Line 3e and it will enter the answer on Line 3f. Then it takes Line 3c and multiplies it by the percentage determined on Line 3f and then enters this answer on Line 3g. For our purposes Line 6 will then be the same as Line 3g. This number represents the amount of your deductions allocated to foreign income in the category.

Your software will compute the rest of Part I and has begun to enter figures on Part III.

Part II. Foreign Taxes Paid or Accrued. Part II of Form 1116 deals with the amount of foreign taxes paid or that may be owed (accrued). Since the foreign tax credit is allowed when a U.S. taxpayer either pays or accrues taxes to a foreign government, the amount paid or owed to a foreign government must be indicated on the tax return in this section.

Before we can discuss how to complete Part II, we need to discuss cash basis and accrual basis taxpayers. A cash basis taxpayer is one who reports income when actually or constructively received, and expenses when they are paid. The majority of people who file individual income tax returns are cash basis taxpayers. If the person is a cash basis taxpayer, he or she has a choice to take foreign tax credit using the cash or accrual method.

Example 16

Marie is a U.S. citizen who resides in Argentina, where she is currently employed. She is paid every week on Thursday. Her last payday for 2004 is December 30th. She is paid based upon the time she worked in the previous week Sunday through Saturday. Since she is a cash basis taxpayer, she claims on her 2004 tax return the income that she was paid from January 1, 2004 through December 31, 2004 no matter when she earned it or when she may have been entitled to it. She also claims as deductions, expenses for which she actually paid in 2004 even though she may have incurred the debt prior to 2004.

An accrual basis taxpayer computes income and deductions differently. A person who is on the accrual basis computes income when he or she actually earned it or became entitled to it. Therefore, his or her deductions are computed based on when those debts were incurred, but not necessarily paid.

Example 17

If Marie was an accrual basis taxpayer instead of a cash basis taxpayer, then she would declare as her 2004 income the money she had earned from her employer through December 31, even though she would not have been paid for her last week's work until early 2005.

When computing the amount of foreign taxes for Part II of Form 1116, you will need to know if the taxpayer is on a cash basis or an accrual basis. If the person you are helping does not know, then he or she is probably on a cash basis. Taxpayers on the accrual basis should be referred to professional tax preparers for assistance.

A taxpayer on the cash basis may choose to use the accrual method to determine the foreign tax credit. However, once this choice has been made the taxpayer must use the accrual method for the foreign tax credit on all future tax returns.

In the U.S., we have a pay-as-you-go system. That means that we pay taxes on taxable income as we make it. When a wage-earner gets a paycheck, an amount has already been withheld by his or her employer for federal income tax. If there has not been withholding on taxable income, then estimated tax payments must be made.

Many foreign countries have a different system. In some cases, the individual simply reports his or her taxable income and the government involved computes the tax and bills the taxpayer. In other instances, taxpayers make payments in one year for income made the previous year. In these instances, a cash basis taxpayer may wish to use the accrual basis for computing the foreign tax credit since his or her U.S. tax would be based on the income made in 2004 but they would not actually pay the taxes or know the actual tax amount until after the end of the tax year. But remember that once the choice to use the accrual method has been made, it must be used on all future tax returns in computing the foreign tax credit.

On Part II of Form 1116, you must indicate if the credit is being claimed for foreign taxes actually paid in 2004 or if it is being claimed for foreign taxes accrued during 2004. Just as there is space in Part I of the form to claim income from 3 different countries, there is space in Part II for claiming payments to these 3 different countries.

Part II also has two separate sections in which you indicate the amounts withheld, paid, or accrued in the foreign currency and then convert these amounts into U.S. dollars.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATE

One of the questions that frequently arise is what currency exchange rate should be used. If you are using the cash basis, then the exchange rate that is the most accurate for the date of the payment should be used.

If the person you are helping had tax withheld throughout the year, then you can use the annual average exchange rate. If the person you are assisting is using the accrual method to claim his or her foreign taxes paid, you must generally use the average exchange rate for the tax year.

Column (x) of the Form 1116 Part II is a summary (in U.S. dollars) of all the foreign taxes paid or accrued on income in the category checked at the top of Form 1116.

Line 8 of Part II is the total of foreign taxes paid or accrued to all foreign countries. If the foreign taxes are paid or accrued on foreign income that falls into more than one separate category of income, but the tax is not specifically allocable to any one of the items of income, an allocation of the tax to each separate category must be made. This allocation is made by multiplying the total foreign income by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the net income of each of the separate categories. The denominator is total net foreign income.

Exercise 3

Charles is a U.S. citizen who lives and works in the United Kingdom. He takes the foreign earned income exclusion for his wages. His only other foreign income is interest income from his London bank. British income taxes were withheld at 27.5%. In 2004, his gross interest income from his London bank was £1,200. The average exchange rate for 2004 for purposes of this exercise was £.6 to the U.S. dollar. Charles uses the single filing status on his tax return and claims a standard deduction for 2004. He had earned income of $60,000 which he excluded. He also had U.S. interest income of $3,000 and his only other income was a short term capital gain of $35,000 from a U.S. source. Since 27.5% is also the tax rate for interest income in the United Kingdom, he had no additional income tax due to Great Britain on his interest income. Parts of Charles' Form 1040 are reproduced below. Compute the first page of the Form 1116 for Charles.

Form 1116 (2004)

Part III. Now that we have completed the front page of the Form 1116, let's go to the back of the form. Part III is the actual computation of the Foreign Tax Credit. This is relatively simple if you just follow the form line by line. If you have utilized tax software and entered all the types of foreign source income and the amounts of tax paid on them to a foreign country, your form is completed at this point, except for three lines, Lines 10, 12 and 15.

Line 10. This line deals with carrybacks and carryovers. This occurs when a taxpayer pays more to a foreign government than he or she does to the United States on income attributable to the taxable income in the separate income category. Since the tax credit is limited to the amount of U.S., the surplus tax credit is available as a carryback or carryover. VITA volunteers will not be computing carrybacks or carryovers.

Line 12. A reduction to the foreign taxes paid or accrued has to be made under certain circumstances. For our purpose, we will cover the most common situation. This is the reduction for taxes allocable to income excluded under the foreign earned income exclusion. The formula for this reduction is:

$$\frac{\text{Excluded Foreign Earned Income}}{\text{Total Foreign Earned Income}} \times \text{Foreign Tax} = \text{Reduction}$$

For our purposes, if the foreign law taxes foreign earned income and some other income (for example, earned income from U.S. sources or a type of income not subject to U.S. tax), and the taxes cannot be segregated, then the denominator of this fraction is the total amount of income subject to foreign tax.

Let's look at an example.

Example 18

Marsha is a U.S. citizen who resides in Germany for all of 2004. She had wages of $85,000, and excluded $80,000 on her U.S. tax return. She also earned $5,000 interest on a German bank account. She paid $2,000 income tax to Germany on this income. She will allocate the $2,000 income tax as follows:

Step 1 — Allocate the tax to Passive and to General Limitation Income.

$$\text{Passive Income: } \frac{$5,000}{$90,000} \times $20,000 = $1,111$$

$$\text{General Limitation Income: } \frac{$85,000}{$90,000} \times $20,000 = $18,889$$

Step 2 — Calculate the credit reduction attributable to excluded income.

$$\frac{$80,000 \text{ (excluded income)}}{$85,000 \text{ (total foreign income)}} \times $18,889 = $17,778$$

There are other reductions which can be indicated on line 12. However, they are all beyond the scope of VECTA. These include taxes attributable to boycott operations, or certain mineral income. It is suggested that taxpayers with these types of situations may wish to seek professional assistance.

Line 15—These adjustments are beyond the scope of VECTA.

More Than One Form 1116. Part IV of the Form 1116 is used as a summary of the foreign tax credit. As you can tell from our discussion thus far, there may be occasions when you will need to complete more than one Form 1116 for the same taxpayer. If this is the case, you would complete Part IV on only one Form 1116. It does not matter which Form 1116 you choose. You would indicate in Part IV of the summary Form 1116 the amount of the credit computed on line 21 of Part III from each Form 1116. Line 30 is then a total of all Forms 1116 and, for our purposes, line 32 should be the same as line 30. Please note that again the reduction of the credit for international boycott operations (line 31) is beyond the scope of this program and will not be discussed.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

- ▶ In order to qualify for a foreign tax credit, income on which the taxes are paid must be foreign source.
- ▶ The tax being paid must be similar to U.S. income tax.
- ▶ The individual paying the tax cannot derive a specific economic benefit and still claim the foreign tax credit.
- ▶ The foreign tax credit is computed on Form 1116.
- ▶ If an individual claims the foreign earned income exclusion, the excluded amount is not shown on line 1 of Part I of the Form 1116.
- ▶ A cash basis taxpayer may choose the accrual method to claim the foreign tax credit. Once the choice has been made, the taxpayer must continue to use the accrual method.
- ▶ If the accrual method of claiming the foreign tax credit is used, use the average annual currency exchange rate to convert the foreign money into U.S. dollars.
- ▶ If there is more than one Form 1116 for the same person, Part IV Summary need only be completed on one of the forms.

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson explains how to figure total federal income tax withheld. The lesson also covers how to figure and report estimated tax. In addition, the material covers how to determine the overpayment or the amount owed.

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Calculate and report federal income tax withheld from all sources.
- Calculate and report estimated tax payments.
- Calculate the refund due.
- Determine if estimated taxes should be paid.
- Determine if changes to the taxpayer's Form W-4 or Form W-4P should be suggested.

TRAINING MATERIAL AND ON-SITE REFERENCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS publications and forms. If you would like the most current revision of the publications or forms, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement
- Form W-4, Employee Withholding Allowance Certificate
- Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments
- Form 1040A, US Individual Income Tax Return
- Form 1040, US Individual Income Tax Return
- Form 1040ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals
- Form 1040-V, Payment Voucher
- Form 1099DIV, Dividends and Distributions
- Form 1099INT, Interest Income
- Form 1099R, Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRA, Insurance Contracts, etc.

TEACHING TIPS

Review with students the two most common ways that federal income tax is paid: it is either withheld from wages and other types of payments, or it is paid through estimated tax payments. Remind students that estimated tax payments include part or all of the overpayment from the prior year's return that was applied to 2004 estimated tax and estimated tax payments made after January 15, 2004 and through January 15, 2005. To complete line 63 of Form 1040 or line 39 of Form 1040A, volunteers must know the total federal income tax withheld from Forms W-2, 1099-R, 1099-INT, and 1099-DIV. For example, to complete line 64 or line 40, volunteers must know the amounts and payment dates of estimated tax payments, including any refund applied from the taxpayer's 2003 return to his or her 2004 tax.

GUIDED QUESTIONS — TAXES PAID

- 1. In what two ways is most federal income tax paid? (It is either withheld from wages and other types of payments, or it is paid through estimated tax payments.)
- 2. In how many installments can estimated tax payments be paid? (Taxpayers can pay their estimated tax in one payment or they can make up to four quarterly payments. However, additional estimated tax payments may be paid; if necessary).
- 3. Does an amount due and paid with the tax return qualify as an estimated tax payment? (No; do not include as an estimated tax payment the amount due with the tax return.)

GUIDED QUESTIONS — ESTIMATED TAXES

- 1. Under what circumstances do taxpayers make estimated tax payments? (When income is not subject to withholding or when the tax withheld is expected to be inadequate.)
- 2. Explain the procedure for determining the amount of the total estimated tax payment. (Figure the expected tax for the coming year and subtract expected credits, deductions, and tax withheld.)

GUIDED QUESTIONS — OVERPAYMENT/ESTIMATED TAXES APPLIED TO NEXT YEAR AND PENALTY

- 1. Under what circumstances will an amount be entered on line 45a and/or on line 46 of Form 1040A, or line 72a and/or 73 of Form 1040? If the taxpayer has an overpayment (refund) on line 44 of Form 1040A, or line 71 of Form 1040, then he or she should complete lines 45a and/or 46 of Form 1040A or lines 72a and/or 73 of Form 1040.
- 2. Under what circumstances will an amount be entered on line 48 of Form 1040A or line 75 of Form 1040, estimated tax penalty? (If line 47 or line 74 is $1,000 or more and it is more than 10 percent of the tax shown on the return, or if the taxpayer underpaid his or her 2004 estimated tax liability, the taxpayer may owe a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax. If no exceptions apply and a penalty is owed, it should be entered on line 48 or line 75 and included in the amount shown on line 47 or line 74.)

LESSON REVIEW — ESTIMATED TAXES AND REFUND OF LESS THAN $1.00

1. Students may inquire about the circumstances under which federal income tax is usually withheld from dividend and interest payments. Tell them that tax is usually withheld if the taxpayer does not provide his or her social security number to the payer.
2. If a taxpayer has not rounded the amounts reported on a tax form, it is possible that the amounts overpaid or owed could be less than $1. Students may wonder if a taxpayer must send a check or money order to the IRS for that amount. The answer is no. Conversely, a taxpayer who has overpaid by less than $1 will not receive a refund unless the taxpayer sends a written request asking for the refund.

TEACHING TIPS — ESTIMATED TAXES

1. Many taxpayers who pay estimated tax are self-employed, either on a full-time or a part-time basis. Volunteers should remember that self-employment situations, other than those reported on Schedule C-EZ, are beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE Program and that these taxpayers should be referred to paid professional tax preparers.
2. Explain to volunteers that nonresident aliens are also required to make estimated tax payments. Nonresident aliens who must make estimated tax payments should file Form 1040-ES(NR), U.S. Estimated Tax for Nonresident Alien Individuals. These filers should be referred to paid professional tax preparers.
3. To help students figure the estimated tax payment due per quarter, copy the following equation onto a chalkboard or flip-chart:

PAYMENT CALCULATION

$$\frac{\text{Total Estimated Tax}}{4} = \text{Amount of each equal quarterly payment due}$$

THEN:

Multiply the quarterly payment by the number of quarters due and past due at time of first payment.

4. Students should be aware that a recently retired taxpayer may owe estimated tax for the first time. Retirees may owe tax on pension, interest, or annuity income. Advise volunteers to be careful when determining whether there will be any tax withheld from the taxpayer's payments and to figure the estimated tax accordingly.

LESSON REVIEW — WITHHOLDING

1. Students may wonder what advice to give to taxpayers who had too much tax withheld because they did not claim all the allowances to which they were entitled.

A taxpayer in this situation should submit a new Form W-4 to his or her employer. The employer, however, cannot reimburse the taxpayer for any of the tax withheld under the old Form W-4.

2. Some taxpayers may try to claim more withholding allowances than they are entitled to in order to increase their take-home pay. Explain to students that, as volunteers, they should inform taxpayers that there are penalties for willfully supplying false or fraudulent information on Form W-4 or for willfully failing to supply information that would increase the amount withheld.

LESSON REVIEW — NAME CHANGE/ESTIMATED TAX PAYMENT

1. Students may ask how to clear up confusion caused by a taxpayer changing his or her name after making estimated tax payments using another name. A taxpayer in this situation should attach a brief statement to the front of the tax return indicating the following: when payments were made, the amount of each payment, the address(es) to which each payment was sent, the name under which each payment was made, and the taxpayer's social security number.
2. To review students' understanding of estimated tax payment and underpayment of estimated tax, tax withheld, and refund or amount owed, divide the class into groups of four or five. Have each group write five questions that review the material covered in this lesson. Allow five to seven minutes for this part of the activity.

When all groups have finished writing their questions, have students from each group read their questions to the class and have the other groups answer the questions. Continue the activity until all groups have asked their questions.

You may wish to take some time to review any points that students found difficult.

TEACHING TIPS — FINISHING THE TAX RETURN

1. Remind students a Quality Review Checklist (verify each item on the tax return) should be used to verify the completeness and accuracy of every tax return.
2. Volunteers should inform taxpayers who have a substantial overpayment (line 44 of Form 1040A or line 71 of Form 1040) that they might wish to file a new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, to reduce the amount of income tax withheld from their pay. Conversely, volunteers should inform taxpayers who owe a substantial amount of tax (line 47 of Form 1040A or line 74 of Form 1040) that they might wish to file a new Form W-4 to increase the amount of tax withheld from their pay or pay estimated taxes.
3. If the taxpayer filed a joint return in 2003 and is filing a joint return for 2004 with the same spouse, the taxpayer should enter his or her name and SSN and that of his or her spouse in the same order as on the 2003 return.
4. Remind students to make certain that taxpayers understand that their decision to contribute $3 to the Presidential Election Campaign Fund will not increase or decrease the amount owed to the IRS or decrease the amount that they will receive as a refund.

LESSON REVIEW — QUALITY REVIEW

Students sometimes wonder what specific kinds of information the IRS quality review program has yielded.

You may wish to share these statistics with the class: Of all the mistakes made on Form 1040EZ, the most common were math errors—committed, collectively, by the taxpayers, their paid preparers, and VITA/TCE volunteers.

GUIDED QUESTIONS — FINISHING THE RETURN

- 1. When should the taxpayer identification section be completed? (After the rest of the return has been completed.)
- 2. If there are errors on the taxpayer's pre-addressed label, should the label be discarded? (No; mark through any errors and print the correct information on the label.)
- 3. Is it important to have the taxpayer sign the return? (Yes; an unsigned return is not considered valid and cannot be processed.)
- 4. If an amount is owed, how should you end the interview? (Remind the taxpayer not to attach payments to the return. The check or money order should be made payable to the United States Treasury and placed loose in the envelope. The taxpayer can also pay by credit card or by authorizing a direct debit from his or her checking or savings account on the date he/she chooses—by April 15, 2005. If the taxpayer is a Form 1040 filer, he or she should voluntarily send Form 1040-V, Payment Voucher, with the payment. Form 1040-V should also be placed loose in the envelope. This will allow the IRS to process the payment more accurately and efficiently. The instructions for completing the voucher appear on the Form 1040-V. The check or money order should include the taxpayer's name, address, social security number, daytime telephone number, and the notation "2004 Form 1040 (or 1040A or 1040EZ, whichever applies)." Tell the taxpayer to mail the return by April 15. If the taxpayer cannot pay the full amount owed on his/her return, he/she may ask permission to make monthly installment payments. The taxpayer should file Form 9465, Installment Agreement Request, and pay a nonrefundable processing fee. File Form 9465 with the tax return.)
- 5. How does a taxpayer request direct deposit? (To choose direct deposit, the taxpayer should fill in lines 11b, c, and d of Form 1040EZ, or lines 45b, c, and d of Form 1040A, or lines 72b, c, and d of Form 1040.)

LESSON REVIEW — REFUND/BALANCE DUE

- 1. Federal income tax is withheld only from payments that are earned income. (Disagree; federal income tax can also be withheld from other kinds of payments, including distributions from pensions, annuities, IRAs, interest income, and dividends.)
- 2. Taxpayers who have overpaid their tax must receive a complete refund. (Disagree; taxpayers can opt to apply all or part of the overpayment to next year's estimated tax.)
- 3. The method of payment that a taxpayer should follow in paying tax is the same whether the taxpayer uses Form 1040 or Form 1040A except the words "2004 Form 1040" should be written on the payment for filers of Form 1040; whereas the words "2004 Form 1040A" should be written on the payment for filers of Form 1040A. (Agree)
- 4. If a taxpayer owes a penalty for underpayment of tax, he or she can enter the amount of the penalty on Form 1040, line 75 or leave line 75 blank so that the IRS figures the amount of the penalty, as with Form 1040A, line 48. (Agree)

GUIDED QUESTION — FINISHING AND FILING THE RETURN — MILITARY SEGMENT

- 1. If a service member is in a combat zone what is their filing date?

A service member in a combat zone return is due 180 days from the last day the service member was in the combat zone, or the last day the person's hospitalization due to combat ends PLUS the number of days the individual had left to take any action with the IRS when they entered the combat zone.

NOTE: The 180 day extension also applies to persons who serve in the Armed Forces on deployment outside the United States away from their permanent duty station while participating in a contingency operation. This is an operation that is designated by the Secretary of Defense or results in calling members of the uniformed services to active duty (or retains them on active data) during a war or a national emergency declared by the President or Congress.

FINISHING THE RETURN

Lesson 7

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn how to report federal income tax payments and figure the overpayment or balance due. You will also learn how to determine if estimated taxes should be paid. Additionally, you will learn how to finish the return and have the taxpayer sign the return.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Calculate and report federal income tax withheld from all sources.
- Calculate and report estimated tax payments.
- Calculate the refund or amount due.
- Determine if estimated taxes should be paid.
- Determine if changes to the taxpayer's W-4 or W-4P should be suggested.

Please pay close attention to the section about identifying the returns that you work on. It is critical for you to enter the correct site identification number in the preparer's signature section of the return. The number goes in the designated area on the forms with the pre-printed "S" followed by 8 digits or in the PTIN/SSN field of the return.

This lesson will provide detailed information on how to finish the tax return. The following checklist is provided as a quick reference of the steps needed to finish the return.

CHECKLIST FOR FINISHING THE RETURN

Withholdings, Payments and Other Credits:

- Add all Federal Income Tax Withholding from Form W-2, box 2, and include on return.
- Add all Federal Income Tax Withholding from box 4 of Forms 1099R, 1099INT, 1099DIV and 1099G. Include in the payments section of the return.
- Include all estimated tax payments in the payment section.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Form W-2, box 4, shows social security tax withheld and box 6 shows Medicare tax withheld. These are not the same as federal income tax withheld. Do not report the amounts in box 4 and box 6 as federal income tax withheld.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

When a taxpayer worked for more than one employer during the year, add up the amounts shown in box 4 of all Forms W-2. If the total in box 4 of all forms exceeds $5,449.80 the taxpayers should claim a refund of excess social security tax withheld. Use the worksheet in Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax to compute the refund.

ALERT

The letter "P" in the site identification number has been replaced by the letter "S". This change was made to better track the number of volunteer prepared returns.

- Include the amount of last year's refund that was applied to this year in the payment section. Note: If you need assistance with how to do this with TaxWise®, ask your site coordinator or computer specialist.
- Calculate all of the refundable credits (covered in later lessons) that the taxpayer is entitled to and include them in the payments section of the return. Using TaxWise® software will help you determine what credits that the taxpayer is entitled to.
- Add all payments together and enter them on the total payments line. TaxWise® will do this step for you.
- Subtract the total payments from the total tax. TaxWise® will also complete this step for you.
- Record the account number and the routing number for taxpayers who want their refund direct deposited. Note: TaxWise® will ask you for this information on the Main Information screen and on the tax form. This is to help ensure that you have keyed in the correct information. Complete the line to apply part of the refund to next year, if the taxpayer wishes to use this option.

Paying Taxes or Adjusting Withholding Taxes if Balance Due:

- Explain the payment option (check, credit card, direct debit and installment agreement) to a taxpayer who owes money.
- Inform the taxpayer about the identifying information to include on payments made by check.
- Explain that interest and penalties continue to accrue on the unpaid balance even if the taxpayer has a valid installment agreement.
- Explain estimated taxes to taxpayers who expect to owe tax in 2005.
- Assist the taxpayer with completing form 1040ES for 2005. TaxWise® can do this for you. It will even print the vouchers for the payments. See publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide for further guidelines.
- Provide the taxpayer with the mailing address for the estimated payments. (Some sites provide unstamped envelopes for the taxpayers.)
- Encourage taxpayers to consider adjusting their withholding (on Form W-4 or W-4P) if they have a large refund or owe more than $1,000 on the return.

Advance Earned Income Tax Credit (AEIC):

- Inform taxpayers about the Advance Earned Income Credit, if they were eligible for EIC this year and have at least one qualifying child. Be prepared to give the taxpayer a Form W-5, if they request it.

Name, Address, and Taxpayer Identification Section of Return:

- Complete the name and address section of the tax return. Use the taxpayer's label (if available) on a return prepared by hand. For computer generated returns, this section will be completed based on the information you entered in the Main Information section of the TaxWise® software.
- Make sure that you include the Taxpayer Identification Number for all taxpayers and dependents listed on the return. Note: If you are using TaxWise®, you will get an error when you run diagnostics if you have not included the identifying number. TaxWise® also has a diagnostic feature that helps you check the accuracy of the identifying number by comparing it to a database of information from the Social Security Administration. This does not guarantee that the name and social security number match. You should always look at the actual Social Security cards if possible. To validate the identity of the taxpayer you should also ask to see an official picture identification item.
- Mark the Presidential Election Campaign Box for the taxpayer. Note: If the taxpayer has a total tax of zero, the presidential campaign box should be marked no.

Return Assembly and Copy:

- Assemble the return. If filing a paper return for the taxpayer, forms should be in the order of the sequence number in the upper right corner. Procedures on assembling electronic returns may vary from site to site. Please ask your site coordinator for this information.
- Retain an electronic copy of all returns e-filed. Remember that you are not allowed to retain copies of the tax returns at your site past the end of the filing season. The retained copies should be forwarded to your local IRS territory office, where they will be retained until the end of the calendar year (as prescribed by the electronic filing regulations). For exception see Publication 4299, Privacy and Confidentiality.

Site Identification Number on Forms 1040, 1040A, & 1040EZ

Congress annually asks the IRS to provide the number of returns that were filed by volunteer tax assistance sites. For statistical purposes, the IRS requests that all Federal returns be identified with a Site Identification Number. The Site Identification Number is entered in the Paid Preparer's section of the tax return. The Internal Revenue Service Submission Processing Center will count each return processed using this data.

More about this topic is covered later in this lesson.

On Site Quality Review:

- Submit the completed return to the quality reviewer at your site. Note: Not all sites have enough volunteers to have a designated quality reviewer. In this case, ask another volunteer to review the form you prepared. Using TaxWise® is not a substitute for quality review.

Signing the Return and Third Party Designation:

- Mark the area where the taxpayer should sign the return or Form 8453. Publication 3189 will contain additional information on how to use the PIN program to sign electronic returns.
- Complete the third party designation section of the return if the taxpayer wishes to allow someone else to discuss the return with the IRS. (You cannot designate yourself.)

Taxpayer Question:

- Ask the taxpayer if they have any additional questions.

Where to Mail Paper Returns:

- Tell the taxpayer where to mail the return (if filing by paper). Electronically filed returns are automatically transmitted to the correct IRS Processing Center. Paper tax returns must be mailed in by the taxpayer to the IRS processing Center for the area (state) where the taxpayer resides. Each tax package contains a pre-addressed envelope for a particular area based on the last address filed with the IRS. If the taxpayer has moved or does not have a pre-addressed envelope the address and other mailing information is located in the individual federal tax package and in your Volunteer Resource Guide, Publication 4012. Some sites provide unstamped pre-addressed envelope for their taxpayers. (You might be able to get the envelopes donated from a local office supply store. Your site receptionist could address the envelopes or you could print computer labels to use on them.)

PAYMENTS

The federal government has a pay-as-you-earn tax system. The information for the payments section of the return has three sources: federal income tax withholdings, estimated tax payments, and refundable credits.

Income tax withheld can appear on:

- Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, in box 2
- Form 1099-R, Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts, etc., in box 4
- Form 1099-INT, Interest Income, in box 4
- Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions, in box 4
- Form W-2G, Certain Gambling Winnings, in box 2
- Form 1099-G, Certain Government and Qualified State Tuition Program Payments, box 4
- SSA-1099, Social Security Benefits
- RRB-1099, Railroad Retirement Benefits Tier 1
- RRB-1099R, Railroad Retirement Benefits Tier 2
- Form 1099B, Proceeds from Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions

Estimated Tax Payments

Add all estimated tax payments made by the taxpayer for the year. Be sure to include:

- Payment made from last year's overpayment (see last year's tax return.)
- Quarterly payments made using the Form 1040ES, including the one made in January of the current tax year.

Record total estimated tax payments on Line 40 of Form 1040A or Line 64 of Form 1040.

Refundable Credits

Make sure that any refundable credits you have calculated are entered on the proper lines. The Earned Income Credit is reported on line 8 of the Form 1040 EZ, Line 41 of the Form 1040A, and Line 65 of the Form 1040. Any refundable Child Tax Credit is reported on Line 42 of the Form 1040A and Line 67 of the Form 1040. If excess Social Security deductions were made because of multiple employers, that amount is shown on Line 66 of the Form 1040.

Total Payments

Add the total of withholdings, estimated tax payments made, and refundable credits together. Enter this total on Line 9 of the Form 1040EZ, Line 43 of the Form 1040A, or Line 70 of the Form 1040.

FIGURING THE OVERPAYMENT OR THE TAX DUE

Overpayments

If there has been more tax payments made than the amount of tax liability (line 10, Form 1040EZ, line 38, Form 1040A, or line 62, Form 1040), this is considered an overpayment. A taxpayer may wish to have a portion of the overpayment applied to next year's taxes. If so, then enter the amount to be applied to the following year on line 46 of the Form 1040A or line 73 of the Form 1040. Subtract this amount from the total overpayment and enter the remainder on line 45a of the Form 1040A or line 72a of the Form 1040.

Only a total refund can be entered on the Form 1040EZ, line 12a. Any overpayment on Form 1040EZ must be refunded; It cannot be applied to next year's taxes.

Example 3

Exhibit 5 shows Form 1040A, lines 28 through 46, for Zxavien. His total tax is $3,491. His total payments are $5,000. Zxavien overpaid and wants $900 to be applied to his 2005 estimated tax. Note that line 45a plus line 46 equals the amount on line 44.

Refunds

If the taxpayer wants an overpayment refunded, advise that a check should be mailed within 6-8 weeks after the return is filed. Remind the taxpayer of the availability to have the refund deposited directly into a financial account, such as a bank account.

Direct Deposit

Instead of getting a paper check, taxpayers may choose to have their refund deposited directly into their account at a bank or other financial institution such as a mutual fund, brokerage firm, or credit union.

Note. Taxpayers should check with their financial institution to make sure their direct deposit will be accepted and to get the correct routing and account number.

Exhibit 6 shows the general location of the routing and account number on a sample check. The routing number must be nine digits (the first two digits must begin with 01 through 12 or 21 through 32, otherwise the direct deposit will be rejected and a check sent instead). The account number can be up to 17 characters (both numbers and letters). It can include hyphens but not spaces or special symbols. The number should be entered from left to right with any unused boxes left blank.

Exhibit 6

The diagram shows a sample check with the following details:

- Payor: LERON BROWN, RENA BROWN, 123 Main Street, Anyplace, CA 10000
- Payee: PAY TO THE ORDER OF
- Amount: $ [] DOLLARS
- Bank: ANYPLACE BANK, Anyplace, NY 10000
- Routing number: 250250025 (labeled as (lir(line 72b)))
- Account number: 202020 86 (labeled as (lir(line 72d)))
- Check number: 1234 (labeled as "Do not include the check number")
- Microprint: 15-00000000

The routing number and account number are circled, and arrows point from the text labels to their respective positions on the check. A "SAMPLE" watermark is visible across the center.

Tax Due

If there are less tax payments than the amount of tax liability, then there is tax due to be paid with the return. When this happens, remind the taxpayer to make the check or money order payable to the "United States Treasury." Taxpayers can also pay by credit card or by authorizing a direct debit from their checking or savings account on the date they choose (anytime up to April 15, 2005). Encourage a 1040 filer to voluntarily send Form 1040-V, Payment Voucher, with his or her payment. The instructions for completing the voucher appear on the 1040-V. The taxpayer should write his or her name, address, social security number, daytime telephone number, and "2004 Form 1040 (or 1040A or 1040EZ, whichever applies)" on the check or money order. The payment and Form 1040-V should be enclosed, but not attached to the tax return. Taxpayers should not mail cash with their returns.

To help IRS process the payment, the taxpayer should enter the amount on the right side of the check like this: $XXX.XX. Do not use dashes or lines (for example, do not enter “$XXX—” or “$XXX^{XX}/₁₀₀”).

Electronic Payment Options

If the taxpayer owes an amount on his or her return, he/she can make the payment electronically. To pay by credit card, the taxpayer must use one of the service providers listed in the instructions for Forms 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ. The taxpayer can also pay by authorizing a direct debit out of his/her checking or savings account by April 15, 2005.

If the taxpayer cannot pay the full amount owed shown on his/her return, the taxpayer may ask permission to make monthly installment payments. To ask for an installment agreement, the taxpayer should file Form 9465, Installment Agreement Request, with the tax return.

Estimated Tax Penalty. If line 12, Form 1040EZ, line 47, Form 1040A, or line 74, Form 1040, is $1,000 or more and it is more than 10 percent of the tax shown on the return, or if the taxpayer underpaid his or her 2004 estimated tax liability, the taxpayer can owe a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax. If so, report the penalty on line 48 for Form 1040A or line 75 of Form 1040. Line 47 or line 74 should include the amount owed with the return plus the penalty reported on line 48 of Form 1040A or line 75 of Form 1040, respectively.

Because the Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Individuals, Estates, and Trusts, used to compute estimated tax penalty is complicated, the IRS encourages taxpayers to let the IRS figure the penalty for them. The IRS will figure the penalty for underpayment of estimated tax and, if a penalty is owed, the taxpayer will be sent a bill. If taxpayers want the IRS to figure the penalty for them, the taxpayers should leave the penalty line on their return blank and should not complete Form 2210. As long as the taxpayer files the return by April 15, 2005, the IRS will not charge interest on the penalty if the bill is paid by the date specified on the bill.

FIGURING ESTIMATED TAX FOR NEXT YEAR

Estimated tax is the amount a taxpayer expects to owe for the year after deducting any tax credits or federal income tax withheld. In other words, it is the amount the taxpayer anticipates will be owed on his or her 2005 federal income tax return.

If a taxpayer is an employee, the taxpayer's employer generally must withhold income, Medicare, and social security taxes on the wages paid. Also, most payers of taxable pensions withhold income tax and pay it to the government. However, a taxpayer may receive many types of taxable income that are not subject to having tax withheld.

A taxpayer who receives interest, dividends, alimony, unemployment compensation, rent, gains from the sale of assets, prizes, or awards, generally will have no income tax withheld on the payments. As a result, the taxpayer may find that he or she owes estimated tax. Most self-employed taxpayers will also find they are required to pay estimated tax.

Who Must Pay Estimated Tax

Estimated tax payments are required if certain conditions are met. Generally a taxpayer must make payments of estimated tax if:

1. He or she expects to owe $1,000 or more in tax for 2005 after subtracting federal income tax withheld and credits from taxable income,

AND

2. He or she expects the 2005 tax withheld and credits to be less than the smaller of:
 - a) 90 percent of the tax to be shown on his or her 2005 tax return, or
 - b) 100 percent of the tax shown on his or her 2004 tax return. The return must cover all 12 months.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

When figuring estimated tax, be sure to include all taxes, such as tax on lump-sum distributions and self-employment tax.

Married taxpayers can pay estimated tax either separately or jointly. How they pay their estimated tax will not affect their choice of filing a joint return or separate returns for the year. Joint estimated tax payments may be divided between the spouses if they later choose to file separate returns.

Example 4

Jayne is single and retired. She works part time as an usher in a movie theater. She estimates her 2005 income will be $16,421, which includes $3,500 of interest income from which there will be no tax withheld. Jayne calculates that she expects to owe $1,008 (after taking into account her expected tax withheld and credits). Jayne meets condition 1 (mentioned earlier) and may have to pay estimated tax. Further checking tells Jayne that her expected 2005 tax withheld will be less than 100 percent of the tax shown on her 2004 return and less than 90 percent of the tax she will show on her 2005 tax return. Since Jayne also meets condition 2 (mentioned earlier), she is required to pay estimated tax.

Limit on the use of prior year's tax. Married taxpayers with joint AGI exceeding $150,000 or $75,000 if married filing separately cannot use 100% of their 2004 tax to figure their 2005 estimated tax payments.

For more information, see Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

How to Figure Estimated Tax

Estimated tax is paid by using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax For Individuals. Form 1040-ES also contains a worksheet that can be used in figuring a taxpayer's estimated tax. The taxpayer should keep the worksheet for his or her records.

To figure the estimated tax, the taxpayer must first figure his or her expected adjusted gross income, taxable income, taxes, and credits for 2005. All available facts that will affect those items during the year must be taken into account. Use the 2004 tax return as a starting point for estimating 2005 income, deductions, and credits. However, be careful to make adjustments both for anticipated changes in the taxpayer's situation and for recent changes in the tax law.

Form 1040-ES contains both the 2005 Tax Rate Schedules and the 2005 standard deduction and exemption amounts. Be sure to use the 2005 figures when figuring the estimated tax.

When to Pay Estimated Tax

For estimated tax purposes, the year is divided into four payment periods. Each period has a specific due date.

Date taxpayer receives income	Due date of first installment	No. of payments
January 1– March 31	April 15, 2005	4
April – May 31	June 16, 2005	3
June 1 – August 31	September 15, 2005	2
September 1 – December 31	January 16, 2006	1

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Advise the taxpayer to use the pre-addressed envelopes that came with his or her Form 1040-ES package, or mail payment vouchers to the address shown in the Form-ES instructions for the place where he or she lives. Do not use the address shown in the Form 1040 or Form 1040A instructions.

Most of the taxpayers that you assist will pay their estimated tax in four equal installments. However, a taxpayer does not have to make estimated tax payments until he or she has income on which tax is owed. If a taxpayer receives income after one or more of the payment periods have passed, he or she will begin making payments during the period when the income is received.

The minimum payment due during the period when the income is received is one-fourth of the total estimated tax for the year, generally, plus an additional fourth of the yearly total for each period which has already passed. The balance of the estimated tax will be paid during the remaining periods (one-fourth of the yearly total for each remaining period).

The taxpayer also has the option of paying all the estimated tax at once. Instead of paying by installments, he or she may choose to pay the entire amount by the due date of the period during which the income is received.

Some taxpayers choose to pay all of their estimated tax with the first payment, April 15, 2005. It alleviates the need for them to remember to make the remaining payments.

Also, a taxpayer can apply all or part of an overpayment from his or her 2004 Form 1040 or Form 1040A to the estimated tax for 2005. The overpayment amount to be credited is entered on Form 1040, line 73, or Form 1040A, line 46. All of the credit can be applied to the first payment or it can be spread out among any or all of the payments.

If any due date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the payment is due on the next business day.

If a taxpayer files his or her 2005 Form 1040 or Form 1040A by January 31, 2006, and pays the entire amount of tax owed at that time, he or she is not required to make the estimated tax payment that would be due on January 16, 2006.

How Much Estimated Tax to Pay

The computed estimated tax is based on expected income and deductions and should take into account all facts known at the time the estimate is made. If the taxpayer is unsure about the accuracy of the estimate, he or she may want to pay more than the required minimum 90 percent of the 2005 estimated tax. Taxpayers who do not pay enough tax by the due date of each payment period may be charged a penalty, even if the filed 2005 return shows a refund. Generally, the simplest and safest procedure is to make sure that the total of tax withheld plus the amount of estimated tax for each payment period during 2005 is at least one-fourth of the tax shown on the 2004 return. For more information, see Publication 505.

How to Pay Estimated Tax

Estimated tax payments can be sent electronically to the IRS by direct debit payment from the taxpayer's checking or savings account, by credit card, or can be sent along with a payment voucher from Form 1040-ES. Each voucher is inscribed with its due date. Be sure to use the correct voucher for each payment. For more information on electronic filing and payments, see Form 1040-ES instructions.

If the taxpayer paid estimated tax in 2004, he or she should have received a Form 1040-ES package containing preprinted vouchers. These vouchers show the taxpayer's preprinted name, address, and social security number. To use them, simply enter the amount of the payment on the appropriate line. If a taxpayer does not have the preprinted forms, use a set of blank vouchers from Form 1040-ES and enter the information on the appropriate lines. Advise the taxpayer to write his or her social security number and "2004 Form 1040-ES" on the check or money order (payable to the "United States Treasury") when paying estimated tax.

FORMS W-4 AND W-4P

An employer withholds tax based on wages paid and information the employee provides on Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate. The employee uses his or her expected income, deductions, adjustments to income, and credits to figure the total withholding allowances to claim on Form W-4. In addition, an employee can claim extra allowances in certain situations.

A taxpayer who receives distributions from a pension, an annuity, an IRA, a stock bonus plan, or certain deferred compensation plans should use Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments, to notify the payer whether, and how much, income tax should be withheld.

Income, deductions, and credits should be estimated carefully. Taxpayers who do not have enough federal income tax withheld can be subject to interest and penalties. Taxpayers who have a very large refund or who owe should consider adjusting their withholding.

Some taxpayers want their withholding to be high enough to ensure that they receive a tax refund. They do not want to pay an additional amount when filing their tax return. If a taxpayer wishes, it is legal to claim fewer allowances than he or she is allowed. More tax than required will be withheld each pay period and, at the end of the year, the taxpayer should be eligible for a refund of overpaid taxes.

Forms W-4 and W-4P also contain:

- Instructions
- Personal Allowances Worksheet
- Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet
- Two-Earner/Two-Job, Multiple Pension/More Than One Income Worksheets
- Tables

The worksheets incorporate the number of allowances, adjustments, deductions, and credits that the employee expects on his or her 2005 income tax return. Some or all of these additional worksheets will then be used by the employee in completing the allowance certificate.

If an employee has a working spouse or income from two jobs, only one set of Form W-4 Worksheets should be completed. Complete the Form W-4 Worksheets using the combined expected income (from all sources and for both spouses if filing a joint return), adjustments, deductions, and exemptions. The number of total allowances from this Form W-4 can then be divided among all jobs. Withholding will usually be the most accurate when an employee claims zero allowances on all jobs except for the highest paying one. Reminder: A separate Form W-4 is needed for each job.

Certain events can occur during the year that can change an employee's marital status, exemptions, allowances, deductions or credits. When this happens, the employee may have to change his or her withholding allowances by submitting a new Form W-4 to the employer. The original Form W-4 remains in effect until the employee changes it.

For more information on withholding, refer to Publication 919, How Do I Adjust My Tax Withholding?

W-5, Advance Earned Income Credit (AEIC)

At this time, you as the preparer have the opportunity and the means to assist the taxpayer with the Form W-5, Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate. The amount of the AEIC payments are based on wages by payroll cycle. Only persons with at least one qualifying child can get AEIC payments. If the taxpayer qualifies for the Earned Income Credit for 2004 refer them to Publication 596, Earned Income Credit or Form W-5 for additional information.

Completing and Assembling the Return

After all the decisions have been made regarding payments, overpayments, and estimated taxes, you should complete the taxpayer identification section, assemble the return, and submit it for quality review. When the review is completed, have the taxpayer sign the return and provide instructions on where and when to send it to the IRS. These steps are provided below.

Taxpayer Identification Section

This section is completed after the rest of the return. Often, this saves time because after you begin preparing Form 1040A, you may discover that Form 1040EZ or Form 1040 is more appropriate. If this happens, you will not have to complete the taxpayer identification section twice.

Taxpayers who filed returns last year probably received a forms package by mail this year. The package includes a preaddressed label which shows the name and address of the taxpayer(s).

Peel the label off and place it in the address area of the return. Mark through any errors on the label, and print the correct information on the label. Be sure to enter the social security number(s) Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) to the right of the label area.

If a taxpayer did not receive a forms package or does not have a pre-addressed label, PRINT the required information. Enter the taxpayer's name and social security number (or ITIN) on the first line. If married taxpayers are filing a joint return, enter one spouse's complete name and social security number (or ITIN) on the first line and the other spouse's complete name and social security number (or ITIN) on the second line. Be sure that each taxpayer's name and social security number (or ITIN) appear on one line, separate from the spouse's information. If you enter the husband's name and the wife's social security number (or ITIN) on the same line, there can be a considerable delay in processing the return.

Enter the address where any refund or notices should be sent. If the post office delivers mail to a post office box rather than to a street address, enter the P.O. box number on the line for the home address.

The Presidential Election Campaign Fund appears in the name and address area of Forms 1040EZ, 1040A, or 1040. Check Yes if the taxpayer wishes to have $3 go to the Presidential Election

ALERT

Before you complete any tax return you must request proof of identity. Follow guidelines in Lesson 1.

Campaign Fund. Otherwise, check No. Checking Yes will not change the tax or reduce the refund. On a joint return, each taxpayer chooses whether or not $3 should go to the fund.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Using the pre-addressed label reduces processing time. However, to protect the taxpayer's privacy, the peel-off label that he or she received in the mail with the tax return booklet does not have his or her SSN (or that of his or her spouse if filing a joint return) printed on it. Therefore, be sure the taxpayer's SSN (and spouse's, if applicable) is entered in the space provided on the tax form (1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ).

Further, if the taxpayer filed a joint return for 2003 and is filing a joint return for 2004 with the same spouse, be sure the taxpayer's and spouse's names and SSNs are entered in the same order as on the 2003 tax return.

Assembling the Return

Make sure that all forms, schedules, and attachments show the taxpayer's name and social security number. List the names in the same order that they appear on the front of the return and use the first social security (or ITIN) number that appears on the front of the return.

Attach forms and schedules behind Form 1040 according to the attachment sequence number shown in the upper right corner of the form or schedule. Items without an attachment sequence number should be placed at the end. For Form 1040A, attach any forms or schedules in order by number with Schedule EIC last.

Attach Form(s) W-2 to the left margin of the return. If any Form 1099 shows federal income tax withheld, include that amount in the payments section of the return.

When any Form 1099 shows federal income tax withheld, attach a copy to the return, along with any Form(s) W-2.

IDENTIFYING RETURNS

- If taxpayers ask about the site identification number designation at the bottom of the return in the paid preparer's section, explain that this is entered for statistical purposes. Inform the taxpayers that the site identification number does not affect the likelihood of an IRS examination (audit) of the return.
- If you prepare over 50 percent of the tax return and you are reasonably sure that the return will be filed as you prepared it, enter the site identification number at the bottom of the return in the Paid Preparer Section in the PTIN/SSN field.
- Most sites will have forms preprinted with the site identification number format entered in the Paid Preparer Section of the return. You must enter the number that has been assigned by the Territory Office for that site.
- If you do not have forms with the pre-printed site identification number format, print the appropriate site identification number for that site in the Paid Preparer Section of the return.
- The e-file administrator will set up computers to default the SIDN in the Paid Preparer section of the return (e-file administrators should refer to Publication 3189, e-file Administrator Guide for detailed instructions.)

SITE IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) will capture statistical information using the Individual Master File Report (IMF Report) and the Electronic Tax Administration (ETA) report. Based on this change, it is very important that all returns prepared by a volunteer tax preparation site be identified as VITA or TCE prepared.

The following procedures must be used when returns are prepared in a VITA or TCE site.

- The site identification number should be entered in the Paid Preparer Section of the return. (See Exhibit 7).
- The following procedures must be followed when returns are prepared in a VITA or TCE site.

1. Paper Returns

- All sites will enter the letter S followed by an 8 digit site identification number that is provided by the territory office. Sites should use the overprint form with the bold S format indicated in the Paid Preparer Section. Each of the numbers represent a certain area determined by the territory office. For instance, the fourth digit of the number will be 1 for VITA, 2 for Military VITA, 3 for Co-located site, 4 for TCE and 5 for AARP.
- If you use a return without the bold S format for the number enter the assigned number in the space provided in the Paid Preparer section of the return. Forms 1040EZ, 1040A, and 1040 with the bold “S” format are available from IRS and will be ordered by each site coordinator.

2. Electronically Filed Returns

- E-file administrators will set up computers to default to the proper location on the return where the number will already be entered. Ensure the default number has been entered for the site you are working.

Exhibit 7 illustrates a site identification number in the Paid Preparers section of three tax forms, 1040EZ, 1040A, and 1040.

Site Identification Number

The goal of the TCE and VITA Programs is to provide high quality service.

On-Site Quality Review Program

Every site must have a quality review program. Properly reviewed returns will help prevent taxpayers from receiving an error notice from the IRS. At larger sites, an experienced volunteer should be designated as the quality reviewer. At small sites, volunteers may review each other's work. During the actual tax return, preparation process and while conducting the quality review of the tax return, volunteers should ask probing questions to get complete and accurate information that reflects the taxpayers' circumstances. A Quality Review Checklist, like the one shown may be used for this purpose. Volunteers must review the tax return with the taxpayer before he/she leaves the site and make applicable changes or additions to the return. Volunteer Site Coordinators should become familiar with the quality review process as shown in Publication 1084, Volunteer. On-site quality review is a mandatory part of the VITA/TCE programs.

ALERT

Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, contains a section entitled Return Signature to assist you with completing the tax return.

Signature Section

Make sure the taxpayer signs and dates the return before mailing. An unsigned return cannot be processed and may be sent back to the taxpayer. On a joint return, both spouses must sign, even if only one spouse had income. Also, make sure the occupation(s) of the taxpayer (or of both spouses, if married filing jointly) is/are entered.

If a taxpayer died before filing a return for 2004, the taxpayer's spouse or personal representative may have to file and sign a return for that taxpayer. A personal representative can be an executor, administrator, or anyone who is in charge of the deceased taxpayer's property. If the deceased taxpayer did not have to file a return but had tax withheld, a return must be filed to get a refund. The person who files the return should enter "DECEASED," the deceased taxpayer's name, and the date of death across the top of the return.

If the taxpayer's spouse died in 2004 and the taxpayer did not remarry in 2004, the taxpayer can file a joint return. (The taxpayer can also file a joint return if his or her spouse dies in 2005 before filing a 2004 return.) A joint return should show the taxpayer's spouse's 2004 income before death and the taxpayer's income for all of 2004. The taxpayer should enter "Filing as surviving spouse" in the area where the taxpayer signs the return. If someone else is the personal representative, he or she must also sign.

The surviving spouse or personal representative should promptly notify all payers of income, including financial institutions, of the taxpayer's death. This will ensure the proper reporting of income earned by the taxpayer's estate or heirs. A deceased taxpayer's social security number should not be used for tax years after the year of death, except for estate tax return purposes.

Third-Party Designee

If the taxpayer wants to allow a friend, family member, or any other person he or she chooses to discuss his or her 2004 tax return with the IRS, the taxpayer should check the “Yes” box in the “Third party designee” area of the return. Also, the taxpayer should enter the designee’s name, phone number, and any five numbers the designee chooses as his or her personal identification number (PIN).

If the taxpayer checks the “Yes” box, he or she, and his or her spouse if filing a joint return, is authorizing the IRS to call the designee to answer any questions that may arise during the processing of the return. The taxpayer is also authorizing the designee to:

- Give the IRS any information that is missing from the return,
- Call the IRS for information about the processing of the return or the status of the taxpayer’s refund or payment(s), and
- Respond to certain IRS notices that the taxpayer has shared with the designee about math errors, offsets, and return preparation. The notices will not be sent to the designee.

The taxpayer is not authorizing the designee to receive any refund check, bind the taxpayer to anything (including any additional tax liability), or otherwise represent the taxpayer before the IRS. If the taxpayer wants to expand the designee’s authorization, he or she should see Publication 947, Practice Before the IRS and Power of Attorney.

The authorization cannot be revoked. However, the authorization will automatically end no later than the due date (without regard to extensions) for filing the taxpayer’s 2005 tax return. This is April 15, 2006, for most people.

As a volunteer preparer you may not be designated as a “Third Party Designee.”

Ending the Interview

Make sure the taxpayer keeps a copy of all Forms W-2 and 1099 with a copy of the tax return. Advise the taxpayer to keep these copies for at least three years. As the volunteer assistor, you should not keep a copy of the return. Listed below is a more detailed list of information to discuss with the taxpayer(s) prior to him/her leaving the site.

If an envelope has been provided for the taxpayer’s records place the copies into it. Advise the taxpayer to bring the tax return and records back next year.

Information to provide Customer prior to their departure from sites.

As a volunteer it is your job to insure that the customers leave the site with all the information they need. You should answer any questions that the customer has and advise them that a copy of their return is not kept at the site.

Here are some suggested items to give your customers:

- 1) Copy of return with attachments and reminder to bring to site next year
- 2) Pub 730 Important Tax Records envelope with the Quality Review Checklist completed

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

The information for the payment section of the return comes from these sources:

- ▶ Federal income tax withheld by the employer, and
- ▶ Forms 1099, and
- ▶ Estimated tax payments paid by the taxpayer (not reported on Form 1040EZ), and
- ▶ Refundable credits.

If the amount owed is $1,000 or more, the taxpayer may have to pay an estimated tax penalty. If there is an overpayment, the taxpayer can take one of the following courses of action:

- ▶ Receive a complete refund,
- ▶ Apply the overpayment to the next year's estimated tax, or
- ▶ Receive a partial refund and apply the remainder of the overpayment to the next year's estimated tax.

Estimated tax payments must be made if a taxpayer:

- ▶ Expects to owe $1,000 or more in tax for 2005 after subtracting income tax withheld and credits,

AND

- ▶ Expects his or her 2005 tax withheld and credits to be less than the smaller of: 90 percent of the tax to be shown on his or her 2005 tax return or, generally, 100 percent of the tax shown on his or her 2004 tax return.

Withholding allowances for employees are reported on Form W-4. Allowances for pension or annuity recipients are reported on Form W-4P. They are figured by taking into account:

- ▶ Expected income
- ▶ Deductions
- ▶ Credits
- ▶ Adjustments to income

To finish the return:

- ▶ Consider the taxpayer's possible eligibility for Advance Earned Income Credit.
- ▶ Complete the taxpayer's identification section after you have finished the rest of the return.
- ▶ Enter the site identification number in the paid preparer's section.
- ▶ Assemble the return correctly, attaching any Forms W-2 and Forms 1099 showing federal income tax withholding.
- ▶ Check each return for completeness and accuracy.
- ▶ Submit each return for on-site quality review.
- ▶ Have the taxpayer(s) sign and date the return.

FINISHING AND FILING THE RETURN

Lesson 7
Military Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

General rules for filing returns may be found in the Basic segment of this lesson. This segment addresses special concerns of members of the Armed Forces and includes information for combat zone participants.

At the end of this lesson you should be able to:

- Determine where and when to file a federal tax return.
- Identify situations in which extensions of time to file are granted and determine the length of these extensions.
- Identify the deadline extension for combat zone participants.

TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION

A member of the Armed Forces should include his or her name, social security number, and permanent home address on his or her return. A member who is due a refund and does not want it mailed to his or her permanent home address should enter a current address on the return. If the postal service does not deliver to the member's street address and the member has a post office box, he or she should enter the post office box number on the line for the present home address. A military person living overseas should use an APO or FPO address.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

If a taxpayer changes his or her mailing address during the year, the taxpayer should notify the Internal Revenue Service of the change on Form 8822, Change of Address. However, if the taxpayer moves after filing a tax return, he or she should fill out and mail Form 8822 to the Internal Revenue Service Center where his or her returns were previously filed. Addresses for the service centers are listed on the back of the form.

WHERE TO FILE

Taxpayers should send their federal returns to the campus for the place where they reside. For example, Sgt. Keene, who is stationed in Maine but whose permanent home address is in California, should send her federal return to the campus in Maine. The tax form instructions give the addresses for the campuses, including the Philadelphia Campus for APO and FPO addresses.

WHEN TO FILE

Most individual tax returns cover a calendar year, January through December. Taxpayers who live in the United States or Puerto Rico and who use the calendar-year period should file their individual tax returns by April 15 of the following year. If April 15 falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the due date is the next business day. (For 2004 tax returns, the due date is April 15, 2005.)

If a taxpayer has a balance due, they can pay by check, money order, direct debit (automatic withdrawal) or credit card. See Form 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ instructions for complete details.

Taxpayers who cannot pay the tax due with their tax return should attach Form 9465, Installment Agreement Request. The Internal Revenue Service will try to arrange an installment payment agreement that reflects the taxpayer's ability to pay the tax owed. However, taxpayers should pay as much as possible with their return to reduce the amount of interest and penalties that will be charged on the unpaid balance.

EXTENSIONS

Taxpayers can receive extensions of time to file their returns. Different rules apply to taxpayers who live in the United States and those who live outside the United States. Deadline extensions are also available to members of the Armed Forces who served in a combat zone and Armed Forces on deployment outside the USA participating in a contingency operations operation.

IRS will charge interest on taxes not paid by the due date, even if an extension of time to file is granted, unless the combat zone extension is applicable.

Within the United States

A taxpayer living in the United States can receive an automatic 4-month extension of time to file his or her federal tax return. To get the automatic extension, the taxpayer must file Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, by the due date for the tax return.

The taxpayer is not required to pay any of the tax due when submitting the form. However, the taxpayer will owe interest on any tax that is owed but not paid by the due date. Interest will be charged from the due date to the date of payment. In addition, the taxpayer may be charged a late-payment penalty if the amount of tax paid before the due date (from withheld taxes or estimated tax payments) is less than 90% of the actual tax owed.

For more details on penalties, refer to filing information in Publication 17.

If Form 4868 is filed late, the request for an extension will be denied. The Internal Revenue Service will inform the taxpayer if the request is denied.

Taxpayers cannot use the automatic extension if they:

- Choose to have the IRS figure their tax, or
- Are under a court order to file their returns by the regular due date.

When the tax return is actually filed, any payment made with the application should be entered in line 68, Form 1040; added to the total on line 43, Form 1040A; or added to the total on line 9, Form 1040EZ.

The taxpayer can request an extension beyond this 4-month period by filing Form 2688, Application for Additional Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, or by letter. Except in undue hardship cases, this additional extension will not be granted unless Form 4868 has been filed first. Form 2688 or the taxpayer's letter will not be considered if filed after the extended due date.

Outside the United States and Puerto Rico

U.S. citizens and resident aliens who are living outside the United States and Puerto Rico on April 15 and whose main place of business or assigned tour of duty is outside the United States and Puerto Rico are allowed an automatic 2-month extension of time until June 15, 2005, to file a 2004 return. However, interest will be charged from the due date to the date the tax is paid.

Note: Traveling outside the United States and Puerto Rico on the due date does not qualify the taxpayer for an automatic 2-month extension.

Taxpayers using this automatic extension must attach a statement to their return stating that they were living outside the United States and Puerto Rico on the due date and that their main place of business or their assigned tour of duty is outside the United States and Puerto Rico.

Joint returns. For married persons who file jointly, only one spouse needs to meet the requirements to take advantage of the automatic extension to June 15.

Separate returns. For married persons who file separately, only the spouse who meets the requirements qualifies for the automatic extension. If both spouses meet the requirements, each may take advantage of the extension.

As discussed earlier, taxpayers who live outside the United States and Puerto Rico and whose main place of business or assigned tour of duty is outside the United States and Puerto Rico can also request an additional extension by filing Form 4868 by the automatic extension date of June 15 or by paying the tax due by credit card by April 15, 2005. The due date will then be extended to August 16. To obtain the additional extension, the taxpayer must file Form 4868 and write “Taxpayer Abroad” in the top margin of the form. If more time is needed, the taxpayer should file Form 2688.

Combat Zone Participants

The deadline for filing tax returns, paying taxes, filing claims for refund, and taking other actions with the IRS is automatically extended for members of the Armed Forces who served in a combat zone, qualified hazardous duty area, or began performing qualifying service outside of a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area. The designation of the combat zone and the combat pay exclusion are described in Lesson 3, Military Segment.

There is also a 180 day extension if the taxpayer serves in the Armed Forces on deployment outside the United States away from your permanent duty station while participating in a contingency operation designated by the Secretary of Defense, the President or Congress. For further information on combat zones see Lesson 16, Tax Options for Combat Zone Participants.

Third-Party Designee. If the taxpayer wants to allow a friend, family member, or any other person he or she chooses to discuss his or her 2004 tax return with the IRS, the taxpayer should check the “Yes” box in the “Third part designee” area if the return. Also, the taxpayer should enter the designee’s name, phone number, and any five numbers the designee chooses as his or her personal identification number (PIN).

If the taxpayer checks the “Yes” box, he or she, and his or her spouse if filing a joint return, is authorizing the IRS to call the designee to answer any questions that may arise during the processing of the return. The taxpayer is also authorizing the designee to:

- Give the IRS any information that is missing from the return,
- Call the IRS for information about the processing of the return or the status of the taxpayer’s refund or payment(s), and
- Respond to certain IRS notices that the taxpayer has shared with the designee about math errors, offsets, and return preparation. The notices will not be sent to the designee.

The taxpayer is not authorizing the designee to receive any refund check, bind the taxpayer to anything (including any additional tax liability), or otherwise represent the taxpayer before the IRS. If the taxpayer wants to expand the designee’s authorization, he or she should see Publication 947, Practice Before the IRS and Power of Attorney.

The authorization cannot be revoked. However, the authorization will automatically end no later than the due date (without regard to extensions) for filing the taxpayer’s 2004 tax return. This is April 15, 2006, for most people.

Power of Attorney. Use Form 2848, Power of Attorney and Declaration of Representative, to grant authority to an individual to represent you before the IRS and to receive tax information. If an individual is acting on behalf of a taxpayer serving in the combat zone and does not have a power of attorney specifying that he/she can handle federal tax matters, the IRS will accept a general power of attorney or other statement signed by the person for whom the individual is acting. The general power of attorney or statement must authorize the individual to act on the other person's behalf even though federal tax matters are not specified. A copy must be attached to the tax return.

Signature. If it is not possible for the spouse of someone serving in the combat zone to obtain that person's signature on a joint return, power of attorney, or other signed authorization to act on his or her behalf, the IRS will accept a written statement explaining that the husband or wife is serving in the combat zone.

The statement must be signed by the spouse filing the tax return and attached to the return.

►► SUMMING UP THIS SEGMENT ◀◀

In this lesson you have learned where members of the Armed Forces should file their returns. You learned when the returns are due for taxpayers who live both inside and outside the United States and Puerto Rico and how extensions of time to file can affect the due date. You have also learned that members of the Armed Forces who served in a combat zone are allowed additional time to file their returns.

1.
 - a. April 15
 - b. June 15 if he attached a statement to his return indicating that he was on an assigned tour of duty in Germany on the due date.
 - c. April 15
2.
 - a. An automatic 2-month extension of time to June 15 and an additional 2-month extension to August 15 (for a total of 4 months).
 - b. Captain Regis can obtain the automatic 2-month extension by attaching a statement to his tax return indicating that he was on an assigned tour of duty outside the United States and Puerto Rico on April 15. If Captain Regis needs an additional extension of time, he should file Form 4868 by the automatic extension date of June 15 and write "Taxpayer Abroad" in the top margin of the form. If he still needs additional time, he should request it before the extended due date of August 15 by filing Form 2688, or by letter.

CREDIT FOR CHILD AND DEPENDENT CARE EXPENSES

NOTES TO INSTRUCTORS Lesson 8

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson covers a very common non-refundable credit — the credit for child and dependent care expenses.

After completing this lesson students should be able to:

- Determine who is eligible for the credit for child and dependent care expenses.
- Calculate the credit, the exclusion, and report the expenses on the correct form.

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

TRAINING MATERIALS AND ON-SITE RESOURCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS publications and forms. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the publications and forms, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form 2441, Child and Dependent Care Expenses
- Schedule 2, Child and Dependent Care Expenses for Form 1040A Filers
- Publication 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage. Direct the student to the tab entitled Child and Dependent Care Credit for this lesson and make sure the student is aware of the content of the tab and how it should be used when assisting taxpayers. For additional technical information about this topic see the applicable chapter of Publication 17, Your Federal Tax (For Individual).

GUIDED QUESTIONS

- 1. How is the amount of work-related expenses eligible for child and dependent care expenses determined? (It is the lowest of: the lower-paid spouse's earnings, the single taxpayer's earnings, the actual expenses paid, or the overall limit of $3,000 a year for one qualifying person or $6,000 a year for two or more qualifying persons.)
- 2. How does dependent care assistance from employers affect the taxpayer's limited eligible expenses? (The overall limit and qualified expenses incurred are reduced, dollar for dollar, by any reimbursement (benefits) excluded from the taxpayer's income.) This also may include the fair market value of the employer provided benefit.

3. Under what circumstances can married taxpayers claim the child and dependent care credit, even though one spouse is not working? (If a nonworking spouse is either a full-time student during any five months of the year, or is incapable of self-care for some period during the year.)
4. What form is used in conjunction with Form 1040 or 1040A to claim the credit for child and dependent care expenses? (Form 2441 or Schedule 2)
5. Is a spouse who is physically or mentally incapable of self-care considered to be a qualifying person for the credit for child and dependent care expenses? (Yes)
6. Is the dollar amount of the child and dependent care credit equal to the qualifying expenses? (No; the credit is a percentage of qualifying expenses.)
7. For which taxpayers do you complete Part III of Schedule 2 or Form 2441? (Taxpayers who received benefits under a dependent care benefits program.)

TEACHING TIPS

1. Remind students to use the flow chart in Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, when determining if a taxpayer qualifies for the credit.
2. On a flip-chart or chalkboard, draw the following graphic organizer that shows the order in which to complete Parts I through III of Schedule 2 or Form 2441. The order is determined by whether the taxpayer received benefits under a dependent care assistance program.

Completing Parts I-III
Dependent Care Benefits	NO Dependent Care Benefits
1. Part I	1. Part I
2. Part III	2. Part II
3. Part II

3. Caution students to include in Part III all dependent care benefits that were reported in box 10 of Form W-2. However, students should NOT include amounts that were reported as wages in box 1 of Form W-2.
4. Advise the students to check and recheck that the name and SSN entered agree with the person's social security card. If, at the time the return is processed the return and SSN do not agree, the credit may be reduced or disallowed. If the qualifying child was born and died in 2004, and did not have an SSN, enter "Died" in column (b) and attach a copy of the person's birth certificate. If the name or SSN on the person's social security card is not correct, the taxpayer will need to contact the Social Security Administration at 1-800-772-1213.

5. Students may question why Exhibit 1 shows $2,000 and not $3,000 as the amount of qualified expenses entered on line 3 of Form 2441, Part II. Point out that Example 7 states that the Fullertons received $1,000 under a dependent care benefits program. Remind students that for taxpayers like the Fullertons, Part III of Form 2441 must be filled out before Part II.
6. Review with students Part III of the Fullertons' Form 2441 (see Exhibit 2). Call attention to the amount of excluded benefits entered on line 23 ($1,000). Make certain that students understand that this amount is not entered on line 3 of Part II.

LESSON REVIEW

1. Remind students to always use Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, when determining eligibility for the credit.
2. A taxpayer must satisfy all six tests to qualify for the credit.
3. The taxpayer must have the name, address, and TIN of the care provider or show due diligence in obtaining the information.
4. Form 2441 and Schedule 2 include new lines due to the expiration of certain rules in the tax code or new rulings. Alert returning students to read the lines carefully before completing the form.
 - a. For tax years beginning in 2004, the credit is limited to the regular tax minus the tentative minimum tax (determined without regard to the alternative minimum tax or foreign tax credit). Lines 10 through 13 were added and all subsequent lines renumbered to reflect this change.
 - b. Part III has been revised to reflect the fact that self-employed taxpayers and partnerships may have dependent care assistance programs, the payments from which are not reported on a Form W-2.

STUDENT NOTES

CREDIT FOR CHILD AND DEPENDENT CARE EXPENSES

Lesson 8

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn about the credit for child and dependent care expenses. This nonrefundable credit is one of the most commonly used credits. The requirements for claiming the credit are the same regardless of the form used. In fact, Form 2441 (used with Form 1040) and Schedule 2 (used with Form 1040A) are virtually identical. In order to qualify for this credit, the taxpayer must satisfy all six tests of eligibility.

Some taxpayers receive employer provided dependent care benefits. Dependent care benefits include amounts the employer paid directly to the taxpayer or to the care provider. These benefits can also include the fair market value of care in a day care facility provided or sponsored by the employer. The taxpayer's salary may have been reduced to pay for these benefits. The employer provided benefits will be reported on Form W-2, Box 10.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Determine who is eligible for the credit for child and dependent care expenses.
- Calculate the credit, the exclusion and report the expenses on the correct form.

QUALIFYING PERSON TEST

The child and dependent care expenses must be for at least one qualifying person.

A qualifying person is:

- A child who was under the age of 13 when the care was provided and for whom a dependency exemption can be claimed. Special rules apply, however, if the parents are divorced or separated (see next page).
- A dependent who was physically or mentally not able to care for himself or herself and for whom a dependency exemption can be claimed (or could be claimed except the person had $3,100 or more of gross income).
- A spouse who was physically or mentally not able to care for himself or herself.

ALERT

Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, contains a flow chart to assist you in determining whether a taxpayer can claim the credit. It also contains the definition of qualifying person and qualified expenses.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Normally, a qualifying person's age is defined as the age on the last day of the year. However, this credit allows a taxpayer to claim child and dependent care expenses up to the day the child turns 13.

Example 1

Jim paid someone to care for his wife, Janet. Janet is physically unable to care for herself. Jim also paid to have someone prepare meals for his 12-year-old daughter, Jill. Both Janet and Jill are qualifying persons for the credit.

Example 2

Bob and Rhonda paid child care expenses for their son, Ronnie. Ronnie turned 13 on July 15. Ronnie is a qualifying person until he reached the age of 13.

Children of Divorced or Separated Parents Exception

If the taxpayer is the custodial parent, he or she can treat the child as a qualifying person for the credit even if he or she cannot claim the child's dependency exemption. If the taxpayer is not the custodial parent, he or she cannot treat the child as a qualifying person for the credit even if he or she can claim the child's dependency exemption.

This exception applies only if all the following are true:

- One or both parents had custody of the child for more than half the year.
- One or both parents provided more than half of the child's support for the year.
- Either
 1. The custodial parent signed Form 8332, Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents, or a similar statement, agreeing not to claim the child's exemption for the year, or
 2. The noncustodial parent provided at least $600 for the child's support and can claim the child's exemption under a pre-1985 decree of divorce or separate maintenance, or written agreement.

Example 3

Amanda is divorced and has custody of her 8-year-old daughter, Carrie. Amanda signed Form 8332 to allow her ex-spouse to claim the dependency exemption for Carrie. In order to work, Amanda paid child care expenses for Carrie. Carrie is a qualifying person for the credit. Amanda can claim the credit for child and dependent care expenses. The ex-spouse cannot claim the credit.

KEEPING UP A HOME TEST

To claim the credit, the taxpayer must pay more than half the cost of keeping up a home for himself or herself and one or more qualifying persons. The cost of keeping up a home normally includes property taxes, mortgage interest, rent, utility charges, home repairs, insurance on the home, and food eaten in the home. Public assistance benefits are funds provided by the state not by the taxpayer.

EARNED INCOME TEST

The taxpayer (and spouse if married) must have earned income during the year. Earned income includes wages, salaries, tips, other taxable employee compensation, net earnings from self-employment, strike benefits, and disability pay reported as wages.

A spouse is treated as having earned income for any month he or she is a full-time student or physically or mentally not able to care for himself or herself. His or her earned income for each month is considered to be at least $250 if there is one qualifying person in the home, or at least $500 if there are two or more qualifying persons in the home. This applies to only one spouse for any one month. If, in the same month, both taxpayers do not work and are either full-time students or physically or mentally not able to care for themselves, only one of them can be treated as having earned income in that month.

A full-time student is defined as enrolled and attending a school for the number of hours or classes the school considers full-time. The taxpayer (or spouse) must be a student for some part of five calendar months during the year.

WORK-RELATED EXPENSE TEST

Child and dependent care expenses must be work related to qualify for the credit. Expenses are considered work related only if both of the following are true:

1. The expenses allow the taxpayer (and spouse if married) to work or look for work and
2. The expenses are for a qualifying person's care.

A spouse is treated as working during any month he or she is a full-time student or is physically or mentally not able to care for himself or herself.

To be work related, the expenses must be to provide care for a qualifying person. Expenses are for the care of a qualifying person only if their main purpose is the person's well being and protection.

Expenses for care do not include amounts paid for food, clothing, education, and entertainment. However, small amounts paid for these items can be included if they are incident to and cannot be separated from the cost of care.

Education. Expenses to attend first grade or a higher grade are not expenses for care.

Example 4

A taxpayer takes their 3-year-old child to a nursery school that provides lunch and educational activities as a part of its preschool child-care service. The total cost can be counted to figure the credit.

Example 5

A taxpayer places his/her 10-year-old child in a boarding school so he/she can work full-time. Only the part of the boarding school expense that is for the care of the child is a work related expense and only if it can be separated from the cost of education. The taxpayer cannot count any part of the amount paid for the child's education.

Camp. The cost of sending a child to an overnight camp is not considered a work-related expense.

Payments to relatives. Do not count amounts paid to:

1. A dependent for whom the taxpayer (or spouse if married) can claim as an exemption, or
2. The taxpayer's child who is under age 19 at the end of the year, even if he or she is not the taxpayer's dependent

JOINT RETURN TEST

Generally, a married couple must file a joint return to take the credit. However, if the taxpayer is legally separated or living apart from his or her spouse, the taxpayer may be able to file a separate return and still take the credit.

If the taxpayer's filing status is married filing separately and all of the following apply, the taxpayer is considered unmarried for purposes of figuring the credit:

1. The taxpayer lived apart from his or her spouse during the last six months of the year, and
2. The qualifying person lived in the taxpayer's home for more than half of the year, and
3. The taxpayer provided over half the cost of keeping up the home, and
4. The taxpayer met the other five tests for eligibility to take the credit.

PROVIDER IDENTIFICATION TEST

The taxpayer must provide the care provider's name, address, and taxpayer identification number. If the taxpayer is unable to provide this information or if the information is incorrect, he or she must show they used due diligence to obtain the information.

Due Diligence. The taxpayer can show due diligence by getting and keeping any of the following documents:

1. Form W-10, Dependent Care Provider's Identification and Certification.
2. Copy of the provider's social security card.
3. Copy of the provider's driver's license if it includes the social security number.
4. A copy of the provider's Form W-4 if the provider is the taxpayer's household employee.
5. A copy of the statement furnished by the taxpayer's employer if the provider is a dependent care plan.
6. A letter or invoice from the provider if it shows the name, address, and taxpayer identification number (EIN or SSN).

Provider Refusal. If the care provider refuses to give the taxpayer the identifying information, report whatever information is available, enter "see page 2" for the missing information, and provide a statement at the bottom of page 2 of Form 2441 or Schedule 2.

LIMIT ON EXPENSES

The amount of expenses eligible for the credit is limited to the lowest of the following amounts for the year.

- The lower paid spouse's earned income (in the case of married taxpayers).
- The single taxpayer's earned income.
- The actual expenses paid.
- The overall limit of $3,000 for one qualifying person or $6,000 for two or more qualifying persons.

Example 6

Mark earned $14,000. His wife, Evelyn, earned $5,600. Daycare expenses for their three-year-old daughter were $2,200. The maximum amount of qualifying child care expenses is $2,200. This is the lowest of:

- The lower paid spouse's earnings ($5,600),
- The amount actually paid ($2,200), and
- The overall limit for one qualifying person ($3,000).

Some taxpayers receive dependent care benefits from their employers. If so, the overall limit of $3,000/$6,000 is reduced, dollar for dollar, by any reimbursement excluded from the taxpayer's income. The amount of dependent care benefits received is shown in box 10 of Form W-2.

Example 7

Geraldine has one dependent child, Donald, who is 6 years old. She paid $2,900 in qualified expenses. Box 10 of Geraldine's Form W-2 shows she received $1,400 during the year from her employer's dependent care assistance program. Because she received dependent care benefits, Part III of Form 2441 must be completed before completing Part II.

Nonworking Spouse

Married taxpayers usually must both work in order to claim the credit. However, if a spouse is either a full-time student during any five months of the year, or is not capable of caring for himself or herself for some period during the year, a credit can still be claimed. To figure the credit, the earned income for each month the spouse is either a full-time student or disabled is considered to be at least:

- $250 with one qualifying person in the home, or
- $500 with two or more qualifying persons in the home.

Example 8

Janice worked full time. Her husband, Ken, was a full-time student from January through May. Their son, Jason, was in daycare while Ken attended school. Ken's earned income for the time he attended school is considered to be $1,250 (5 months \times $250).

Exercise 1

- A. Karen earned $18,000. She paid $3,200 for child care expenses for her four-year-old daughter, Crystal. What is the maximum amount of child care expenses Karen can claim? _____
- B. Andrea is married to Bill. They have a seven-year-old son, Charles. Charles lived with Andrea for the entire year. Andrea paid all the expenses of keeping up the home for herself and Charles. Andrea also paid for before-school and after-school child care. Her total child care expenses were $1,800. Bill left the area 18 months ago. He did not live with Andrea at all during 2004, but he did send $1,200 in child support. Andrea and Bill will file separate returns. Andrea signed Form 8332 to allow Bill to claim the dependency exemption for Charles. Who can claim the credit for child and dependent care expenses? _____
- C. Ellen is divorced. She has custody of her 12-year-old daughter, Terri. Terri takes care of herself after school. In the summer, Ellen spends $2,000 to send Terri to a two week long overnight camp. Are the camp expenses qualified expenses for the credit for child and dependent care credit? _____

FIGURING THE CREDIT

The credit is a percentage of qualifying expenses. For taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes of $15,000 or less, the credit is 35 percent of qualifying expenses. As adjusted gross income increases, the percentage decreases. The lowest percentage is 20 percent for an AGI equal to or greater than $43,000. There is no upper limitation on income for this credit. The tables on Schedule 2 (Form 1040A) and on Form 2441 (Form 1040) show the percentage for each adjusted gross income bracket. After the credit is figured using Form 2441 or Schedule 2, it is reported on Form 1040, line 46, or Form 1040A, line 29.

Example 9

David A. and Edith B. Fullerton are married and file a joint return. Last year, they paid $3,500 for the care of their son, Jonathan. The payment was made to Karen's Kiddie Care, 456 Chapman Avenue, Your City, State, and Zip Code (EIN xx-xxxxxxx). The $3,500 payment includes a $1,000 dependent care benefit Edith received from her employer. This benefit was reported on Edith's Form W-2, Box 10. Edith earned $18,979 and David earned $20,450 last year. Their adjusted gross income is $39,429 and their tax liability is $2,349.

Exhibits 1 and 2 show the completed Form 2441 (Form 1040) for David and Edith.

Exercise 2

Sam L. (xxx-xx-xxxx) and Sue D. Windham are married and will file a joint return. They have two dependent children whom they send to day-care to allow both parents to work. Sam's earned income is $18,500 and Sue's earned income is $19,350. Their AGI (Form 1040, line 36) is $37,850 and their tax liability (Form 1040, line 43) is $1,651.

During 2004, they paid The Learning Center (496 Irvine Road, Your City, State, and Zip Code, EIN xx-xxxxxxx) $5,450 to care for their children. The Windhams paid $2,950 of the total and Sue's employer paid $2,500 under a dependent care benefits program. The $2,500 is in Box 10 of Sue's Form W-2.

The children and the amounts paid for child care are as follows:

Doug	SSN xxx-xx-xxxx	$3,000	$1,250 dependent care benefit
Sally	SSN xxx-xx-xxxx	$2,450	$1,250 dependent care benefit

Complete their Form 1040, Form 2441 (Exhibits 3 and 4).

TAXWISE HINTS

Use the flow charts in Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, to determine credit eligibility. For each qualifying child, check the "DC" box on the Main Information Sheet, Dependents/ Non-dependents box. TaxWise will add a Form 2441 or Schedule 2 to the forms tree. Complete all entries annotated in red. TaxWise will then calculate any exclusion amounts, calculate the credit, complete the form and insert the credit amount on Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

The credit for child and dependent care expenses is a nonrefundable credit which allows a taxpayer to reduce their tax liability for a portion of the expenses.

A taxpayer must satisfy the six tests to qualify for the credit. The tests are the qualifying person test; the keeping up a home test; the earned income test; the work-related expense test; the joint return test; and the provider identification test.

The credit is calculated and reported on Form 2441 (Form 1040) or Schedule 2 (Form 1040A).

STUDENT NOTES

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will explain the Hope scholarship credit and the lifetime learning credit. Since tax year 2002, taxpayers have had the option of claiming an above the line deduction for qualified tuition and fees. Depending on the taxpayer's income and corresponding tax bracket, it may be more beneficial to take this adjustment to income rather than the nonrefundable tax credit. Students may not completely understand this concept.

After completing this lesson students should be able to:

- Calculate the Hope credit on Form 8863.
- Calculate the lifetime learning credit on Form 8863.

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

TRAINING MATERIALS AND ON-SITE RESOURCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS publications and forms. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the publication or form, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form 8863, Education Credits (Hope and Lifetime Learning Credits)
- Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Education
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage. Direct the student to the tab entitled Child and Dependent Care Credit for this lesson and make sure the student is aware of the content of the tab and how it should be used when assisting taxpayers. For additional technical information about this topic see the applicable chapter of Publication 17, Your Federal Tax (For Individual).

GUIDED QUESTIONS

1. Can a taxpayer claim both the Hope and lifetime learning credit for an eligible student? (No.)
2. What form is used to claim the Hope credit or the lifetime learning credit? (Form 8863)

TEACHING TIPS

1. Remind students that if a student is claimed as a dependent by the parent or another taxpayer, the eligible student is not entitled to claim a HOPE credit on his or her tax return.
2. Remind students to use the education credits table in Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, when determining if a taxpayer qualifies for one of the credits.

LESSON REVIEW

1. The Hope and lifetime learning credits are nonrefundable credits that allow a taxpayer to claim all or a portion of qualified tuition and related expenses paid for post-secondary education.
2. Remind students to always complete a taxpayers return twice: once using the tuition and fees deduction and once using the education credits. This will ensure the taxpayer takes maximum advantage of the deduction or credit.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

For tax year 2004, there are nine different tax benefits for higher education. Some of these benefits are not taxed (i.e., Coverdell education savings account, qualified tuition program, early IRA withdrawals, employer provided educational assistance and education savings bond programs). The student loan interest deduction and tuition and fees deduction were covered in Lesson 4, Adjustments. In this lesson you will learn about the two education credits: Hope credit and the lifetime learning credit.

After completing this lesson, you should be able to:

- Calculate the Hope credit on Form 8863.
- Calculate the lifetime learning credit on Form 8863.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

Taxpayers can claim the Hope Scholarship Credit (Hope credit) and the Lifetime Learning Credit for higher education expenses paid in 2004 for an eligible student. Both credits are nonrefundable and can be claimed on either Form 1040 or Form 1040A. These two credits are also called education credits.

To claim either of the education credits the taxpayer must:

- File using any filing status other than married filing separately,
- Meet all of the general requirements,
- Meet all of the specific requirements for the individual credit, and
- Meet the income limits.

The general requirements provide that the taxpayer must have incurred qualified expenses for an eligible student to attend an eligible educational institution during the tax year.

ALERT

Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, contains an Education Credits table to assist you in determining eligibility for the credits.

Qualified Expenses

The Hope credit and the lifetime learning credit are based on qualified tuition and related expenses the taxpayer pays for himself or herself, the taxpayer's spouse, or dependents the taxpayer claims on his or her tax return.

Qualified tuition and related expenses are tuition and fees required for enrollment or attendance at an eligible educational institution and generally include fees for:

- Course-related books, supplies and equipment, and
- Student activities.

The fees must be paid to the institution as a condition of enrollment or attendance.

Qualified tuition and related expenses do not include the cost of:

- Insurance,
- Medical expenses (including student health fees),
- Room and board,
- Transportation or similar personal, living, or family expenses, even if the fees must be paid to the institution as a condition of enrollment or attendance.

When considering qualified tuition and related expenses for the Hope credit, the cost of courses for athletics, sports, games, hobbies or noncredit courses are not used unless the course is part of the student's degree program. However, when computing the qualified tuition and related expenses for the lifetime learning credit, these types of expenses are includible if the course was taken to acquire or improve the job skills of the student.

If a taxpayer prepaid qualified tuition and related expenses for an academic period that begins in the first three months of the following year, he or she can use the prepaid amount in figuring the credit.

Example 1

Thomas pays $1,500 in December 2004 for qualified tuition for the winter semester that begins in January 2005. He can use the $1,500 paid in December of 2004 to compute his credit for 2004.

Payments with borrowed funds.

Taxpayers can claim the Hope credit and lifetime learning credit for qualified tuition and related expenses paid with the proceeds of a loan. Use the expenses to figure the credit for the year in which the expenses are paid, not the year in which the loan is repaid.

Eligible Student

The taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or the taxpayer's dependent (for whom the taxpayer claims a dependency exemption) can be an eligible student.

In addition, for the Hope credit, the student must be:

- Enrolled in a program that leads to a degree, certificate or other recognized educational credential.
- Taking at least one-half of the normal full-time workload for his or her course of study for at least one academic period beginning during the calendar year.
- Enrolled for one of the first two years of his or her postsecondary education.
- Free of any felony conviction for possessing or distributing a controlled substance.

WHO CAN CLAIM EXPENSES?

The taxpayer must claim a dependent exemption for the eligible student in order to claim an education credit. Either the taxpayer or the dependent, but not both, can claim an education credit for that dependent's higher education expenses.

If the taxpayer...	Then only...
Claims an exemption on the tax return for a dependent who is an eligible student	The taxpayer can claim the Hope or lifetime learning credit based on that student's expenses. The student cannot claim the credit.
Does not claim an exemption for a dependent who is an eligible student (even if entitled to the exemption)	The student can claim the Hope or lifetime learning credit. The taxpayer cannot claim the student's expenses.

If someone other than the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or the dependent (such as a relative or former spouse) makes a payment directly to the eligible educational institution to pay for qualified tuition and related expenses, the student is treated as receiving the payment from the other person. The student is considered to have paid the qualified tuition and related expenses to the eligible institution. If the taxpayer claims an exemption for the student, the taxpayer is considered to have paid the expenses. If the taxpayer does not claim a dependent exemption for the student, the student may claim the credit.

Example 2

Mary Birch paid her grandson, Todd's, tuition for 2004 directly to the university. For purposes of claiming the Hope credit, her grandson is treated as receiving the money as a gift and in turn paying his qualified tuition and related expenses himself. Unless an exemption for Todd is claimed on someone else's return, only Todd can use the payment to claim the Hope credit. If Todd's parents claim his exemption, they may be able to use the expenses to claim the Hope credit. If anyone else claims an exemption for Todd, Todd cannot claim a Hope credit.

Eligible Educational Institution

An eligible educational institution is generally any accredited public, nonprofit, or proprietary (private) postsecondary institution eligible to participate in the student aid programs administered by the Department of Education. Most universities and colleges, including community colleges, meet these requirements.

Income Requirements

The Hope credit and the lifetime learning credit are phased out (gradually reduced) if the taxpayer's modified AGI is over $42,000 (over $85,000 if married filing jointly). If a taxpayer's modified AGI is $52,000 or more ($105,000 or more if married filing jointly), no credit is allowed. Education credits are not allowed to persons who are married filing separately.

Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI)

For most taxpayers, modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) is adjusted gross income (AGI) as figured on their federal income tax return. MAGI when using Form 1040A is the AGI on line 22 of that form. MAGI when using Form 1040 is the AGI on line 36 of that form, modified by adding back any:

- 1) Foreign earned income exclusion
- 2) Foreign housing exclusion
- 3) Exclusion of income for bona fide residents of America Samoa, and
- 4) Exclusion of income from Puerto Rico.

HOPE CREDIT

A Hope credit can be claimed for each eligible student that is claimed on the taxpayer's return.

Credit Amounts

The Hope credit is figured on Form 8863, Education Credits (Hope and Lifetime Learning Credits). The maximum Hope credit is $1,500 per student for each of the first two taxable years of his or her postsecondary education. For each eligible student who qualifies for the Hope credit:

- If the expenses are $1,000 or less, the credit is the amount of the expenses,
- If the expenses are $2,000 or more, the credit is $1,500, and
- If the expenses are between $1,000 and $2,000, the credit is $1,000 plus one-half of the expenses over $1,000. For example, if the expenses are $1,500, the credit is $1,250 ($1,000 plus one-half of $500).

Example 3

Sue and Ted Marshall paid $7,000 in qualified tuition and fees for their daughter, Mary, to attend the local university. They determined it would be more beneficial for them to take the Hope Credit rather than the Tuition and Fees Deduction. Their AGI and MAGI is $35,000 and their tax liability on Form 1040, Line 43, is $1,689. Their Form 8863 is shown in Exhibit 1.

LIFETIME LEARNING CREDIT

The lifetime learning credit is based on the total qualified education expenses paid by the taxpayer and not on the number of eligible students. Education expenses are qualified for the lifetime learning credit if they are:

- For courses taken as part of a postsecondary degree program, or
- For courses that are not part of a postsecondary degree program, but that are taken to improve or acquire job skills.

Example 4

Samantha, a professional photographer, enrolls in an advanced photography course at a local community college. Although the course is not part of a degree program, she enrolls in it to improve her job skills. The course fee paid by Samantha is considered qualified tuition for the purpose of claiming the lifetime learning credit.

Example 5

Cleve, an engineer, plans to vacation in Europe next year. In preparation for the trip, he enrolls in a noncredit photography class at a local community college. Because Cleve is not taking the course as part of a degree program or to acquire or improve his job skills, the cost of the course is not a qualifying expense for claiming the lifetime learning credit.

Credit amounts

The lifetime learning credit is also figured on Form 8863. The maximum amount of the credit is $2,000 per taxpayer for all eligible students. The credit amount is figured by multiplying total qualified educational expenses, up to $10,000, by 20%.

Example 6

Judy Hood is single and took a course at the local college to recertify her to teach in public schools. Her qualified tuition expenses were $500. She chooses to take the lifetime learning credit rather than the Tuition and Fees Deduction. Her AGI and MAGI is $29,524 and her tax liability on Form 1040, Line 43, is $2,879. Her completed Form 8863 is shown in Exhibit 2.

No DOUBLE BENEFITS

A taxpayer cannot:

- Deduct higher education expenses and claim a credit based on those same expenses (as, for example, a business expense),
- Claim an education credit in the same year as a tuition and fees deduction is claimed for the same student,
- Claim a Hope credit and a lifetime learning credit based on the same qualified education expenses,
- Claim an education credit based on the expenses used to figure the tax-free portion of a distribution from a Coverdell ESA or qualified tuition program (QTP),
- Claim a credit based on qualified education expenses paid with a tax-free scholarship, grant, or employer-provided educational assistance.

However, a taxpayer can claim a credit based on expenses paid with the eligible student's earnings, loans, gifts, inheritances, or personal savings.

An eligible student cannot claim an education credit if he or she is claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's tax return. Any amounts paid by the student are considered paid by the taxpayer who claims the student as a dependent.

The following table summarizes the differences between the credits.

Table: Comparison of Education Credits

Hope Credit	Lifetime Learning Credit
Up to $1,500 credit per eligible student	Up to $2,000 credit per return
Available only until the first 2 years of postsecondary education are completed	Available for all years of postsecondary education and for courses to acquire or improve job skills
Available only for 2 years per eligible student	Available for an unlimited number of years
Student must be pursuing an undergraduate degree or other recognized education credential	Student does not need to be pursuing a degree or other recognized education credential
Student must be enrolled at least half time for at least one academic period during the year	Available for one or more courses
No felony drug conviction on student's record	Felony drug conviction rule does not apply

Adjustments to Qualified Expenses

Tax-free educational assistance can include the following:

- Scholarships,
- Pell grants,
- Employer-provided educational assistance,

- Veteran’s educational assistance, and
Any other nontaxable payments (other than gifts, bequests, or inheritances) received for education expenses.

If the taxpayer paid qualified tuition expenses with these tax-free funds, a credit cannot be claimed for these amounts. Qualified expenses must be reduced by the amount of any tax-free educational assistance received.

Example 7

In 2004, Jackie paid $3,000 for tuition and $5,000 for room and board at her local university. To help pay these costs, she was awarded a $2,000 scholarship and a $4,000 student loan.

The scholarship is a qualified scholarship that is excludable from Jackie’s income. For purposes of the education credit, she must first use the scholarship to reduce her tuition (her only qualified expense). The student loan is not considered tax-free educational assistance so she does not use it to reduce the qualified expenses. Therefore, Jackie is treated as having paid only $1,000 in qualified expenses ($3,000 tuition - $2,000 scholarship).

Refunds

Qualified tuition and related expenses do not include expenses for which the taxpayer received a refund. If the refund or tax-free assistance is received in the same year in which the expenses were paid or in the following year before the tax return is filed, reduce the qualified expenses by the amount received and figure the education credits using the reduced amount of qualified expenses.

If the refund or tax-free assistance is received after the tax return is filed for the year in which the expenses were paid, figure the amount by which the education credits would have been reduced if the refund or tax-free assistance had been received in the year for which the education credits were claimed. Include that amount as an additional tax for the year the refund or tax-free assistance was received. For 2004, enter the amount and “ECR” (Education Credit Repayment) on line 43.

Example 8

Sally paid $2,250 tuition on December 26, 2003, for her daughter who began college on January 16, 2004. She filed her 2003 tax return on February 12, 2004, and claimed a Hope credit of $1,500. After Sally filed her return, her daughter dropped two courses but maintained one-half of a full-time workload. Sally received a refund of $750. She must refigure her 2003 Hope credit using $1,500 of qualified expenses instead of $2,250. The refigured credit is $1,250. She must include the difference of $250 on line 43 of her 2004 Form 1040 and annotate next to the line: $250 ECR.

Exercise 1

Bruce (SSN xxx-xx-xxxx) and Toni Endicott are married and file a joint tax return. For 2004, their modified AGI ($49,065) is the same as their AGI. They completed Form 1040 through line 44. Their tax amount on Line 43 is $3,796. Toni is attending the local community college part-time to earn credits toward an associate degree in nursing. She paid $2,500 in tuition and fees. Their son, Ben, is a full time freshman at the state university. Bruce and Toni paid $8,000 in tuition and fees for Ben in 2004. They choose to take the lifetime learning credit for Toni and the Hope credit for Ben. They will claim no other credits. Toni's SSN is xxx-xx-xxxx. Ben's SSN is xxx-xx-xxxx. Complete their Form 8863 at Exhibit 3.

TaxWise Hints

To input qualified tuition expenses and prepare a Form 8863 using TaxWise, link from Form 1040, line 48, to select Form 8863, enter the student's name in either the Hope credit section or the lifetime learning credit section and complete all the entries annotated in red. TaxWise will automatically complete the form and carry the mathematical calculations to the Form 1040.

►► SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

The Hope and lifetime learning credits are nonrefundable credits that allow a taxpayers to claim all or a portion of qualified tuition and related expenses paid for post-secondary education.

Generally, taxpayers can claim the Hope or lifetime learning credit if they pay qualified tuition and related expenses to an eligible higher education institution for an eligible student who is either the taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse, or a dependent whom the taxpayer can claim an exemption on his or her tax return.

A taxpayer cannot:

- ▶ Deduct higher education expenses on his or her tax return and also claim a Hope or lifetime learning credit based on those same expenses,
- ▶ Claim a Hope credit and a lifetime learning credit based on the same qualified education expenses, or
- ▶ Claim a credit based on expenses paid with tax-free scholarship, grant, or employer-provided educational assistance.

The Hope and lifetime learning credits are claimed on Form 8863 which can be filed with either Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

STUDENT NOTES

EARNED INCOME CREDIT NOTES TO INSTRUCTORS Lesson 10

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn about the earned income credit. This is a refundable credit, and eligible taxpayers can receive a refund of this credit even if they owe no tax and had no income tax withheld. The taxpayer must file a tax return to receive the credit. Approximately 2 to 2½ hours should be devoted to covering the objectives of this lesson. See the Suggested Class Schedules in Appendix B for additional information.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Determine which taxpayers are eligible for the earned income credit.
- Determine when a taxpayer has a qualifying child for the EIC.
- Calculate and report the credit using the EIC worksheet.
- Explain how to request advanced earned income credit (AEIC).
- Report AEIC on the tax return.

TRAINING MATERIALS AND ON-SITE RESOURCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS forms and worksheets. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the forms and worksheets, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form 1040A
- Schedule EIC
- EIC Worksheets (Form 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ)
- EIC Eligibility Questions (Form 1040, 1040A and Form 1040EZ)
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage. Direct the student to the tab entitled Earned Income Credit (EIC) for this lesson and make sure the student is aware of the content of the tab and how it should be used when assisting taxpayers. For additional technical information about this topic see the applicable chapter of Publication 17, Your Federal Tax (For Individual).

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

- Publication 596, Earned Income Tax Credit
- EIC Tables, Appendix C

GUIDED QUESTION – WHO CAN CLAIM THE CREDIT WITH A QUALIFYING CHILD

1. For purposes of the earned income credit, when can a person age 19 or older be a qualifying child? (Both full-time students under age 24 and permanently and totally disabled individuals of any age can be qualifying children.)

GUIDED QUESTIONS – DETERMINING ELIGIBILITY AND FIGURING THE CREDIT

1. On which worksheet is the earned income credit figured? EIC Worksheet. Remind students that there are two versions for 1040 filers and that the instructions at the top of those worksheets indicate which worksheet to use for the taxpayer that they are assisting. Additionally, remind students that the eligibility questions should be completed before figuring the earned income credit on the EIC worksheet.
2. What is the function of the earned income credit table? The EIC Table is used to determine the amount of the earned income credit.
3. Is the earned income credit adjusted for the number of qualifying children? Yes

GUIDED QUESTIONS – SCHEDULE EIC FOR QUALIFYING CHILD(REN)

1. How many qualifying children can a taxpayer list on line 1 of Schedule EIC? Only two qualifying children can be listed.
2. Explain the income limits for the earned income credit. The taxpayer cannot take the EIC if his or her earned income and adjusted gross income is more than:
 - $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly) with two or more qualifying children,
 - $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly) with one qualifying child, or
 - $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly) with no qualifying children.

TEACHING TIPS – GENERAL EIC REQUIREMENTS

1. Remind students that the earned income credit depends on the taxpayer's earned, adjusted gross income, filing status, income and number of qualifying children.
2. Caution students that they should not count children who are not qualifying children.
3. Remind students to use the correct column in the EIC Table for the number of qualifying children and filing status.

TEACHING TIP – WHO CAN CLAIM THE CREDIT – WITH A QUALIFYING CHILD

1. Remind the students to use the eligibility worksheets for Forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ to determine eligibility for EIC.

TEACHING TIPS – EXERCISE 1 – EIC ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

1. You may wish to use question C of Exercise 1 to reinforce the requirements that an individual must meet in order to be considered a qualifying child for purposes of the earned income credit. Ask students to determine whether Jimmy and Anna are qualifying children for Randy and/or Cara.
2. After students determine that both are qualifying children of each parent, remind students that although an individual may be a qualifying child of more than one taxpayer, only one taxpayer can claim the credit on the basis of that child.

TEACHING TIP – SCHEDULE EIC FOR QUALIFYING CHILD(REN)

1. Direct students' attention to line 4(a) of Schedule EIC.

A child qualifies as a student if he or she was enrolled as a student at a school during any five months of 2004 or took a full-time, on-farm training course during any five months of 2004. For purposes of the earned income credit, "school" includes technical, trade, and mechanical schools, but does not include on-the-job training courses or correspondence schools.

TEACHING TIP – ADVANCE EARNED INCOME CREDIT (AEIC) PAYMENTS

1. Taxpayers who qualify for the earned income credit may ask employers how to receive advance earned income credit payments. Taxpayers must fill out Form W-5, Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate. Individuals who have more than one employer must give the form to only one employer. If a taxpayer has a spouse who works, the spouse can also give a form to one employer.

If a taxpayer's status changes during the year, making him or her ineligible to receive the advance earned income credit payments, he or she is required to complete a new Form W-5.

Also, should a taxpayer receive advance earned income credit payments and later discovers that he or she does not qualify for the credit, the taxpayer will have to pay it back when filing Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

ALERT

Caution students that a new Form W-5 must be completed each year.

INTERVIEW TIPS FOR VOLUNTEER ASSISTORS

To assist volunteers in asking the right questions, interview tips are included in this lesson. The use of probes and reference material will be stressed to arrive at a quality return. Interview tips have been developed as a dialogue between a volunteer and a taxpayer to assist the volunteer in preparing an accurate and quality return.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson we will learn about the earned income credit (EIC) or earned income tax credit (EITC).

The EIC is a refundable tax credit for most people who work, but do not earn high incomes. Those who qualify can reduce their federal tax liability, potentially receiving a refund.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Determine which taxpayers are eligible for the earned income credit.
- Determine when a taxpayer has a qualifying child for the EIC.
- Calculate and report the credit using the EIC worksheet.
- Explain how to request advance earned income credit (AEIC) payments.
- Report AEIC on the tax return.

GENERAL EIC REQUIREMENTS

Eligible taxpayers can receive a refund of this credit even if they owe no tax and had no income tax withheld. The taxpayer (and spouse, if filing a joint return) must meet certain eligibility rules and file a tax return, even if the taxpayer is not otherwise required to file a tax return. For tax year 2004 the maximum credit is:

Two or more qualifying children	$4,300
One qualifying child	$2,604
No children	$ 390

To be eligible for a full or partial credit, the taxpayer cannot have investment income of more than $2,650. The taxpayer must have earned income of at least $1. Earned income and adjusted gross income must each be less than the limitation amounts discussed later.

ALERT

Use the EIC decision tree or EIC Critical Interview Questions, in Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, to determine if the taxpayer qualifies for EIC.

WHO CAN CLAIM THE EIC – GENERAL ELIGIBILITY RULES

All taxpayers claiming the EIC:

1. Earned income and adjusted gross income (AGI) must each be less than:

- $34,458 ($35,458 married filing jointly) with two or more qualifying children;
- $30,338 ($31,338 married filing jointly) with one qualifying child;
- $11,490 ($12,490 married filing jointly) with no qualifying children.

AGI is the amount on line 4 of Form 1040EZ, line 22 of Form 1040A, or line 37 of Form 1040.

2. Must have a valid Social Security Number (SSN):

SSNs are required for the taxpayer (and spouse, if filing jointly) and any qualifying children (discussed later) listed on Schedule EIC. The Social Security Administration issues SSNs to U.S. Citizens and to certain aliens.

If a Social Security card has the “Not Valid for Employment” imprint and the cardholder obtained the SSN to get a federally funded benefit, such as Medicaid, the SSN is not valid for EIC purposes.

3. Filing status cannot be married filing separately:

To qualify for the credit, the taxpayer must file as single, married filing a joint return, head of household, or qualifying widow(er) with dependent child.

4. Must be a U.S. citizen or resident alien for the entire year:

There are three types of aliens for tax purposes: nonresident, dual-status, and resident. Dual-status and resident aliens are taxed as U.S. citizens. Taxpayers claiming the EIC must be a U.S. citizen or resident alien all year, or a nonresident alien married to a U.S. citizen or resident alien and filing a joint return.

5. Must not file Form 2555 or 2555-EZ:

To qualify for the EIC, taxpayers must not exclude from gross income any income earned in foreign countries, or deduct or exclude a foreign housing amount.

6. Must meet the investment income limitation:

Investment income (such as interest from savings or tax-exempt bonds, dividends, etc.) must be $2,650 or less for the tax year.

ALERT

Confirm, by inspection, that the taxpayer (and spouse, if filing jointly) and any qualifying children have valid Social Security Cards.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

If the taxpayer's filing status is married filing separately, the taxpayer cannot claim the earned income credit.

ALERT

If the taxpayer chooses to be treated as a resident alien for the entire year, the taxpayer and spouse are taxed on their worldwide income.

7. Must have earned income:

Taxpayers must work full- or part-time and have earned income during the tax year. The income must be from employment or self-employment. If married and filing jointly, at least one spouse must work and have earned income. Earned income is discussed in detail later.

8. Cannot be the qualifying child of another person. In the case of a joint return, neither the taxpayer nor the spouse can be a qualifying child of another person. The taxpayer is a qualifying child of another person (the taxpayer's parent, guardian, foster parent, etc.) if all the following statements are true:

- a. Relationship: The taxpayer is the other person's son, daughter, stepson, stepdaughter, or a descendant of any of them. Or, the taxpayer is the other person's brother, sister, stepbrother, or stepsister, or a descendant of any of them, and that person cared for the taxpayer as his or her own child. Or, the taxpayer is the other person's eligible foster child (placed with the other person by an authorized placement agency, and that person cared for the taxpayer as his or her own child.)
- b. Age: On December 31st, the taxpayer was under age 19, or under age 24 and a full-time student, or any age and permanently and totally disabled at any time during the year.
- c. Residency: The taxpayer lived with that person in the United States for more than half of the year.

If the taxpayer (or spouse, if filing a joint return) is a qualifying child of another person, the taxpayer cannot claim the EIC.

INVESTMENT AND EARNED INCOME

Investment Income

Taxpayers whose investment income is more than $2,650 cannot claim the EIC. Investment income includes:

1. Taxable interest
2. Tax-exempt interest
3. Ordinary dividends
4. Capital gain net income
5. Certain net income from rents and royalties. (Beyond the scope of VITA/TCE)
6. Net income from passive activities. (Beyond the scope of VITA/TCE)

Earned Income

To be eligible for a full or partial credit, the taxpayer must have earned income of at least $1 but less than:

- $34,458 ($35,458 married filing jointly) with two or more qualifying children;
- $30,338 ($31,338 married filing jointly) with one qualifying child;
- $11,490 ($12,490 married filing jointly) with no qualifying children.

Earned income is wages, salaries, tips and other employee compensation, but only if the amounts are includible in gross income; plus net earnings from self-employment. Table 10-1, next page, provides examples of what to include and what not to include as earned income in computing the earned income credit.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Earnings while in prison are not considered earned income.

Notes:

Earnings while an inmate. Amounts received for work performed while an inmate in a penal institution are not considered earned income for purposes of the earned income credit. Enter “PRI” and the amount of the income earned while an inmate next to line 7 (Form 1040 or 1040A) or line 1 (Form 1040EZ). This income is still considered taxable for purposes of determining the taxpayer’s federal income tax.

Earnings while a household employee. If the taxpayer was a household employee who did not receive a Form W-2 because he or she was paid less than $1,400, the income must still be included on line 7 (Form 1040A or 1040) or line 1 (Form 1040EZ). Enter “HSH” and the amount not reported on Form W-2 next to line 7 (Form 1040A or 1040) or Line 1 (Form 1040EZ).

Disability benefits. If a taxpayer retires on disability, benefits received under his or her employer’s disability retirement plan are considered earned income until the taxpayer reaches minimum retirement age. Minimum retirement age generally is the earliest age at which the taxpayer can receive a pension or annuity if not disabled. Taxpayers must report their taxable disability payments on line 7 of either Form 1040 or Form 1040A until they reach minimum retirement age (See Pension, Lesson 14).

Beginning on the day after a taxpayer reaches minimum retirement age, payments the taxpayer receives are taxable as a pension and are not considered earned income. Report taxable pension payments on Form 1040, lines 16a and 16b, or Form 1040A, lines 12a and 12b.

Disability Insurance Payments. Payments taxpayers receive from a disability insurance policy for which they paid the premiums are not earned income. It does not matter whether they have reached minimum retirement age. If this policy is through their employer, the amount may be shown in box 12 of their Form W-2 with code “J.”

ALERT

Disability payments received before a taxpayer reaches minimum retirement age is considered earned income.

Examples of Earned Income for the EIC

To qualify for the EIC, taxpayers must work full- or part-time and have earned income during the tax year. If married and filing jointly, at least one spouse must work and have earned income. Earned income includes all taxable income gained from working as an employee and net earnings from self-employment. Nontaxable income generally does not count as earned income. (See Table 10-1)

Table 10-1

WHO CAN CLAIM THE CREDIT – WITH A QUALIFYING CHILD

If the taxpayer meets the EIC general eligibility rules (previously discussed), you must now determine if the taxpayer can claim the credit with a qualifying child or without a qualifying child.

To be a qualifying child for the EIC, a child: Must meet relationship, age, and residency tests. Note: A child is not a qualifying child until the child meets all 3 tests.

The following chart outlines the relationship, age, and residency tests:

Table 10-2

RELATIONSHIP	AGE	RESIDENCY
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Son, daughter, stepson, stepdaughter or a descendant of any of them* or <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister or a descendant of any of them, whom the taxpayer cares for as his or her own child or <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Eligible foster child and...	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Under age 19 at the end of the tax year or <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Under age 24 and a full-time student, at the end of the tax year or <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Any age and permanently and totally disabled at any time during the year and...	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Lived with the taxpayer in the United States for more than half the tax year (at least 184 days for 2004). This includes the time that the taxpayer and the child are temporarily apart due to a special circumstance, such as military service, school attendance, hospitalization or juvenile detention Note: Child birth/death: If the child was born or died during the year, the child is considered to meet the test if the child lived with the taxpayer while the child was alive.

ALERT

EIC requirements for a qualifying child are not the same requirements to be a qualifying child for the Child Tax Credit.

*If the child was married at the end of the year, he or she does not meet the relationship test unless:

1. The taxpayer can claim the child's exemption,
- or
2. The taxpayer cannot claim the child's exemption because the taxpayer gave that right to the child's other parent.

Definitions

An eligible foster child is a child placed with the taxpayer by an authorized placement agency whom the taxpayer cares for as his or her own child. An authorized placement agency includes a state or local government agency or court. It also includes a tax-exempt organization licensed by a state. In addition, it includes an Indian tribal government, or an organization authorized by an Indian tribal government to place Indian children.

An adopted child is treated as a biological child and includes a child placed with the taxpayer for adoption by an authorized placement agency, even if the adoption is not final.

A child is permanently and totally disabled if:

1. He or she cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition, and
2. A doctor determines the condition has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year, or can lead to death.

Taxpayers may be able to claim the EIC on the basis of a child who was kidnapped by someone who is not a member of the taxpayer's family or the child's family. (See Publication 596, Earned Income Credit)

A taxpayer does not need a home to claim the EIC. For example, if the taxpayer and his or her child(ren) lived together for more than half the year in one or more homeless shelters, the child meets the residency test.

After you have determined that a child meets the three tests, make sure that the child has a valid SSN. (See page 10-2)

Qualifying Child of More Than One Taxpayer

The qualifying child cannot be used by more than one person to claim the EIC. If a child is a qualifying child of more than one taxpayer, the taxpayers may choose which of them will claim the credit on the basis of that child. If two or more children are qualifying children of the same taxpayers (not filing a joint return together), the taxpayers may agree that one will claim the credit on the basis of one child and the other will claim the credit on the basis of the other child.

In those instances where two or more persons have the same qualifying child and more than one taxpayer claims the child on their return for EIC purposes, the IRS will apply the Tie-Breaker Rule to determine who can claim the credit using the child.

Table 10-3

EIC Tie-Breaker Rule

IF more than one person claims the EIC using the same child and ...	THEN ...
Only one of the persons is the child's parent	Only the parent can treat the child as a qualifying child.
Two of the persons are the child's parents, and they do not file a joint return together	Only the parent with whom the child lived the longest during the year can treat the child as a qualifying child.
Two of the persons are the child's parents, the child lived with each parent the same amount of time during the year, and the parents do not file a joint return together	Only the parent with the highest adjusted gross income (AGI) can treat the child as a qualifying child.
None of the persons are the child's parent	Only the person with the highest AGI can treat the child as a qualifying child.

Example 1 Jane (age 30) is unmarried. In 2004, Jane lived with her four children and her mother, Linda. Provided they each meet the eligibility and income requirements, Jane may claim the EIC based on two of the children, and Linda may claim the EIC based on the other two children.

Example 2 John (age 26) is unmarried. In 2004, John and his daughter, Lynn, lived with John's father, Paul. John's sole income was wages of $19,000. Paul's sole income was wages of $12,000. Lynn is a qualifying child of both John and Paul. John and Paul agree that Paul will claim the EIC on the basis of Lynn, because Paul's credit would be more than John's. If John later decides to claim the credit, under the tie-breaker rule, Paul will lose the credit he claimed and must repay the EIC.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Remember that the amount of the earned income credit depends on the taxpayer's income, number of qualifying children, and filing status. Be sure to use the correct column from the EIC Table.

DETERMINING ELIGIBILITY AND FIGURING THE CREDIT

The EIC is not for everyone. You can minimize delays in processing the taxpayer's current and future returns by using the EIC steps and Worksheet to determine eligibility and figure the credit.

Taxpayers determine their eligibility for EIC by working through the steps in the EIC instructions for 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ. Taxpayers complete the EIC Worksheet in the instructions to figure the credit. Taxpayers should keep the steps and worksheet with their records.

Before completing line 65 of Form 1040, line 41 of Form 1040A, or line 8 of Form 1040EZ, you must complete the applicable EIC worksheet. If the taxpayer is not eligible to claim the credit but appears to be based on income limitations, write "No" next to line 65 of 1040, line 41 of 1040A, or line 8 of 1040EZ.

The Earned Income Credit Table is used to determine the amount of the credit. The tables are found in the instructions for Forms 1040EZ, 1040A, and 1040 and also in Appendix C of this book.

Using the EIC Worksheets

The EIC steps are used to determine eligibility. The EIC worksheet is used to determine the credit. Since the 1040A EIC worksheet is the more commonly used worksheet at VITA/TCE sites, our exercise will focus on using the Form 1040A EIC steps and EIC worksheet, which together consist of 5 pages.

In most cases, all that is needed to complete EIC tax returns are the appropriate tax form and instructions booklets for Forms 1040, 1040A, & 1040EZ. Each form has its own worksheet(s) as described below.

- Form 1040 EIC Worksheet. If the taxpayer files Form 1040, you will use the steps in the Form 1040 package and either Worksheet A or Worksheet B. Worksheet A is for taxpayers whose earned income was received as an employee. Worksheet B is for taxpayers who have self-employment income, a member of the clergy or a church employee who files Schedule SE, or a statutory employee filing Schedule C or C-EZ.
- Form 1040A Worksheet. If the taxpayer files Form 1040A, you will use the steps and EIC worksheet in the Form 1040A package (see Exhibits 4–8).
- Form 1040EZ Worksheet. If the taxpayer files Form 1040EZ, you will use the steps and EIC worksheet in the Form 1040EZ package.

Using the EIC Table (See Appendix C)

When using the earned income credit table to determine the credit, read down the columns labeled “At least... But less than” and find the line that includes the amount you are instructed to look up from the EIC Worksheet. Read across to the column that includes the number of qualifying children of the taxpayer and filing status. Enter the earned income credit from that column on the EIC Worksheet.

Example 6 - Using The EIC Table

Roger’s filing status is head of household and he has two qualifying children. The amount shown on lines 1 and 3 of his Form 1040A EIC Worksheet is $19,300.

Roger’s earned income credit from the EIC Table is $3,187. Exhibits 4 thru 8 shows how Roger’s EIC is computed.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Errors are easily made when using the earned income credit table. To ensure you have entered the correct amount on the tax form, look up the credit twice—once before you enter the credit on the form and once after you enter it on the form.

Form 1040A—Line 41

Line 41 Earned Income Credit (EIC)

What is the EIC?

The EIC is a credit for certain people who work. The credit may give you a refund even if you do not owe any tax.

To Take the EIC:

- Follow the steps below.
- Complete the worksheet that applies to you or let the IRS figure the credit for you.
- If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC.

If you take the EIC even though you are not eligible and it is determined that your error is due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 2 years even if you are otherwise eligible to do so. If you fraudulently take the EIC, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 10 years. You may also have to pay penalties.

Step 3 Qualifying Child

A qualifying child is a child who is your...

Son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild)

or

Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew) whom you cared for as you would your own child

or

Foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child)

AND

was at the end of 2004...

Under age 19

or

Under age 24 and a student (see page 41)

or

Any age and permanently and totally disabled (see page 41)

AND

who...

Lived with you in the United States for more than half of 2004. If the child did not live with you for the required time, see Exception to "time lived with you" condition on page 40.

If the child was married, see page 41.

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions above. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes.

No. Continue →

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

2. Do you have at least one child who meets the above conditions to be your qualifying child?

Yes. Go to question 3.

No. Skip question 3; go to Step 4, question 2.

3. Does the child meet the conditions to be a qualifying child of any other person (other than your spouse if filing a joint return) for 2004?

Yes. See Qualifying child of more than one person on page 41.

No. This child is your qualifying child. The child must have a valid social security number as defined on page 41 unless the child was born and died in 2004. Skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Step 4 Filers Without a Qualifying Child

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions in Step 3. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes.

No. Continue →

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

2. Can you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be claimed as a dependent on someone else's 2004 tax return?

Yes.

No. Continue →

You cannot take the credit.

3. Were you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, born before January 2, 1980, but under age 65 at the end of 2004?

Yes. Continue →

No.

You cannot take the credit.

4. Was your home, and your spouse's if filing a joint return, in the United States for more than half of 2004? Members of the military stationed outside the United States, see page 41 before you answer.

Yes. Go to Step 5 on page 40.

No.

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

Form 1040A—Line 41

1. Figure earned income:

Form 1040A, line 7 19,300.00

Subtract, if included on line 7, any:

- Taxable scholarship or fellowship grant not reported on a Form W-2.
- Amount paid to an inmate in a penal institution for work (put "PRI" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A).
- Amount received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan (put "DFC" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A). This amount may be shown in box 11 of your Form W-2. If you received such an amount but box 11 is blank, contact your employer for the amount received as a pension or annuity.

Earned Income = 19,300.00Definitions and Special Rules

(listed in alphabetical order)

Adopted child. An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Credit figured by the IRS. To have the IRS figure the credit for you:

1. Put "EIC" to the left of the entry space for line 41 of Form 1040A.
2. If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC. If your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed, see Form 8862, Who must file, below.

Exception to "time lived with you" condition. A child is considered to have lived with you for all of 2004 if the child was born or died in 2004 and your home was this child's home for the entire time he or she was alive in 2004. Temporary absences, such as for school, vacation, medical care, or detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived at home. If your child is presumed to have been kidnapped by someone who is not a family member, see Pub. 596 to find out if that child is a qualifying child for the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. If you were in the military stationed outside the United States, see Members of the military on page 41.

Form 8862, Who must file. You must file Form 8862 if your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed for any reason other than a math or clerical error. But you do not have to file Form 8862 if either of the following applies.

1. After your EIC was reduced or disallowed in an earlier year (a) you filed Form 8862 (or other documents) and your EIC was then allowed, and (b) your EIC has not been reduced or disallowed again for any reason other than a math or clerical error.
2. You are taking the EIC without a qualifying child and the only reason your EIC was reduced or disallowed in the earlier year was because it was determined that a child listed on Schedule EIC was not your qualifying child.

Also, do not file Form 8862 or take the credit for 2 years if it was determined that your error was due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules (or 10 years if due to fraud).

2. If you have:

- 2 or more qualifying children, is your earned income less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?
- 1 qualifying child, is your earned income less than $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly)?
- No qualifying children, is your earned income less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

Yes. Go to Step 6. No.  You cannot take the credit.

Step 6 How To Figure the Credit

1. Do you want the IRS to figure the credit for you?

Yes. See Credit figured by the IRS on this page. No. Go to the worksheet on page 42.

Married child. A child who was married at the end of 2004 is a qualifying child only if (a) you can claim him or her as your dependent on Form 1040A, line 6c, or (b) this child's other parent claims him or her as a dependent under the rules on page 20 for Children of divorced or separated parents.

Members of the military. If you were on extended active duty outside the United States, your home is considered to be in the United States during that duty period. Extended active duty is military duty ordered for an indefinite period or for a period of more than 90 days. Once you begin serving extended active duty, you are considered to be on extended active duty even if you serve fewer than 90 days.

Nonresident aliens. If your filing status is married filing jointly, go to Step 2 on page 38. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Permanently and totally disabled child. A child who cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition and a doctor has determined that this condition:

- Has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year, or
- Can lead to death.

Qualifying child of more than one person. If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person, only one person can take the EIC based on that child. The other person(s) cannot take the EIC for people without a qualifying child, but may take the EIC based on a different qualifying child. If you and the other person(s) cannot agree who will take the EIC, then the following rules apply.

- If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent.
- If both persons are the child's parents, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during 2004. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for 2004.
- If none of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for 2004.

The child must have a valid social security number as defined below unless the child was born and died in 2004. If you do not have a qualifying child, stop; you cannot take the EIC. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41. If you have a qualifying child, skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Example. You and your 5-year-old daughter moved in with your mother in April 2004. You are not a qualifying child of your mother. Your daughter meets the conditions to be a qualifying child for both you and your mother. If you and your mother cannot agree on who will treat your daughter as a qualifying child, the above rules apply. Under these rules, you are entitled to treat your daughter as a qualifying child because you are the child's parent. Your mother would not be entitled to claim any EIC unless she has a different qualifying child.

Social security number (SSN). For purposes of taking the EIC, a valid SSN is a number issued by the Social Security Administration unless "Not Valid for Employment" is printed on the social security card and the number was issued solely to apply for or receive a federally funded benefit.

To find out how to get an SSN, see page 18. If you will not have an SSN by April 15, 2005, see What if You Cannot File on Time? on page 12.

Student. A child who during any 5 months of 2004:

- Was enrolled as a full-time student at a school, or
- Took a full-time, on-farm training course given by a school or a state, county, or local government agency.

A school includes technical, trade, and mechanical schools. It does not include on-the-job training courses, correspondence schools, or night schools.

Welfare benefits, effect of credit on. Any refund you receive as a result of taking the EIC will not be used to determine if you are eligible for the following programs or how much you can receive from them. But if the refund you receive because of the EIC is not spent within a certain period of time, it may count as an asset (or resource) and affect your eligibility.

- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).
- Medicaid and supplemental security income (SSI).
- Food stamps and low-income housing.

What is the earned income credit from the EIC Table? _____

- B. Roxanne is divorced. She lives with her infant daughter. The amount shown on lines 1 and 3 of her EIC Worksheet is $17,750.

Line 41 Earned Income Credit (EIC)

What is the EIC?

The EIC is a credit for certain people who work. The credit may give you a refund even if you do not owe any tax.

To Take the EIC:

- Follow the steps below.
- Complete the worksheet that applies to you or let the IRS figure the credit for you.
- If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC.

If you take the EIC even though you are not eligible and it is determined that your error is due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 2 years even if you are otherwise eligible to do so. If you fraudulently take the EIC, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 10 years. You may also have to pay penalties.

Step 3 Qualifying Child

A qualifying child is a child who is your...

Son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild)

or

Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew) whom you cared for as you would your own child

or

Foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child)

If the child was married, see page 41.

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions above. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

3. Does the child meet the conditions to be a qualifying child of any other person (other than your spouse if filing a joint return) for 2004?

Yes. See Qualifying child of more than one person on page 41.

No. This child is your qualifying child. The child must have a valid social security number as defined on page 41 unless the child was born and died in 2004. Skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Step 4 Filers Without a Qualifying Child

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions in Step 3. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes. You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

No. Continue

Form 1040A—Line 41

Continued from page 39

Step 5 Earned Income

1. Figure earned income:

Form 1040A, line 7 _____

Subtract, if included on line 7, any:

- Taxable scholarship or fellowship grant not reported on a Form W-2.
- Amount paid to an inmate in a penal institution for work (put "PRI" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A).
- Amount received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan (put "DFC" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A). This amount may be shown in box 11 of your Form W-2. If you received such an amount but box 11 is blank, contact your employer for the amount received as a pension or annuity.

Earned Income =

2. If you have:

- 2 or more qualifying children, is your earned income less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?
- 1 qualifying child, is your earned income less than $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly)?
- No qualifying children, is your earned income less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

Yes. Go to Step 6. No. You cannot take the credit.

Definitions and Special Rules

(listed in alphabetical order)

Adopted child. An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Credit figured by the IRS. To have the IRS figure the credit for you:

1. Put "EIC" to the left of the entry space for line 41 of Form 1040A.
2. If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC. If your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed, see Form 8862, Who must file, below.

Exception to "time lived with you" condition. A child is considered to have lived with you for all of 2004 if the child was born or died in 2004 and your home was this child's home for the entire time he or she was alive in 2004. Temporary absences, such as for school, vacation, medical care, or detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived at home. If your child is presumed to have been kidnapped by someone who is not a family member, see Pub. 596 to find out if that child is a qualifying child for the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. If you were in the military stationed outside the United States, see Members of the military on page 41.

Form 8862, Who must file. You must file Form 8862 if your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed for any reason other than a math or clerical error. But you do not have to file Form 8862 if either of the following applies.

1. After your EIC was reduced or disallowed in an earlier year (a) you filed Form 8862 (or other documents) and your EIC was then allowed, and (b) your EIC has not been reduced or disallowed again for any reason other than a math or clerical error.
2. You are taking the EIC without a qualifying child and the only reason your EIC was reduced or disallowed in the earlier year was because it was determined that a child listed on Schedule EIC was not your qualifying child.

Also, do not file Form 8862 or take the credit for 2 years if it was determined that your error was due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules (or 10 years if due to fraud).

Step 6 How To Figure the Credit

1. Do you want the IRS to figure the credit for you?

Yes. See Credit figured by the IRS on this page. No. Go to the worksheet on page 42.

Married child. A child who was married at the end of 2004 is a qualifying child only if (a) you can claim him or her as your dependent on Form 1040A, line 6c, or (b) this child's other parent claims him or her as a dependent under the rules on page 20 for Children of divorced or separated parents.

Members of the military. If you were on extended active duty outside the United States, your home is considered to be in the United States during that duty period. Extended active duty is military duty ordered for an indefinite period or for a period of more than 90 days. Once you begin serving extended active duty, you are considered to be on extended active duty even if you serve fewer than 90 days.

Nonresident aliens. If your filing status is married filing jointly, go to Step 2 on page 38. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Permanently and totally disabled child. A child who cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition and a doctor has determined that this condition:

- Has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year, or
- Can lead to death.

Qualifying child of more than one person. If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person, only one person can take the EIC based on that child. The other person(s) cannot take the EIC for people without a qualifying child, but may take the EIC based on a different qualifying child. If you and the other person(s) cannot agree who will take the EIC, then the following rules apply.

- If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent.
- If both persons are the child's parents, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during 2004. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for 2004.
- If none of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for 2004.

The child must have a valid social security number as defined below unless the child was born and died in 2004. If you do not have a qualifying child, stop; you cannot take the EIC. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41. If you have a qualifying child, skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Example. You and your 5-year-old daughter moved in with your mother in April 2004. You are not a qualifying child of your mother. Your daughter meets the conditions to be a qualifying child for both you and your mother. If you and your mother cannot agree on who will treat your daughter as a qualifying child, the above rules apply. Under these rules, you are entitled to treat your daughter as a qualifying child because you are the child's parent. Your mother would not be entitled to claim any EIC unless she has a different qualifying child.

Social security number (SSN). For purposes of taking the EIC, a valid SSN is a number issued by the Social Security Administration unless "Not Valid for Employment" is printed on the social security card and the number was issued solely to apply for or receive a federally funded benefit.

To find out how to get an SSN, see page 18. If you will not have an SSN by April 15, 2005, see What if You Cannot File on Time? on page 12.

Student. A child who during any 5 months of 2004:

- Was enrolled as a full-time student at a school, or
- Took a full-time, on-farm training course given by a school or a state, county, or local government agency.

A school includes technical, trade, and mechanical schools. It does not include on-the-job training courses, correspondence schools, or night schools.

Welfare benefits, effect of credit on. Any refund you receive as a result of taking the EIC will not be used to determine if you are eligible for the following programs or how much you can receive from them. But if the refund you receive because of the EIC is not spent within a certain period of time, it may count as an asset (or resource) and affect your eligibility.

- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).
- Medicaid and supplemental security income (SSI).
- Food stamps and low-income housing.

EIC - ELIGIBILITY TOOLS

The EIC is not for everyone. Only those taxpayers who are eligible should claim the credit. It is important to understand the eligibility requirements and claim the EIC on the returns of only those taxpayers who qualify for it. The following resources are available to navigate the complexity of EIC.

- Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- EIC Eligibility Questions and Worksheet (Form 1040, 1040A, 1040EZ Instructions)
- Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax

COMMON EIC RETURN ERRORS

1. Claiming children who are not the taxpayer's EIC qualifying child. Make sure the taxpayer's children pass the EIC qualifying child tests—relationship, age, and residency. Also review the tie-breaker rule.
2. Selecting the incorrect filing status. Married taxpayers filing separately are not eligible for the EIC. Married taxpayers cannot use the Single filing status. Married taxpayers, who lived apart during the last 6 months of the year, may qualify as Head of Household. Don't guess; use Publication 4012 and the tools on filing status to make sure.
3. Submitting returns with income errors. Earned income for EIC purposes includes wages, salaries and tips (box 1, Form W-2), net earnings from self-employment, and statutory employee gross income (line 1 on Schedule C or Schedule C-EZ). A statutory employee issue is beyond the scope of VITA/TCE.
4. Submitting returns with incorrect Social Security numbers. Confirm the accuracy of all names and SSN's shown on the return. The name(s) and number(s) must match official government records. Routinely ask to see the taxpayers' and their children's social security cards.

ALERT

Remember to ask the taxpayer if the IRS disallowed EIC in past years.

DISALLOWED EARNED INCOME CREDIT

With one exception, if a taxpayer's earned income credit was disallowed for any year after 1996 as a result of the deficiency procedures, he or she cannot claim the credit again unless Form 8862, Information To Claim Earned Income Credit After Disallowance, is attached to the return, and the taxpayer meets all the EIC requirements. If the credit is claimed without attaching Form 8862, it will be automatically denied, under the math error procedures.

Form 8862 is not required if the taxpayer's EIC was disallowed or reduced for any year after 2001 as a result of the deficiency procedures solely because a child listed on Schedule EIC was determined not to be the taxpayer's qualifying child, and the taxpayer is claiming the credit for the current year without a qualifying child.

A deficiency procedure occurs when the IRS questions the taxpayer's eligibility for the earned income credit for reasons other than a mathematical or clerical error. If the credit was disallowed in the earlier year because of a mathematical or clerical error, Form 8862 should not be completed.

A taxpayer who is determined to have claimed the EIC due to reckless or intentional disregard of rules or regulations is ineligible to claim the EIC for the next 2 tax years. A taxpayer who is determined to have fraudulently claimed the EIC is ineligible to claim the EIC for the next 10 tax years.

ADVANCE EARNED INCOME CREDIT PAYMENTS (AEIC)

Some taxpayers may choose to receive advance payments of the EIC. To receive advance payments, the taxpayer must be employed, must expect to have a least one qualifying child for the tax year, must expect to be eligible for the EIC, and must expect his or her earned income and adjusted gross income will be less than approximately $30,000.

To receive advance payments, the taxpayer must give the employer a Form W-5, Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate. The employer will include part of the credit regularly in the employee pay. Farm workers are excluded.

Taxpayers can receive only a portion of the credit through advance payments, so the eligibility questions and the EIC Worksheet must be completed when the tax return is prepared to determine the full amount of the credit the taxpayer is entitled to receive.

Employees who receive advance earned income credit payments must file a tax return even if they are not otherwise required to file. If the taxpayer received advance EIC payments in 2004, he or she must file a tax return to report the payments. Report the amount on line 60 (Form 1040) or line 37 (Form 1040A). Form 1040EZ cannot be used to report advance payments. The taxpayer's Form W-2 will show the advance EIC amount in box 9.

ALERT

Remember to check box 9 of Form W-2 for advance earned income.

Exercise 4 – Advance EIC

Kyle B. Evans is a single parent. His daughter Julie lives with him and he claims her as a dependent on his tax return. Kyle's social security number is xxx-xx-xxxx. Julie was born in November 2001. Her social security number is xxx-xx-xxxx. Kyle's earned income was $18,751, and his total income and adjusted gross income were $19,223. His filing status is head of household and he does not itemize deductions. Kyle's child tax credit is $1,000 and his earned income credit is $1,776. He received $550 in advance earned income credit payments.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

- ▶ EIC is a tax break for qualified taxpayers. Eligible taxpayers must file a tax return to claim the credit.
- ▶ When the credit exceeds the amount of tax owed it can result in a tax refund.
- ▶ The taxpayer may be entitled to the credit even if he or she does not meet the income filing requirements. The taxpayer must have earned income of at least $1. A tax return must be filed to claim the credit.
- ▶ There are specific eligibility rules for all taxpayers, taxpayers with a qualifying child, and taxpayers without a qualifying child as shown below:

EIC Rules
Rules for all Taxpayers		Rules for Taxpayer With a Qualifying Child	Rules for Taxpayer Without a Qualifying Child
Must have a valid Social Security number	Investment income is limited to a certain amount	Child must meet the relationship, age, and residency tests	Must be at least age 25 but under age 65
Filing status cannot be "Married filing separately"	Must have earned income	Qualifying child cannot be used by more than one person to claim the EIC	Cannot be the dependent of another person
Generally must be a U.S. citizen or resident alien all year	Cannot be a qualifying child of another person		Must have lived in the United States more than half the year
Cannot file Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ (relating to foreign earned income)

- ▶ EIC is not for everyone; the taxpayer must qualify for the credit.
- ▶ Some of the most common reasons for disallowance are:
 - Claiming the credit with a child who is not the taxpayer's qualifying child.
 - Married taxpayers filing as single or head of household.
 - Reporting income incorrectly.
 - Missing or incorrect social security numbers.
- ▶ Don't guess, use Publication 4012, the EIC worksheets, Publication 596, and other tools when assisting taxpayers in claiming the EIC.

Exercise 1

- (A) No; to be a qualifying child, the child must live with the taxpayer more than half of the year.
- (B) Neither Donna nor Doug can claim the credit; in order to claim the earned income credit, married taxpayers living together must file a joint return.
- (C) Jimmy and Anna are qualifying children of both Randy and Cara. Randy and Cara can choose which of them will claim the credit based on each child. One can claim the credit on the basis of two children, or each can claim the credit on the basis of one child. If both claim the credit on the basis of the same child or both children, Cara will be entitled to the credit because each child lived with her for the longer period of time during the year.
- (D) Yes. He is between 25 and 65; his earned income is less than $11,490; he cannot be claimed as a dependent and he is not a qualifying child of another person.
- (E) No; to be a qualifying child, a married child must generally be eligible to be claimed as a dependent by the taxpayer.
- (F) Numbers 1 and 6 should be circled.

Exercise 2

- (A) $3,282
- (B) $2,008

Line 41 Earned Income Credit (EIC)

What is the EIC?

The EIC is a credit for certain people who work. The credit may give you a refund even if you do not owe any tax.

To Take the EIC:

- Follow the steps below.
- Complete the worksheet that applies to you or let the IRS figure the credit for you.
- If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC.

If you take the EIC even though you are not eligible and it is determined that your error is due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 2 years even if you are otherwise eligible to do so. If you fraudulently take the EIC, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 10 years. You may also have to pay penalties.

Step 1 All Filers

1. If, in 2004:
 - 2 children lived with you, is the amount on Form 1040A, line 22, less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?
 - 1 child lived with you, is the amount on Form 1040A, line 22, less than $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly)?
 - No children live with you, is the amount on Form 1040A, line 22, less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

Yes. Continue → No. You cannot take the credit.
2. Do you, and your spouse if filing a joint return, have a social security number that allows you to work or is valid for EIC purposes (see page 41)?

Yes. See Nonresident aliens on page 41. No. Go to Step 2.

Step 2 Investment Income

1. Add the amounts from Form 1040A:

Line 8a	_____	$39
Line 8b	+	_____
Line 9a	+	_____
Line 10	+	_____

Investment Income =

2. Is your investment income more than $2,650?

Yes. No. Continue →
You cannot take the credit.
3. Did a child live with you in 2004?

Yes. Go to Step 3 on page 39. No. Go to Step 4 on page 39.

Exercise 2(C)

Step 3 Qualifying Child

A qualifying child is a child who is your...

Son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild)

or

Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew) whom you cared for as you would your own child

or

Foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child)

AND

was at the end of 2004...

Under age 19

or

Under age 24 and a student (see page 41)

or

Any age and permanently and totally disabled (see page 41)

AND

who...

Lived with you in the United States for more than half of 2004. If the child did not live with you for the required time, see Exception to "time lived with you" condition on page 40.

If the child was married, see page 41.

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions above. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes.  No. Continue →

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

2. Do you have at least one child who meets the above conditions to be your qualifying child?

Yes. Go to question 3. No. Skip question 3; go to Step 4, question 2.

3. Does the child meet the conditions to be a qualifying child of any other person (other than your spouse if filing a joint return) for 2004?

Yes. See Qualifying child of more than one person on page 41. No. This child is your qualifying child. The child must have a valid social security number as defined on page 41 unless the child was born and died in 2004. Skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Step 4 Filers Without a Qualifying Child

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions in Step 3. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes.  No. Continue →
You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

2. Can you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be claimed as a dependent on someone else's 2004 tax return?

Yes.  No. Continue →
You cannot take the credit.

3. Were you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, born before January 2, 1980, but under age 65 at the end of 2004?

Yes. Continue → No.  You cannot take the credit.

4. Was your home, and your spouse's if filing a joint return, in the United States for more than half of 2004? Members of the military stationed outside the United States, see page 41 before you answer.

Yes. Go to Step 5 on page 40. No.  You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

Step 5 Earned Income

1. Figure earned income:

Form 1040A, line 7 21,211.00

Subtract, if included on line 7, any:

- Taxable scholarship or fellowship grant not reported on a Form W-2.
- Amount paid to an inmate in a penal institution for work (put "PRI" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A).
- Amount received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan (put "DFC" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A). This amount may be shown in box 11 of your Form W-2. If you received such an amount but box 11 is blank, contact your employer for the amount received as a pension or annuity.

Earned Income = 21,211.00

2. If you have:

- 2 or more qualifying children, is your earned income less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?
- 1 qualifying child, is your earned income less than $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly)?
- No qualifying children, is your earned income less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

Yes. Go to Step 6. No.  You cannot take the credit.

Step 6 How To Figure the Credit

1. Do you want the IRS to figure the credit for you?

- Yes. See Credit figured by the IRS on this page. No. Go to the worksheet on page 42.

Definitions and Special Rules

(listed in alphabetical order)

Adopted child. An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Credit figured by the IRS. To have the IRS figure the credit for you:

1. Put "EIC" to the left of the entry space for line 41 of Form 1040A.
2. If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC. If your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed, see Form 8862, Who must file, below.

Exception to "time lived with you" condition. A child is considered to have lived with you for all of 2004 if the child was born or died in 2004 and your home was this child's home for the entire time he or she was alive in 2004. Temporary absences, such as for school, vacation, medical care, or detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived at home. If your child is presumed to have been kidnapped by someone who is not a family member, see Pub. 596 to find out if that child is a qualifying child for the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. If you were in the military stationed outside the United States, see Members of the military on page 41.

Form 8862, Who must file. You must file Form 8862 if your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed for any reason other than a math or clerical error. But you do not have to file Form 8862 if either of the following applies.

1. After your EIC was reduced or disallowed in an earlier year (a) you filed Form 8862 (or other documents) and your EIC was then allowed, and (b) your EIC has not been reduced or disallowed again for any reason other than a math or clerical error.
2. You are taking the EIC without a qualifying child and the only reason your EIC was reduced or disallowed in the earlier year was because it was determined that a child listed on Schedule EIC was not your qualifying child.

Also, do not file Form 8862 or take the credit for 2 years if it was determined that your error was due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules (or 10 years if due to fraud).

Exercise 2(C)

Married child. A child who was married at the end of 2004 is a qualifying child only if (a) you can claim him or her as your dependent on Form 1040A, line 6c, or (b) this child's other parent claims him or her as a dependent under the rules on page 20 for Children of divorced or separated parents.

Members of the military. If you were on extended active duty outside the United States, your home is considered to be in the United States during that duty period. Extended active duty is military duty ordered for an indefinite period or for a period of more than 90 days. Once you begin serving extended active duty, you are considered to be on extended active duty even if you serve fewer than 90 days.

Nonresident aliens. If your filing status is married filing jointly, go to Step 2 on page 38. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Permanently and totally disabled child. A child who cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition and a doctor has determined that this condition:

- Has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year, or
- Can lead to death.

Qualifying child of more than one person. If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person, only one person can take the EIC based on that child. The other person(s) cannot take the EIC for people without a qualifying child, but may take the EIC based on a different qualifying child. If you and the other person(s) cannot agree who will take the EIC, then the following rules apply.

- If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent.
- If both persons are the child's parents, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during 2004. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for 2004.
- If none of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for 2004.

The child must have a valid social security number as defined below unless the child was born and died in 2004. If you do not have a qualifying child, stop; you cannot take the EIC. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41. If you have a qualifying child, skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Example. You and your 5-year-old daughter moved in with your mother in April 2004. You are not a qualifying child of your mother. Your daughter meets the conditions to be a qualifying child for both you and your mother. If you and your mother cannot agree on who will treat your daughter as a qualifying child, the above rules apply. Under these rules, you are entitled to treat your daughter as a qualifying child because you are the child's parent. Your mother would not be entitled to claim any EIC unless she has a different qualifying child.

Social security number (SSN). For purposes of taking the EIC, a valid SSN is a number issued by the Social Security Administration unless "Not Valid for Employment" is printed on the social security card and the number was issued solely to apply for or receive a federally funded benefit.

To find out how to get an SSN, see page 18. If you will not have an SSN by April 15, 2005, see What if You Cannot File on Time? on page 12.

Student. A child who during any 5 months of 2004:

- Was enrolled as a full-time student at a school, or
- Took a full-time, on-farm training course given by a school or a state, county, or local government agency.

A school includes technical, trade, and mechanical schools. It does not include on-the-job training courses, correspondence schools, or night schools.

Welfare benefits, effect of credit on. Any refund you receive as a result of taking the EIC will not be used to determine if you are eligible for the following programs or how much you can receive from them. But if the refund you receive because of the EIC is not spent within a certain period of time, it may count as an asset (or resource) and affect your eligibility.

- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).
- Medicaid and supplemental security income (SSI).
- Food stamps and low-income housing.

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will explain how to compute the child tax credit, additional child tax credit and complete Form 8812, Additional Child Tax Credit. Approximately 1 to 1 1/2 hours should be devoted to covering the objectives of this lesson. See the Suggested Class Schedules in Appendix B for additional information.

After completing this lesson student should be able to:

- Calculate the child tax credit using the child tax credit worksheet.
- Calculate the additional child tax credit by using Form 8812.

TRAINING MATERIALS AND ON-SITE RESOURCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS forms, publications, and worksheets. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the forms and worksheets, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Child Tax Credit Worksheet (1040 and 1040A Instructions and Publication 972)
- Form 8812, Additional Child Tax Credit
- Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage. Direct the student to the tab entitled Child Tax Credit for this lesson and make sure the student is aware of the content of the tab and how it should be used when assisting taxpayers. For additional technical information about this topic see the applicable chapter of Publication 17, Your Federal Tax (For Individual) and actual site usage.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

- Publication 972, Child Tax Credit
- Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax

TEACHING TIP – CHILD TAX CREDIT

1. If the taxpayer's modified adjusted gross income exceeds the threshold limit, the taxpayer must use Publication 972 to compute his or her child tax credit.

TEACHING TIPS – ADDITIONAL CHILD TAX CREDIT

1. Taxpayers who can claim the additional child tax credit should file a tax return even if they are not otherwise required to file because additional child tax credit may give the taxpayer a refund, even if he or she does not owe any tax.
2. The child tax credit must be figured before the additional child tax credit can be figured.

TEACHING TIPS – ADJUSTING WITHHOLDINGS

1. If the taxpayer can claim the child tax credit on his or her income tax return, the taxpayer may want to consider having less tax withheld from his or her wages during the year.
2. To check withholding allowances for 2005, the taxpayer should fill out a 2005 Form W-4.
3. If the taxpayer can claim more withholding allowances, he or she should file a new Form W-4 with his or her employer so that less income tax is withheld from his or her wages.

GUIDED QUESTIONS – CHILD TAX CREDIT

1. Where does a taxpayer figure the child tax credit? (Child Tax Credit Worksheet)
2. What 2 factors affect the amount of a taxpayer's child tax credit? (The taxpayer's modified AGI and filing status)

INTERVIEW TIPS FOR VOLUNTEER ASSISTORS

To assist volunteers in asking the right questions, interview tips are included in this lesson. The use of probes and reference material will be stressed to arrive at a quality return. Interview tips have been developed as a dialogue between a volunteer and a taxpayer to assist the volunteer in preparing an accurate and quality return.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson you will learn about the child tax credit. This credit is unique because it can be both nonrefundable and refundable. This lesson will discuss who qualifies for the credit and how to calculate the credit.

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Calculate the child tax credit using the child tax credit worksheet.
- Calculate the additional child tax credit by using Form 8812, Additional Child Tax Credit.

CHILD TAX CREDIT

A taxpayer can claim a child tax credit for each of the taxpayer's qualifying children. The maximum child tax credit is $1000 per child for 2004. The credit can be claimed on either Form 1040 or 1040A.

Qualifying child

To qualify, the child must be:

- Under age 17 at the end of 2004, and
- A citizen or resident of the United States, and
- The taxpayer's dependent, and
- The taxpayer's:
 - Son or daughter,
 - Stepson or stepdaughter, adopted child,
 - Grandchild, or
 - Eligible foster child (Must be placed with the taxpayer by an authorized placement agency and the taxpayer care for the child as they would their own.)

The taxpayer must provide the name and identification number (usually a social security number) of each qualifying child on his or her tax return.

Limits on credit

The amount of a taxpayer's child tax credit depends on the taxpayer's modified adjusted gross income (modified AGI) and the taxpayer's filing status.

ALERT

The requirements for a "qualifying child" for purpose of the Child Tax Credit differ from those for a "qualifying child" for purpose of the Earned Income Credit.

Modified AGI

The credit begins to phase out if the taxpayer's modified AGI is above a certain amount (Table 1). For most taxpayers, modified AGI is generally the same as AGI. For 2004, AGI is shown on line 21 of Form 1040A and on line 36 of Form 1040.

Table 1: Child Tax Credit Threshold Modified AGI Amounts for Claiming Child Tax Credit
Filing Status	Amount
Married filing jointly	$110,000
Qualifying widow(er)	75,000
Head of household	75,000
Single	75,000
Married filing separately	55,000

Before you can figure a taxpayer's credit amount for the year, you must have the taxpayer answer certain questions (Exhibit 1) to see if you must use the worksheet in Publication 972, Child Tax Credit. These questions are in the tax form instructions. If you do not need to use Publication 972, you can use the shorter Child Tax Credit Worksheet in the Form 1040 or 1040A instructions.

Example 1

Bill and Mary Allen are married filing a joint return and have two dependent children under age 17. The children are qualifying children for purposes of claiming the child tax credit. Bill and Mary have modified AGI of $55,600. Their tax on line 45 for 2004 is $4,314. Bill and Mary need to answer questions to determine if they must use Publication 972 (Exhibit 1). The completed Child Tax Credit Worksheet (Exhibit 2) shows that their credit is $2,000. Their modified AGI is less than the phaseout amount for their filing status ($110,000). They do not need to use Publication 972 to compute their child tax credit.

Line 51—Child Tax Credit

What Is the Child Tax Credit?

This credit is for people who have a qualifying child (defined below). It is in addition to the credit for child and dependent care expenses on Form 1040, line 46, and the earned income credit on Form 1040, line 65.

Three Steps To Take the Child Tax Credit!

- Step 1. Make sure you have a qualifying child for the child tax credit (defined below).
- Step 2. Make sure you checked the box on Form 1040, line 6c, column (4), for each qualifying child.
- Step 3. Answer the questions on this page to see if you may use the worksheet on page 41 to figure your credit or if you must use Pub. 972, Child Tax Credit. If you need Pub. 972, see page 7.

Qualifying Child for Child Tax Credit

A qualifying child for purposes of the child tax credit is a child who:

1. Is claimed as your dependent on line 6c, and
2. Was under age 17 at the end of 2004, and
3. Is your (a) son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild); (b) brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew), whom you cared for as you would your own child; or (c) foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child), and
4. Is a U.S. citizen or resident alien.

The above requirements are not the same as the requirements to be a qualifying child for the earned income credit.

An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

- First, complete your Form 1040 through line 66.
- Then, use Form 8812 to figure any additional child tax credit.

Checking Your Withholding

The child tax credit decreases the tax liability dollar for dollar, but not below zero. If the taxpayer is having too much tax withheld, and he or she prefers to have the money during the year, the taxpayer may be able to reduce his or her withholding. A new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, should be completed and given to his or her employer.

ADDITIONAL CHILD TAX CREDIT

The child tax credit is a nonrefundable credit that gives eligible taxpayers $1000 for each qualifying child. If a taxpayer's tax liability is less than the allowable nonrefundable child tax credit, the taxpayer may be eligible to claim the refundable additional child tax credit.

Before figuring additional child tax credit, figure the taxpayer's:

- Unused nonrefundable child tax credit amount,
- Total Social Security and Medicare taxes withheld (Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, boxes 4 and 6),
- Earned income credit amount,
- Total taxable earned income (back of Form 8812), and
- For 1040 filers, one-half of self-employment tax paid, Form 1040, line 30.

The taxpayer will need to seek the assistance of a paid professional tax preparer if he or she has:

- Excess social security and RRTA tax withheld (more than one employer and gross income in excess of $87,900) or
- Social Security and Medicare tax on unreported tip income.

Taxpayers must use Form 8812, Additional Child Tax Credit, to claim the additional child tax credit. This credit is based on 10% of the taxpayer's taxable earned income in excess of $10,750.

Example 2

Maureen Langston (SSN xxx-xx-xxxx) is filing Form 1040. Her filing status is head of household for 2004. She has five dependent children, all of whom are qualifying children for purposes of the child tax credit. Maureen's earned income (and adjusted gross income) is $26,375, her tax is $64, Social Security/Medicare taxes are $2,018, and the earned income credit is $1,702. Based on this information, Maureen's child tax credit is $64 (Exhibit 4) and her additional child tax credit was $1,563. Exhibits 5 and 6 illustrate how Maureen's additional child tax credit was figured.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

When figuring the additional child tax credit, you must use the back of Form 8812 to determine taxable earned income (line 4).

Line 51—Child Tax Credit

What Is the Child Tax Credit?

This credit is for people who have a qualifying child (defined below). It is in addition to the credit for child and dependent care expenses on Form 1040, line 46, and the earned income credit on Form 1040, line 65.

Three Steps To Take the Child Tax Credit!

- Step 1. Make sure you have a qualifying child for the child tax credit (defined below).
- Step 2. Make sure you checked the box on Form 1040, line 6c, column (4), for each qualifying child.
- Step 3. Answer the questions on this page to see if you may use the worksheet on page 41 to figure your credit or if you must use Pub. 972, Child Tax Credit. If you need Pub. 972, see page 7.

Qualifying Child for Child Tax Credit

A qualifying child for purposes of the child tax credit is a child who:

1. Is claimed as your dependent on line 6c, and
2. Was under age 17 at the end of 2004, and
3. 4. Is a U.S. citizen or resident alien.

The above requirements are not the same as the requirements to be a qualifying child for the earned income credit.

An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized

WAGE EARNER COMPREHENSIVE PROBLEMS

INTRODUCTION

In this section, you will complete tax returns for several common wage earner scenarios often encountered at volunteer assistance sites. This will be valuable practice as you prepare to help taxpayers. Although answers to each of the problems are shown at the end of this section, you should try to complete the blank forms for each problem before referring to its answers.

After completing this section, you will be able to:

- accurately complete a basic tax return.

PROBLEM 1

John Marshall, a sophomore in college, wants help with preparing his tax return. He tells you he is 20 years old (born May 28, 1984). Although he lives in the dorm at college, his parents can claim him as a dependent on their tax return. He does not wish to contribute to the presidential election campaign. If he receives a refund he would like it direct deposited into his checking account (account number xxxxxx, routing number xxxxxxxxx). John does not want to name a third party designee. His address and SSN are correct on his Form W-2 and Form 1099-INT. Your site identification number is Sxxxxxxx.

Form 1040A—Line 41

Line 41 Earned Income Credit (EIC)

What is the EIC?

The EIC is a credit for certain people who work. The credit may give you a refund even if you do not owe any tax.

To Take the EIC:

- Follow the steps below.
- Complete the worksheet that applies to you or let the IRS figure the credit for you.
- If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC.

If you take the EIC even though you are not eligible and it is determined that your error is due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 2 years even if you are otherwise eligible to do so. If you fraudulently take the EIC, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 10 years. You may also have to pay penalties.

Step 1 All Filers

1. If, in 2004:
 - 2 children lived with you, is the amount on Form 1040A, line 22, less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?
 - 1 child lived with you, is the amount on Form 1040A, line 22, less than $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly)?
 - No children live with you, is the amount on Form 1040A, line 22, less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

Yes. Continue → No.  You cannot take the credit.
2. Do you, and your spouse if filing a joint return, have a social security number that allows you to work or is valid for EIC purposes (see page 41)?

3. Is your filing status married filing separately?

Yes.  You cannot take the credit. No. Continue →
4. Were you a nonresident alien for any part of 2004?

Step 2 Investment Income

1. Add the amounts from Form 1040A:

Line 8a _____

Line 9a + _____
Line 10 + _____

Investment Income =

2. Is your investment income more than $2,650?

Yes.  No. Continue →
You cannot take the credit.
3. Did a child live with you in 2004?

Step 3 Qualifying Child

A qualifying child is a child who is your...

Son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild)

or

Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew) whom you cared for as you would your own child

or

Foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child)

AND

was at the end of 2004...

Under age 19

or

Under age 24 and a student (see page 41)

or

Any age and permanently and totally disabled (see page 41)

AND

who...

Lived with you in the United States for more than half of 2004. If the child did not live with you for the required time, see Exception to "time lived with you" condition on page 40.

If the child was married, see page 41.

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions above. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes.

No. Continue →

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

2. Do you have at least one child who meets the above conditions to be your qualifying child?

Yes. Go to question 3.

No. Skip question 3; go to Step 4, question 2.

3. Does the child meet the conditions to be a qualifying child of any other person (other than your spouse if filing a joint return) for 2004?

Yes. See Qualifying child of more than one person on page 41.

No. This child is your qualifying child. The child must have a valid social security number as defined on page 41 unless the child was born and died in 2004. Skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Step 4 Filers Without a Qualifying Child

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions in Step 3. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes.

No. Continue →

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

2. Can you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be claimed as a dependent on someone else's 2004 tax return?

Yes.

No. Continue →

You cannot take the credit.

3. Were you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, born before January 2, 1980, but under age 65 at the end of 2004?

Yes. Continue →

No.

You cannot take the credit.

4. Was your home, and your spouse's if filing a joint return, in the United States for more than half of 2004? Members of the military stationed outside the United States, see page 41 before you answer.

Yes. Go to Step 5 on page 40.

No.

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

1. Figure earned income:

Form 1040A, line 7 _____

Subtract, if included on line 7, any:

- Taxable scholarship or fellowship grant not reported on a Form W-2.
- Amount paid to an inmate in a penal institution for work (put "PRI" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A).
- Amount received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan (put "DFC" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A). This amount may be shown in box 11 of your Form W-2. If you received such an amount but box 11 is blank, contact your employer for the amount received as a pension or annuity.

Earned Income =

2. If you have:

- 2 or more qualifying children, is your earned income less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?
- 1 qualifying child, is your earned income less than $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly)?
- No qualifying children, is your earned income less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

 Yes. Go to Step 6. No.

You cannot take the credit.

Step 6 How To Figure the Credit

1. Do you want the IRS to figure the credit for you?

 Yes. See Credit figured by the IRS on this page. No. Go to the worksheet on page 42.Definitions and Special Rules

(listed in alphabetical order)

Adopted child. An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Credit figured by the IRS. To have the IRS figure the credit for you:

1. Put "EIC" to the left of the entry space for line 41 of Form 1040A.
2. If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC. If your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed, see Form 8862, Who must file, below.

Exception to "time lived with you" condition. A child is considered to have lived with you for all of 2004 if the child was born or died in 2004 and your home was this child's home for the entire time he or she was alive in 2004. Temporary absences, such as for school, vacation, medical care, or detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived at home. If your child is presumed to have been kidnapped by someone who is not a family member, see Pub. 596 to find out if that child is a qualifying child for the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. If you were in the military stationed outside the United States, see Members of the military on page 41.

Form 8862, Who must file. You must file Form 8862 if your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed for any reason other than a math or clerical error. But you do not have to file Form 8862 if either of the following applies.

1. After your EIC was reduced or disallowed in an earlier year (a) you filed Form 8862 (or other documents) and your EIC was then allowed, and (b) your EIC has not been reduced or disallowed again for any reason other than a math or clerical error.
2. You are taking the EIC without a qualifying child and the only reason your EIC was reduced or disallowed in the earlier year was because it was determined that a child listed on Schedule EIC was not your qualifying child.

Also, do not file Form 8862 or take the credit for 2 years if it was determined that your error was due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules (or 10 years if due to fraud).

Form 1040A, Earned Income Credit Worksheets, page 4

Married child. A child who was married at the end of 2004 is a qualifying child only if (a) you can claim him or her as your dependent on Form 1040A, line 6c, or (b) this child's other parent claims him or her as a dependent under the rules on page 20 for Children of divorced or separated parents.

Members of the military. If you were on extended active duty outside the United States, your home is considered to be in the United States during that duty period. Extended active duty is military duty ordered for an indefinite period or for a period of more than 90 days. Once you begin serving extended active duty, you are considered to be on extended active duty even if you serve fewer than 90 days.

Nonresident aliens. If your filing status is married filing jointly, go to Step 2 on page 38. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Permanently and totally disabled child. A child who cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition and a doctor has determined that this condition:

- Has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year, or
- Can lead to death.

Qualifying child of more than one person. If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person, only one person can take the EIC based on that child. The other person(s) cannot take the EIC for people without a qualifying child, but may take the EIC based on a different qualifying child. If you and the other person(s) cannot agree who will take the EIC, then the following rules apply.

- If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent.
- If both persons are the child's parents, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during 2004. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for 2004.
- If none of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for 2004.

The child must have a valid social security number as defined below unless the child was born and died in 2004. If you do not have a qualifying child, stop; you cannot take the EIC. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41. If you have a qualifying child, skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Example. You and your 5-year-old daughter moved in with your mother in April 2004. You are not a qualifying child of your mother. Your daughter meets the conditions to be a qualifying child for both you and your mother. If you and your mother cannot agree on who will treat your daughter as a qualifying child, the above rules apply. Under these rules, you are entitled to treat your daughter as a qualifying child because you are the child's parent. Your mother would not be entitled to claim any EIC unless she has a different qualifying child.

Social security number (SSN). For purposes of taking the EIC, a valid SSN is a number issued by the Social Security Administration unless "Not Valid for Employment" is printed on the social security card and the number was issued solely to apply for or receive a federally funded benefit.

To find out how to get an SSN, see page 18. If you will not have an SSN by April 15, 2005, see What if You Cannot File on Time? on page 12.

Student. A child who during any 5 months of 2004:

- Was enrolled as a full-time student at a school, or
- Took a full-time, on-farm training course given by a school or a state, county, or local government agency.

A school includes technical, trade, and mechanical schools. It does not include on-the-job training courses, correspondence schools, or night schools.

Welfare benefits, effect of credit on. Any refund you receive as a result of taking the EIC will not be used to determine if you are eligible for the following programs or how much you can receive from them. But if the refund you receive because of the EIC is not spent within a certain period of time, it may count as an asset (or resource) and affect your eligibility.

- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).
- Medicaid and supplemental security income (SSI).
- Food stamps and low-income housing.

Form 1040—Line 51

Line 51—Child Tax Credit

What Is the Child Tax Credit?

This credit is for people who have a qualifying child (defined below). It is in addition to the credit for child and dependent care expenses on Form 1040, line 46, and the earned income credit on Form 1040, line 65.

Three Steps To Take the Child Tax Credit!

- Step 1. Make sure you have a qualifying child for the child tax credit (defined below).
- Step 2. Make sure you checked the box on Form 1040, line 6c, column (4), for each qualifying child.
- Step 3. Answer the questions on this page to see if you may use the worksheet on page 41 to figure your credit or if you must use Pub. 972, Child Tax Credit. If you need Pub. 972, see page 7.

Qualifying Child for Child Tax Credit

A qualifying child for purposes of the child tax credit is a child who:

1. Is claimed as your dependent on line 6c, and
2. Was under age 17 at the end of 2004, and
3. Is your (a) son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild); (b) brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew), whom you cared for as you would your own child; or (c) foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child), and
4. Is a U.S. citizen or resident alien.

The above requirements are not the same as the requirements to be a qualifying child for the earned income credit.

An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Step 5 Earned Income

1. Are you filing Schedule SE because you were a member of the clergy or you had church employee income of $108.28 or more?

Yes. See Clergy or Church employees, whichever applies, on this page. No. Continue →

2. Figure earned income:

Form 1040, line 7 _____

- Amount received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan (put "DFC" and the amount subtracted on the dotted line next to Form 1040, line 7). This amount may be shown in Form W-2, box 11. If you received such an amount but box 11 is blank, contact your employer for the amount received as a pension or annuity.

- No qualifying children, is your earned income less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

Yes. Go to Step 6. No.  You cannot take the credit.

Step 6 How To Figure the Credit

1. Do you want the IRS to figure the credit for you?

Yes. See Credit figured by the IRS on this page. No. Go to Worksheet A on page 48.

Definitions and Special Rules

(listed in alphabetical order)

Adopted child. An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Church employees. Determine how much of the amount on Form 1040, line 7, was also reported on Schedule SE, line 5a. Subtract that amount from the amount on Form 1040, line 7, and enter the result in the first space of Step 5, line 2. Be sure to answer "Yes" on Step 5, line 3.

Clergy. The following instructions apply to ministers, members of religious orders who have not taken a vow of poverty, and Christian Science practitioners. If you are filing Schedule SE and the amount on line 2 of that schedule includes an amount that was also reported on Form 1040, line 7:

1. Put "Clergy" on the dotted line next to Form 1040, line 65.
2. Determine how much of the amount on Form 1040, line 7, was also reported on Schedule SE, line 2.
3. Subtract that amount from the amount on Form 1040, line 7. Enter the result in the first space of Step 5, line 2.
4. Be sure to answer "Yes" to question 3 in Step 5.

Credit figured by the IRS. To have the IRS figure the credit for you:

- Put "EIC" on the dotted line next to Form 1040, line 65.
- If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC. If your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed, see Form 8862, Who must file below.

Exception to "time lived with you" condition. A child is considered to have lived with you for all of 2004 if the child was born or died in 2004 and your home was this child's home for the entire time he or she was alive in 2004. Temporary absences, such as for school, vacation, medical care, or detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived at home. If your child is presumed to have been kidnapped by someone who is not a family member, see Pub. 596 to find out if that child is a qualifying child for the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. If you were in the military stationed outside the United States, see Members of the military on page 47.

Form 4797 filers. If the amount on Form 1040, line 13, includes an amount from Form 4797, you must use Worksheet 1 in Pub. 596 to see if you can take the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Form 8862, Who must file. You must file Form 8862 if your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed for any reason other than a math or clerical error. But do not file Form 8862 if either of the following applies.

1. After your EIC was reduced or disallowed in an earlier year (a) you filed Form 8862 (or other documents) and your EIC was then allowed, and (b) your EIC has not been reduced or disallowed again for any reason other than a math or clerical error.

Form 1040—Line 63

2. You are taking the EIC without a qualifying child and the only reason your EIC was reduced or disallowed in the earlier year was because it was determined that a child listed on Schedule EIC was not your qualifying child.

Also, do not file Form 8862 or take the credit for 2 years if it was determined that your error was due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules (10 years if due to fraud).

Married child. A child who was married at the end of 2004 is a qualifying child only if (a) you can claim him or her as your dependent on Form 1040, line 6c, or (b) this child's other parent claims him or her as a dependent under the rules in Pub. 501 for children of divorced or separated parents.

Members of the military. If you were on extended active duty outside the United States, your home is considered to be in the United States during that duty period. Extended active duty is military duty ordered for an indefinite period or for a period of more than 90 days. Once you begin serving extended active duty, you are considered to be on extended active duty even if you serve fewer than 90 days.

Nonresident aliens. If your filing status is married filing jointly, go to Step 2 on page 44. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Permanently and totally disabled child. A child who cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition and a doctor has determined that this condition:

- Has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year, or
- Can lead to death.

Qualifying child of more than one person. If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person, only one person can take the EIC based on that child. The other person(s) cannot take the EIC for people without a qualifying child, but may take the EIC based on a different qualifying child. If you and the other person(s) cannot agree who will take the EIC, then the following rules apply.

- If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent.
- If both persons are the child's parents, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during 2004. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for 2004.

- If none of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for 2004.

The child must have a valid social security number as defined on this page unless the child was born and died in 2004. If you do not have a qualifying child, stop; you cannot take the EIC. Put "No" on the dotted line next to line 65. If you have a qualifying child, skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 46.

Example. You and your 5-year-old daughter moved in with your mother in April 2004. You are not a qualifying child of your mother. Your daughter meets the conditions to be a qualifying child for both you and your mother. If you and your mother cannot agree on who will treat your daughter as a qualifying child, the rules above apply. Under these rules, you are entitled to treat your daughter as a qualifying child because you are the child's parent. Your mother would not be entitled to claim any EIC unless she has a different qualifying child.

Social security number (SSN). For purposes of taking the EIC, a valid SSN is a number issued by the Social Security Administration unless "Not Valid for Employment" is printed on the social security card and the number was issued solely to apply for or receive a federally funded benefit.

To find out how to get an SSN, see page 15. If you will not have an SSN by April 15, 2005, see What if You Cannot File on Time? on page 12.

Student. A child who during any 5 months of 2004:

- Was enrolled as a full-time student at a school, or
- Took a full-time, on-farm training course given by a school or a state, county, or local government agency.

A school includes technical, trade, and mechanical schools. It does not include on-the-job training courses, correspondence schools, or night schools.

Welfare benefits, effect of credit on. Any refund you receive as a result of taking the EIC will not be used to determine if you are eligible for the following programs or how much you can receive from them. But if the refund you receive because of the EIC is not spent within a certain period of time, it may count as an asset (or resource) and affect your eligibility.

- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).
- Medicaid and supplemental security income (SSI).
- Food stamps and low-income housing.

- If you were an employee representative, 50% of the total tier 1 tax and tier 1 Medicare tax you paid for 2004.

Problem 1

Form 1040EZ (2004)

Page 2

Use this form if

- Your filing status is single or married filing jointly. If you are not sure about your filing status, see page 11.
- You (and your spouse if married filing jointly) were under age 65 and not blind at the end of 2004. If you were born on January 1, 1940, you are considered to be age 65 at the end of 2004.
- You do not claim any dependents. For information on dependents, use TeleTax topic 354 (see page 6).
- Your taxable income (line 6) is less than $50,000.
- You do not claim any adjustments to income. For information on adjustments to income, use TeleTax topics 451-458 (see page 6).
- The only tax credit you can claim is the earned income credit. For information on credits, use TeleTax topics 601-608 and 610 (see page 6).
- You had only wages, salaries, tips, taxable scholarship or fellowship grants, unemployment compensation, or Alaska Permanent Fund dividends, and your taxable interest was not over $1,500. But if you earned tips, including allocated tips, that are not included in box 5 and box 7 of your W-2, you may not be able to use Form 1040EZ (see page 13). If you are planning to use Form 1040EZ for a child who received Alaska Permanent Fund dividends, see page 14.
- You did not receive any advance earned income credit payments.

If you have questions about dependents, use TeleTax topic 354 (see page 6). If you cannot use this form, use TeleTax topic 352 (see page 6).

Filling in your return

For tips on how to avoid common mistakes, see page 21.

If you received a scholarship or fellowship grant or tax-exempt interest income, such as on municipal bonds, see the booklet before filling in the form. Also, see the booklet if you received a Form 1099-INT showing Federal income tax withheld or if Federal income tax was withheld from your unemployment compensation or Alaska Permanent Fund dividends.

Remember, you must report all wages, salaries, and tips even if you do not get a Form W-2 from your employer. You must also report all your taxable interest, including interest from banks, savings and loans, credit unions, etc., even if you do not get a Form 1099-INT.

Worksheet for dependents who checked "Yes" on line 5

(keep a copy for your records)

Use this worksheet to figure the amount to enter on line 5 if someone can claim you (or your spouse if married filing jointly) as a dependent, even if that person chooses not to do so. To find out if someone can claim you as a dependent, use TeleTax topic 354 (see page 6).

A. Amount, if any, from line 1 on front	2,694.00
	+ 250.00	Enter total ▶	A. 2,944.00
B. Minimum standard deduction			B. 800.00
C. Enter the larger of line A or line B here			C. 2,944.00
D. Maximum standard deduction. If single , enter $4,850; if married filing jointly , enter $9,700			D. 4,850.00
E. Enter the smaller of line C or line D here. This is your standard deduction			E. 2,944.00
F. Exemption amount.			F. 0.00
• If single, enter -0-.
• If married filing jointly and— —both you and your spouse can be claimed as dependents, enter -0-. —only one of you can be claimed as a dependent, enter $3,100.
G. Add lines E and F. Enter the total here and on line 5 on the front			G. 2,944.00

If you checked "No" on line 5 because no one can claim you (or your spouse if married filing jointly) as a dependent, enter on line 5 the amount shown below that applies to you.

- Single, enter $7,950. This is the total of your standard deduction ($4,850) and your exemption ($3,100).
- Married filing jointly, enter $15,900. This is the total of your standard deduction ($9,700), your exemption ($3,100), and your spouse's exemption ($3,100).

Mailing return

Mail your return by April 15, 2005. Use the envelope that came with your booklet. If you do not have that envelope or if you moved during the year, see the back cover for the address to use.

- Complete the worksheet that applies to you or let the IRS figure the credit for you.
- If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC.

If you take the EIC even though you are not eligible and it is determined that your error is due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 2 years even if you are otherwise eligible to do so. If you fraudulently take the EIC, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 10 years. You may also have to pay penalties.

Form 1040A, Earned Income Credit Worksheet, line 8, page 2

Step 3 Qualifying Child

A qualifying child is a child who is your...

Son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild)

or

Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew) whom you cared for as you would your own child

or

Foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child)

AND

was at the end of 2004...

Under age 19

or

Under age 24 and a student (see page 41)

or

Any age and permanently and totally disabled (see page 41)

AND

who...

Lived with you in the United States for more than half of 2004. If the child did not live with you for the required time, see Exception to "time lived with you" condition on page 40.

If the child was married, see page 41.

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions above. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes. STOP

No. Continue

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

2. Do you have at least one child who meets the above conditions to be your qualifying child?

Yes. Go to question 3.

No. Skip question 3; go to Step 4, question 2.

3. Does the child meet the conditions to be a qualifying child of any other person (other than your spouse if filing a joint return) for 2004?

Yes. See Qualifying child of more than one person on page 41.

No. This child is your qualifying child. The child must have a valid social security number as defined on page 41 unless the child was born and died in 2004. Skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Step 4 Filers Without a Qualifying Child

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions in Step 3. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes. STOP

No. Continue

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41.

Step 5 Earned Income

1. Figure earned income:

Form 1040A, line 7 6,923.00

Subtract, if included on line 7, any:

- Taxable scholarship or fellowship grant not reported on a Form W-2.
- Amount paid to an inmate in a penal institution for work (put "PRI" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A).
- Amount received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan (put "DFC" and the amount subtracted to the left of the entry space for line 7 of Form 1040A). This amount may be shown in box 11 of your Form W-2. If you received such an amount but box 11 is blank, contact your employer for the amount received as a pension or annuity.

Earned Income = 6,923.00

2. If you have:

- 2 or more qualifying children, is your earned income less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?
- 1 qualifying child, is your earned income less than $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly)?
- No qualifying children, is your earned income less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

Yes. Go to Step 6. No.

You cannot take the credit.

Step 6 How To Figure the Credit

1. Do you want the IRS to figure the credit for you?

- Yes. See Credit figured by the IRS on this page. No. Go to the worksheet on page 42.

Definitions and Special Rules

(listed in alphabetical order)

Adopted child. An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Credit figured by the IRS. To have the IRS figure the credit for you:

1. Put "EIC" to the left of the entry space for line 41 of Form 1040A.
2. If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC. If your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed, see Form 8862, Who must file, below.

Exception to "time lived with you" condition. A child is considered to have lived with you for all of 2004 if the child was born or died in 2004 and your home was this child's home for the entire time he or she was alive in 2004. Temporary absences, such as for school, vacation, medical care, or detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived at home. If your child is presumed to have been kidnapped by someone who is not a family member, see Pub. 596 to find out if that child is a qualifying child for the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. If you were in the military stationed outside the United States, see Members of the military on page 41.

Form 8862, Who must file. You must file Form 8862 if your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed for any reason other than a math or clerical error. But you do not have to file Form 8862 if either of the following applies.

1. After your EIC was reduced or disallowed in an earlier year (a) you filed Form 8862 (or other documents) and your EIC was then allowed, and (b) your EIC has not been reduced or disallowed again for any reason other than a math or clerical error.
2. You are taking the EIC without a qualifying child and the only reason your EIC was reduced or disallowed in the earlier year was because it was determined that a child listed on Schedule EIC was not your qualifying child.

Also, do not file Form 8862 or take the credit for 2 years if it was determined that your error was due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules (or 10 years if due to fraud).

Form 1040A, Earned Income Credit Worksheet, line 8, page 4

Married child. A child who was married at the end of 2004 is a qualifying child only if (a) you can claim him or her as your dependent on Form 1040A, line 6c, or (b) this child's other parent claims him or her as a dependent under the rules on page 20 for Children of divorced or separated parents.

Members of the military. If you were on extended active duty outside the United States, your home is considered to be in the United States during that duty period. Extended active duty is military duty ordered for an indefinite period or for a period of more than 90 days. Once you begin serving extended active duty, you are considered to be on extended active duty even if you serve fewer than 90 days.

Nonresident aliens. If your filing status is married filing jointly, go to Step 2 on page 38. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Permanently and totally disabled child. A child who cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition and a doctor has determined that this condition:

- Has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year, or
- Can lead to death.

Qualifying child of more than one person. If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person, only one person can take the EIC based on that child. The other person(s) cannot take the EIC for people without a qualifying child, but may take the EIC based on a different qualifying child. If you and the other person(s) cannot agree who will take the EIC, then the following rules apply.

- If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent.
- If both persons are the child's parents, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during 2004. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for 2004.
- If none of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for 2004.

The child must have a valid social security number as defined below unless the child was born and died in 2004. If you do not have a qualifying child, stop; you cannot take the EIC. Put "No" to the left of the entry space for line 41. If you have a qualifying child, skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 40.

Example. You and your 5-year-old daughter moved in with your mother in April 2004. You are not a qualifying child of your mother. Your daughter meets the conditions to be a qualifying child for both you and your mother. If you and your mother cannot agree on who will treat your daughter as a qualifying child, the above rules apply. Under these rules, you are entitled to treat your daughter as a qualifying child because you are the child's parent. Your mother would not be entitled to claim any EIC unless she has a different qualifying child.

Social security number (SSN). For purposes of taking the EIC, a valid SSN is a number issued by the Social Security Administration unless "Not Valid for Employment" is printed on the social security card and the number was issued solely to apply for or receive a federally funded benefit.

To find out how to get an SSN, see page 18. If you will not have an SSN by April 15, 2005, see What if You Cannot File on Time? on page 12.

Student. A child who during any 5 months of 2004:

- Was enrolled as a full-time student at a school, or
- Took a full-time, on-farm training course given by a school or a state, county, or local government agency.

A school includes technical, trade, and mechanical schools. It does not include on-the-job training courses, correspondence schools, or night schools.

Welfare benefits, effect of credit on. Any refund you receive as a result of taking the EIC will not be used to determine if you are eligible for the following programs or how much you can receive from them. But if the refund you receive because of the EIC is not spent within a certain period of time, it may count as an asset (or resource) and affect your eligibility.

- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).
- Medicaid and supplemental security income (SSI).
- Food stamps and low-income housing.

Problem 3

Form 1040, Child Tax Credit Worksheet, line 51

Line 51—Child Tax Credit

What Is the Child Tax Credit?

This credit is for people who have a qualifying child (defined below). It is in addition to the credit for child and dependent care expenses on Form 1040, line 46, and the earned income credit on Form 1040, line 65.

Three Steps To Take the Child Tax Credit!

- Step 1. Make sure you have a qualifying child for the child tax credit (defined below).
- Step 2. Make sure you checked the box on Form 1040, line 6c, column (4), for each qualifying child.
- Step 3. Answer the questions on this page to see if you may use the worksheet on page 41 to figure your credit or if you must use Pub. 972, Child Tax Credit. If you need Pub. 972, see page 7.

Qualifying Child for Child Tax Credit

A qualifying child for purposes of the child tax credit is a child who:

1. Is claimed as your dependent on line 6c, and
2. Was under age 17 at the end of 2004, and
3. Is your (a) son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild); (b) brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew), whom you cared for as you would your own child; or (c) foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child), and
4. Is a U.S. citizen or resident alien.

The above requirements are not the same as the requirements to be a qualifying child for the earned income credit.

An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Problem 3

Form 1040, Earned Income Credit Worksheet, line 65, page 1

Line 65 Earned Income Credit (EIC)

What Is the EIC?

The EIC is a credit for certain people who work. The credit may give you a refund even if you do not owe any tax.

To Take the EIC:

- Follow the steps below.
- Complete the worksheet that applies to you or let the IRS figure the credit for you.
- If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC.

If you take the EIC even though you are not eligible and it is determined that your error is due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 2 years even if you are otherwise eligible to do so. If you fraudulently take the EIC, you will not be allowed to take the credit for 10 years. You may also have to pay penalties.

Step 1 All Filers

1. If, in 2004:
- 2 children lived with you, is the amount on Form 1040, line 37, less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?

Problem 3

Form 1040, Earned Income Credit Worksheet, line 65, page 2

Step 3 Qualifying Child

A qualifying child is a child who is your...

Son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandchild)

or

Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your niece or nephew), whom you cared for as you would your own child

or

Foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as you would your own child)

AND

was at the end of 2004...

Under age 19

or

Under age 24 and a student (see page 47)

or

Any age and permanently and totally disabled (see page 47)

AND

who...

Lived with you in the United States for more than half of 2004.

If the child did not live with you for the required time, see Exception to "time lived with you" condition on page 46.

If the child was married, see page 47.

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions above. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes.

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" on the dotted line next to line 65.

No. Continue →

2. Do you have at least one child who meets the above conditions to be your qualifying child?

Yes. Go to question 3.

No. Skip the next two questions; go to Step 4, question 2.

3. Does the child meet the conditions to be a qualifying child of any other person (other than your spouse if filing a joint return) for 2004?

Yes. See Qualifying child of more than one person on page 47.

No. This child is your qualifying child. The child must have a valid social security number as defined on page 47 unless the child was born and died in 2004. Skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 46.

Step 4 Filers Without a Qualifying Child

1. Look at the qualifying child conditions in Step 3. Could you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be a qualifying child of another person in 2004?

Yes.

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" on the dotted line next to line 65.

No. Continue →

2. Can you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, be claimed as a dependent on someone else's 2004 tax return?

Yes.

You cannot take the credit.

No. Continue →

3. Were you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, at least age 25 but under age 65 at the end of 2004?

Yes. Continue →

No.

You cannot take the credit.

4. Was your home, and your spouse's if filing a joint return, in the United States for more than half of 2004? Members of the military stationed outside the United States, see page 47 before you answer.

Yes. Go to Step 5 on page 46.

No.

You cannot take the credit. Put "No" on the dotted line next to line 65.

Form 1040, Earned Income Credit Worksheet, line 65, page 3

Step 5 Earned Income

1. Are you filing Schedule SE because you were a member of the clergy or you had church employee income of $108.28 or more?

Yes. See Clergy or Church employees, whichever applies, on this page. No. Continue

2. Figure earned income:

Form 1040, line 7 24,952.00

Subtract, if included on line 7, any:

- Taxable scholarship or fellowship grant not reported on a Form W-2.
- Amount paid to an inmate in a penal institution for work (put "PRI" and the amount subtracted on the dotted line next to Form 1040, line 7).
- Amount received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan (put "DFC" and the amount subtracted on the dotted line next to Form 1040, line 7). This amount may be shown in Form W-2, box 11. If you received such an amount but box 11 is blank, contact your employer for the amount received as a pension or annuity.

Earned Income = 24,952.00

3. Were you self-employed, or are you filing Schedule SE because you were a member of the clergy or you had church employee income, or are you filing Schedule C or C-EZ as a statutory employee?

Yes. Skip question 4 and Step 6; go to Worksheet B on page 49. No. Continue

4. If you have:

- 2 or more qualifying children, is your earned income less than $34,458 ($35,458 if married filing jointly)?
- 1 qualifying child, is your earned income less than $30,338 ($31,338 if married filing jointly)?
- No qualifying children, is your earned income less than $11,490 ($12,490 if married filing jointly)?

Yes. Go to Step 6. No. STOP

You cannot take the credit.

Step 6 How To Figure the Credit

1. Do you want the IRS to figure the credit for you?

Yes. See Credit figured by the IRS on this page. No. Go to Worksheet A on page 48.

Definitions and Special Rules

(listed in alphabetical order)

Adopted child. An adopted child is always treated as your own child. An adopted child includes a child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person or court authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

Church employees. Determine how much of the amount on Form 1040, line 7, was also reported on Schedule SE, line 5a. Subtract that amount from the amount on Form 1040, line 7, and enter the result in the first space of Step 5, line 2. Be sure to answer "Yes" on Step 5, line 3.

Clergy. The following instructions apply to ministers, members of religious orders who have not taken a vow of poverty, and Christian Science practitioners. If you are filing Schedule SE and the amount on line 2 of that schedule includes an amount that was also reported on Form 1040, line 7:

1. Put "Clergy" on the dotted line next to Form 1040, line 65.
2. Determine how much of the amount on Form 1040, line 7, was also reported on Schedule SE, line 2.
3. Subtract that amount from the amount on Form 1040, line 7. Enter the result in the first space of Step 5, line 2.
4. Be sure to answer "Yes" to question 3 in Step 5.

Credit figured by the IRS. To have the IRS figure the credit for you:

- Put "EIC" on the dotted line next to Form 1040, line 65.
- If you have a qualifying child, complete and attach Schedule EIC. If your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed, see Form 8862, Who must file below.

Exception to "time lived with you" condition. A child is considered to have lived with you for all of 2004 if the child was born or died in 2004 and your home was this child's home for the entire time he or she was alive in 2004. Temporary absences, such as for school, vacation, medical care, or detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived at home. If your child is presumed to have been kidnapped by someone who is not a family member, see Pub. 596 to find out if that child is a qualifying child for the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. If you were in the military stationed outside the United States, see Members of the military on page 47.

Form 4797 filers. If the amount on Form 1040, line 13, includes an amount from Form 4797, you must use Worksheet 1 in Pub. 596 to see if you can take the EIC. To get Pub. 596, see page 7. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Form 8862, Who must file. You must file Form 8862 if your EIC for a year after 1996 was reduced or disallowed for any reason other than a math or clerical error. But do not file Form 8862 if either of the following applies.

1. After your EIC was reduced or disallowed in an earlier year (a) you filed Form 8862 (or other documents) and your EIC was then allowed, and (b) your EIC has not been reduced or disallowed again for any reason other than a math or clerical error.

2. You are taking the EIC without a qualifying child and the only reason your EIC was reduced or disallowed in the earlier year was because it was determined that a child listed on Schedule EIC was not your qualifying child.

Also, do not file Form 8862 or take the credit for 2 years if it was determined that your error was due to reckless or intentional disregard of the EIC rules (10 years if due to fraud).

Married child. A child who was married at the end of 2004 is a qualifying child only if (a) you can claim him or her as your dependent on Form 1040, line 6c, or (b) this child's other parent claims him or her as a dependent under the rules in Pub. 501 for children of divorced or separated parents.

Members of the military. If you were on extended active duty outside the United States, your home is considered to be in the United States during that duty period. Extended active duty is military duty ordered for an indefinite period or for a period of more than 90 days. Once you begin serving extended active duty, you are considered to be on extended active duty even if you serve fewer than 90 days.

Nonresident aliens. If your filing status is married filing jointly, go to Step 2 on page 44. Otherwise, stop; you cannot take the EIC.

Permanently and totally disabled child. A child who cannot engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental condition and a doctor has determined that this condition:

- Has lasted or can be expected to last continuously for at least a year, or
- Can lead to death.

Qualifying child of more than one person. If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person, only one person can take the EIC based on that child. The other person(s) cannot take the EIC for people without a qualifying child, but may take the EIC based on a different qualifying child. If you and the other person(s) cannot agree who will take the EIC, then the following rules apply.

- If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent.
- If both persons are the child's parents, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during 2004. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for 2004.

- If none of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the person who had the highest AGI for 2004.

The child must have a valid social security number as defined on this page unless the child was born and died in 2004. If you do not have a qualifying child, stop; you cannot take the EIC. Put "No" on the dotted line next to line 65. If you have a qualifying child, skip Step 4; go to Step 5 on page 46.

Example. You and your 5-year-old daughter moved in with your mother in April 2004. You are not a qualifying child of your mother. Your daughter meets the conditions to be a qualifying child for both you and your mother. If you and your mother cannot agree on who will treat your daughter as a qualifying child, the rules above apply. Under these rules, you are entitled to treat your daughter as a qualifying child because you are the child's parent. Your mother would not be entitled to claim any EIC unless she has a different qualifying child.

Social security number (SSN). For purposes of taking the EIC, a valid SSN is a number issued by the Social Security Administration unless "Not Valid for Employment" is printed on the social security card and the number was issued solely to apply for or receive a federally funded benefit.

To find out how to get an SSN, see page 15. If you will not have an SSN by April 15, 2005, see What if You Cannot File on Time? on page 12.

Student. A child who during any 5 months of 2004:

- Was enrolled as a full-time student at a school, or
- Took a full-time, on-farm training course given by a school or a state, county, or local government agency.

A school includes technical, trade, and mechanical schools. It does not include on-the-job training courses, correspondence schools, or night schools.

Welfare benefits, effect of credit on. Any refund you receive as a result of taking the EIC will not be used to determine if you are eligible for the following programs or how much you can receive from them. But if the refund you receive because of the EIC is not spent within a certain period of time, it may count as an asset (or resource) and affect your eligibility.

- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF).
- Medicaid and supplemental security income (SSI).
- Food stamps and low-income housing.

3. Were you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, self-employed, or are you filing Schedule SE because you were a member of the clergy or you had church employee income, or are you filing Schedule C or C-EZ as a statutory employee?

- No. Go to question 4.
- Yes. Use Pub. 972 to figure the amount to enter on Form 8812, line 4.

4. Does the amount on line 7 of Form 1040 or Form 1040A include any of the following amounts?

- Taxable scholarship or fellowship grants not reported on a Form W-2.
 - Amounts paid to an inmate in a penal institution for work (enter "PRI" and the amount paid in the space next to line 7 of Form 1040 or 1040A).
 - Amounts received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan (enter "DFC" and the amount received in the space next to line 7 of Form 1040 or 1040A). This amount may be reported in box 11 of your Form W-2. If you received such an amount but box 11 is blank, contact your employer for the amount received as a pension or annuity.
 - Amounts from Form 2555, line 41, or Form 2555-EZ, line 18.
- No. Enter the amount from line 7 of Form 1040 or Form 1040A on Form 8812, line 4.
- Yes. Subtract the total of those amounts from the amount on line 7 of Form 1040 or Form 1040A. (If an amount is included in more than one of the above categories, include it only once in figuring the total amount to subtract.) Enter the result on Form 8812, line 4.

Railroad Employees

If you worked for a railroad, include the following taxes in the total on Form 8812, line 7.

- Tier 1 tax withheld from your pay. This tax should be shown in box 14 of your Form(s) W-2 and identified as "Tier 1 tax."
- If you were an employee representative, 50% of the total tier 1 tax and tier 1 Medicare tax you paid for 2004.

1040A Filers

If you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, had more than one employer for 2004 and total wages of over $87,900, figure any excess social security and tier 1 railroad retirement (RRTA) taxes withheld. See the instructions for Form 1040A, line 43. Include any excess on Form 8812, line 10.

Paperwork Reduction Act Notice. We ask for the information on this form to carry out the Internal Revenue laws of the United States. You are required to give us the information. We need it to ensure that you are complying with these laws and to allow us to figure and collect the right amount of tax.

You are not required to provide the information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by Internal Revenue Code section 6103.

The time needed to complete and file this form will vary depending on individual circumstances. The estimated average time is: Recordkeeping, 6 min.; Learning about the law or the form, 5 min.; Preparing the form, 28 min.; Copying, assembling, and sending the form to the IRS, 20 min.

If you have comments concerning the accuracy of these time estimates or suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. See the Instructions for Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will cover how to:

- Determine capital gain and loss on the sale of corporate stock,
- Report capital gain distributions on Schedule D, when required,
- Figure tax on Schedule D, and
- Compute capital loss carryover.

Tax terms in the student text are presented in bold-faced type. Emphasize these as they are introduced:

- capital asset
- capital gain distributions
- adjusted basis
- holding period
- gross sale proceeds
- net sale proceeds (gross proceeds less commissions)
- capital gain
- capital loss

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

MATERIALS

This lesson will refer to the following IRS publications and forms. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the material, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Form 1099-B, Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions
- Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions
- Schedule D (Form 1040), Capital Gains and Losses
- Schedule D-1 (Form 1040), Continuation Sheet for Schedule D (Form 1040)
- Form 1040
- Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet

GROUP ACTIVITY

(5–7 min.)

Ask the entire class to turn to Exhibit 1, which shows a blank Form 1099-B. Explain that IRS uses Form 1099-B as a check against taxpayer-reported information. Walk students through the parts of this form and explain how they will use each part to help taxpayers.

- Remind students to check the taxpayer-identification information against the taxpayer's Form 1040.
- Point out that box 1a contains the sale date to use in computing the holding period.
- Refer students to box 2 and make sure they see where the broker indicates whether gross or net proceeds (gross proceeds less commissions) were reported.

TEACHING TIPS

Volunteers who study advanced topics often have extensive tax knowledge. Acknowledge their expertise; but explain that, throughout these lessons, situations are identified in which volunteers should refer taxpayers to paid professional tax preparers. Explain also that the reason is not because IRS doubts the volunteer's competence, but because these are complex and sometimes risky areas that are beyond the scope of the VITA/TCE program. IRS wants neither to put the program or the volunteer at risk, nor to misinform taxpayers.

Point out to students that if the shares acquired first by the taxpayer are considered sold first, this method used to figure the cost basis is called "first-in first-out" (FIFO).

Make sure that volunteers understand that the dates used to determine holding period do not include the purchase date, but do include the sale date (from box 1a, Form 1099-B).

Exercise 1

Go over these questions with the students. The discussion will tell you how well they are following the course material.

- A. Students should be able to figure the basis (cost) without being distracted by the commission on the sale.
- B. The change means that the holding period goes from long to short-term. Ask students whether they can tell yet how this change in basis will affect the profitability of the sale. (They are not expected to know, because they haven't yet studied how to determine gain or loss. That topic is discussed next. The long-term capital gain on the sale of stock acquired in May 2000 is $705 ($3,255 – $2,550). However, Morris has a capital loss of $295 ($3,255 – $3,550) on the sale of stock bought in October 2001.

- C. Students should be able to figure the basis after the tax-free stock split.

Remind students that a stockbroker can report either the gross proceeds or the net proceeds as the sales price.

1. Have the students look at Parts I through III of Schedule D so they understand the purpose of each part.
2. Show them a Schedule D-1, the continuation sheet for Schedule D. They will not use it often, if at all, but they should know what it looks like.

Examples 6 and 7

Examples 6 and 7 compare and contrast features about completing Parts I and II of Schedule D.

Similarities:

In both Parts I and II the taxpayer:

- Adds sales price in column (d) and reports the total.
- Reports net proceeds if the broker reported net proceeds on Form 1099-B, or adds selling expenses (such as broker's fees and commissions) to basis (cost) if the broker reported gross sales price (gross proceeds).

Contrasts:

Example 6 shows:

- A short-term transaction (Part I) and
- A net loss.

Example 7 shows:

- A long-term transaction (Part II) and
- A net gain.

Example 7

Tell the students to trace what happened to each stock, one by one. They should start by looking at the holding period, so they will know whether to report the sale in Part I or Part II of Schedule D. Next, they should figure adjusted basis; and then capital gain or loss on the sale.

Let the students know they must follow this procedure with the pieces of information taxpayers show them. There are no shortcuts.

Exercise 2

Go over these questions with the students. Students should be able to:

- Compute capital gain or loss and
- Distinguish between long-term and short-term gain or loss on sale of stock.

Remind the students that they already read a brief description of capital gain distributions in Income Lesson, under “Dividend Income and Other Corporate Distributions.”

Exercise 3

In exercise 3 students need to:

- Combine gains and losses from different transactions;
- Remember not to overlook making entries on lines 3 and 10;
- Take capital gain distributions into consideration (line 13); and
- Avoid letting the bar across the page at line 10 distract them from including the line 8 and 9 amounts when they compute the entries for lines 15 and 16.

Part III

Point out to the students that when they complete Part III, it is time to transfer the first entry to Form 1040. The entry, either a gain or a loss, goes on line 13 of Form 1040.

Emphasize how important it is to stop and make the entry on Form 1040 at this point. If they wait, they may overlook making it at all.

Common Queries

Students may ask what happens to a capital loss carryover if a taxpayer dies. Capital losses cannot be carried over after a taxpayer’s death. Losses are deductible on the final income tax return filed for the decedent, but the capital loss limits still apply.

See Publication 559, Survivors, Executors, and Administrators.

Make sure the students notice how:

The Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet ensures that a capital loss carryover keeps its short-term or long-term nature from one year to the next.

Exercises 5 and 6

Exercises 5 and 6 summarize what the students have learned in Lesson 9. In both exercises they complete Schedule D, once for a net capital loss, and once for a net capital gain. The information they use to complete Schedule D is presented to them in a format reasonably close to the way taxpayers will present it. In both exercises the students transfer their results to Form 1040.

Exercise 5 requires that students use Parts I, II, and III of Schedule D.

Exercise 6 requires that students use Parts I through III of Schedule D. Students also get more practice at computing adjusted basis.

It is advisable to divide Exercise 5 in parts and have the class go over each part together before moving on to the next one. Doing that will give students a better chance to keep up. A good division would be:

1. Report the stocks in Parts I and II according to whether they are long-term or short-term.
2. Figure their basis.
3. Finish Parts I and II.
4. Complete Part III and Form 1040, line 13.

Exercise 6 is complicated enough that teaching it in parts is probably wise. A good way to divide it would be:

1. Report the stocks in Parts I and II according to whether they are long-term or short-term.
2. Figure their basis.
3. Finish Parts I and II.
4. Complete Part III and Form 1040, line 13.

STUDENT NOTES

OBJECTIVES

After completing this lesson you should be able to:

- Identify the items that affect the basis of a stock.
- Determine if a stock's holding period is long term or short term.
- Determine when and how to report commissions from sale of stock on Schedule D.
- Calculate the taxable gain or deductible loss using Schedule D.
- Calculate the tax liability using the Schedule D Tax Worksheet.

What You Will Need

In order to complete Schedule D, the taxpayer will need to show you his or her records, including information returns.

- Form 1099-B, Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions, which the broker gives the taxpayer to report the sale price of stock.
- The taxpayer's records of basis in the stock sold. Basis is explained in this lesson.
- The taxpayer's records of the date the stock was originally acquired.
- Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions, if the taxpayer received capital gain distributions (for example, from a mutual fund).
- The taxpayer's Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet from last year's Schedule D instructions if the taxpayer is carrying over a loss to 2004.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) receives copies of Form 1099-B from the broker and copies of Form 1099-DIV from the payer. The taxpayer should not file these items with their return, but keep them with his or her records.

Capital Asset

A capital asset is any asset held either for personal use or for investment. Thus, all your items of personal property, such as your home and car, are capital assets. Property held for investment includes stocks and bonds. Property used in a trade or business, such as inventory or machinery, is not a capital asset.

In this lesson, corporate stock is the only capital asset discussed.

Capital gain distributions are also discussed. They are recognized when the entity (such as a mutual fund) that owned a capital asset disposes of it and passes gain through to its shareholders.

The discussion of capital gain distributions in this lesson supplements what you previously learned in Lesson 3.

Capital Gains Distribution (Only)

The Schedule D generally is not needed for taxpayers who received capital gain distributions from mutual funds but did not sell any shares of stock and do not have any Forms 1099-B as explained in Lesson 3, Income. Instead, report the total capital gain distribution on Form 1040, line 13, or on Form 1040A, line 10. If the taxpayer must file Form 1040, remember to check the box next to line 13 of Form 1040 to indicate that Schedule D is not required. If the taxpayer sold stocks, he or she must file Form 1040 and cannot report capital gain distributions on Form 1040A.

Basis

The basis of property is usually its cost. Certain additional costs relating to its purchase are included in the basis of a capital asset. An example of an expense to include in the basis of stock is the commission or fee paid to a broker when stock is purchased.

If the taxpayer is not able to provide his or her basis in the property, the IRS will deem it to be zero. The taxpayer should make every effort to determine the basis. Refer taxpayers to their stockbroker or financial planner for assistance in determining basis.

Once the taxpayer has the basis, volunteers may assist in preparing the tax return.

Adjusted Basis

Events after purchase can require adjustments to the basis of stock. The term adjusted basis refers to the basis after changes are made. For example, when a stock dividend or stock split is declared, the stockholder receives additional shares of stock. Some of the basis from the original stock is then allocated to the new stock. This change reduces the basis per share of the original shares.

Example 1

Fran paid $1,100 for 100 shares of ABC, Inc. stock (including the broker's commission of $25). Fran received 10 additional shares of ABC stock as a tax-free stock dividend. Her $1,100 basis must be spread over 110 shares (100 original shares plus the 10-share stock dividend). Her basis per share decreases from $11 to $10 per share.

Holding Period

Long-term or short-term. Capital gains and losses are classified as either "long-term" or "short-term," depending on how long the taxpayer owned the stock. Stock held for more than one year (12 months) has a long-term holding period. Stock held for one year or less has a short-term holding period.

Example 2

Loretta bought stock on January 11, 2003 (trade date). Her holding period began the next day, January 12. If she sells that stock on January 11, 2004, she will not have owned them for more than a year. The holding period will be short-term. However, if she sells the stock on January 12, 2004, or later, the holding period will be long-term.

Blocks. Frequently, a taxpayer owns shares of stock that were bought on different dates or for different prices. That is, the individual owns more than one block of stock. Each block may differ from the others in its holding period (long-term or short-term), its basis (amount paid for the stock), or both.

In directing a broker to sell stock, the taxpayer may specify which block, or part of a block, to sell. Specification can make a difference in determining the holding period or basis of the stock sold, giving the taxpayer an element of control and versatility in handling an investment. To be valid, any such specification must be made before or at the time of sale. It cannot be made after the sale. If the taxpayer does not identify the specific block at the time of sale, shares sold are treated as coming from the earliest block purchased.

TAX TIPS

To find out how long the taxpayer has held the stocks, begin counting on the day after the day he or she bought the shares of stock and include the day the shares were sold. This sale trade date is part of the holding period.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Stock splits and stock dividends do not occur often. However, do not assume that they never happen. Ask taxpayers if they received any additional shares from a stock split or stock dividend.

Example 3

In 1996, Tina bought 100 shares of Acme Corporation stock for $2,000. In 1997 she bought another 100 shares of Acme for $2,300. In 2004, Tina sold 100 shares of Acme for $3,000.

The adjusted basis of the shares sold is $2,000. However, if Tina had told her broker to sell the 100 shares bought in 1997, the adjusted basis of the shares sold would have been $2,300, reducing her profit (and any taxable amount) on the sale.

Tax-free stock dividends and stock splits. Stock acquired in a tax-free stock dividend or stock split has the same holding period as the original stock owned. Thus, if the original stock has a long-term holding period, stock received in a tax-free stock dividend also has a long-term holding period. Similarly, if the original stock has a holding period of three months, the new stock immediately has a three-month holding period.

Example 4

On February 18, 1999, Wallace bought 500 shares of XYZ Corporation stock for $1,500, including his broker's commission. XYZ distributed a two-percent stock dividend on April 6, 2004. On April 9, 2004, Wallace sold all his XYZ stock for $2,030. He has a long-term capital gain of $530 on the sale of his stock. Although he owned the 10 shares he received as a tax-free stock dividend for only three days, all the stock has a long-term holding period.

Taxable dividends. There are several types of taxable dividends, as discussed in Lesson 3. A taxpayer who participates in a dividend reinvestment plan (one type of taxable dividend) will use the dividends to purchase more shares of the stock. The stocks acquired (including fractional shares) through the dividend reinvestment plan are added to the taxpayer's basis at fair market value on the date of distribution. Thus, the new shares of stock do not always have the same holding period as the original stock. If the taxpayer does not know their basis refer them to their stockbroker or financial planner.

Demutualization

Some taxpayers have been informed by their insurance company that the company has been demutualized. When this happens the policy holder receives either a block of stock or the cash equivalent of company stock. The holding period for such stock is the length of time the policy has been in effect, usually many years. The basis for this stock is zero. The taxpayer must report all of the proceeds as a capital gain, usually long term, when the stock is sold.

Wash Sales

Generally, a wash sale occurs when stock is sold and, within 30 days before or after the sale, substantially identical stock is bought. A loss on a wash sale is not deductible, and special rules relate to the basis of the replacement stock. However, a gain on a wash sale must be reported. Any taxpayer with a wash sale should be referred to a paid professional tax preparer.

Sales Price, Form 1099-B, and Adjusted Basis

The stockbroker reports sales price to the Internal Revenue Service in box 2 of Form 1099-B, Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions (see Exhibit 1). Some brokers do not subtract commissions and fees; they report the gross proceeds as the sales price. Other brokers do subtract commissions and fees, reporting the gross proceeds less commissions (referred to as net proceeds in this lesson) as the sales price. The broker checks the appropriate square at the right of box 2 to indicate whether the gross or net proceeds were reported to IRS.

If Form 1099-B reports gross proceeds, add the sales broker's commissions and fees to the basis. If Form 1099-B reports net proceeds, the broker already subtracted the commissions and fees the seller paid. Do not adjust the basis further.

Example 5

George sold stock for $2,300. He paid his broker a commission of $35 on the sale and received net proceeds of $2,265. If his broker reported the gross proceeds, box 2 of Form 1099-B would show $2,300, and the box next to gross proceeds would be checked. If his broker reported the net proceeds, box 2 of Form 1099-B would show $2,265, and the box next to gross proceeds less commissions would be checked.

As a general rule, you will need the following information from Form 1099-B:

IF Form 1099-B shows information in:	THEN report it on:
Box 1a , Date of sale	Schedule D, column (c), of either Part I, line 1, or Part II, line 8

Box 4 , Federal income tax withheld	Form 1040, line 63
Box 7 , Description of the property sold	Schedule D, column (a) in either Part I, line 1, or Part II, line 8

If there are entries in box 3 or in boxes 8 through 12 of Form 1099-B, refer the taxpayer to a paid professional tax preparer.

Form 1099-B does not include the date the taxpayer bought the stock or what he or she paid for it. The taxpayer will need to provide you with this information.

Some brokers do not issue standard Forms 1099-B. Instead they issue a statement, sometimes titled “A 1099 Consolidated Statement,” which shows stock sales and other types of distributions such as dividends and interest. Exhibit 2 is an example of such a statement

For the following situations, determine the adjusted basis of the stock sold, whether the holding period is long-term or short-term, and how the sales price is reported.

A. On May 11, 2001, Morris bought 1,000 shares of ZZZ Corporation stock for $5,000, plus a $100 commission. On February 14, 2004, he sold 500 shares for $3,300 and paid a $45 commission. The broker reported net proceeds on the sale.

1. What is the adjusted basis of the stock sold? _____

2. Is the holding period long term or short term? _____

3. What amount is reported to the Internal Revenue Service in box 2 of Form 1099-B? _____

B. In the case of Morris, above, assume that he bought 500 more shares of ZZZ stock on October 6, 2003, for $3,500, plus a $50 commission. At the time of the 2004 sale, he told the broker to sell the stock he had bought in 2003.

1. What is the adjusted basis of the stock sold? _____

2. Is the holding period long term or short term? _____

C. On November 30, 2001, Janice bought 100 shares of ABC Corporation stock for $9,965, plus a $35 commission. On January 5, 2004, the stock split two-for-one, and she then held a total of 200 shares. On March 6, 2004, she sold 100 shares for $6,470 and paid a $30 commission. Her broker reported net proceeds.

1. What is the adjusted basis of the stock sold? _____

2. Is the holding period long term or short term? _____

3. What amount is reported to the Internal Revenue Service in box 2 of Form 1099-B? _____

REPORTING GAIN OR LOSS ON SCHEDULE D

Use Schedule D (Form 1040), Capital Gains and Losses, to report gain or loss on the sale of stock. Figure gain or loss by subtracting the adjusted basis of stock sold from its sales price. If the sales price is greater, the taxpayer has gain on the sale. By contrast, if the adjusted basis is greater than the sales price, the taxpayer has a loss on the sale. To denote a loss, place the number in parentheses. The taxpayer should receive Form 1099-B, reporting each sale of stock.

Also use Schedule D to report capital gain distributions that the taxpayer has in addition to any sales of stock. Enter the capital gain distributions on Schedule D, Part II, line 13. They are reported to the taxpayer on Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions, box 2a.

If the taxpayer had capital gain distributions, but did not sell stock, he or she may not have to use Schedule D. Instead, report the capital gain distributions as explained in Lesson 3, Income.

Schedule D is divided into three parts with a tax calculation worksheet.

- Part I, Short-Term Capital Gains and Losses. For assets held one year or less.
- Part II, Long-Term Capital Gains and Losses. For assets held more than one year. Part II shows all long-term gains and losses and identifies the part subject to the 28% tax rate. The 28% rate applies to section 1202 gain from the sale or exchange of qualified small business stock and to collectibles.
- Part III, Taxable Gain or Deductible Loss.
- Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet or Schedule D Tax Worksheet, as required.

Parts I and II: Short-Term and Long-Term Capital Gains and Losses

Report transactions in Parts I and II as follows:

To Report Capital Gain or Loss in Part I or II, Schedule D
	Short-Term	Long-Term
Show the first four sales on:	Part I, Line 1, Schedule D	Part II, line 8, Schedule D
For additional sales, use:	Part I, line 1, Schedule D-1	Part II, line 8, Schedule D-1
And transfer the total sales amount:	From Part I, line 2, Schedule D-1 Onto Part I, line 2, Schedule D	From Part II, line 9, Schedule D-1 Onto Part II, line 9, Schedule D

Add the sales price amounts in column (d), lines 1 and 2 of Part I. Enter the result on line 3. Then add the amounts in column (d), lines 8 and 9 of Part II. Enter the result on line 10. The total of line 3 plus line 10 must equal the total from box 2 of all the taxpayer's Forms 1099-B. If they do not agree, the taxpayer should attach a statement to the return to explain the difference.

The Internal Revenue Service will compare the amounts reported on all of a taxpayer's Forms 1099-B with the sum of the amounts reported on lines 3 and 10 of Schedule D. If the numbers do not agree and the taxpayer did not explain the difference, IRS will contact the taxpayer.

Example 6

On November 13, 2003, Mary Lou bought 500 shares of XEN, Inc. stock for $20 a share ($10,000 total), plus a $50 commission. On February 26, 2004, she sold the stock for $8,090 and paid selling expenses of $40. The Form 1099-B from her broker reported a sales price of $8,090 (gross proceeds). Part I of Mary Lou's completed Schedule D appears in Exhibit 3.

Mary Lou has a short-term capital loss. Notice that Mary Lou shows the loss in column (f) of line 1. She completes Part I by entering the net short-term loss on line 7. This example shows that:

- Her broker reported gross proceeds on Form 1099-B. The amount shown in column (d) is $8,090 (because selling expenses have not been subtracted), and
- She works those expenses into the computation as an adjustment to basis, column (e)—and the result in column (f) reflects her true gain or loss.

Example 7

Exhibit 4 shows the three long-term transactions that Tess is reporting on Schedule D, Part II, for 2004. On August 21, 1999, she bought 200 shares of XYZ Company for $1,500. On October 1, 2000, she bought 500 shares of TUV, Inc., for $8,000, and on November 18, 2000, she bought 2,000 shares of QRS, Inc., for $5,000. Each amount includes the commission.

On January 10, 2004, Tess sold the stock in XYZ and TUV. The Form 1099-B from her broker reported gross proceeds of $1,875 for the XYZ stock, and $6,000 for TUV. Tess paid commissions of $35 for selling the XYZ shares, and $40 for selling TUV. On May 27, 2004, Tess sold the QRS stock for $10,000. She paid a $50 commission. Her broker reported net proceeds of $9,950 on Form 1099-B.

This example shows how to:

- Report basis when Form 1099-B shows gross proceeds (XYZ and TUV—basis includes commissions on the sale, as well as prior adjusted basis), in contrast to when it shows net proceeds (QRS—basis does not include commissions on the sale, but only the prior adjusted basis).
- Net gains and losses in column (f).

Exercise 2

For each of the following situations, figure the gain or loss on the sale of stock and indicate whether the gain or loss will be long term or short term.

A. On March 15, 2003, Bill bought 1,000 shares of stock for $15,000, including commission. On March 15, 2004, he sold 600 shares of the stock for $7,800, net proceeds on Form 1099-B.

1. Will Bill report a gain or a loss? _____
2. How much is the gain or loss? _____
3. Is the holding period long term or short term? _____

B. On January 7, 2001, Margo bought stock for $1,500, plus a $25 commission. On July 15, 2004, she sold the stock for $2,000 and paid a $25 commission. Her Form 1099-B shows the gross proceeds of $2,000 as the sales price.

1. Will Margo report a gain or a loss? _____
2. How much is the gain or loss? _____
3. Is the holding period long term or short term? _____

Reporting Capital Gain Distributions From Form 1099-DIV on Schedule D

If the taxpayer received Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions, see whether an amount is shown in box 2a.

- If capital gain distributions from Form 1099-DIV are the only capital gains or losses the taxpayer had for the year, the taxpayer may be able to report them directly on Form 1040A or Form 1040, as explained in Lesson 3, Income.
- If the taxpayer also sold stock reported on Form 1099-B, report the total capital gain distributions from Form 1099-DIV on line 13, column (f), of Schedule D.

Example 8

Alec received a Form 1099-DIV. Box 2a which shows he received a total capital gain distribution of $170. Alec also received a Form 1099-B that shows a net sales price of $1,200 on the sale of 600 shares of ABC Group, Inc. He bought the stock on February 19, 2000, and sold it on August 25, 2004. His basis in ABC, including commission, is $1,455. Alec's Form 1099-DIV, and Part II of his Schedule D, are shown in Exhibits 6. In this example, the capital gain distribution must be shown on Schedule D because Alec also sold stock in 2004 that must be reported on Schedule D.

After Completing Parts I and II of Schedule D

Double-check your entries on Schedule D up to this point.

- Check that the sales price amount from each Form 1099-B agrees with the amount entered in column (d) of either line 1 or line 8.
- Check that all entries in column (d), lines 1 and 2, add up to the amount on line 3.
- Check that all entries in column (d), lines 8 and 9, add up to the amount on line 10.
- Check that line 3, added to line 10, agrees with the total sales price reported on all of the taxpayer's Forms 1099-B.
- Check that the amount on line 13, column (f), is the same as the total from all the taxpayer's Forms 1099-DIV, box 2a.

Exercise 3

This exercise will give you practice with Schedule D. Use the following information to complete Parts I and II of Jane's Schedule D.

Jane sold five stocks during 2004. Her broker reported net proceeds as sales price.

Stock	Purchase Date	Date Sold	Net Sales Price	Adjusted Basis
500 sh LSR	1/21/03	1/4/04	$ 4,000	$ 9,000
250 sh BGI	3/11/03	2/12/04	10,000	2,500
75 sh ABC	1/22/01	1/29/04	2,000	7,500
400 sh XYZ	12/3/99	3/6/04	15,000	10,000
100 sh DEF	4/2/99	10/16/04	1,200	2,000

Jane also owns shares in a mutual fund that sent her a Form 1099-DIV. It reported $1,200 paid to her in total capital gain distributions for the year.

Part III: Summary of Parts I and II

Combine the amounts from line 7 (net short-term capital gain or loss) and line 15 (net long-term capital gain or loss). Enter the result on line 16 in Part III. This combined number may be a gain or a loss.

- If the line 16 amount is a gain, also enter it on line 13 of Form 1040.
- If the line 16 amount is a loss, skip to line 21 of Schedule D. Line 21 ensures that no more than the maximum allowable capital loss is deducted on Form 1040. The line 21 amount is limited to the smaller of:
 - The loss from line 16 or
 - $3,000 ($1,500 for a married taxpayer filing separately).

Also enter this amount on line 13 of Form 1040. Because it is a loss, be sure to put parentheses around the number when you enter it on Form 1040.

Tax Computation using either Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet or the Schedule D Tax Worksheet

The law limits tax rates on net long-term capital gains. To obtain the lowest rate, taxpayers with long-term capital gains must go to Schedule D Tax Worksheet to figure their tax. To determine whether you need a worksheet, complete Form 1040 through line 42, Taxable Income. Then go to the appropriate worksheet when:

- Both lines 15 and 16 of Schedule D are gains, and
- Form 1040, line 42, is more than zero.

Example 9

Edmund's tax return shows:

Filing status:	Form 1040, line 1 box checked, single.
Amount from:	Form 1040, line 42: $65,001
	Schedule D, line 7: (5,000)
	Schedule D, line 15: 16,000
	Schedule D, line 16: 11,000
	(Transferred to Form 1040, line 13.)

There is capital gain on Schedule D, line 15, and Form 1040, line 42, is more than zero.

Exhibits 8 and 9 show Edmund's Schedule D Part III, his Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet, and his Form 1040, lines 13 and 42. His tax is $11,894. Without Schedule D, his tax from the Tax Table would be $12,994. Using Schedule D saved Edmund $1,100.

Melvin sold the following stocks during 2004. His broker reported net sales proceeds on Form 1099-B.

Stock	Purchase Date	Date Sold	Net Sales Price	Adjusted Basis
50 sh ABC	9/15/03	7/26/04	$ 4,000	$5,000

Melvin also had shares in a mutual fund. The fund sent him a Form 1099-DIV that showed he received $1,500 in total capital gain distributions. His taxable income (line 42, Form 1040) was $67,001. His filing status is single.

Use the information given to complete Melvin's Schedule D.

Capital Loss Carryovers

Use the Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet in the Schedule D instructions to figure how much capital loss the taxpayer can carry from 2004 to 2005. As you learned earlier, a taxpayer cannot take net losses of more than $3,000 ($1,500 for married taxpayers filing separately) in figuring taxable income. The allowable loss for the year is also referred to as the deduction limit.

Unused losses are not gone forever. Rather, they are carried over to the next year. The carryover losses are combined with the gains and losses that actually occur in that next year. Unused losses are recycled this way, year after year, until they are all deducted. There is no limit on how many times a loss can be carried over during the taxpayer's life.

Unused losses keep their short-term or long-term classification when they are carried over. If the taxpayer has a short-term capital loss carryover from 2003, enter it on line 6, Part I, Schedule D. Enter it on line 14, Part II, if it is long-term.

NOTE: If a capital loss is limited and the remainder must be carried forward to 2005, remind the taxpayer to bring a copy of the 2004 return for 2005 return preparation.

Example 10

Andrew sold two stocks in 2004, as summarized here.

Stock	Purchase Date	Date Sold	Net Sales Price	Adjusted Basis
200 sh FFF	5/8/03	1/6/04	$ 4,000	$ 3,025
50 sh WWW	11/6/00	3/12/04	8,700	11,000

Andrew's 2003 return showed the following capital loss carryovers to 2004: a $4,200 short-term loss (line 8 of the 2002 Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet) and a $240 long-term loss (line 13 of the 2003 worksheet). His 2004 Form 1040, line 42, shows $55,825.

Andrew's Schedule D, Parts I through III, his 2004 Form 1040, line 13, and his 2003 Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet appear below as Exhibits 12 through 15. This example shows how to:

- Report a capital loss carryover from 2003 and work it into the computation on Schedule D as if it had resulted from a 2004 sale. This example shows both a short-term loss (reported on Schedule D, Part I, line 6) and a long-term loss (reported on Schedule D, Part II, line 14).

TAX TIPS

It is easy to double check the carryover from 2004 to 2005. Take as much as possible of the $3,000 (or $1,500) deduction from short-term capital losses first. Then take any remaining amount of the $3,000 (or $1,500) from long-term capital losses. What is left is the carryover to 2005.

- Combine a short-term capital loss and a long-term capital loss and apply the deduction limit ($3,000 for Andrew). Andrew reports the combined long-term and short-term loss on Schedule D, Part III, line 16. Line 21 applies Andrew's deduction limit, his allowable loss for the year.
- Show the allowable loss for the year ($3,000 for Andrew) in the Income section of Form 1040.
- The Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet was being revised and not available for this publication. See the Schedule D instructions for additional detail on Carryover Losses from 2004 to 2005.

Exercise 5

This exercise and the next one review the concepts covered in this lesson. They will measure your ability to apply what you have learned.

Matthew has a Form 1099-B from Broker One, who reported gross proceeds:

Stock	Date Sold	Sales Price
100 sh MNO	2/8/04	$5,050
500 sh ZYX	8/7/04	$5,250

Broker One reported sales commissions to Matthew separately. They were:

MNO: $50 ZYX: $200

Matthew also has a Form 1099-B from Broker Two, who reported net proceeds:

Stock	Date Sold	Sales Price
200 sh BCA	8/7/04	$4,000
300 sh JKL	8/7/04	$5,910

Matthew gave you the following information about the stocks he sold:

- He paid $6,940, plus a $60 commission, to buy the MNO stock on February 9, 2003.
- He bought the ZYX on March 11, 2001, for $5,200, plus a $100 commission.
- He paid $3,900, plus a $50 commission, to buy the BCA stock on January 29, 2004.
- He bought the JKL on June 26, 2002, for $6,300, plus a $30 commission.

Matthew's filing status is head of household. His Form 1040, line 42, shows $55,282. When you look at Matthew's Form 1040 and Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet from 2003, you see that he has a $450 short-term loss and a $325 long-term loss that he can carry over to his 2004 return.

Use this information to complete Matthew's Schedule D, Parts I, II, and III, and his Form 1040, line 13, for 2004.

Exercise 6

Katherine has two Forms 1099-B. They show:

From Broker No. 1 (gross proceeds reported):

Stock	Date Sold	Sales Price
100 sh LMN	4/20/04	$3,000
50 sh PQR	4/17/04	2,600
500 OLE	6/17/04	7,800

Expenses for selling the stock through Broker No. 1 (reported to Katherine separately from Form 1099-B) were:

On the sale of: LMN stock: $175 PQR stock: $105 OLE: $590

From Broker No. 2 (net proceeds reported):

Stock	Date Sold	Sales Price
75 sh ABC	1/24/04	$2,500
125 sh XYZ	3/22/04	6,000

Katherine gave you the following information about these stocks:

- She bought 100 shares of LMN stock on March 6, 2000, for $12.50 a share ($1,250), plus a 10% broker's commission ($125).
- She bought 200 shares of PQR stock on January 8, 2004, for $14 a share ($2,800), plus a 10% broker's commission ($280).
- Katherine bought OLE stock on two dates. On November 27, 2000, she bought 800 shares for $10 a share ($8,000), plus 10% broker's commission ($800). On March 6, 2003, she bought 600 more shares for $18 a share ($10,800), plus a 10% broker's commission ($1,080). When Katherine sold 500 shares of OLE in 2003, she did not specify which block they came from.
- Katherine bought 100 shares of ABC on October 15, 1999, for $72 a share ($7,200), plus a 5% broker's commission ($360). On May 8, 2000, the stock split two-for-one, so Katherine owned 200 shares after the split.
- She bought 125 shares of XYZ stock on October 26, 2003, for $74 a share ($9,250), plus a broker's commission of $250.

Katherine also gave you a Form 1099-DIV from the Acme Mutual Fund. It showed $1,050 in total capital gain distributions. From Katherine's tax return and worksheets for last year (2003), you found she has a $150 long-term capital loss carryover from 2003 to 2004.

Complete Katherine's Schedule D, Parts I through III, and her Form 1040, lines 13 and 43. She is single, and her taxable income shown on line 42 of her Form 1040 is $61,221.

▶▶ Summing Up This Lesson ◀◀

To figure and properly report a taxpayer's gain or loss on a sale of stock, you need to know:

1. Sales price (reported to the taxpayer and to the IRS on Form 1099-B),
2. Adjusted basis, and
3. Holding period.

To determine gain or loss, subtract adjusted basis from sales price. The holding period determines whether the gain or loss is long-term or short-term. Long-term capital gains are generally taxed at lower rates than short-term capital gains.

Use Schedule D, Parts I through IV, to figure capital gain or loss and the correct tax. Be sure the total sales price you report on line 3 plus line 10 of Schedule D is the same as the total sales price from all the taxpayer's Forms 1099-B, box 2.

Include capital gain distributions (reported to the taxpayer and to IRS on Form 1099-DIV) in the computation of long-term capital gains. Show them on Schedule D, Part II, line 13. Report capital gains distributions directly on Form 1040, line 13 (or on Form 1040A, line 10), if a Schedule D is not required to be completed for the gain or loss on a sale of stock.

A taxpayer can deduct up to $3,000 ($1,500 for a married taxpayer filing separately) in net capital loss for the year. The taxpayer can carry over any remaining loss to the next year. If the taxpayer has a carryover loss from 2003, include it on Schedule D, Part I, line 6, or Part II, line 14. The Capital Loss Carryover Worksheet, in the Schedule D instructions, can help you figure the carryover amount for 2005.

Report capital gain or loss on Form 1040, line 13.

Exercise 1

- A. 1. $2,550. $[($5,000 + $100) \div 1,000] \times 500 = $2,550$
2. Long-term.
3. $3,255. $$3,300 - $45 = $3,255$
- B. 1. $3,550. $$3,500 + $50 = $3,550$
2. Short-term.
- C. 1. $5,000. $[($9,965 + $35) \div 200] \times 100 = $5,000$
2. Long-term.
3. $6,440. $$6,470 - $30 = $6,440$

Exercise 2

- A. 1. Loss.
2. $1,200. $$7,800 - [($15,000 \div 1,000) \times 600] = ($1,200)$
3. Short-term.
- B. 1. Gain.
2. $450. $$2,000 - ($1,500 + $25 + $25) = $450$
3. Long-term.

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson covers the rules that apply to sales of a main home in 2004. Approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ to 1 hour should be devoted to covering the objectives of this lesson.

- At the end of this lesson students will be able to identify the amount of gain a taxpayer may exclude if a primary residence is sold.

TRAINING MATERIALS AND ON-SITE RESOURCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to the following IRS forms and publications. If you would like to provide the students with the most current revision of the forms and publications, you can download the files from www.irs.gov.

- Publication 523, Selling Your Home
- Form 1099-S, Proceeds from Real Estate Transactions
- For military returns: Publication 3, Armed Forces' Tax Guide
- Publication 4012, Volunteer Reference Guide, is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage.

TEACHING TIPS

1. Explain to students that this lesson covers the sale of another capital asset, a personal (main) home. A taxable gain on such a sale must be reported on Schedule D, Capital Gains and Losses.
2. Remind students that it is important to ask the taxpayer all relevant questions to ensure the sale of the home qualifies for the exclusion.
3. Stress to students that the person responsible for closing the transaction is generally required to file and furnish Form 1099-S for all sale transactions, unless the seller provides a signed written assurance (certification) that includes the necessary information to support the conclusion that the full gain on the sale is excludable from the seller's gross income. A list of transactions that are not reportable are covered in the Instructions for Form 1099-S.
4. Some taxpayers may be reluctant to provide the information that a volunteer needs to determine whether a home is a main home. The volunteer should explain to the taxpayer that he or she needs this information to make sure the taxpayer does not pay unnecessary tax on capital gains from the sale of his or her home. Remind volunteers to get to know the taxpayers first, before asking questions of a personal nature.

5. Explain to students that if a taxpayer sold a main home in 2004 that was used as rental property or partly for business, he or she must report the taxable gain on the sale of the home on his or her tax return. A taxpayer in this situation should seek the assistance of a paid professional tax preparer.
6. Caution students that many different situations may occur when taxpayers sell their main home. They must listen carefully to the taxpayer as well as ask probing questions to get all the relevant information regarding the sale.
7. Remind volunteers how important it is to avoid overly complicated tax returns. If a volunteer does not feel qualified to deal with a particular sale of home situation, or if the taxpayer is only eligible for partial gain exclusion, the volunteer should suggest that the taxpayer see a paid professional tax preparer.

SALE OF HOME NOTES TO MILITARY INSTRUCTORS

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson covers the rules that apply to members of the armed forces who have sold their main home. At the end of the lesson, the student should be able to:

- List the two tests that generally must be met to exclude the gain on the sale of residence.
- Determine when the 5-year ownership/use test period can be suspended.

MATERIALS

This lesson will refer to Publication 3, Armed Forces' Tax Guide.

TEACHING TIPS

Explain to students that the Military Families Tax Relief Act (MFTRA) signed by President Bush on November 11, 2003 contained special provisions for armed forces members who sell their main home.

General rule requires that the taxpayer own and use the home for at least 2 out of the last 5 years (counting back from the date of sale).

MFTRA allows for a suspension of the ownership and use tests during the time that taxpayer (or his/her spouse) serves on qualified official extended duty.

Members of the Armed Forces who have served on qualified official extended duty may be able to suspend the 5-year test period. See Publication 3, Armed Forces' Tax Guide, for additional information.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

Introduction

This lesson discusses the tax rules that apply when a taxpayer sells his or her main home in 2004. The taxpayer's main home is the one in which he or she lives most of the time.

A taxpayer does not need to report the sale of his or her main home on his or her tax return if the gain on the sale is less than or equal to an exclusion amount (discussed later). Generally, a taxpayer who meets the ownership and use tests, discussed later, can generally exclude from income a gain of up to $250,000 ($500,000 if married filing jointly) on a sale of a main home.

This lesson does not cover the sale of a main home used as rental property or partially for business.

Objective

- At the end of this lesson you will be able to determine the amount of gain a taxpayer may exclude if a primary residence is sold.

MAIN HOME

Only the gain from the sale of the taxpayer's main home is eligible for the rules discussed in this lesson. If a home that is not the taxpayer's main home is sold during the year, the gain generally will have to be reported as income. Any gain that must be reported as income is reported on Schedule D (Form 1040), Capital Gains and Losses. A clear understanding of what is an individual's main home is very important.

A main home is where the taxpayer lives most of the time. The home does not necessarily have to be a house. A houseboat, a mobile home, a cooperative apartment, or a condominium (house or apartment) may also qualify as a main home. A taxpayer's main home is not necessarily a home that is owned by the taxpayer. A rented home or apartment may be a main home. Taxpayers cannot choose which home to designate as their main home. Facts and circumstances determine which home is the main home.

If a taxpayer has more than one home, it is necessary to determine which home he or she lives in most of the time. In many cases the taxpayer owns a single home in which he or she lives all the time.

You must be sure that the owner of a single home also meets the requirement of living in the home most of the time. If not, it cannot be considered the main home.

Never assume that the house sold during the year was the taxpayer's main home, even if the house was the only one owned by the taxpayer. Be sure to check that the house was, in fact, the individual's main home.

Example 1

Lucille owns a home in a Colorado ski area (the ski home). She stays at the ski home most weekends and spends the entire months of December, January, and February there. When she is not at the ski home, she lives in a four-room apartment that she rents in Denver. For over half the year, she lives in Denver. Lucille's main home is her rental apartment in Denver, because she lives there most of the time. This is so even though she does not own the apartment in Denver.

GAIN ON SALE OF MAIN HOME

To figure the gain (or loss) on the sale of the taxpayer's main home, you must know the selling price, the amount realized, and the adjusted basis.

Selling price

The selling price is the total amount the taxpayer (seller) received for his or her main home. It includes money, all notes, mortgages, or other debts taken over by the buyer as part of the sale, and the fair market value of any other property or services that the seller received.

Form 1099-S

If the taxpayer received Form 1099-S, Proceeds From Real Estate Transactions, box 1 shows the date of sale (closing) and box 2 shows the gross proceeds received from the sale of his or her main home. If the taxpayer can exclude the entire gain from a sale in 2004, the person responsible for closing the sale (for example, a real estate broker or settlement agent) generally will not have to report it on Form 1099-S.

Example 1

Joe and Sarah Blackhawk sold their main home on July 7, 2004. They will not be able to exclude the entire gain from income (they had paid $200,000 for the home; their gain exceeds $500,000). The Lincoln Title Company provided them with a Form 1099-S (Exhibit 1).

Amount realized

The amount realized is the selling price minus selling expenses.

Selling expenses

Selling expenses include commissions, advertising fees, legal fees, and loan charges paid by the seller, such as points.

Adjusted basis

While the taxpayer owned his or her main home, he or she may have made adjustments (increases or decreases) to the basis. This adjusted basis is used to figure gain or loss on the sale of the taxpayer's main home.

Amount of gain (or loss)

When you know the amount realized and the home's adjusted basis, you can figure the taxpayer's gain or loss. If the amount realized is more than the adjusted basis, the difference is a gain and the taxpayer may be able to exclude all or part of it. If the amount realized is less than the adjusted basis, the difference is a loss. A loss on the sale of the taxpayer's main home cannot be deducted.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

A taxpayer who used his or her main home for business should seek the assistance of a paid professional preparer.

AMOUNT OF EXCLUSION

A single homeowner can generally exclude up to $250,000 of gain from the sale of a main home. A married couple can exclude up to $500,000 if they meet all of the following conditions.

1. They filed a joint return.
2. Either spouse or both meet the ownership test.
3. Both individuals meet the use test.
4. Neither individual excluded gain in the 2 years before the current sale of the home (not counting any sales before May 7, 1997).

For married individuals filing jointly if either spouse does not satisfy all these requirements, the maximum exclusion that can be claimed by the couple is the total of the maximum exclusion that each spouse would qualify for if not married and the amounts were figured separately. For this purpose, each spouse is treated as owning the property during the period that either spouse owned the property.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

There are exceptions to the ownership and use tests. Sales due to a change in employment location, health issues, or unforeseen circumstances may qualify for an exception. These taxpayers should seek the assistance of a paid preparer.

OWNERSHIP AND USE TESTS

The exclusion is allowed each time a taxpayer sells or exchanges his or her main home, but generally no more than once every 2 years. To be eligible, the property must have been:

1. Owned by the taxpayer for a combined period of at least 2 years out of a 5-year period ending on the date of sale (the ownership test).
2. Lived in as the taxpayer's main home for at least 2 years of that 5-year period (the use test).

Period of ownership and use

The required 2 years of ownership and use do not have to be continuous. The taxpayer meets the tests if the taxpayer can show that he or she owned and lived in the property as his or her main home for either 24 full months or 730 days during the 5-year period. Short temporary absences, even if the property is rented during those absences, are counted as periods of use.

Ownership and use tests can be met during different 2-year periods. However, a taxpayer must meet both tests during the 5-year period ending on the date of the sale.

Example 2

In 1996, Helen Jones lived in a rented apartment. The apartment building was later changed to a condominium, and she bought her apartment on December 1, 2001. In 2002, Helen became ill and on April 14 of that year she moved in to her daughter's home. On July 10, 2004, while still living in her daughter's home, she sold her apartment.

Helen can exclude all the gain on the sale of her apartment because she met the ownership and use tests. Her 5-year period is from July 11, 1999, to July 10, 2004, the date she sold the apartment. She owned her apartment from December 1, 2001, to July 10, 2004 (over 2 years). She lived in the apartment from July 11, 1999 (the beginning of the 5-year period), to April 14, 2002 (over 2 years).

Reduced Exclusion

If the property was owned and used as a main home for less than 2 years, a taxpayer may be able to claim a reduced exclusion. If this situation applies to a taxpayer, he or she should consult a paid preparer.

Exercise 1

John is single and sold his home in July 2004, for $300,000. The amount he realized from the sale was $297,500. His adjusted basis in the home was $255,500. Assuming he meets the ownership and use tests,

- a. What is the amount of the gain?
- b. What is his exclusion amount?

Exercise 2

Tim owns two homes. One residence is located in St. Louis where he works and the other is located in a resort area approximately 100 miles away. Tim lives in his St. Louis home during the week (Monday through Friday) and travels to his weekend home for Saturday and Sunday. His office allows him to work from home so approximately 2 months of the year he works from his weekend home. Which home is his main home?

TAXWISE HINTS

If a gain on the sale of a main home must be reported on the taxpayer's Form 1040. Link to a Schedule D, enter the description of property, and complete the remaining entries annotated in red. The software will calculate the gain and carry the calculation to the Form 1040.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

In this lesson you have learned about the rules that apply to homeowners who sell or exchange their principal residence.

- Exercise 1a. $42,000 ($297,500 minus $255,500)
1b. $42,000
- Exercise 2. His main home is the St. Louis residence.

STUDENT NOTES

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

On November 11, 2003, President Bush signed the Military Families Tax Relief Act. One of the provisions of the act affected the sale of home rules. This lesson will explain the current rules for calculating taxable gain on the sale of a military member's home.

At the end of this lesson, you should be able to:

- List the two tests that generally must be met to exclude the gain on the sale of a residence
- Determine when the 5-year ownership/use test period can be suspended

GENERAL RULE FOR HOME SALES IN 2004

A taxpayer can generally exclude up to $250,000 of gain ($500,000, in most cases, if married filing a joint return) realized on the sale or exchange of a main home in 2004. The exclusion is allowed each time the taxpayer sells or exchanges a main home, but generally not more than once every 2 years. To be eligible, during the 5-year period ending on the date of sale, the taxpayer must have owned the home for at least 2 years (the ownership test) and lived in the home as his/her main home for at least 2 years (the use test).

Example 1

John and Mary sold their main home on April 20, 2004 for $218,000. They paid $100,000 for the house in 1997. They lived in the house from September 1, 1997 until April 20, 2004. They never operated a business from the house. They meet the ownership and use tests. They can exclude the $118,000 gain from their income.

Exercise 1

What two tests must be met to use the general rules for home sales in 2004?

_____ Test

_____ Test

5-YEAR TEST PERIOD SUSPENSION

The taxpayer can choose to have the 5-year test period for ownership and use suspended during any period when he/she or his/her spouse serve on qualified official extended duty as a member of the Armed Forces. This means that the taxpayer may be able to meet the 2-year use test even if, because of their service, they do not actually live in the home for at least the required 2 years during the 5-year period ending on the date of sale. The period of suspension cannot last more than 10 years. The suspension cannot be used on more than one property at a time.

The taxpayer is on qualified official extended duty if he/she serves on extended duty either at a duty station at least 50 miles from his/her main home or while he/she lives in Government quarters under Government order. The taxpayer is considered on extended duty when he/she is called or ordered to active duty for a period of more than 90 days or for an indefinite period.

Example 2

Peter bought a home in 1996. He lived in it as his main home for 2 ½ years (1996–1998). From 1999–2004 he did not live in the home because he was on qualified official extended duty with the U.S. Army. He sold the home in 2004 and had a $12,000 gain. Under the general sale of home rules, Peter would have to include the gain on his tax return because he did not meet the ownership and use test (2 out of the last 5 years). Peter chooses to suspend the 5-year test period for the 6 years he was on qualifying official extended duty. Therefore, Peter's 5-year test period consists of the 5 years before he went on qualifying official extended duty. He meets the ownership and use tests and can exclude the gain from his tax return.

Exercise 2

Jennifer and Lance sold their main home on July 12, 2004 and had a capital gain of $26,000. They had bought the home in 1995 and lived in it as their main home until October, 1998 when Jennifer went on qualified official extended duty. Jennifer's qualified official extended duty ended on February 14, 2004. She and Lance lived in their main home until they sold it.

- A. Do Jennifer and Lance meet the ownership test under the general rules for home sales in 2004? _____
- B. Do Jennifer and Lance meet the use test under the general rules for home sales in 2004? _____
- C. Can Jennifer and Lance choose to have the 5-year test period suspended? _____
- D. Can Jennifer and Lance exclude the 2004 capital gain on the sale of their home from their income? _____

CLAIMING A REFUND FOR A PRIOR-YEAR HOME SALE

The rule for suspending the 5-year period became law in 2003, but is available for any sale of a main home after May 6, 1997. Therefore, the taxpayer may be entitled to a refund if this rule applies and the taxpayer paid tax on a gain from the sale of a home after that date.

RULES FOR SALES BEFORE MAY 7, 1997

Separate rules apply for sales of a main home before May 7, 1997. In general, if the home was sold for a gain, the taxpayer had to include the gain as income in the year of the sale. There were exceptions for postponed or excluded gain.

1. Ownership testUse test

2. A. Yes, Jennifer and Lance meet the ownership test under the general rules. In the last 5 years (July 13, 1999 through July 12, 2004) they had owned the home for more than 2 years.
- B. No, Jennifer and Lance do not meet the use test under the general rules. In the last five years, they had not used the home as their main home for more than 2 years.
- C. Yes, Jennifer and Lance can choose to have the 5-year test period suspended for the time that Jennifer was on qualified official extended duty.
- D. Yes, Jennifer and Lance can exclude the gain on the sale of their home, if they choose to suspend the 5-year test period.

LESSON OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will explain the concept of taxable and nontaxable retirement income. The lesson covers three types of retirement income: pensions, annuities and social security. This lesson can be completed in 2 to 3 hours. See the Suggested Class Schedules in Appendix B for additional information.

After completing this lesson, each student should be able to:

- Determine the taxable portion of different types of retirement income.
- Report retirement income on the tax return.
- Explain when a minimum distribution is required.
- Determine when an adjustment to withholding should be made.

TRAINING AND SITE RESOURCE GUIDE

This lesson will refer to forms that are used to report pension and annuity income. If you would like to provide your students with the most current revision of the Forms, you can download the files from www.irs.gov. (Forms RRB-1099, RRB-1099-R, CSA 1099 and SSA-1099 are not available at this site.)

You may also find the following publications helpful as you prepare your lesson. You can download a copy of the following publications from www.irs.gov.

- Publication 575, Pension and Annuity Income
- Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements
- Publication 721, Tax Guide to U.S. Civil Service Retirement Benefits
- Publication 915, Social Security and Equivalent Railroad Retirement Benefits

Publication 4012, VITA/TCE Quick reference Guide, is included in each student training kit. The publication is designed for both classroom and actual site usage. Make sure the student is aware of the content and how to use the publication.

Remind volunteers how important it is to avoid overly complicated tax returns. If a volunteer does not feel qualified to deal with a particular pension situation, or if the taxpayer needs to compute the General Rule, the volunteer should suggest that the taxpayer see a paid professional tax preparer.

For additional information about this topic see the applicable chapters of the Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax (For Individuals).

TEACHING TIPS AND GUIDED QUESTIONS

To help you teach this lesson, we are providing you with the following teaching tips. The tips are divided into sections that correspond with the student text.

Guided questions can be a tool for you to get information about how well your students understand the tax rules that you have covered. The guided questions are associated with the related teaching tips. It is always best to avoid asking a specific student to answer the question unless you have arranged this in advance. You could have the students answer the questions on index cards and then anonymously hand in their cards. You could use the answers on the cards to continue your discussion of the tax rules.

Teaching Tips – Introduction and Objectives

- Start your lesson on time. If you have a short story to tell about pension and annuity income, you can share it as an opener. Be careful to not offend anyone with your comments.
- Suggest that the students have their Publications 678 available during this lesson.
- Inform students that this lesson will not cover all of the possible retirement income scenarios. Remind volunteers how important it is to avoid overly complicated tax returns. If a volunteer does not feel qualified to deal with a particular pension situation, the volunteer should seek assistance from the site coordinator. If the taxpayer's situation is beyond the volunteer program scope, suggest that the taxpayer see a paid tax preparer.
- Review the objectives with the students.

Teaching Tips – Asking the Right Questions

- Effective interviewing is essential to the completion of an accurate return.
- If you have the time, ask students to suggest questions that they might need to ask about retirement income. Record their answers on a chalkboard or overhead projector. Or, you can ask someone to be the scribe and write down the responses. Provide a copy of the suggestions to all of the students.

Teaching Tips – Pensions and Annuities

- Review the section with the students and reassure them that the types of income will be covered more thoroughly as they go through the lesson.
- Alert students that taxpayers sometimes bring several years of 1099s with them. The volunteer should always sort out the current year forms from the prior year forms.

Teaching Tips – Pensions and Annuities – Fully or Partially Taxable

- Review the section with the students and point out:
 - A fully taxable pension is reported on line 16b, Form 1040 or line 12b Form 1040A.
 - Military pensions are usually fully taxable. Note the exception for contributions to a Thrift Savings Plan while in a combat zone.

Teaching Tips – Determining Taxable Retirement Income

- If you need additional resources to prepare to teach this segment of the lesson, you can consult Publication 575, Pension and Annuity Income.
- Remind students that the Simplified Method Worksheet does not have to be completed unless the tax-free portion of the retirement benefit is not known.

Teaching Tips – Reporting Retirement Income

Students may wonder why it is important to get the retirement income on the correct line of the tax return. The IRS receives copies of the 1099s that are issued to the taxpayers. If the 1099-R reports that the taxpayer had an IRA distribution but the preparer mistakenly puts the amount on the pension income line, the IRS may send a letter to the taxpayer asking why they didn't report the IRA distribution.

Retired Civil Service employees may come to the site with a Form CSA 1099-R or a Form CSF 1099-R. These forms are used to report retirement benefits and withholding. For additional information on these forms, see Publication 721, Tax Guide to U.S. Civil Service Retirement Benefits.

Guided Questions – Reporting Retirement Income

How would you compute taxable pension income for a taxpayer who has more than one pension or annuity?

The taxable part of each pension or annuity should be computed separately and only the totals should be entered on the proper lines of Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

Teaching Tips – Disability Pension Income

- Review Example 3 with the students.

Teaching Tips – Lump-sum Distributions

- Stress that if the plan participant was born after January 2, 1936, the special elections mentioned in this section do not apply.

Guided Questions – Lump-sum Distributions

How can you determine whether a taxpayer has been paid a lump-sum distribution of his or her pension?

Lump-sum distributions are reported on Form 1099-R. A check in box 2b, Total distribution, indicates that it is a lump-sum distribution.

Teaching Tips – Minimum Distributions

- Review the “required beginning date” section with the students.
- Remind students that some employer-sponsored pension plans may require the taxpayer to start taking distributions earlier than the “required beginning date” mentioned in this section.

Guided Questions – Minimum Distributions

By what date, and at what age, is a taxpayer required to receive minimum distributions?

For traditional IRAs, taxpayers must receive minimum distributions by April 1 of the year following the calendar year in which they turn 70 ½ years old. Generally, for all other retirement plans discussed in this lesson, a taxpayer who is still working at age 70½ can postpone receiving distributions until April 1 of the year after he or she retires.

Teaching Tips – Railroad Retirement Benefits

- If your site serves a significant number of railroad retirees, you may want to review the discussion of railroad retirement benefits in Publications 575 and 915 before you teach this section.

Teaching Tips – Social Security and Tier 1 Railroad Retirement Benefits

- Remind the students that taxpayers whose total income is less than the base amount will not have taxable benefits.
- Lump-sum benefits may require the assistance of a paid preparer.

Guided Questions – Social Security and Tier 1 Railroad Retirement

Are social security benefits always nontaxable?

No; some taxpayers have to include part of their social security benefits in taxable income.

What is the maximum amount of social security benefits that is subject to tax?

The taxable portion of social security benefits is never more than 85 percent of the net benefits.

If some of a taxpayer's social security benefits are taxable, can he or she have tax withheld on the taxable portion?

Yes; taxpayers may elect to have taxes withheld on their social security benefits.

To make this choice, taxpayers will have to fill out Form W-4V, Voluntary Withholding Request, or equivalent, and give it to the payer.

Which amounts from the Social Security Benefits Worksheet are transferred to Form 1040 or 1040A?

The amounts on lines 1 and 18

What two options can be used to compute the taxable portion of lump-sum benefit payments, which could be for both the current and prior tax years?

The first option used to compute the taxable portion of lump-sum benefit payments is to report the whole payment in 2004, the year it was received, and complete the Social Security Benefits Worksheet in the usual manner by including the lump-sum payment on line 1. The second option spreads payments back to the earlier year(s) and figures taxable benefits based on income from the earlier year(s) by using a special procedure. Any part that is taxable is then added to any taxable benefits for 2004.

How is a lump-sum death benefit taxed?

Lump-sum death benefits are not subject to tax.

Teaching Tips –IRAs

- Remind students that it is important to report the IRA distribution on the correct line on the tax return.
- Traditional IRAs require a minimum distribution by age 70½.
- Qualified Roth IRA distributions are not taxable.
- Roth IRAs do not require a minimum distribution.

Guided Questions – IRAs

What is an IRA?

An IRA is an Individual Retirement Arrangement—any of several kinds of tax-sheltered retirement plans set up by the taxpayer.

On what form are IRA distributions reported?

Form 1099-R Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts, etc.

Teaching Tips – Pension Withholding and Estimated Tax

- Pension plan administrators may require the taxpayer to use a Form W-4P that is specific to their plan. This is especially true with government-related plans.

Guided Questions – Pension Withholding and Estimated Tax

What may occur if a taxpayer does not pay enough tax, either through withholding or through estimated tax payments?

The IRS may charge the taxpayer interest and a penalty.

REVIEW THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY POINTS WITH YOUR CLASS:

- Pensions or annuities may have a tax-free portion if the taxpayer made after-tax contributions to the plan.
- Pension money received for disability is treated as wages until the taxpayer reaches the minimum retirement age.
- Federal income tax on pension, annuity, and social security income can be withheld by the payer, or the taxpayer may choose to pay estimated tax.

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

In this lesson, you will learn about pensions and annuities including taxable and nontaxable retirement income. Pensions and annuities provide cash payments, usually after a person has retired. These payments may be for life or for a fixed period of time. They may begin at retirement or at a specific age. This lesson covers pensions, annuities, social security benefits, railroad retirement benefits and individual retirement arrangements.

This lesson will refer to forms that are used to report pension and annuity income. The most current version of the forms is available at www.irs.gov (Note: Railroad Retirement and Social Security forms are not available on this site.)

After completing this lesson, you should be able to:

- Determine the taxable portion of different types of retirement income.
- Report retirement income on the tax return.
- Explain when a minimum distribution is required.
- Determine when an adjustment to withholding should be made.

Asking the Right Questions

Many of you will use software to complete the tax returns for your customers. While the software will do an excellent job of calculating the return, you are the key to calculating the correct tax treatment of your customer's pension or annuity income. As you work through this lesson, note what questions you may need to ask your customer. A thorough interview can help eliminate common errors.

PENSIONS AND ANNUITIES

Pensions and annuities provide cash payments, usually after a person has retired. The payments may be for life or a fixed period of time. They may begin at retirement or at a specific age.

- A pension is generally a series of definitely determinable payments made to an employee or survivor (the beneficiary of a deceased employee's pension) after the employee retires from work. Payments are made regularly and are for past services with an employer.
- An annuity is a series of payments under a contract from an insurance company, a trust company, or an individual. Annuity payments are made at regular intervals over a period of more than one full year.
- A qualified employee plan is an employer's stock bonus, pension or profit-sharing plan that is for the exclusive benefit of employees. The plan must meet Internal Revenue Code requirements. Most plans that you will be working with will be qualified plans.
- A 401(k) plan is an arrangement that permits an employee to elect to have the employer contribute part of the employee's cash wages to a retirement plan on a pre-tax basis. These deferred wages are not subject to income tax withholding at the time of deferral. The deferred wages are not reflected on Form 1040 since they were not included in taxable wages of box 1, Form W-2. (However, they are included as wages subject to social security, Medicare, and federal unemployment taxes.)

The most common form used to report pension and annuity distributions is Form 1099-R, Distributions from Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts etc. This lesson will help you understand how to treat the amounts listed on the Form 1099-R.

POTENTIAL PITFALLS

Retirement distributions for civil service retirees may appear on Form CSA-1099. Retirement distributions for railroad retirees are reported on RRB-1099 forms (covered later in this lesson).

PENSIONS AND ANNUITIES – FULLY OR PARTIALLY TAXABLE

A pension is fully or partially taxable depending on whether the employee contributed to the pension plan. Employee contributions are “after-tax” amounts that the employee paid into the pension fund. The employer usually deducts the contributions from wages and deposits them into the pension fund on behalf of the employee. Each year, the employee pays tax on the amount that he or she contributed that year. The employee's contributions are included in his or her Form W-2. Employee contributions are often referred to as the cost of the pension or as the investment in the annuity contract. For pensions discussed here, the employer will also have contributed to the pension fund.

■ Fully Taxable Pensions

If a taxpayer receives periodic payments of retirement benefits in the form of pension or annuity payments from a qualified employer retirement plan, the amounts received may be fully taxable or partially taxable. (IRAs, social security, and equivalent railroad retirement benefits are discussed later in this lesson.) Periodic payments are amounts paid at regular intervals for a period of time greater than one year.

Generally, if the taxpayer did not contribute to the cost of the pension plan, the pension benefits received are fully taxable. Military pensions are noncontributory and, therefore, fully taxable.

(Note: If the taxpayer participates in the uniformed services Thrift Savings Plan, their account may include contributions from combat zone pay. This pay is tax-exempt and contributions attributable to that pay are tax-exempt when they are distributed.)

Fully taxable pension payments are reported on line 16b, Form 1040, or line 12b, Form 1040A. You should make no entry on 16a, Form 1040, or line 12a, Form 1040A.

■ Partially Taxable Pensions and Annuities

If a taxpayer contributed to a pension plan with after-tax dollars while employed, part of the pension received is a return of the income taxed in earlier years and, therefore, is nontaxable. If the taxpayer has paid tax on the pension contribution (it was included in wages), the amount contributed is not taxed again when the pension is received.

For periodic payments that began after 1992, the payer is required to enter the taxpayer's contributions to a profit-sharing or retirement plan, or insurance premiums that the taxpayer may recover tax-free this year in box 5, Form 1099-R.

Example 1 Rudy retired from The Mart in 2002. He started receiving pension payments in October, 2002. His 2004 Form 1099-R shows an amount of $2,043 in box 5. This is the amount of his 2004 payments that are considered a recovery of his cost. He will not include this portion of the payment in his income.

If the payer is unable to reasonably obtain the data necessary to compute the taxpayer's cost, box 5 can be left blank.

Exercise 1

Wanda retired from the flour company in 2003. She receives a monthly pension of $1,000 from her former employer's pension plan. She shows you her 2004 Form 1099-R. The amount in box 5 is $892. How much of Wanda's 2004 distribution is considered a recovery of her cost in the plan? _____

In the next section, you will learn how to determine the taxable portion of a partially taxable pension or annuity when the payer has not determined the taxable portion of the payment.

DETERMINING TAXABLE RETIREMENT INCOME

If the taxpayer has a cost to recover from the pension or annuity plan, he or she can exclude part of each annuity payment from income as a recovery of cost, until all of the cost has been recovered. The tax-free part of the payment is figured when the annuity starts and remains the same each year, even if the amount of the payment changes.

The General Rule for Annuity Payments

Most taxpayers who are covered by a qualified retirement plan will no longer be eligible to use the General Rule for annuity payments received from the plan. However, if a taxpayer is 75 or over and his or her annuity starting date is after November 18, 1996, use the General Rule if the payments are guaranteed for at least 5 years.

Initial calculation of the tax-free portion of a pension under the General Rule is beyond the scope of the volunteer program. However, volunteers can assist taxpayers who already know the amount they can exclude under the General Rule.

The Simplified Method for Figuring Taxable Retirement Income

If the taxpayer's annuity starting date is after November 18, 1996, generally the Simplified Method must be used to figure the taxable portion of the pension if the taxpayer participated in a qualified plan.

If the payer does not calculate the taxable portion of the distribution, you will need to complete a Simplified Method Worksheet if this is the first year of the distribution. The tax-free amount remains the same each month, even if the amount of the payment changes.

The Simplified Method Worksheet requires that you figure the tax-free part of each annuity payment by dividing the taxpayer's cost (or investment) by the total number of anticipated monthly payments. The number of anticipated monthly payments is based on the annuitant's age when the payments start and is determined from a table that is included in the worksheet.

Example 2

Peter, age 65, receives retirement benefits under a joint and survivor annuity, to be paid over the joint lives of Peter and his wife, Mary, age 62. Peter's annuity starting date is January 1, 2004. He contributed $31,000 to a qualified plan and did not receive any distributions before the annuity starting date. Peter receives monthly payments of $1,200 and his tax-free monthly amount is $100. Mary will receive monthly survivor benefits of $600 upon her husband's death. See Exhibit 1 for a completed Simplified Method Worksheet for Peter.

Use the Simplified Method for Peter because his annuity starting date is after November 18, 1996, and the payments are from a qualified plan. In addition, because his annuity is payable over the lives of more than one annuitant, you must combine his age with his wife's age in completing line 3 of the worksheet.

Exhibit 1 – Peter's Simplified Method Worksheet

Keep for Your Records

Before you begin: ✓ If you are the beneficiary of a deceased employee or former employee who died before August 21, 1996, see Pub. 939 to find out if you are entitled to a death benefit exclusion of up to $5,000. If you are, include the exclusion in the amount entered on line 2 below.

Note. If you had more than one partially taxable pension or annuity, figure the taxable part of each separately. Enter the total of the taxable parts on Form 1040A, line 12b. Enter the total pension or annuity payments received in 2004 on Form 1040A, line 12a.

1. Enter the total pension or annuity payments received in 2004. Also, enter this amount on Form 1040A, line 12a . . .	1.	14,400.00
2. Enter your cost in the plan at the annuity starting date	2.	31,000.00
3. Enter the appropriate number from Table 1 below. But if your annuity starting date was after 1997 and the payments are for your life and that of your beneficiary, enter the appropriate number from Table 2 below	3.	310
4. Divide line 2 by the number on line 3	4.	100.00
5. Multiply line 4 by the number of months for which this year's payments were made. If your annuity starting date was before 1987, skip lines 6 and 7 and enter this amount on line 8. Otherwise, go to line 6	5.	1,200.00
6. Enter the amount, if any, recovered tax free in years after 1986	6.	0.00
7. Subtract line 6 from line 2	7.	31,000.00
8. Enter the smaller of line 5 or line 7	8.	1,200.00
9. Taxable amount. Subtract line 8 from line 1. Enter the result, but not less than zero. Also, enter this amount on Form 1040A, line 12b. If your Form 1099-R shows a larger amount, use the amount on this line instead of the amount from Form 1099-R	9.	13,200.00

After Peter excludes $31,000 from taxable income the rest of his retirement benefits will be fully taxable. Because this is a joint and survivor annuity, if Peter dies before recovering all of the pension cost, his wife will also exclude $100 from her $600 monthly payment until the pension cost is fully recovered. If she dies before recovering all of the pension cost, the remaining unrecovered cost will be deducted on her final income tax return as a miscellaneous itemized deduction on Schedule A (Form 1040) (not subject to the 2-percent of adjusted-gross-income limitation).

Note: The Simplified Method Worksheet is part of the 1099R input screen in the Taxwise® software. Scroll to the bottom of the input screen to see the worksheet.

Exercise 2

George, age 65, began receiving pension income under a joint and survivor annuity. George's annuity starting date is January 1, 2004. George had contributed $26,000 to a qualified plan and had received no distribution before 2004. George is to receive a monthly retirement benefit of $1,000 and his wife, age 68, is to receive a monthly survivor benefit of $500 upon George's death. Using the 2004 Form 1099-R (Exhibit 2) for George, complete the Simplified Method Worksheet (Exhibit 3).

Disability pension income

If the taxpayer retired on disability, he or she generally must include in income any disability pension received under a plan that is paid for by the employer. Taxable disability payments are treated as wages (and entered on line 7 of the Form 1040 or Form 1040A) until the taxpayer reaches minimum retirement age. The minimum retirement age generally is the age at which the taxpayer could first receive a pension or annuity, from that employer, if he or she was not disabled. (The payer may report the disability income on a Form W-2 or a Form 1099-R with code 3 in box 7.)

Example 3

Jason, age 41, retired on permanent and total disability in August due to multiple sclerosis. He received $700 per month (starting in August) from a plan that his employer had paid for. Jason had received $10,000 in wages from January 1 until his disability retirement. Jason will report the following income on line 7 of his tax return:

Wages	$10,000
Disability (5 x $700)	3,500
Total	$ 13,500

When Jason reaches minimum retirement age, the monthly amount will no longer be treated as wages; it will be considered pension income.

Lump-sum Distributions

If the taxpayer received a lump-sum distribution from a qualified retirement plan or a qualified retirement annuity and the plan participant was born before 1936, the taxpayer may be able to elect optional methods of figuring the tax on the distribution. These optional methods can be elected only once after 1986 for any eligible plan participant. If the plan participant was born after January 2, 1936, the elections for lump-sum distributions do not apply.

A lump-sum distribution is the distribution or payment within one tax year of an employee's entire balance (less deductible voluntary employee contributions and certain amounts forfeited or subject to forfeiture) from all qualified pension, stock bonus, or profit-sharing plans that the employer maintains. Usually, lump-sum distributions are reported on Form 1099-R. Some lump-sum distributions qualify for special tax treatments. Code A in box 7 of the 1099-R indicates that it is a lump-sum distribution and it may qualify for special tax treatments. The application of the special tax treatment is beyond the scope of the volunteer program. Suggest that the taxpayer seek the assistance of a paid preparer.

Minimum Distributions

To make sure that most retirement benefits are paid during the taxpayer's lifetime, rather than to the taxpayer's beneficiaries, payments from qualified retirement plans (other than Roth IRAs) must begin no later than the required beginning date.

Generally, the required beginning date is April 1 of the year following the later of:

- The calendar year in which the taxpayer reached age 70 ½, or
- The calendar year in which the taxpayer retired.

By the required beginning date, the taxpayer must either receive their entire interest in the plan or begin receiving periodic distributions based on life expectancy. The amount that must be taken out is known as the minimum required distribution.

A minimum distribution is:

- The entire amount in the pension plan, or
- Regular periodic distributions in an amount large enough to use up the entire amount in the pension plan over:
 1. The taxpayer's life expectancy,
 2. The joint life expectancies of the taxpayer and a designated surviving beneficiary, or
 3. A shorter period of time than these life expectancies.

IMPORTANT! If the taxpayer does not receive the minimum distribution, an excise tax may be imposed. The tax is 50 percent of the difference between the minimum distribution and the amount actually distributed for the tax year.

Railroad Retirement Benefits and Reporting Forms RRB-1099

Benefits paid under the Railroad Retirement Act fall into two categories. These categories are treated differently for income tax purposes.

1. The first category is the amount of tier 1 railroad retirement benefits that equal the social security benefit that a railroad employee or beneficiary would have been entitled to receive under the social security system.

This part of the tier 1 benefit is called the “social security equivalent benefit” and is treated for tax purposes like social security benefits. It is shown on the blue part of the Form RRB-1099, Payments by the Railroad Retirement Board. Use the amount from box 5 of Form RRB-1099.

2. The second category contains the rest of the tier 1 benefits, called the “non-social security equivalent benefit,” any tier 2 benefits, vested dual benefits, and supplemental annuity benefits.

This category of benefits, shown on Form RRB-1099-R, Annuities or Pensions by the Railroad Retirement Board, is treated as an amount received from a qualified employer plan. Vested dual benefits and supplemental annuity benefits are fully taxable pensions.

Example 4

David is retired from the Drake Railroad Line. He files Form 1040, jointly with his wife Elizabeth. He received a Form RRB-1099 (Exhibit 4) and a Form RRB-1099-R (Exhibit 5) for 2004. Elizabeth also received a Form RRB-1099-R (Exhibit 6). Elizabeth had wages of $7,390 (line 7, Form 1040). They had $3,598 of interest income (line 8a, Form 1040). They also had ordinary dividends of $2,019 (line 9a, Form 1040) and $480 (line 13, Form 1040) in capital gain distributions.

Since box 3 on the Forms RRB-1099-R is blank, the payments shown in box 4 are fully taxable. The amount in box 6 is also fully taxable. They will include the $13,544 ($3,054 + $10,490) on line 16b of their Form 1040.

The Social Security (and Tier 1 Equivalent) Benefits worksheet (Exhibit 7) reveals that $613 of the amount on Form RRB-1099 is taxable.

Social Security and Tier 1 Railroad Retirement Benefits

This section explains the federal income tax rules for social security benefits and equivalent tier 1 railroad retirement benefits. Social security benefits (as they are used in this lesson) include monthly survivor and disability benefits. They do not include supplemental security benefits (SSI) which are not taxable.

The Social Security Administration issues Form SSA-1099 to social security benefit recipients. The net benefit for the year is listed in box five (5). The social security equivalent of the Railroad Retirement Benefits is shown in box five (5) of Form RRB-1099.

To determine whether any of the taxpayer's benefits may be taxable, you must select the base amount for the taxpayer. The base amounts are as follows:

- $25,000 if the filing status is single, head of household, or qualifying widow(er),
- $25,000 if the filing status is married filing separately and the taxpayer lived apart from the spouse for all of the year,
- $32,000 if the filing status is married filing jointly, or
- $-0- if the filing status is married filing separately and the taxpayer lived with the spouse at any time during the year

Next, compare the base amount with the total of:

- One-half of the social security benefits (and equivalent tier 1 railroad retirement benefits), plus
- All other income, including tax-exempt interest

If the total is more than the base amount for the filing status, a portion of the taxpayer's social security benefit may be subject to federal income tax.

If part of the benefits is taxable, how much is taxable depends on the total amount of the benefits and other income. Generally, the higher that total amount, the greater the taxable part of the benefits.

The person who has the legal right to receive the benefits is the one who must consider whether the benefits are taxable.

Form SSA-1099

Social security benefits are reported to the taxpayer on Form SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statement. The amount in box 5, Net benefits for 2004, is entered on a worksheet to figure if any of the benefits are taxable. Make sure you enter the amount from box 5 of Form SSA-1099 on line 1 of the worksheet. Neither Form SSA-1099 nor the worksheet (explained below) is attached to the income tax return. They are kept with the taxpayer's other personal records.

A worksheet to figure the taxable portion of the social security benefits (and equivalent tier 1 railroad retirement benefits) is included in the instructions to the Form 1040 and the Form 1040A. If you are using software to prepare the return, you may not actually complete a worksheet. The software can make the determination of the taxable portion of the benefits based on the personal and financial information you enter for the taxpayer. Taxable portions of social security benefits (and equivalent tier 1 railroad retirement benefits) cannot be reported on Form 1040EZ.

Example 5

Gilbert, age 72, is single and files Form 1040A. In addition to receiving social security payments, he received a fully taxable pension of $18,600 (line 12b), wages from a part-time job of $9,400 (line 7) and taxable interest income of $990 (line 8a), for a total of $28,990. He received a Form SSA-1099 that shows his net social security benefits of $5,980 in box 5. His completed worksheet is shown in Exhibit 8. On line 14a of his Form 1040A, Gilbert will enter $5,980. On line 14b he will enter the taxable benefit of $2,990.

Lump-Sum Social Security Benefits Payments – Figuring the Taxable Portion

Some taxpayers may have received a lump-sum benefit payment in 2004. This payment could be for both the current tax year and prior tax year(s). The lump-sum payment will be included in box 3 of the Form SSA-1099 or Form RRB-1099 that the taxpayer receives. The form will also show the year, or years, of the payment.

This type of lump-sum benefit payment should not be confused with the lump-sum death benefits that both the Social Security Administration and the Railroad Retirement Board pay to many of their beneficiaries. No part of the lump-sum death benefit is subject to tax.

When figuring the taxable portion of social security benefits, (and RRB Tier1 equivalents), two options are available for lump-sum benefit payments.

1. The first option allows the taxpayer to report the whole payment in the year it was received. When the taxpayer chooses this option, complete the Social Security Benefits Worksheet as usual by including the entire lump-sum payment on line 1.
2. The taxpayer also has the option of treating the payment as received in the earlier year or years. This is done by figuring whether any part of these benefits is taxable, based on the earlier year's income. Any part that is taxable is then added to any taxable benefits for the current year (2004) and included on Form 1040, line 20b.

If the taxpayer chooses to spread the payments back to earlier years, only 2004 income will be adjusted. The taxpayer does not file amended returns for the earlier years. However, a special procedure must be used to figure the taxable portion of the benefits assigned to the earlier years. If the taxpayer wants to use this option, he or she should consult a paid preparer.

Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) Distributions

As a volunteer, you can complete the return of a taxpayer who received either a fully taxable or a totally tax free distribution from an IRA. If only part of the distribution is taxable, the taxpayer should consult a paid preparer.

A traditional IRA is any IRA that is not a Roth IRA or a SIMPLE IRA. A traditional IRA is sometimes called an ordinary or regular IRA.

A Roth IRA is an individual retirement arrangement that is designated as a Roth when it is set up. Taxpayers cannot deduct contributions to a Roth IRA. However, if the taxpayer satisfies the requirements described later, qualified distributions are tax-free.

A Savings Incentive Match Plan for Employees (SIMPLE) is a tax-favored retirement plan that certain small employers (including self-employed individuals) can set up for the benefit of their employees. For SIMPLE plan purposes, the term employee includes a self-employed individual who received earned income.

IRAs – Traditional Taxation of Distributions

General Rules

In general, distributions from a traditional IRA are taxable in the year received. Taxable distributions from traditional IRAs are treated as ordinary income. The taxpayer cannot use the 10-year tax option or the capital gain treatment for a lump-sum distribution from an IRA.

Fully Taxable

If only deductible contributions were made to a traditional IRA, the taxpayer has no basis (cost or investment) in the IRA. Because the taxpayer has no basis, any distribution from the IRA is fully taxable when received.

Partly Taxable

If the taxpayer made nondeductible contributions to a traditional IRA, he or she has a cost basis (investment in the contract) equal to the amount of those contributions. The nondeductible contributions are not taxed when they are distributed because they represent a return of the investment in the IRA. The volunteer program does not cover distributions that are partly taxable.

If the taxpayer receives a distribution from a traditional IRA, he or she will receive Form 1099-R, or similar statement. IRA distributions are shown in boxes 1 and 2 of Form 1099-R. The IRA box to the right of box 7 should be checked.

Example 6

Tyrone contributed $500 a year to a traditional IRA. Each year he deducted his traditional IRA contribution from his income. This year he received his first distribution from the traditional IRA. It is fully taxable. Tyrone will pay income tax on the distributions he receives which represent the contributions he made and deducted as well as the money the contributions have earned over the years.

Traditional Required Minimum Distributions

Taxpayers cannot keep funds in a traditional IRA indefinitely. Eventually, the funds must be distributed. The owner of a traditional IRA must start taking distributions when he or she reaches age 70 ½. The taxpayer must take the first distributions from the IRA by April 1 of the year following the year in which he or she reaches age 70 ½. The taxpayer will need to take two distributions in the same tax year if he or she postpones the first distribution until the year following the year he or she turns 70 ½.

If there are no distributions or the distributions are not large enough, the taxpayer may have to pay the additional 50% tax (described earlier in this lesson) on the amount not distributed.

Roth Taxation of Distributions

In general, taxpayers do not include qualified distributions from Roth IRAs in gross income.

A qualified distribution is generally any payment or distribution made after the 5-taxable-year period beginning with the first year for which a contribution was made to a Roth IRA and that is made:

- On or after the taxpayer reaches age 59½, or
- Because the taxpayer is disabled, or
- To a beneficiary or an estate after the death of the taxpayer, or
- To buy, build or rebuild a first home

Part of any distribution that is not a qualified distribution may be taxable as ordinary income and subject to the additional 10% tax on early distributions. Distributions of conversion contributions within a 5-year period following a conversion may be subject to the 10% early distribution tax, even if the contributions have been included as income in an earlier year.

Taxpayers are not required to take distributions from a Roth IRA at any age. The minimum distribution rules that apply to traditional IRAs do not apply to Roth IRAs while the owner is alive. The amount withdrawn from a Roth IRA cannot be used to satisfy the minimum distribution requirements for the taxpayer's traditional IRA(s), if any.

Pension Withholding and Estimated Tax Payments

Income tax is normally withheld from the taxable part of a pension or annuity. The taxpayer can adjust the withholding amount or stop the withholding completely by notifying the payer. The taxpayer usually communicates these changes by completing Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments, and providing it to the payer of the pension.

A taxpayer who chooses not to have tax withheld (or has too little tax withheld) may have to pay estimated tax. Taxpayers, who owe more than $1,000 when they file their tax return, may be penalized for failure to estimate (and pay) the proper amount of tax.

Health Coverage Tax Credit

The Health Coverage Tax Credit (HCTC) is a federal tax credit. It was established by the Trade Act of 2002 to assist the following groups of people:

1. Workers who lose their jobs due to the effects of international trade and
 - Are eligible for certain Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) benefits; or
 - Are eligible for benefits under the Alternative Trade Adjustment Assistance (ATAA) program.

2. People who receive benefits from the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) and are at least 55 years old.

The program is a partnership of the federal government, state governments and health plan administrators. The federal government administers the program. State agencies help identify people who are eligible and help promote the program. State agencies and health plan administrators work together to make qualified coverage options available for eligible individuals.

Taxpayers who are potentially eligible will be notified. If the taxpayer is receiving benefit payments from the PBGC and is at least 55 years of age, he or she will receive notification from the appropriate state agency. Shortly thereafter, the HCTC Customer Contact Center will send the taxpayer the HCTC Program Kit, a booklet describing the program and eligibility requirements. In addition to the Program Kit, the HCTC program sent two mailings (Publications 4258 and 4260) in early 2004 to all HCTC candidates reminding them to claim the credit if they are eligible.

For additional information visit www.irs.gov and search for HCTC. This credit is outside of the scope of the volunteer program. Taxpayers who need assistance with this credit may need to seek the assistance of a paid professional tax preparer.

Summary Exercise

Using the concepts you learned in this lesson, complete the following summary exercise.

Bart, age 66, and Mildred, age 56, are filing a joint return for 2004. They want to file their return on a Form 1040 because that is what they have always done. They had the following income:

Mildred's wage	$9,500
Interest (joint)	500
Dividends	2,000
Bart's pension	20,900
Bart's IRA distribution	3,400
Bart's Social Security	9,500

Bart never made any after-tax contributions to his pension plan. All of Bart's IRA contributions were tax-deductible when made.

- A) How much of the pension income is taxable? _____
- B) What line(s) will you list the pension income on? _____
- C) How much of the IRA distribution is taxable? _____
- D) What line(s) will you list the IRA distribution on? _____
- E) Will any portion of the social security benefits be taxable? _____

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

In this lesson, you learned about the taxability of several types of retirement income.

- ▶ You now know that some retirement income, such as a qualified Roth IRA distribution, is not taxed.
- ▶ Some retirement income, such as a pension plan that had after-tax contributions, is partially taxable.
- ▶ Retirement income, such as a social security benefits, may be taxable if total income exceeds a specified amount.
- ▶ Retirement income, such as a distribution from a traditional IRA, can be fully taxable if the taxpayer does not have a basis in the plan.
- ▶ The Simplified Method Worksheet is used to compute the taxable portion of a partially taxable pension or annuity.
- ▶ A worksheet is also available to calculate the taxable portion, if any, of Social Security benefits.
- ▶ The scope of the volunteer program does not include IRA distributions that are partly taxable.
- ▶ Some taxpayers may need to make estimated tax payments.

Exercise 1

$892.00

The amount in box 5 of Form 1099R is considered the amount of the current year's pension distribution that is considered a recovery of cost or investment.

Exercise 2

Please see Exhibit 9 on the following page for George's completed Simplified Method worksheet.

Answer to Summary Exercise

A. $20,900

Since Bart did not make any after-tax contributions to the pension plan, the entire distribution is taxable.

B. 16b

The pension is fully taxable; no entry should be made on 16a.

C. $3,400

Bart was able to deduct all of his contributions to the traditional IRA, the distribution is fully taxable.

D. 15b

The distribution is fully taxable. No entry should be made on 15a.

E. Yes.

The joint income (with $\frac{1}{2}$ the social security benefits added) is \$41,050. This exceeds the base amount for a married filing joint taxpayer. A portion of the social security benefits will be subject to tax.

PENSION EARNER COMPREHENSIVE PROBLEMS

INTRODUCTION

In this section, you will complete tax returns for several common pension-earner scenarios often encountered at volunteer assistance sites. This will be valuable practice as you prepare to help taxpayers. Although answers to each of the problems are shown at the end of this section, you should try to complete the blank forms for each problem before referring to its answers.

After completing this section, you will be able to:

- accurately complete a basic tax return with some advanced topics.

PROBLEM 1

Stuart and Donna Morehouse are married and need your help with their 2004 federal income tax return. They provide you with the following information:

- Stuart was born July 2, 1936. Donna was born December 28, 1951.
- The address and social security numbers are correct on their income statements. Stuart's middle name is Liam and Donna's middle name is Rae. They show their social security cards and a photo ID to you.
- Neither one wishes to contribute to the Presidential Election Campaign.
- They want to file a joint return.
- Neither Stuart nor Donna can be claimed as someone else's dependent.
- They do not have any dependents.
- Stuart is retired. Donna is a secretary at the local bank.
- Donna has W-2 (Exhibit 1) for her wages.
- Stuart has interest income from a savings account (Exhibit 4).
- They did not have any dividend or capital gain income. They do not have any capital loss carryovers.
- They did not take any money out of an IRA nor did they have any unemployment income.

PENSION EARNER COMPREHENSIVE PROBLEMS

- Stuart received a distribution from a qualified pension (Exhibit 3) and Social Security (Exhibit 2) income.
- Donna made a $900 contribution to her 2004 IRA on January 15, 2005. (She has never taken any money out of the IRA.) She always gets to deduct the contribution on her tax return (because their joint income does not exceed the amount allowable for their filing status). They have no other adjustments to income.
- They want to use the standard deduction. Neither one of them is blind.
- They did not make any estimated tax payments.
- If they are entitled to a refund, they want the check mailed to their house.
- They do not want to designate a third-party representative.
- Your site identification number is Sxxxxxxxxx.

Complete their Form 1040A (Exhibit 5) including the Social Security Benefits worksheet (Exhibit 6) and Form 8880 (Exhibit 7), if needed.

See Exhibits 16–18 for the answer.

PROBLEM 2

Jay and Sandra Madison are married and they need your help with their 2004 federal income tax return. They provide you with the following information:

- Jay was born February 14, 1931. Sandra was born November 27, 1936.
- The address and social security numbers are correct on their income statements. Jay's middle name is Roy and Sandra's middle name is Helen. They show their social security cards and a photo ID to you.
- They want to file a joint return and both of them want to contribute to the Presidential Election Campaign.
- Neither of them can be claimed as someone else's dependent and they do not have any dependents.
- Jay is retired. Sandra has never worked outside the home.
- Jay receives pension (Exhibit 8) and social security income (Exhibit 9).
- The only other income they have is from the sale of stock (Exhibits 10 and 11). The 100 shares of ABC stock was bought on 12/01/1985 at $24.00 per share. The 200 shares of XYZ stock was bought on 12/20/1987 at $28.50 per share. The basis of the stock has not changed since the purchase date. No commission was paid on the purchase or the sale. There are no capital loss carryovers.
- They do not have enough deductions to itemize. They are not blind.
- They did not make any estimated tax payments.
- If they are entitled to a refund, they want the check mailed to their house.
- They do not want to designate a third party representative.
- Your site identification number is Sxxxxxxxx.

Complete their Form 1040 (Exhibit 12) using the Schedule D (Exhibit 13), the Social Security Worksheet (Exhibit 14) and the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet (Exhibit 15) if needed.

See Exhibits 19–22 for the answer.

In lesson 15, 16, 17 and 18 we will discuss information about tax situations specific to military and international taxpayers. The topics to be covered are:

Foreign Earned Income Exclusion: The foreign earned income exclusion is voluntary and your students' responsibility will include providing taxpayers information about the exclusion and assisting them in claiming it.

Tax Options for Combat Zone Participants: Military personnel serving in combat zones have special tax benefits/options. These benefits are discussed in this lesson.

Aliens: Discussions will focus on the importance of "alien" status in determining federal income tax reporting requirements for Armed Forces personnel.

Home Leave: Certain expenses incurred while taxpayers travel to their home in the United States under orders from the head of a Foreign Affairs agency are deductible. These expenses are discussed in this lesson.

See Appendix B for suggested class schedules and approximate teaching times.

GUIDED QUESTIONS – FOREIGN EARNED INCOME EXCLUSION

1. What is the Bona Fide Resident Test?

The person must set up permanent residence in a foreign country and be there for an uninterrupted period that includes an entire tax year.

2. If the person is using the Physical Presence Test how many days must they be in the foreign country?

The person must be in the foreign country for 330 days of a twelve consecutive months period.

3. If a taxpayer finds out about the foreign income exclusion after they file their return, and they meet all the requirements can they file an amended return?

No, the election to file the Form 2555EZ or Form 2555 is only available on an original timely filed return and you cannot amend a return to claim the exclusion.

GUIDED QUESTIONS – TAX OPTIONS FOR COMBAT ZONE PARTICIPANTS

- 1. How does a person determine if the decedent's family qualifies for the Combat Zone Forgiveness?
 - The person's death was the result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while in a combat zone. The combat zone is an area that was designated by the President of the U.S. by Executive Order as a combat zone (discussed in Chapter 2).
- 2. How does the decedent's family claim a refund because the person's death was either in a combat zone, or the result of Military or Terroristic actions?
 - They must attach, to the Federal Income Tax Return, a Form 1310, Statement of Person Claiming Refund Due to Deceased Taxpayer and attach a statement to it from either the Department of Defense (DOD Form 1300) or U.S. Department of State with the pertinent information.

GUIDED QUESTION FOR ALIEN ISSUES

- 1. When is it most common to have a Dual-Status Alien situation?
 - The year someone enters the U.S. or the year the person leaves the U.S. is when you would most likely encounter that type of situation.
- 2. What should a parent do for tax purposes if their child is born while they are stationed abroad?
 - Seek assistance from the Legal Assistance Office and/or the Embassy. Information is also available on www.irs.gov.

FOREIGN EARNED INCOME EXCLUSION

Lesson 15
Military Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will discuss the foreign earned income exclusion. Certain taxpayers can exclude income earned in foreign countries. For 2004, the maximum exclusion amount is $80,000. However, the foreign earned income exclusion does not apply to wages and salaries of military and civilian employees of the U.S. Government. Employees of the U.S. Government, include those who work at Armed Forces post exchanges, officer and enlisted personnel clubs, and embassy commissaries. Other foreign income earned by military personnel or their spouses may be eligible for the exclusion.

To qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion, the taxpayer's tax home must be in a foreign country throughout your period of stay. This lesson will explain this requirement.

After completing this lesson, you should be able to:

- Determine whether the taxpayer qualifies for the foreign earned income exclusion.
- Calculate the foreign earned income exclusion.

REQUIREMENTS TO QUALIFY FOR THE FOREIGN EARNED INCOME EXCLUSION

There are two requirements to qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion. First, the taxpayer must show that his or her tax home is in a foreign country. ("Foreign country" does not include Puerto Rico, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, the Virgin Islands, or U.S. possessions such as American Samoa, Wake Island, the Midway Islands and Johnston Island.) The second requirement is that the taxpayer must meet either the bona fide residence test or the physical presence test.

Exercise 1

Miranda has lived in Puerto Rico since 1998. Is she eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion?

Answer _____

The requirements are applied separately to each individual. If a husband and wife are each working overseas, each must meet both requirements, to apply the exclusion. If they do so, each is entitled to an exclusion of up to $80,000 (on qualified income) for 2004. (Remember military pay is not eligible for the exclusion.)

Tax Home. To claim the foreign earned income exclusion, the taxpayer's home must be in a foreign country. Generally, one's tax home is the area of the taxpayer's main place of business, employment or post of duty, regardless of where the taxpayer maintains his or her family home. If the taxpayer does not have a regular place of business because of the nature of the work, their tax home is the place where they regularly live.

Military Note: The tax home for military personnel is the permanent duty station, either land based or on a ship. This is true whether it is feasible or permissible for the taxpayer's family to live with him or her. Generally, most military personnel and their dependents will not qualify for the Foreign Earned Income Exclusion.

Example 1

John and Mary are both in the Armed Forces and have been permanently stationed in Germany since August 2002. Their tax home for 2004 would be Germany.

Exercise 2

Alan has lived and worked in China since August 16, 1999. For 2004, what country is his tax home?

Answer _____

When the taxpayer has a tax home in the U.S. and goes overseas temporarily, or on business, the tax home has not changed. If the taxpayer is assigned overseas on business for an indefinite period, their tax home is overseas and the taxpayer may be eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion.

The law provides that the taxpayer will not be treated as temporarily away from home if the employment away from home exceeds one year. Therefore the person will generally be considered to have a tax home in a foreign country if the employment in the foreign country will be for more than one year. However for purposes of the foreign earned income exclusion a person will not be considered to have a tax home in a foreign country for any time during which they are living in the United States.

DETERMINING THE REGULAR PLACE OF ABODE

Three questions are important in showing whether or not a U.S. home is the regular place of abode. The questions that you should ask the taxpayer are:

1. Did you use your home in the United States as a residence while you worked at your job in the United States just before going abroad to your new job, and did you continue to maintain work contacts, job seeking, leave of absence, ongoing business, etc.) in that area in the United States during the time you worked abroad?

2. Are your living expenses duplicated at the U.S. and foreign home because your work requires you to be away from your U.S. home?
3. Do you have a family member or members continuing to live at your U.S. home, or do you frequently use your U.S. home for lodging during the period you work abroad?

If the taxpayer cannot answer “yes” to at least two of these three questions, the taxpayer will be considered indefinitely assigned to the new location abroad. Thus, since the tax home is abroad, no expenses for travel, meals, or lodging while there are deductible. However, one may be able to exclude earnings from income under the foreign earned income exclusion rules.

If he/she realistically expects the job to last, and it does last, less than 1 year and that he/she will return to the U.S. home, and can answer “yes” to all three questions, the taxpayer is considered temporarily away from home. The taxpayer does not qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion, but may qualify to deduct away-from-home expenses.

If the taxpayer can answer “yes” to two of the questions, with the same expectation of job duration and return to the U.S. home, the location of the tax home depends on all the facts and circumstances.

Example 2

Henry is in the Armed Forces. He was assigned to a post in Japan in 2004. This assignment was for an indefinite period. Margaret, his wife, accompanied him to Japan and has foreign earned income. Their tax home for 2004 would be Japan.

Period of Stay. Another qualification for the exclusion is the length of time the taxpayer stays overseas. This requirement can be satisfied in one of two ways.

The taxpayer must be:

1. A U.S. citizen or resident alien from a tax treaty country who is a bona fide resident of a foreign country (or countries) for an uninterrupted period that includes an entire tax year, or
2. A U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien who is physically present in a foreign country or countries for at least 330 full days during any period of 12 consecutive months.

Exercise 3

Jennifer is a U.S. citizen who has lived in Israel since October 1, 2004. She expects to return to the U.S. in May, 2005. Does she meet either period of stay test?

Answer _____

Bona Fide Resident Test. To meet the test, the taxpayer must show that he or she has set up permanent quarters in a foreign country. The period must be for an uninterrupted period that includes an entire tax year. Taking a brief trip to the U.S. will not prevent the taxpayer from being a bona fide resident, as long as the intention is clear to return to the foreign country.

Example 3

Jane is a military spouse who has lived in England since 1999. Her mother still lives in the U.S. Jane came to the U.S. for two weeks in 2004 to be with her mother after she had surgery. Jane's trip to the U.S. does not affect her status as a bona fide resident of a foreign country.

Physical Presence Test. The other test that may be met instead of the bona fide residence test is the physical presence test. To qualify, the taxpayer must be physically present in a foreign country 330 full days during a period of twelve consecutive months.

In order for a day to count for the test, it must be a full day in a foreign country. When arriving from the U.S., or returning to the U.S., any day in which part of the time is spent in the U.S. or over international waters does not count as a qualifying day in a foreign country.

The taxpayer may move about from one place to another in a foreign country, or to another foreign country without losing full days. But if any part of the taxpayer's travel is not within a foreign country or countries and takes 24 hours or more, the taxpayer will lose full days.

Example 4

The taxpayer leaves Southampton, England, by ship at 10:00 p.m. on July 6 and arrives in Lisbon at 6:00 a.m. on July 8. Since the trip takes more than 24 hours, the taxpayer loses as full days, July 6, 7, and 8. If the taxpayer remains in Lisbon, the first full day is July 9.

Exercise 4

Shauntell is using the twelve months of 2004 to determine if she qualifies for the physical presence test. She arrived in Kenya on January 3, 2004 and worked there until August 12, 2004 when she returned to the U.S. for 6 weeks. On October 1, 2004 she returned to Kenya and worked there until she permanently returned to the U.S. on January 1, 2005. Does she meet the physical presence test for 2004?

Answer _____

Figuring the 12 Month Period. Any 12-month period may be used if the 330 days in a foreign country fall within that period. If necessary, more than one period may be used, including periods that overlap. By using more than one period, it may be possible to meet the physical presence test for an entire stay, even though there may have been intervening visits to the U.S.

Waiver of Time Requirements. The minimum time requirements for period of stay may be waived, if the taxpayer is forced to leave a foreign country because of war, civil unrest, or similar adverse conditions in that country. The taxpayer must show that he/she could have met the minimum time requirements if it had not been for the adverse conditions.

QUALIFYING INCOME

To qualify for the exclusion, income must be earned income. Examples of earned income are salaries, wages, commissions and professional fees. Earned income does not include dividends, interest, capital gains, alimony, social security benefits, pensions or annuities. To qualify for the exclusion, the earned income must be for services (other than military or U.S. government) performed in a foreign country.

Amounts paid by the United States or its agencies to its employees do not qualify for the exclusion. This includes military pay and payment for such activities as post exchanges, commissaries, and officers clubs.

Example 5

Maria, a U.S. resident, is in the Armed Forces and has lived in Lisbon since 1999. Her military pay is not eligible for the foreign earned income exclusion. In her spare time, she is a self-employed DJ in Lisbon and the surrounding area. The income from her self-employment may qualify for the exclusion.

Source of earned income. The source of earned income is the place where the services are performed. To qualify for the exclusion, services must be performed in a foreign country. Where the payments come from for the service or where they are deposited is not a factor in the determining source of the income. If a taxpayer works predominantly in a foreign country, but does some work in the U.S., an adjustment must be made to the total of foreign earned income.

Example 6

Charles Thompson works and lives in the Bahamas. After vacation, he worked 50 weeks in 2004. For one week, he attended a business meeting in Florida. $1/50$ or 2% of his wages are not foreign earned income, because that week was spent working in Florida.

Exercise 5

Maurice is stationed in Germany. His only income is from his U.S. military salary. Does he qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion?

Answer _____

Exercise 6

Juanita lives in Scotland. She is retired and her income consists of U.S. Social Security, a pension and several stock dividends. Does she qualify for the foreign earned income exclusion?

Answer _____

Exercise 7

Jose and Kim live in a foreign country. Jose has wages from the U.S. military. Kim has wages from a bank that she works at in the foreign country. Do they have qualifying income for the foreign earned income exclusion?

Answer _____

CHOOSING THE EXCLUSION

The foreign earned income exclusion is voluntary. (There are times when it may be to the taxpayer's advantage to not claim the exclusion. An example is that a taxpayer may not claim the Earned Income Tax Credit, if foreign income is excluded.) The initial choice of the exclusion on Form 2555 or Form 2555EZ must be filed with a timely return (including extensions). Exceptions do apply that allow the initial choice to be made after a return is filed. Taxpayers who wish to take advantage of these exceptions should seek professional tax assistance.

The taxpayer may revoke the election for any tax year. When the exclusion is revoked, the taxpayer may not claim the exclusion again for the next five tax years without the approval of the IRS.

COMPLETING AND FILING FORM 2555 OR FORM 2555EZ

If the taxpayer is qualified to, and wishes to claim the foreign earned income exclusion, it is necessary to complete Form 2555 or 2555EZ and attach it to Form 1040. The tax return should be filed with Internal Revenue Service Processing Campus, Philadelphia, PA, 19255.

To be able to use Form 2555EZ, the taxpayer must be a U.S. citizen or resident alien who has wages and salaries, but not self-employment income. The total foreign earned income must be $80,000 or less, and the person cannot be claiming any business or moving expenses. Taxpayers, who do not meet these restrictions, should file Form 2555 to claim the credit.

Example 7

Michael and his wife Melissa have been stationed in Hong Kong since 2002. Michael is employed by the armed forces. Melissa operates a home day care business. Their tax home is Hong Kong. They meet the physical presence test. Melissa wants to exclude her self-employment income from U.S. taxation.

She will need to complete Form 2555 instead of Form 2555EZ, because her income is from self-employment.

Exercise 8

Assuming that the following taxpayers meet the period of stay test, should they file a Form 2555, or Form 2555EZ?

- a. Mallory has $34,000 of foreign earned wages. She has no other income. Which form should she file?

Answer _____

- b. Jacob has U.S. military wages and self-employment income he earned in a foreign country. Which form should he file?

Answer _____

- c. Ramie has $86,000 of foreign earned income. Which form should he file?

Answer _____

Taxpayers, who are eligible to file Form 2555EZ, should complete all four sections of the form.

On the following two pages, you will find a sample copy of Form 2555EZ for taxpayer Kenyon Napora, a U.S. citizen living and working in Germany for a German computer company.

For those who must file Form 2555, the first section of the form is for general information, and must be completed by all taxpayers who claim the exclusion.

Taxpayers who claim the bona fide residence test must complete Part II of Form 2555. Taxpayers who qualify under the physical presence test must complete Part III.

Part IV, completed by all taxpayers, is where foreign earned income is listed. It must be completed in U.S. dollars. If the taxpayer has difficulty in converting income, IRS can provide exchange rates to be used. However, the taxpayer is not required to use only rates provided by the IRS or the federal government. Note that earned income includes not only wages and salaries but also non-cash income and allowances and reimbursements received by the taxpayer.

Military Note: Do not list military wages in this section; they are not considered foreign earned income.

Page 3 of the form is where the exclusion is computed. Taxpayers claiming only the basic exclusion fill out Parts V and VII. Most of the lines are self-explanatory. The concept of qualifying period is essential. For those qualifying under the bona fide residence test, this qualifying period is the period of actual residence. For the physical presence test, the qualifying period or periods is chosen by the taxpayer. Any period may be chosen as long as 330 days are spent in a foreign country during the period.

Military Note: Generally, armed forces personnel and their spouses will not qualify for the housing exclusion (the housing allowance is already considered non-taxable income).

Although the exclusion may never be more than the foreign earned income, it may be less. The exclusion can be no more than $80,000. If the number of qualifying days in the tax year is less than 365, the $80,000 limit is lowered proportionally.

Example 8

Tina York is claiming the exclusion. Her qualifying period is March 15, 2003 to March 14, 2004. On line 36 of Form 2555, Tina enters 73 days because 73 days of her qualifying period fall in the 2004 tax year.

On line 37, she divides 73 by 365, and enters the result, “.200.”

On line 38, $80,000 is multiplied by .200, which results in $16,000.”

DEDUCTIONS ALLOCABLE TO EXCLUDED INCOME

In section VIII of Form 2555, the taxpayer is required to list the deductions allowed in figuring adjusted gross income that are allocable to the excluded income. To the extent a deduction that is allocable to the excluded income is claimed, the exclusion must be reduced by the deduction.

The three most common deductions that may affect the exclusion are self-employment tax, itemized deductions and moving expenses.

1. Self-Employment Tax. The taxpayer must take all earned income into account in figuring self-employment tax, even though the income is exempt from income tax because of the foreign earned income exclusion.

An individual is allowed a deduction for one-half of self-employment tax on the Form 1040. This deduction is related to the operation of the business. If foreign earned income is excluded, the deduction for S.E. tax must be allocated to the excluded income. The amount allocated to the excluded income reduces the Foreign Earned Income exclusion allowed.

The following formula is used to determine the amount of the deduction allocable to excluded income:

$$\frac{\text{Excluded Earned Income}}{\text{Qualifying Earned Income}} \times \text{Self-Employment Tax Deduction (From Form 1040, Line 28)}$$

When the qualifying earned income is fully excluded, none of the self-employment tax deduction is allowed; therefore the full amount of this deduction is put on line 42 of Form 2555. This will reduce your Foreign Earned Income exclusion by the amount of the deduction. However, the self-employment tax deduction is still entered on line 30 of Form 1040.

- 2. Itemized Deductions. The treatment for itemized deductions is somewhat different. In reporting itemized deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040) that are wholly or partly allocable to excluded income, the taxpayer must reduce the gross deduction by the disallowed amount in arriving at the net deduction shown on Schedule A. Then the taxpayer attaches a statement showing how the deductible amount was figured and writes “Form 2555” in the upper right corner of Schedule A. The most common itemized deductions that are allocable to excluded foreign earned income are unreimbursed employee business expenses. The same formula, as presented above, is used to determine the amounts allocable to the excluded foreign income.
- 3. Moving Expenses. The rules for deducting moving expenses allocable to excluded income are still more complex. In the year of the move, if the taxpayer has at least 120 days of his qualifying period during the tax year, the moving expense is allocated solely to the year of the move. If the taxpayer has less than 120 full days in the tax year, the moving expense is allocated to income in the year of the move, and the year after. Taxpayers affected by this provision may want to seek assistance from the IRS or a tax preparer.

After adjusting the exclusion for any deductions allocable to excluded income the net exclusion needs to be carried to Form 1040. The amount from Form 2555 EZ line 18 or Form 2555 line 43 is entered in parenthesis on Form 1040 line 21. It is subtracted from other sources of income.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

The foreign earned income exclusion does not apply to income from the U.S. government, regardless of the tax home. The exclusion can be up to $80,000 for income earned in a foreign country. It is necessary to complete either Form 2555 or 2555EZ to claim the exclusion.

In this lesson, we have discussed the basic examples of the exclusion. When a taxpayer has a more complex situation, he or she will need to seek professional tax assistance.

TAX OPTIONS FOR COMBAT ZONE PARTICIPANTS

Lesson 16
Military Segment

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will discuss some of the tax benefits that are available to Armed Forces personnel serving in a combat zone. Service in the Persian Gulf area, the Kosovo area, and the Afghanistan area are eligible for combat zone tax treatment. In addition, U.S. military personnel located in the former Yugoslavia, including Bosnia, Herzegovina, Croatia, and Macedonia are in a hazardous duty area and are eligible for combat zone tax treatment.

Members of the Armed Forces deployed overseas away from their permanent duty station in support of operations in a qualified hazardous duty area, but outside the qualified hazardous duty area, are treated as if they are in a combat zone solely for the purposes of the extension deadlines. These personnel are not entitled to other combat zone tax benefits. The IRS will not impose penalties or interest on members during an extension period.

After completing this lesson, you should be able to:

1. Determine who qualifies for an extension of deadline.
2. Identify special tax benefits that are available to persons who die in a combat zone or from a terrorist or military action.
3. Explain how to file claims for tax forgiveness for these individuals.

EXTENSION OF DEADLINE

Members of the Armed Forces who served in a combat zone are allowed additional time to take care of tax matters. This extension also applies to any individual who is deployed from his or her permanent duty station in support of operations in a qualified hazardous duty area, or performing qualifying service outside the qualified hazardous duty area. The law provides that certain periods of time are disregarded when determining whether certain tax matters have been taken care of on time. For ease of understanding, this publication refers to these provisions as “extensions of deadlines.” These deadline extensions should not be confused with other parts of the tax law that refer to extensions of time for performing acts.

The deadline for filing tax returns, paying taxes, filing claims for refund, and taking other actions with the IRS is automatically extended if the taxpayer serves in the Armed Forces in a combat zone. The deadline for the IRS to take certain actions, such as collection and examination actions, is also extended.

Additionally, if members of the Armed Forces are deployed overseas away from their permanent duty station in support of operations in a qualified hazardous duty area, but outside the qualified hazardous duty area, they also receive these extensions (but not other combat zone benefits). The deadline for IRS to take certain actions, such as collection and examination actions, is also extended. See Lesson 1 for the beginning dates for the Afghanistan area combat zone, the Kosovo area combat zone, the Persian Gulf area combat zone, and the qualified hazardous duty areas.

The deadline for taking actions with the IRS is extended for 180 days after the later of:

1. The last day the taxpayer is in a combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area or have qualifying service outside of the combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area (or the last day the area qualifies as a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area), or
2. The last day of any continuous qualified hospitalization (defined later) for injury from service in the combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area or while performing qualifying service outside of the combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area.

In addition to the 180 days, the deadline is also extended by the number of days remaining for the member to take the action with the IRS when he/she entered a combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area (or began performing qualifying service outside the combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area). If a taxpayer entered the combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area (or began performing qualifying service outside the combat zone/qualified hazardous duty area) before the period of time to take the action began, the deadline is extended by the entire period of time he/she has to take the action.

Example 1

Captain Margaret Jones entered Saudi Arabia on December 1, 2002. She remained there through March 31, 2004, when she departed for the United States. She was not injured and did not return to the combat zone. The deadlines for filing Captain Jones' 2002, 2003, and 2004 returns are figured as follows.

- The 2002 tax return. The deadline is January 10, 2005. This deadline is 285 days (180 plus 105) after Captain Jones' last day in the combat zone (March 31, 2004). The 105 additional days are the number of days in the 3 1/2 month filing period that were left when she entered the combat zone (January 1 - April 15, 2003).
- The 2003 tax return. The deadline is January 10, 2005. The deadline is 285 days (180 plus 105) after Capt. Jones' last day in the combat zone (March 31, 2004).
- The 2004 tax return. The deadline is not extended because the 180-day extension period after March 31, 2004, ends on September 27, 2004, which is before the start of the filing period for her 2004 return (January 1 - April 15, 2005).

Example 2

Petty Officer Leonard Brown's ship entered the Persian Gulf on January 5, 2003. On February 15, 2003, Leonard was injured and was flown to a U. S. hospital. He remained in the hospital through April 20, 2004. The deadlines for filing Petty Officer Brown's 2002, 2003, and 2004 returns are figured as follows.

- The 2002 tax return. The deadline is January 27, 2005. Petty Officer Brown has 280 days (180 plus 100) after his last day in the hospital (April 21, 2004) to file his 2002 return. The 100 additional days are the number of days in the 3 1/2 month filing period that were left when he entered the combat zone (January 5 - April 15).
- The 2003 tax return. The deadline is January 27, 2005. Petty Officer Brown has 280 days (180 plus 100) after April 21, 2004, to file his 2003 tax return. The 100 additional days are the number of days in the 2004 filing period that were left when he entered the combat zone.
- The 2004 tax return. The deadline is not extended because the 180-day extension period after April 21, 2004, ends on October 18, 2004, which is before the start of the filing period for his 2004 return (January 1 - April 15, 2005).

Example 3

You generally have 3 years from April 15, 2001, to file a claim for refund against your timely filed 2000 tax return. This means that your claim normally must be filed by April 15, 2004. However, if you served in a combat zone from November 1, 2002, through March 23, 2003, and were not injured, your deadline for filing that claim is extended 346 days (180 plus 166) after you leave the combat zone. This extends your deadline to March 4, 2005. The 166 additional days are the number of days in the 3-year period for filing the refund claim that were left when you entered the combat zone on November 1 (November 1, 2002 - April 15, 2003).

Missing status. Time in a missing status (missing in action or prisoner of war) counts as time in a combat zone or a qualified hazardous duty area.

Support personnel. The deadline extension provision also applies if a taxpayer is serving in a combat zone or a qualified hazardous duty area in support of the Armed Forces. This includes Red Cross personnel, accredited correspondents, and civilian personnel acting under the direction of the Armed Forces in support of those forces.

Qualified hospitalization. The hospitalization must be the result of an injury received while serving in a combat zone or a qualified hazardous duty area. Qualified hospitalization means:

1. Any hospitalization outside the United States, and
2. Up to 5 years of hospitalization in the United States.

Actions Extended

The actions to which the deadline extension provision applies include:

- Filing any return of income, estate, or gift tax (except employment and withholding taxes),
- Paying any income, estate, or gift tax (except employment and withholding taxes),
- Filing a petition with the Tax Court for redetermination of a deficiency or for review of a Tax Court decision,
- Filing a claim for credit or refund of any tax,
- Bringing suit for any claim for credit or refund,
- Making a qualified retirement contribution to an IRA,
- Allowing a credit or refund of any tax by IRS,
- Assessment of any tax by the IRS,
- Giving or making any notice or demand by the IRS for the payment of any tax or for any liability for any tax,
- Collection by the IRS of any tax due, and
- Bringing suit by the United States for any tax due.

If the IRS takes any actions covered by these provisions or sends the taxpayer a notice of examination before learning that they are entitled to an extension of the deadline, the taxpayer should contact their legal assistance office. No penalties or interest will be imposed for failure to file a return or pay taxes during the extension period.

Spouses. Spouses of individuals who served in a combat zone are entitled to the same deadline extension with two exceptions.

1. The extension does not apply to a spouse for any tax year beginning more than 2 years after the date the area ceases to be a combat zone.
2. The extension does not apply to a spouse for any period the qualifying individual is hospitalized in the United States for injuries incurred in a combat zone.

Not in a combat zone. Reservists called to active duty or regular military members who are not in a combat zone may still qualify to defer the payment of back taxes. To qualify, these individuals must:

- Be serving their initial period of service and
- Show that their ability to pay the back taxes has been materially impaired.

Initial period of service. The initial period of service is defined as the period of active duty following recall to active duty from an inactive reserve or National Guard unit. For regular military personnel, it is the period following induction or first enlistment in the Armed Forces or the first period of reenlistment for a person who has been out of the service for a year or more. For an officer, the initial period of service is limited to two years of active service after one of the above occurrences.

Material impairment. To indicate material impairment, the taxpayer must show that his or her income dropped as a result of going into military service.

Request for deferment. Military members who have a current payment agreement or who have received a notice requesting payment must make a written request for deferment to the IRS office where you have the agreement.

Information needed. The request for deferment must include the member's name, social security number, monthly income and source of income before military service, current monthly income, military rank, date of entry into the military service, and date the member is eligible for discharge. Enclosing a copy of the military orders is helpful.

The IRS will review each request and advise the taxpayer in writing of its decision. Should the taxpayer need further assistance, they can call the IRS at 1-800-829-1040 to discuss their situation. If the IRS grants the request for deferment, the taxpayer will be able to defer payment of back taxes until 6 months after the end of his/her initial period of service.

DECEDENTS

Special tax forgiveness provisions apply to individuals who:

- Die while serving in a combat zone or from wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving in a combat zone, or
- Die from wounds or injury incurred in a terrorist or military action while a U. S. employee.

Filing a Decedent Return

The personal representative (executor, administrator, or anyone who is in charge of the decedent's property) must file the final income tax return (Form 1040) of the decedent for the year of death and any returns not filed for preceding years. A surviving spouse, under certain circumstances, may have to file the returns for the decedent. See Joint Return, later.

Return for preceding year. If an individual died after the close of the tax year, but before the return for that year was filed, the return for the year just closed will not be the final return. The return for that year will be a regular return and the personal representative must file it.

Example 4

Samantha Smith died on March 21, 2004, before filing her 2003 tax return. Her personal representative must file her 2003 return by April 15, 2004. Her final tax return is due April 15, 2005.

When and Where To File

The final income tax return is due at the same time the decedent's return would have been due had death not occurred. A final return for a decedent who was a calendar year taxpayer is generally due on April 15 following the year of death, regardless of when during that year death occurred.

The tax return must be prepared on a form for the year of death regardless of when during the year death occurred.

Generally, you must file the final income tax return of the decedent with the Internal Revenue Service center for the place where you live.

Combat Zone Forgiveness

Federal income tax liability is forgiven for U. S. military personnel who die while serving in a combat zone or as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while so serving. The forgiveness of tax applies for the year of death and for any prior year ending on or after the first day that the individual served in a combat zone in active service. Any forgiven tax liability that has already been paid will be refunded, and any unpaid tax liability at the date of death will be forgiven.

This forgiveness provision also applies to a member of the Armed Forces serving outside the combat zone if the service:

1. Was in direct support of military operations in the zone, and
2. Qualified the member for special military pay for duty subject to hostile fire or imminent danger.

Missing status. The date of death for a member of the Armed Forces who was in a missing status (missing in action or prisoner of war) is the date his or her name is removed from missing status for military pay purposes. This is true even if death actually occurred earlier.

Tax Forgiveness for Deaths Due to Military or Terroristic Actions

A decedent's income tax liability may be forgiven if his or her death was due to service in a combat zone or to military or terroristic actions.

The Victims of Terrorism Tax Relief Act of 2001 provides tax relief for those injured or killed as a result of terrorist attacks, certain survivors of those killed as a result of terrorist attacks, and others who were affected by terrorist attacks. For information on that Act, see Publication 3920.

Military or Terroristic Actions

The decedent's income tax liability is forgiven if, at death, he or she was a military or civilian employee of the United States who died because of wounds or injury incurred:

- While a U. S. employee, and
- In a military or terroristic action.

For tax years ending after September 10, 2001, tax liability is forgiven for an individual who dies from wounds or injury incurred while a U. S. employee in a terroristic or military action regardless of where the action occurred.

The forgiveness applies to the tax year in which death occurred and for any prior tax year in the period beginning with the year before the year in which the wounds or injury occurred.

Military or terroristic action defined. A military or terroristic action means the following.

- Any terroristic activity that most of the evidence indicates was directed against the United States or any of its allies.
- Any military action involving the U. S. Armed Forces and resulting from violence or aggression against the United States or any of its allies, or the threat of such violence or aggression.

Military action does not include training exercises. Any multinational force in which the United States is participating is treated as an ally of the United States.

Claims for Credit or Refund

If any of these tax-forgiveness situations applies to a prior year tax, any tax paid for which the period for filing a claim has not ended will be credited or refunded. If any tax is still due, it will be canceled. The normal period for filing a claim for credit or refund is 3 years after the return was filed or 2 years after the tax was paid, whichever is later.

If death occurred in a combat zone or from wounds, disease, or injury incurred in a combat zone, the period for filing the claim is extended by:

- The amount of time served in the combat zone (including any period in which the individual was in missing status), plus
- The period of continuous qualified hospitalization for injury from service in the combat zone, if any, plus
- The next 180 days.
- Qualified hospitalization means any hospitalization outside the United States and any hospitalization in the United States of not more than 5 years.

Filing a claim. Use the following procedures to file a claim.

- File Form 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ if an income tax return has not been filed for the tax year. Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, must accompany all returns.
- File Form 1040X if an income tax return has been filed. A separate Form 1040X must be filed for each year in question.

These returns and claims must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 4053, Woburn, MA 01888.

All returns and claims must be identified by writing “Enduring Freedom—KIA,” “Kosovo Operation—KIA,” “Desert Storm—KIA,” or “Former Yugoslavia—KIA” in bold letters on the top of page 1 of the return or claim. On Forms 1040 and 1040X, the phrase “Enduring Freedom—KIA,” “Kosovo Operation — KIA,” “Desert Storm—KIA,” or “Former Yugoslavia—KIA” must be written on the line for total tax. If the individual was killed in a terroristic or military action outside the United States, put “KITA” on the front of the return and on the line for total tax.

An attachment should accompany any return or claim that includes a computation of the decedent’s tax liability before any amount is forgiven and the amount that is to be forgiven. For joint returns, see Joint returns, later.

Necessary documents. The following documents must accompany all returns and claims for refund. For returns and claims relating to individuals who died as a result of a terrorist attack, see Publication 3920.

- Form 1310, Statement of Person Claiming Refund Due a Deceased Taxpayer.
- A certification from the Department of Defense or the Department of State that the death was due to a military or terroristic action.

For military and civilian employees of the Department of Defense, certification must be made by that department on Form DOD 1300, Report of Casualty. For other civilian employees who die as a result of wounds or injury incurred outside the United States, certification must be a letter signed by the Director General of the Foreign Service, Department of State, or his/her delegate. The certification must include the individual’s name and social security number, the date of injury, the date of death, and a statement that the individual died as the result of a military or terroristic action outside the United States and was an employee of the United States at the date of injury and at the date of death.

If the certification has been received, but you do not have enough tax information to file a timely claim for refund, file Form 1040X. Attach Form 1310 and a statement that an amended claim will be filed as soon as the required tax information is available.

Joint returns. Only the decedent's part of the joint income tax liability is eligible for the refund or tax forgiveness. To determine the part for the decedent, the person filing the claim must complete the following steps:

1. Figure the income tax for which the decedent would have been liable if a separate return had been filed.
2. Figure the income tax for which the spouse would have been liable as if a separate return had been filed.
3. Multiply the joint tax liability by a fraction. The top number of the fraction is the amount in (1) above. The bottom number of the fraction is the total of (1) and (2).

The amount in (3) is the decedent's tax liability that is eligible for the refund or tax forgiveness. If a taxpayer is unable to complete this process, he or she should attach a statement of all income and deductions indicating the part that belongs to each spouse. The IRS will make the proper allocation.

Residents of community property states. If the member of the Armed Forces was domiciled in a community property state and the spouse reported half the military pay on a separate return, the spouse can get a refund of taxes paid on his or her share of the pay for the years involved. The forgiveness of unpaid tax on the military pay would also apply to the half owed by the spouse for the years involved.

Exercise 1

Major Joe Wells entered Afghanistan on 6 January 2004. He remained there through 7 April 2004, when he departed for the United States. He was not injured and did not return to the combat zone.

What is the deadline for filing Major Wells' 2003 tax return?

Exercise 2

Mr. Tim Morris, a civilian employee of the United States, died in 2005 as a result of injuries he suffered during a terrorist attack in 2003.

What years are Mr. Morris' income liabilities forgiven?

Answer _____

TAX BENEFITS FOR COMBAT ZONE PARTICIPANTS

ANSWERS TO EXERCISES

Lesson 16
Military Segment

Exercise 1– The 2003 tax return. The deadline is 12 January 2005. The deadline is 280 days (180 plus 100) after Major West’s last day in the combat zone (7 April 2004). The 100 additional days are the number of days in the 3 1/2 month filing period that were left when he entered the combat zone (6 January - 15 April 2004).

Exercise 2– 2003-2005

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

In this lesson you have learned that:

- ▶ The deadline for filing tax returns, paying taxes, and taking other actions with the Internal Revenue Service is automatically extended if an individual serves in a combat zone.
- ▶ The income tax liability of a member of the Armed Forces is forgiven if a member dies as a result of service in a combat zone or from a terrorist or military action outside the United States.
- ▶ The terrorist or military action forgiveness also applies to an individual who is a U.S. employee at death and who dies from wounds or injury incurred while a U.S. employee in a terrorist or military action regardless of where the action occurred.

STUDENT NOTES

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will discuss the importance of “alien” status in determining federal income tax reporting requirements for Armed Forces personnel. Publication 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens is a major source of information on this subject.

After completing this lesson, you should be able to:

1. Determine whether an alien should file a resident, non-resident, or dual-status tax return.
2. Determine what sources of income an alien must report on his or her return.
3. Explain the special choice that permits a nonresident alien spouse of a U. S. citizen or resident to be treated as a resident alien and file a joint return.
4. Determine the use for an ITIN for undocumented aliens.
5. Explain the process for securing a social security number for children born abroad.

NONRESIDENT ALIENS

A nonresident alien is an individual who is not a citizen or resident of the United States. A nonresident alien generally must pay tax only on income received from sources within the United States. If the income is connected with conducting a trade or business in the United States, the income (after allowable deductions) is taxed at regular U. S. tax rates. If other income from U. S. sources is not connected with conducting a trade or business in the United States, it is taxed at a flat 30%(or lower treaty) rate. For example, Survivor Benefit Plan payments made to a nonresident alien surviving spouse may be subject to a 30%withholding (or lower treaty) rate. In either case, the nonresident alien must file a Form 1040NR, U. S. Nonresident Alien Income Tax Return.

RESIDENT ALIENS

ALERT

The Social Security Administration does not issue social security numbers (SSNs) to nonresident aliens unless they have legal permission to work in the United States. SSNs will be issued to lawful permanent residents.

An alien may qualify as a U. S. resident for tax purposes by meeting either the green card test or the substantial presence test for the calendar year.

Green card test. An alien is a resident for tax purposes if he or she is a lawful permanent resident of the United States (holder of a green card) at any time during the calendar year. However, see the discussion on Dual-Status Aliens, later.

Substantial presence test. If the alien does not meet the green card test, the alien may still be a U. S. resident for tax purposes if the substantial presence test for the calendar year is met. To meet this test, the alien must have been physically present in the United States for at least 31 days during 2004 and for a total of at least 183 days in 2004, 2003, and 2002.

When you count the days for the substantial presence test, count:

1. All the days the alien was present in 2004,
2. One-third of the days present in 2003, and
3. One-sixth of the days present in 2002.

Example

Ana Garcia was present in the United States for several years. She believes that she can qualify for the substantial presence test. Ana was here from December 1 through December 31 of 2004. She was present in the U. S. all of 2003. In 2002, she stayed in the United States from June 1 through December 31. Here's how to figure if Ana meets the substantial presence test:

YEAR	MULTIPLY BY	DAYS PRESENT	TOTAL
2004	1	31	= 31
2003	1/3	365	= 122
2002	1/6	214	= 36
			189

Since Ana was present in the United States at least 31 days in 2004 and at least 183 days during the current and last two years, she meets the test in 2004 to qualify as a resident of the U. S.

Exceptions. For purposes of counting days for the substantial presence test, there are exceptions for regular commuters from Canada or Mexico, persons in transit through the United States, persons who are unable to leave because of becoming ill while in the United States, diplomats, employees of international organizations, teachers, trainees, and students. Also, the substantial presence test does not apply if the alien was present in the United States for fewer than 183 days during 2004 and establishes that he or she has a closer connection to a foreign country. Publication 519 has more details on these exceptions.

First-year choice. If the alien does not meet the green card test or the substantial presence test for 2003 or 2004, and did not choose to be treated as a resident for part of 2002, but will meet the substantial presence test for 2005, he or she can choose to be treated as a U. S. resident for part of 2004. To make this choice, he or she must have been:

1. Present in the U. S. for at least 31 consecutive days in 2004, and
2. Present in the U. S. for at least 75% of the days beginning with the first day of the 31-day period in (1) and ending with the last day of 2004.

The taxpayer should be referred to Publication 519 for complete details concerning this special first-year choice. This choice, once made, cannot be revoked without the consent of the Internal Revenue Service.

Resident aliens generally are taxed on their worldwide income, the same as U. S. citizens. Resident aliens use the same tax forms as U.S. citizens.

DUAL-STATUS ALIENS

An alien may be both a nonresident and resident alien during the same tax year. The most common dual-status tax years are the years of arrival and departure. Dual-status aliens are taxed on income from all sources for the part of the year they are resident aliens. They are taxed only on income from U. S. sources for the time they are nonresident aliens. They must file Form 1040 and mark it “Dual Status Return” if they are resident aliens on the last day of the tax year. If they are nonresident aliens at the end of the year, they must file Form 1040NR and mark it “Dual Status Return.” In either case, they must attach a separate statement to explain their income and compute the tax for the other part of their dual-status year. Dual-status aliens must either itemize their allowable deductions or claim zero deductions because they cannot use the standard deduction.

Exercise 1

Sgt. Zapata is stationed in Korea and is married to a Korean citizen. Sgt. and Mrs. Zapata came to the United States for a 3-week visit and returned to his post of duty in Korea. Mrs. Zapata entered the United States on a non-immigrant visa.

- a. What is Mrs. Zapata's U. S. alien status?

Answer _____

- b. If the Zapatas moved to the United States in June 2004 and Mrs. Zapata got a green card, what would Mrs. Zapata's U. S. alien status be for 2004?

Answer _____

Exercise 2

Karen is a British citizen and a U. S. resident alien (green card holder). She married Lt. Trimble, a U. S. citizen, who has a permanent residence in New York. The Trimbles moved to Germany in 2003 for a 2-year tour of duty. They plan to return to New York when his duty ends. Karen earned $12,000 a year working for a German employer while they were stationed in Germany.

- a. If Lt. Trimble files a separate return, does Karen have to file a U. S. federal tax return?

Answer _____

- b. If the Trimbles were divorced in 2004 and Karen gave up her green card and moved to England, what would her U. S. alien status be for 2004?

Answer _____

UNDOCUMENTED (ILLEGAL) ALIENS

Undocumented aliens who meet the substantial presence test are considered resident aliens for tax purposes. They are not eligible for an SSN because they have no legal work authorization.

A common scenario is that the undocumented alien "acquires" (buys, trades etc.) an SSN to provide to their employer. The employer hires the alien and gives them a W-2 at the end of the year with the invalid SSN. The alien then files a tax return with their ITIN listed as their identification number. This causes a processing problem for the IRS. The refund will most likely be held until the issue can be resolved.

CHILDREN BORN ABROAD

Military families living overseas who experience the birth of a child in a host nation hospital or “off base on the economy” should check with their base legal office or U. S. embassy officials for exact procedures for securing the Report of Birth Abroad. This document serves as proof of citizenship and can be used in the future. To formally register the birth of a child born abroad, the U. S. citizen parent or parents should bring the child to the Embassy/Consulate office along with:

- An original of the child’s birth certificate
- The parent’s marriage certificate
- Any divorce (original) decree or death certificate from any previous marriage
- Cash or bank check to pay the fee (usually $65)

Parents should also apply for a passport for their child at the same time as the Report of Birth. Along with your application for Report of Birth and passport, it is also advisable to request the form to apply for an SSN for the child. The Social Security International Office in Baltimore, MD assigns an SSN. The SSN will be mailed directly to the taxpayer. The process takes several months. But without an SSN the parents will NOT be able to claim the EITC even if all of the other prerequisites are met.

ALIEN MILITARY PERSONNEL

As a general rule, most alien enlistees in the Armed Forces are resident aliens. This would almost certainly be true of an alien who has lived in the United States before enlistment. In peacetime, the enlistment requirements of the Armed Services state that no person may enlist unless that person is a citizen or has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence under the immigration laws. These two factors, voluntary enlistment and admittance for permanent residence, are usually enough to classify an alien enlistee as a resident alien. The United States has treaty agreements with certain nations that allow a very limited number of their citizens to retain their nonresident alien status. Alien enlistees in this category should seek advice from their base legal officer. Other aliens who are present in the United States merely because of military assignment and who have a residence outside the United States are nonresident aliens.

CHOICE TO TREAT NONRESIDENT SPOUSE AS A RESIDENT

A nonresident alien spouse may choose to be treated as a resident alien if all the following conditions are met.

1. The nonresident alien spouse must be married to a U. S. citizen or resident alien at the end of the tax year.
2. Both spouses must choose to treat the alien spouse as a resident alien.
3. One of the spouses must be a U. S. citizen or resident alien on the last day of the tax year.

How to Make the Choice

A statement signed by both spouses must be attached to their joint return for the first tax year for which the choice applies. The statement should contain:

1. A declaration that one spouse was a nonresident alien and the other spouse was a U. S. citizen or resident alien on the last day of their tax year and that the nonresident alien spouse chooses to be treated as a U. S. resident for the entire tax year, and
2. The name, address, and social security number of each spouse. If the nonresident alien spouse is not eligible to get a social security number, he or she should file Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number with their tax return.

Caution. Once the choice is made, the worldwide income of the nonresident alien spouse is subject to U. S. tax. If the nonresident alien spouse has substantial foreign income, there may be no advantage to making the choice.

Ending the Choice

Once made, this choice applies to all later tax years unless one of the following situations occurs.

- Revocation—Either spouse may revoke the choice for any tax year if both the choice and the revocation are made by the due date for filing the tax return for that tax year.
- Death—The death of either spouse will end the choice. This ordinarily begins with the first year following the year in which the spouse died. If the spouse who survived is a U. S. citizen or resident and is entitled to the joint return rates as a surviving spouse, the choice will not end until the close of the last year for which these joint rates may be used.
- Legal separation—A legal separation under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance will end the choice beginning January 1 of the tax year in which the legal separation occurs.

- Inadequate records—The Internal Revenue Service can end the choice for any year that either spouse fails to keep adequate tax records, to provide adequate access to those records, or to supply other information reasonably necessary to determine the correct income tax liability.

If the choice is ended for any of these reasons, neither spouse can make a choice for any future tax year. For example, divorced individuals who previously made the choice and later remarry cannot make another choice.

Choice Not Made

If the choice is not made:

1. The nonresident alien spouse cannot file a joint return.
2. The nonresident alien spouse is generally not eligible for certain credits, such as the earned income credit or the education credits.
3. The spouse who is a U. S. citizen or resident may claim an exemption for the nonresident alien spouse if the nonresident alien has no gross income for U. S. tax purposes and is not another taxpayer's dependent. Check the box on line 6b of Form 1040 or Form 1040A and write "NRA" to the right of the word "spouse."
4. The nonresident alien spouse does not have to file a federal income tax return if he or she had no U. S. source income. He or she does not have to report any income from sources outside the United States so long as he or she remains a nonresident alien.

Questions concerning alien status and the special choice can be complex. Further information can be found in Publication 519.

Exercise 3

Stephen Rowan is a Navy officer who resides in New York and is on duty in Japan. He has $30,000 in taxable income for the year. His wife, to whom he has been married for 3 years, is a Japanese citizen who has never visited the United States. She earned $5,000 from employment in Japan during the year.

a. Is he required to file a U. S. income tax return?

Answer _____

b. Is Mrs. Rowan required to file a U. S. income tax return?

Answer _____

c. Can the Rowans file a joint return?

Answer _____

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

Questions of alien status can be difficult. To find answers to their questions and to learn whether they qualify for the option to treat the nonresident spouse as a U.S. resident, military personnel should see Publication 519, visit their base legal office, or call the IRS at 1-800-829-1040.

1.
 - a. Nonresident alien
 - b. Dual-status alien
2.
 - a. Yes. She is a resident alien.
 - b. Dual-status alien
3.
 - a. Yes
 - b. No
 - c. Yes. They can make the choice, but they should figure their tax both ways to determine which option is best for them.

STUDENT NOTES

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

This lesson will discuss what “home leave expenses” can be deducted by U.S. taxpayers traveling to their home in the United States under orders from the head of Foreign Affairs agency.

After completing this lesson, you should be able to:

1. Determine who is eligible for home leave expenses.
2. Determine what expenses are deductible.

HOME LEAVE

Section 903 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 provides that the head of a Foreign Affairs Agency may order a member of the Service who is a citizen of the United States to take home leave upon completion of 18 months of continuous service abroad; and shall so order as soon as possible after completion of 3 years of continuous service abroad.

Because members of the foreign service are required by law to take a leave of absence, they are allowed to deduct amounts paid for travel, meals, and lodging while on home leave as employee business expenses. The taxpayers who are eligible for this leave will deduct these expenses on a Form 2106 just like an employee that is conducting business away from the home.

As with all deductible employee business expenses, records and receipts must be maintained to support the deductions that are taken. The deductible expenses are those we discussed in the previous lesson and these expenses are subject to the same limitations.

Any expenses paid for on behalf of a foreign service member’s family are personal expenses and therefore are not deductible.

▶▶ SUMMING UP THIS LESSON ◀◀

- ▶ Taxpayers who are U.S. citizens and members of the foreign service can deduct travel, meals and lodging expenses, while on home leave, as employee business expenses by using Form 2106.
- ▶ Expenses incurred by members of the family are personal expenses and therefore they are not deductible.

SUMMARY EXERCISE

1. Larry Lee is a foreign service employee. He has been stationed in a foreign country for 3 years and comes back to the United States for 4 weeks on home leave. His family accompanies him. He incurred expenses for travel of $1,500; meals $850; and lodging $1,400. His family incurred expenses for travel of $2,500; meals $1,700; and lodging $2,200. Larry was reimbursed $450 for his travel to and from his post of duty and did not show it as income. (Larry rented a car. He did not use his own car.)
 - a. Is Larry eligible for a home leave deduction? Yes or No.
 - b. Can Larry deduct the expenses that this family members incur? Yes or No.
 - c. Complete Form 2106.

STUDENT NOTES

Lined area for student notes.

The volunteer tax preparation program must continuously seek the most efficient and effective training method.

Integrated training combines tax law training with tax preparation software training. The goal is a certified volunteer in less time than teaching tax law and tax software separately. Additional goals include:

- Making integrated training more interesting, less fatiguing and less intimidating than traditional methods,
- Achieving higher training retention, and
- Achieving tax law learning objectives as outlined in the Publication 678, Volunteer Assistor's Guide, lessons.

The training plan presented here is one approach to accomplishing integrated training. Instructors may need to modify the process to fit their particular training requirements.

Instructors

An instructional team with both tax law and TaxWise (application) expertise should conduct the class. At a minimum, instructors are certified by the successful completion of the student test booklet, VITA/TCE Student Testing Materials, Form 6744. Additional assistant instructors can be assigned based on class size—ideally one assistant for five students.

Classroom

Integrated training class size should be 20 students or less.

The classroom should have:

- A computer for each student
- An instructor station with computer and projector
- Table space for documents

Instructors should be aware of computer storage limitations in some computer labs. For example, some university computer labs do not allow students to save training exercises to lab computers. In this case, instructors will need to ensure students have disks or CDs to save their work for the next day.

Student Materials

- Form 1040 (and Form 1040 Instructions)
- IRS Publication 678 (678M for military), Volunteer Assistor's Guide
- IRS Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide
- Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax for Individuals, if available
- State training materials (as appropriate)

Testing and Certification

Students are encouraged to complete the test using tax software where appropriate. The requirements for certification are the same as through the traditional training approach.

Evaluations

Evaluations by instructors and students are vital. Please refer to the evaluation procedures found in the traditional training instructor notes.

Overview

The suggested approach to integrated training is to introduce a segment of tax law (with views and examples from the actual software as well as the paper forms) followed by software navigation and implementation of that tax law using tax software. At appropriate times, students are provided the opportunity to work exercises on their own to reinforce what they have just learned. This process is continued until all of the tax law is covered.

Exercises

There are three types of exercises in this approach:

- 1. Comprehensive Training Exercises (CTE): There are two comprehensive exercises the instructor and student work together. As the instructor works the exercise, the instructor's tax screen is displayed so students can emulate the instructor's entries. This part of the training should focus on an interactive approach—ask questions and show the results of entries in the application.

Comprehensive Training Exercise A covers most course material except Earned Income Credit (EIC) and Child Tax Credit (CTC).

Comprehensive Training Exercise B covers EIC, Advance EIC, CTC and Additional CTC.

After the instructor and students together complete a section of the comprehensive exercise, the correct Federal Tax Liability is listed. The student can compare this tax liability with the number in the bottom left-hand corner of the TaxWise screen or select F7 and compare it to the Refund Due line. If the two numbers agree, there is a high probability the student has properly entered the information. If not, the instructor can work with the student to correct the entry before proceeding to the next section.

- 2. Individual Exercises: Ten individual exercises are provided for students to work independently. These exercises are designed to allow the students to practice what they have learned in the comprehensive exercise.
- 3. Supplemental Exercises: References to supplemental exercises indicate the student will return to a previously completed individual exercise. The supplemental exercises provide additional information for the student to input into the software. These supplemental exercises follow the delivery of the related tax law. The supplemental exercises are annotated as optional. As time permits use them to reinforce the learning process.

Training Exercise Contents: Table I depicts the relationship between the exercise number, the training module, and the Form 1040 line. The darkened area shows which modules should be covered before beginning a specific exercise. For example, Exercises 1 and 2 should be completed after Training Module 1 and 2 have been presented. The x's indicate which Form 1040 line numbers are covered in a particular exercise. The supplemental exercises are used to reopen previously completed exercises. For example, Supplemental Exercise 1 (S1) is opened following completion of Module 5 in order to add Forms 1099-R to Exercises 3 and 4 which were completed earlier.

Process

Tax law is presented beginning with the data collected for the TaxWise Main Information Sheet and then in the order it appears on IRS Form 1040. The modules and their associated Publication 678 lessons are:

Module 1	Lesson 1, Getting Started Lesson 2, Filing Status and Filing Requirements
Module 2	Lesson 3, Income (Wages, Interest, & Dividends)
Module 3	Lesson 3, Income (Taxable Refund, Alimony and Business Income)
Module 4	Lesson 12, Sale of Stock Lesson 13, Sale of Home
Module 5	Lesson 3, Income (Unemployment Compensation and Other Income) Lesson 14, Pensions
Module 6	Lesson 4, Adjustments
Module 7	Lesson 5, Standard and Itemized Deductions
Module 8	Lesson 6, Miscellaneous Credits Lesson 8, Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses Lesson 9, Education Credits Lesson 11, Child Tax Credit
Module 9	Lesson 10, Earned Income Credit
Module 10	Lesson 7, Finishing the Return Lesson 11, Additional Child Tax Credit

Directions

The exercises are designed to be completed by the student at appropriate times during the lessons.

- The 2003 exercise answers were derived using TaxWise 2003 (TW03). Because this publication goes to print long before TaxWise 2004 (TW04) is released and because tax law changes have not been finalized, the answers for 2004 are estimates based on the best information available at the time of publication.
- If TaxWise 2003 is used, assume no Advanced Child Tax Credit was received and check box 3 on 1040 Worksheet 3.
- If TaxWise 2003 is used, reduce all year values by one year. For example, Comprehensive Exercise 1, Line 10, states John and Jane itemized deductions in 2003. If you are using TaxWise 2003 software, change the year to 2002.
- All of the tax forms are for 2004. If TaxWise 2003 is used, assume the forms are for 2003.
- Use the “Training” User Name when completing these exercises. This user name requires all social security numbers and EIN’s begin with three unique numbers followed by the EFIN. See the table below for suggested exercise social security number and EIN assignments.

Suggested Training User SSNs/EINs

Exercise	Taypayer SSN	Additional SSNs/EINs As Needed

COMP B	121-EFIN	122-EFIN, 123-EFIN.....

- For entering telephone numbers, enter your telephone number or use 200 as the area code plus any other numbers.
- It is recommended that identical “Initial Forms” setup be established on all computers.
- If your state has an income tax, enter your state abbreviation. If your state has no income tax, check the box indicating no state return is being prepared.
- If an automatic debit withdrawal is requested for tax due, the Payment Date must be later than the current date.
- None of the taxpayers excluded any Puerto Rico income from their tax return.
- None of the taxpayers had an interest in or a signature or other authority over a financial account in a foreign country. None of the taxpayers received a distribution from, or were grantors of, or transferors to a foreign trust. This is information needed to complete the Schedule B for interest income.
- For C-EZ forms, assume the business vehicle was placed in service on January 1 of the tax year and is available for use during off-duty hours. Other mileage was 10,000 miles and the taxpayer has written records. The taxpayer has another vehicle available for personal use.
- In those exercises that request Self Select PINS be used, the return may not qualify. To ensure the return qualifies to be signed by a PIN do not enter the PIN data until all other tax data has been entered, then return to the Main Information Sheet and check under the “Self Select and Practitioner PIN” section. If the return qualifies, fill in the necessary information. If the return does not qualify, Form 8453 must be used.

- Each exercise is to be completed to the point of obtaining the correct AGI, Taxable Income and refund/due amount and achieving “Return is eligible for electronic filing” when running the diagnostic checks (except for Married Filing Separately returns which aren’t eligible for e-file in some states such as community property states).
- Some of the exercises will be reopened and additional information added as additional tax law is covered.

Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide

Publication 4012 can be very helpful for training and as a resource when performing tax preparation using tax software. Page references to this guide are included in the following suggested class schedule.

Suggested Class Schedule

The schedule is designed for a four day class for beginning computer literate students with a fifth day as needed for state returns, completing exercises or other training.

STUDENT NOTES

Lined writing area for student notes.

The volunteer tax preparation program must continuously seek the most efficient and effective training method.

Integrated training combines tax law training with tax preparation software training. The goal is a certified volunteer in less time than teaching tax law and tax software separately. Additional goals include:

- Making integrated training more interesting, less fatiguing and less intimidating than traditional methods,
- Achieving higher training retention, and
- Achieving tax law learning objectives as outlined in the Publication 678, Volunteer Assistor's Guide, lessons.

Testing and Certification

You are encouraged to complete the test using tax software where appropriate. The requirements for certification are the same as the traditional training approach.

Evaluations

Evaluations by instructors and students are vital. Please refer to the evaluation procedures found in the traditional training material.

Overview

The suggested approach to integrated training is to introduce a segment of tax law (with views and examples from the actual software as well as the paper forms) followed by software navigation and implementation of that tax law using tax software. At appropriate times, you are provided the opportunity to work exercises on your own to reinforce what you have just learned. This process is continued until all of the tax law is covered.

Exercises

There are three types of exercises in this approach:

1. Comprehensive Training Exercises (CTE):

There are two comprehensive exercises you and your instructor will work together. As the instructor works the exercise, the instructor's tax screen is displayed so you can emulate the instructor's entries. This part of the training should focus on an interactive approach—ask questions and see the results of entries in the application.

Comprehensive Training Exercise A covers most course material except Earned Income Credit (EIC) and Child Tax Credit (CTC).

Comprehensive Training Exercise B covers EIC, Advance EIC, CTC and Additional CTC.

After you and the instructor together complete a section of the comprehensive exercise, the correct Federal Tax Liability is listed. You can compare this tax liability with the number in the bottom left-hand corner of the TaxWise screen or select F7 and compare it to the Refund Due line. If the two numbers agree, there is a high probability you have properly entered the information. If not, the instructor can work with you to correct the entry before proceeding to the next section.

2. Individual Exercises: Ten individual exercises are provided for you to work independently. These exercises are designed to allow you to practice what you have learned in the comprehensive exercise.

3. Supplemental Exercises: References to supplemental exercises indicate you will return to a previously completed individual exercise. The supplemental exercises provide additional information for you to input into the software. These supplemental exercises follow the delivery of the related tax law.

Process

Tax law is presented beginning with the data collected for the TaxWise Main Information Sheet and then in the order it appears on IRS Form 1040. The modules and their associated Publication 678 lessons are:

Module 1	Lesson 1, Getting Started Lesson 2, Filing Status and Filing Requirements
Module 2	Lesson 3, Income (Wages, Interest, & Dividends)
Module 3	Lesson 3, Income (Taxable Refund, Alimony and Business Income)
Module 4	Lesson 12, Sale of Stock Lesson 13, Sale of Home
Module 5	Lesson 3, Income (Unemployment Compensation and Other Income) Lesson 14, Pensions
Module 6	Lesson 4, Adjustments
Module 7	Lesson 5, Standard and Itemized Deductions
Module 8	Lesson 6, Miscellaneous Credits Lesson 8, Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses Lesson 9, Education Credits Lesson 11, Child Tax Credit
Module 9	Lesson 10, Earned Income Credit
Module 10	Lesson 7, Finishing the Return Lesson 11, Additional Child Tax Credit

Directions

The exercises are designed to be completed by the student at appropriate times during the lesson.

- The 2003 exercise answers were derived using TaxWise 2003 (TW03). Because this publication goes to print long before TaxWise 2004 (TW04) is released and because tax law changes have not been finalized, the answers for 2004 are estimates based on the best information available at the time of publication.
- If TaxWise 2003 is used, assume no Advanced Child Tax Credit was received and check box 3 on 1040 Worksheet 3.
- If TaxWise 2003 is used, reduce all year values by one year. For example, Comprehensive Exercise 1, Line 10, states John and Jane itemized deductions in 2003. If you are using TaxWise 2003 software, change the year to 2002.
- All of the tax forms are for 2004. If TaxWise 2003 is used, assume the forms are for 2003.
- Use the “Training” User Name when completing these exercises. This user name requires all social security numbers and EIN’s begin with three unique numbers followed by the EFIN. See the table below for suggested exercise social security number and EIN assignments.

- For entering telephone numbers, enter your telephone number or use 200 as the area code plus any other numbers.
- If your state has an income tax, enter your state abbreviation. If your state has no income tax, check the box indicating no state return is being prepared.

- If an automatic debit withdrawal is requested for tax due, the Payment Date must be later than the current date.
- None of the taxpayers excluded any Puerto Rico income from their tax return.
- None of the taxpayers had an interest in or a signature or other authority over a financial account in a foreign country. None of the taxpayers received a distribution from, or were grantors of, or transferors to a foreign trust. This is information needed to complete the Schedule B for interest income.
- In those exercises that request Self Select PINS be used, the return may not qualify. To ensure the return qualifies to be signed by a PIN do not enter the PIN data until all other tax data has been entered, then return to the Main Information Sheet and check under the “Self Select and Practitioner PIN” section. If the return qualifies, fill in the necessary information. If the return does not qualify, Form 8453 must be used.
- Each exercise is to be completed to the point of obtaining the correct AGI, Taxable Income and refund/due amount and achieving “Return is eligible for electronic filing” when running the diagnostic checks (except for Married Filing Separately returns which aren’t eligible for e-file in some states such as community property states).
- Some of the exercises will be reopened and additional information added as additional tax law is covered.

While every class is unique, we strive to have consistency in the training that is presented to the volunteers. To assist you in planning your class, the following pages present a variety of Suggested Class Schedules. The schedules cover a variety of situations and are divided into three basic categories: New Students, Returning Students and a Combination of New and Returning Students. There is even a suggested schedule for a Tax Law Refresher. At the top of each schedule, you will find information about the type of student and kind of returns the students will prepare. You should use the schedule that best fits your situation.

You will note that the amount of time devoted to a lesson will vary throughout the schedules. In determining the amount of time to devote to a lesson, we considered the following factors:

- Difficulty of topic presented in the lesson
- Amount of new tax law in the lesson
- Experience level of the student
- Expected frequency of the subject for the student
- Topics that contain the most commonly found errors on tax returns
- Total amount of class time

Schedules 1-4, New Students

These four schedules are based on the following premises:

- Your class is primarily composed of students who have no prior tax experience, and
- The students have not participated in the program in the past, and
- You are not using integrated training for this class.

Schedules 5-8, Returning Students

These four schedules are based on the following premises:

- Your class is primarily composed of students who have prior tax experience, and
- The students have participated in the program in the past, and
- You are not using the integrated training for this class.

Schedules 9-12, Combination of New and Returning Students

These four schedules are based on the following premises:

- You have a class that composed of both new and returning students, and
- Some of the students have prior tax experience

Schedule 13 - Tax Law Refresher Only

This schedule provides a condensed training schedule for a tax law refresher class. This schedule should not be used with new volunteers.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS/APPROACHES

This training material is designed to provide you the flexibility you need to convey the information your students require to prepare accurate and complete tax returns. The information can be taught using various approaches as follows:

Traditional Classroom Training (self-explanatory).

Appendix B contains recommended syllabuses/class schedules for presenting the course materials in one to 5-days.

Self-Study. Volunteers with prior experience may be comfortable studying the material on their own. New volunteers may find the self-study approach more convenient. If you choose this training approach, at least one formal meeting/classroom session will be helpful to address specific questions and administrative requirements.

Tax Law/TaxWise Integrated Training. Integrated training refers to teaching tax law in harmony with teaching the students how to use the Service's official volunteer e-file software - TaxWise. Appendix A contains extensive information on conducting a comprehensive integrated class.

C-VITA – The Condensed VITA training approach is designed for volunteers who already possess certain skill sets. C-VITA is not designed as a stand alone training option. For additional information see Publication 3888, C-VITA Training Guide.

Link & Learn Taxes – New web-based program that allows the volunteers to complete their training and certification on-line. This method can reduce classroom time while allowing volunteers to complete their training anytime, anywhere. For more information, visit www.irs.gov and use keyword "Link & Learn" or "volunteer training."

2004 Earned Income Credit (EIC) Table

Caution. This is not a tax table.

1. To find your credit, read down the "At least - But less than" columns and find the line that includes the amount you were told to look up from your EIC Worksheet.

2. Then, go to the column that includes your filing status and the number of qualifying children you have. Enter the credit from that column on your EIC Worksheet.

Example. If your filing status is single, you have one qualifying child, and the amount you are looking up from your EIC Worksheet is $2,455, you would enter $842.

If the amount you are looking up from the worksheet is—		And your filing status is—
		Single, head of household, or qualifying widow(er) and you have—

2004 Tax Table

Use if your taxable income is less than $100,000. If $100,000 or more, use the Tax Rate Schedules.

Example. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are filing a joint return. Their taxable income on line 40 of Form 1040 is $25,300. First, they find the $25,300–25,350 income line. Next, they find the column for married filing jointly and read down the column. The amount shown where the income line and filing status column meet is $3,099. This is the tax amount they should enter on line 41 of their Form 1040.
