What’s New

Social security and Medicare tax for 2011. For 2011, the employee tax rate for social security is 4.2%. The employer tax rate for social security remains unchanged at 6.2%. The 2011 social security wage base limit is $106,800. In 2011, the Medicare tax rate is 1.45% each for employers and employees, unchanged from 2010. There is no wage base limit for Medicare tax.

Employers should implement the 4.2% employee social security tax rate as soon as possible, but not later than January 31, 2011. After implementing the new 4.2% rate, you should make an offsetting adjustment in a subsequent pay period to correct any employees’ overwithholding of social security tax as soon as possible, but not later than March 31, 2011.
Social security and Medicare taxes apply to the wages of household employees you pay $1,700 or more in cash or an equivalent form of compensation. For more information, see Social security and Medicare wages on page 4.

FUTA tax rate for 2011. The FUTA tax rate will remain at 6.2% through June 30, 2011. The tax rate is scheduled to decrease to 6.0% beginning July 1, 2011.

Credit reduction states. For 2010, Indiana, Michigan, and South Carolina, are credit reduction states. A state that has not repaid it's money it borrowed from the federal government to pay unemployment benefits is a “credit reduction state.” The Department of Labor (DOL) determines these states. If an employer pays wages that are subject to the unemployment tax laws of a credit reduction state, that employer must pay additional federal unemployment tax. If you paid any wages that are subject to the unemployment compensation laws of the States of Indiana, Michigan, or South Carolina, your FUTA tax credit is reduced. See page H-5 in the 2010 Instructions for Schedule H (Form 1040) for more information.

Advance payment of earned income credit (EIC). The option of receiving advance payroll payments of EIC expired on December 31, 2010. Individuals who received advance payments of EIC in 2010 must file a 2010 federal income tax return. Individuals eligible for EIC in 2011 can still claim the credit when they file their 2011 federal income tax return. In addition, if any of your employees expect to be eligible for the EIC and will have income tax withheld from wages in 2011, they may reduce their withholding in order to receive the benefit of a portion of the credit throughout the year.

Photographs of missing children. The Internal Revenue Service is a proud partner with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. Photographs of missing children selected by the Center may appear in this publication on pages that would otherwise be blank. Introduction

The information in this publication applies to you only if you have a household employee. If you have a household employee in 2011, you may need to pay state and federal employment taxes for 2011. You generally must add your federal employment taxes to the income tax that you will report on your 2011 federal income tax return.

This publication will help you decide whether you have a household employee and, if you do, whether you need to pay federal employment taxes (social security tax, Medicare tax, federal unemployment tax (FUTA), and federal income tax withholding). It explains how to figure, pay, and report these taxes for your household employee. It also explains what records you need to keep.

This publication also tells you where to find out whether you need to pay state unemployment tax for your household employee.

Do You Have a Household Employee?

You have a household employee if you hired someone to do household work and that worker is your employee. The worker is your employee if you can control not only what work is done, but how it is done. If the worker is your employee, it does not matter whether the work is full time or part time or that you hired the worker through an agency or from a list provided by an agency or association. It also does not matter whether you pay the worker on an hourly, daily, or weekly basis, or by the job.

Example. You pay Betty Shore to babysit your child and do light housework 4 days a week in your home. Betty follows your specific instructions about household and child care duties. You provide the household equipment and supplies that Betty needs to do her work. Betty is your household employee.

Household work. Household work is work done in or around your home. Some examples of workers who do household work are:

- Babysitters
- Caretakers
- Cleaning people
Can Your Employee Legally Work in the United States?

It is unlawful for you knowingly to hire or continue to employ an alien who cannot legally work in the United States.

When you hire a household employee to work for you on a regular basis, you and the employee must complete the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification. No later than the first day of work, the employee must complete the employee section of the form by providing certain required information and attesting to his or her current work eligibility status in the United States. You must complete the employer section by examining documents presented by the employee as evidence of his or her identity and employment eligibility. Acceptable documents to establish identity and employment eligibility are listed on Form I-9. You should keep the completed Form I-9 in your own records. Do not submit it to the IRS, the USCIS, or any other government or other entity. The form must be kept available for review upon notice by an authorized U.S. Government official.

Two copies of Form I-9 are contained in the Handbook for Employers (Form M-274) published by the USCIS. Call the USCIS at 1-800-870-3676 to order the handbook for Employers; or you may download the handbook at www.uscis.gov. If you have questions about the employment eligibility verification process or other immigration-related employment matters, contact the USCIS Office of Business Liaison at 1-800-357-2099.

More information. More information about who is an employee is in Publication 15-A, Employer’s Supplemental Tax Guide.

Do You Need To Pay Employment Taxes?

If you have a household employee, you may need to withhold and pay social security and Medicare taxes, pay federal unemployment tax, or both. To find out, read Table 1.

You do not need to withhold federal income tax from your household employee’s wages. But if your employee asks you to withhold it, you can. See Do You Need To Withhold Federal Income Tax? on page 6.

If you need to pay social security, Medicare, or federal unemployment tax or choose to withhold federal income tax, read Table 2 below for an overview of what you may need to do.

If you do not need to pay social security, Medicare, or federal unemployment tax and do not choose to withhold federal income tax, read State employment taxes, next. The rest of this publication does not apply to you.

State employment taxes. You should contact your state unemployment tax agency to find out whether you need to pay state unemployment tax for your household employee. For the address and phone number, see the Appendix near the end of the publication. You should also determine if you need to pay or collect other state employment taxes or carry workers’ compensation insurance.

Social Security and Medicare Taxes

The social security tax pays for old-age, survivors, and disability benefits for workers and their families. The Medicare tax pays for hospital insurance.

Both you and your household employee may owe social security and Medicare taxes. Your share is 7.65% (6.2% for social security tax and 1.45% for Medicare tax) of the employee’s social security and Medicare wages. Your employee’s share is 4.2% for social security tax and 1.45% for Medicare tax.

You can use Table 3 on page 18 to figure the amount of social security and Medicare taxes to withhold from each wage payment.

You are responsible for payment of your employee’s share of the taxes as well as your own. You can either withhold your employee’s share from the employee’s wages or pay it from your own funds. If you decide to pay the employee’s share from your own funds, see Not withholding the employee’s share on page 6. Pay the taxes as discussed under How Do You Make Tax Payments? on page 8. Also, see What Forms Must You File? on page 8.

Social security and Medicare wages. You figure social security and Medicare taxes on the social security and Medicare wages you pay your employee.

If you pay your household employee cash wages of $1,700 or more in 2011, all cash wages you pay to that employee in 2011 (regardless of when the wages were earned) up to $106,800 are social security wages and all cash wages are Medicare wages. However, any noncash wages you pay do not count as social security and Medicare wages.

If you pay the employee less than $1,700 in cash wages in 2011, none of the wages you pay the employee are social security and Medicare wages and neither you nor your employee will owe social security or Medicare tax on those wages.

Table 2. Household Employer’s Checklist

You may need to do the following things when you have a household employee.

<table>
<tr>
<th>When you hire a household employee:</th>
<th>□ Find out if the person can legally work in the United States.  □ Find out if you need to pay state taxes.</th>

</tr>
Cash wages. Cash wages include wages you pay by check, money order, etc. Cash wages do not include the value of food, lodging, clothing, and other noncash items you give your household employee. However, cash you give your employee in place of these items is included in cash wages.

State disability payments treated as wages. Certain state disability plan payments that your household employee may receive are treated as social security and Medicare wages. For more information about these payments, see Instructions for Schedule H (Form 1040), Household Employment Taxes, and the notice issued by the state.

Wages not counted. Do not count wages you pay to any of the following individuals as social security and Medicare wages, even if these wages are $1,700 or more during the year.

1. Your spouse.
2. Your child who is under the age of 21.
3. Your parent. Exception: Count these wages if both the following conditions apply.
   a. Your parent cares for your child who is either of the following.
      i. Under the age of 18, or
      ii. Has a physical or mental condition that requires the personal care of an adult for at least 4 continuous weeks in a calendar quarter.
   b. Your marital status is one of the following.
      i. You are divorced and have not remarried,
      ii. You are a widow or widower, or
      iii. You are living with a spouse whose physical or mental condition prevents him or her from caring for your child for at least 4 continuous weeks in a calendar quarter.
4. An employee who is under the age of 18 at any time during the year. Exception: Count these wages if providing household services is the employee’s principal occupation. If the employee is a student, providing household services is not considered to be his or her principal occupation.

Also, if your employee’s cash wages reach $106,800 (maximum wages subject to social security tax) in 2011, do not count any wages you pay that employee during the rest of the year as social security wages to figure social security tax. (Continue to count the employee’s cash wages as Medicare wages to figure Medicare tax.) If you provide your employee transit passes to commute to your home, do not count the value of the transit passes (up to $230 per month for tax year 2011) as wages. A transit pass includes any pass, token, fare card, voucher, or similar item entitling a person to ride on mass transit, such as a bus or train.

Cash wages. If you provide your employee parking at or near your home or at or near a location from which your employee commutes to your home, do not count the value of parking (up to $230 per month for 2011) as wages. If you reimburse your employee for transit passes or parking, you may be able to exclude the reimbursement amounts. See Publication 15-B, Employer’s Tax Guide to Fringe Benefits, for special requirements for this exclusion.

Withholding the employee’s share. You should withhold the employee’s share of social security and Medicare taxes if you expect to pay your household employee cash wages of $1,700 or more in 2011. However, if you prefer to pay the employee’s share yourself, see Not withholding the employee’s share, next.

You can withhold the employee’s share of the taxes even if you are not sure your employee’s cash wages will be $1,700 or more in 2011. If you withhold the taxes but then actually pay the employee less than $1,700 in cash wages for the year, you should repay the employee.

Withhold 5.65% (4.2% for social security tax and 1.45% for Medicare tax) from each payment of social security and Medicare wages. You can use Table 3, on page 18, to figure the proper amount to withhold. You will pay the amount withheld to the IRS with your share of the taxes. Do not withhold any social security tax after your employee’s social security wages for the year reach $106,800.

If you make an error by withholding too little, you should withhold additional taxes from a later payment. If you withhold too much, you should repay the employee.

Example. On February 6, 2011, Mary Brown hired Jane R. Oak (who is an unrelated individual over age 18) to care for her child and agreed to pay cash wages of $50 every Friday. Jane worked for the remainder of the year (a total of 46 weeks). Mary did not give Jane a Form W-4 to request federal or state tax withholding. The following is the information Mary will need to complete Schedule H, Form W-2, and Form W-3. See pages 19 and 20 for completed examples of Schedule H, Form W-2, and Form W-3 for 2011.

Total cash wages paid to Jane $2,300.00
($50 x 46 weeks)

Jane’s share of:
Social security tax . . . . $96.60
($2,300 x 4.2% (.042))
Medicare tax . . . . . . . $33.35
($2,300 x 1.45% (.0145))

Mary’s share of:
Social security tax . . . . $142.60
($2,300 x 62% (.062))
Medicare tax . . . . . . . $33.35
($2,300 x 1.45% (.0145))

Amount reported on Form W-2 and Form W-3:
Box 1: Wages, tips . . . . . . . . . . $2,300.00
Box 4: Social security tax withheld . . . 96.60
Box 6: Medicare tax withheld . . . . $33.35
Not withholding the employee’s share. If you prefer to pay your employee’s social security and Medicare taxes from your own funds, do not withhold them from your employee’s wages. The social security and Medicare taxes you pay to cover your employee’s share must be included in the employee’s wages for income tax purposes. However, they are not counted as social security and Medicare wages or as federal unemployment (FUTA) wages.

Example. In 2011 you hire a household employee (who is an unrelated individual over age 18) to care for your child and agree to pay cash wages of $100 every Friday. You expect to pay your employee $1,700 or more for the year. You decide to pay your employee’s share of social security and Medicare taxes from your own funds. You pay your employee $100 every Friday without withholding any social security or Medicare taxes.

For social security and Medicare tax purposes, your employee’s wages each payday are $100. For each wage payment, you will pay $13.30 when you pay the taxes. This is $5.65 ($4.20 for social security tax + $1.45 for Medicare tax) to cover your employee’s share plus $7.65 ($6.20 for social security tax + $1.45 for Medicare tax) for your share. For income tax purposes, your employee’s wages each payday are $105.65 ($100 + the $5.65 you will pay to cover your employee’s share of social security and Medicare taxes).

Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax

The federal unemployment tax is part of the federal and state program under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) that pays unemployment compensation to workers who lose their jobs. Like most employers, you may owe both the federal unemployment tax (the FUTA tax) and a state unemployment tax. Or, you may owe only the FUTA tax or only the state unemployment tax. To find out whether you will owe state unemployment tax, contact your state’s unemployment tax agency. See the list of state unemployment agencies in the Appendix for the address.

For the period of January 1, 2011, through June 30, 2011, the FUTA tax is 6.2% of your employee’s FUTA wages. However, you may be able to take a credit of up to 5.4% against the FUTA tax, resulting in a net tax rate of 0.8%. For the months after June 30, 2011, the FUTA tax is scheduled to decrease to 6.0% of your employee’s FUTA wages. You may be able to take a credit of up to 5.4% against the FUTA tax, resulting in a net tax rate of 0.6%. Your credit for 2011 is limited unless you pay all the required contributions for 2011 to your state unemployment fund by April 17, 2012. The credit you can take for any contributions for 2011 that you pay after April 17, 2012, is limited to 90% of the credit that would have been allowable if the contributions were paid by April 17, 2012. (If you did not pay all the required contributions for 2011 by April 17, 2011, see Credit for 2010, later.)

Credit for 2010. The credit you can take for any state unemployment fund contributions for 2010 that you pay after April 18, 2011, is limited to 90% of the credit that would have been allowable if the contributions were paid on or before April 18, 2011.

You must complete Worksheet A to figure the credit for late contributions if you paid any state contributions after the due date for filing Form 1040.

Do You Need To Withhold Federal Income Tax?

You are not required to withhold federal income tax from wages you pay a household employee. You should withhold federal income tax only if your household employee asks you to withhold it and you agree. The employee must give you a completed Form W-4, Employee’s Withholding Allowance Certificate.

If you and your employee have agreed to withholding, either of you may end the agreement by letting the other know in writing.
What Do You Need To Know About the Earned Income Credit?

Certain workers can take the earned income credit (EIC) on their federal income tax return. This credit reduces their tax or allows them to receive a payment from the IRS. You also may have to give your employee a notice about the EIC.

Advance payment of earned income credit (EIC). The option of receiving advance payroll payment of EIC expired on December 31, 2010. Individuals eligible for EIC in 2011 can still claim the credit when they file their federal income tax return. Individuals who received advance payments of EIC in 2010 must file a 2011 federal income tax return.

Notice about the EIC. Copy B of the 2011 Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, has a statement about the EIC on the back. If you give your employee that copy by January 31, 2012 (as discussed under Form W-2, on page 9), you do not have to give the employee any other notice about the EIC.

If you do not give your employee Copy B of the Form W-2, your notice about the EIC can be any of the following items:

1. A substitute Form W-2 with the same EIC information on the back of the employee’s copy that is on Copy B of the Form W-2.
2. Notice 797, Possible Federal Tax Refund Due to the Earned Income Credit (EIC).
3. Your own written statement with the same wording as in Notice 797.

If a substitute Form W-2 is given on time but does not have the required EIC information, you must notify the employee within one week of the date the substitute Form W-2 is given. If Form W-2 is required but is not given on time, you must give the employee Notice 797 or your written statement about the 2011 EIC by January 31, 2012. If Form W-2 is not required, you must notify the employee by February 7, 2012.

You must give your household employee a notice about the EIC if you agree to withhold federal income tax from the employee’s wages (as discussed earlier under Do You Need To Withhold Federal Income Tax?) and the income tax withholding tables show that no tax should be withheld. Even if not required, you are encouraged to give the employee a notice about the EIC if his or her 2011 wages are less than $36,052 ($41,132 if married filing joint).

Keep for Your Records

How Do You Make Tax Payments?

When you file your 2011 federal income tax return in 2012, attach Schedule H (Form 1040), Household Employment Taxes, to your Form 1040, 1040NR, 1040-SS, or Form 1041. Use Schedule H to figure your total household employment taxes (social security, Medicare, FUTA, and withheld federal income taxes). Add these household employment taxes to your income tax. Pay the amount due by April 17, 2012. (For more information about using Schedule H, see Schedule H under What Forms Must You File? later.)

You can avoid owing tax with your return if you pay enough tax during the year to cover your household employment taxes, as well as your income tax. You can pay the additional tax in any of the following ways.

- Ask your employer to withhold more federal income tax from your wages in 2011.
- Ask the payer of your pension or annuity to withhold more federal income tax from your benefits.
- Make estimated tax payments for 2011 to the IRS.
- Increase your payments if you already make estimated tax payments.

You may be subject to the estimated tax underpayment penalty if you did not pay enough income and household employment taxes during the year. (See Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, for information about the underpayment penalty.) However, you will not be subject to the penalty if both of the following situations apply to you.

- You will not have federal income tax withheld from wages, pensions, or any other payments you receive.
- Your income taxes, excluding your household employment taxes, would not be enough to require payment of estimated taxes.

Asking for more federal income tax withholding. If you are employed and want more federal income tax withheld from your wages to cover your household employment taxes, give your employer a new Form W-4, Employee’s Withholding Allowance Certificate. Complete it as before, but show the additional amount you want withheld from each paycheck on line 6.

If you receive a pension or annuity and want more federal income tax withheld to cover household employment taxes, give the payer a new Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments (or a similar form provided by the payer). Complete it as before, but show the additional amount you want withheld from each benefit payment on line 3.

Get Publication 919, How Do I Adjust My Tax Withholding?, to make sure you will have the right amount withheld. It will help you compare your total expected withholding for 2011 with the combined income tax and employment taxes that you can expect to figure on your 2011 tax return.

Paying estimated tax. If you want to make estimated tax payments to cover household employment taxes, get Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. You can use its payment vouchers to make your payments by check or money order. You may be able to pay by Electronic Funds Withdrawal (EFW) or credit card. For details, see the form instructions and visit IRS.gov.

You can pay all the employment taxes at once or you can pay them in installments. If you have already made estimated tax payments for 2011, you can increase your remaining payments to cover the employment taxes. Estimated tax payments for 2011 are due April 18, June 15, and September 15, 2011, and January 16, 2012.

Payment option for business employers. If you own a business as a sole proprietor or your home is on a farm operated for profit, you can choose either of two ways to pay your 2011 household employment taxes. You can pay them with your federal income tax as previously described, or you can include them with your federal employment tax deposits or other payments for your business or farm employees. For information on depositing employment taxes, see Publication 15 (Circular E).

If you pay your household employment taxes with your business or farm employment taxes, you must report your household employment taxes with those other employment taxes on Form 941, Employer’s QUARTERLY Federal Tax Return, Form 944, Employer’s ANNUAL Federal Tax Return, or Form 943, Employer’s Annual Federal Tax Return for Agricultural Employees, and on Form 940, Employer’s Annual Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return. See Business employment tax returns, later.

The deduction that can be taken on Schedules C and F (Form 1040) for wages and employment taxes applies only to wages and taxes paid for business and farm employees. You cannot deduct the wages and employment taxes paid for your household employees on your Schedule C or F.

More information. For more information about paying taxes through federal income tax withholding and estimated tax payments, and figuring the estimated tax penalty, get Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

What Forms Must You File?

You must file certain forms to report your household employee’s wages and the federal employment taxes for the employee if you pay any of the following wages to the employee.
• Social security and Medicare wages.
• FUTA wages.
• Wages from which you withhold federal income tax.

For information on ordering employment tax forms, see How To Get Tax Help on page 11.

Employer identification number (EIN). You must include your employer identification number (EIN) on the forms you file for your household employee. An EIN is a 9-digit number issued by the IRS. It is not the same as a social security number.

TIP

You ordinarily will have an EIN if you previously paid taxes for employees, either as a household employer or as a sole proprietor of a business you own. If you already have an EIN, use that number.

If you do not have an EIN, get Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number. The instructions for Form SS-4 explain how you can get an EIN immediately by telephone or in about 4 weeks if you apply by mail. To get an EIN over the internet, visit IRS.gov and on click on "Apply for an Employer Identification Number (EIN) Online."

Form W-2. File a separate 2011 Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, for each household employee to whom you pay either of the following wages during the year.

• Social security and Medicare wages of $1,700 or more.
• Wages from which you withhold federal income tax.

You must complete Form W-2 and give Copies B, C, and 2 to your employee by January 31, 2012. You must send Copy A of Form W-2 with Form W-3, Transmittal of Wage and Tax Statements, to the Social Security Administration by February 29, 2012 (April 2, 2012, if you file your Form W-2 electronically). Electronic filing is available to all employers and is free, fast, secure, and offers a later filing deadline. Visit the SSA’s Employer W-2 Filing Instructions & Information website at www.socialsecurity.gov/employer for guidelines on filing electronically.

Employee who leaves during the year. If an employee stops working for you before the end of 2011, you can file Form W-2 and provide copies to your employee immediately after you make your final payment of wages. You do not need to wait until 2012. If the employee asks you for Form W-2, give it to him or her within 30 days after the request or the last wage payment, whichever is later.

Schedule H. Use Schedule H to report household employment taxes if you pay any of the following wages to the employee.

• Cash wages of $1,700 or more.
• FUTA wages.
• Wages from which you withhold federal income tax.

File Schedule H with your 2011 federal income tax return by April 17, 2012. If you get an extension to file your return, the extension also will apply to your Schedule H.

Filing options when no return is required. If you are not required to file a 2011 tax return, you have the following two options.

1. You can file Schedule H by itself. See the Schedule H instructions for details.
2. If, besides your household employee, you have other employees for whom you report employment taxes on Form 941, Form 944, or Form 943 and on Form 940, you can include your taxes for your household employee on those forms. See Business employment tax returns, next.

Employers having the options listed above include certain tax-exempt organizations that do not have to file a tax return, such as churches that pay a household worker to take care of a minister’s home.

Business employment tax returns. Do not use Schedule H if you choose to pay the employment taxes for your household employee with business or farm employment taxes. (See Payment option for business employers, earlier.) Instead, include the social security, Medicare, and withheld federal income taxes for the employee on the Form 941, or Form 944, you file for your business or on the Form 943, you file for your farm. Include the FUTA tax for the employee on your Form 940.

If you report the employment taxes for your household employee on Form 941, Form 944, or Form 943, file Form W-2 for that employee with the Forms W-2 and Form W-3 for your business or farm employees.

For information on filing Form 941 or Form 944, get Publication 15 (Circular E). For information on filing Form 943, get Publication 51 (Circular A), Agricultural Employer’s Tax Guide. Both of these publications also provide information about filing Form 940.

What Records Must You Keep?

Keep your copies of Schedule H or other employment tax forms you file and related Forms W-2, W-3, W-4, and W-5. You must also keep records to support the information you enter on the forms you file. If you must file Form W-2, you will need to keep a record of your employee’s name, address, and social security number.

Wage and tax records. On each payday, you should record the date and amounts of all the following items.

• Your employee’s cash and noncash wages.
• Any employee social security tax you withhold or agree to pay for your employee.
• Any employee Medicare tax you withhold or agree to pay for your employee.
• Any federal income tax you withhold.
• Any state employment taxes you withhold.
Employee’s social security number. You must keep a record of your employee’s name and social security number exactly as they appear on his or her social security card if you pay the employee either of the following.

- Social security and Medicare wages of $1,700 or more.
- Wages from which you withhold federal income tax.

You must ask for your employee’s social security number no later than the first day on which you pay the wages. You may wish to ask for it when you hire your employee. You should ask your employee to show you his or her social security card. The employee may show the card if it is available. You may, but are not required to, photocopy the card if the employee provides it.

An employee who does not have a social security number must apply for one on Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Card. An employee who has lost his or her social security card or whose name is not correctly shown on the card may apply for a replacement card.

Employees can get Form SS-5 from any Social Security Administration office or by calling 1-800-772-1213.

You also can download Form SS-5 from the Social Security Administration website, www.socialsecurity.gov/online/ss-5.pdf.

How long to keep records. Keep your employment tax records for at least 4 years after the due date of the return on which you report the taxes or the date the taxes were paid, whichever is later.

Can You Claim a Credit for Child and Dependent Care Expenses?

If your household employee cares for your dependent who is under age 13 or for your spouse or dependent who is not capable of self-care, you may be able to take an income tax credit of up to 35% of your expenses. To qualify, you must pay these expenses so you can work or look for work. If you can take the credit, you can include in your qualifying expenses your share of the federal and state employment taxes you pay, as well as the employee’s wages. For information about the credit, see Publication 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses.

How Can You Correct Schedule H?

If you discover that you made an error on a Schedule H (or Anexo H-PR), the forms used to correct the error depend on whether the Schedule H was attached to another form or whether it was filed by itself.

Schedule H attached to another form. If you discover an error on a Schedule H that you previously filed with Form 1040, 1040NR, or Form 1040-SS, file Form 1040X and attach a corrected Schedule H. If you filed Formulario 1040-PR, file a Form 1040X and attach a corrected Anexo H-PR. If you discover an error on a Schedule H that you previously filed with Form 1041, file an “amended” Form 1041 and attach a corrected Schedule H. You discovered (that is, ascertained) the error when you had enough information to be able to correct the error. Write “CORRECTED” (or “CORREGIDO”) and the date you discovered the error in the top margin of your corrected Schedule H (or Anexo H-PR), (in dark, bold letters). In addition, explain the reason for your correction and the date the error was discovered in Part C of Form 1040X or in a statement attached to the amended Form 1041.

Schedule H filed by itself. If you discover an error on a Schedule H (or Anexo H-PR) that you filed as a stand-alone return, file another stand-alone Schedule H with the corrected information. You discovered (that is, ascertained) the error when you had enough information to be able to correct the error. Write “CORRECTED” (or “CORREGIDO”) and the date you discovered the error in the top margin of your corrected Schedule H (or Anexo H-PR), (in dark, bold letters). In addition, explain the reason for your correction and the date the error was discovered in Part II of Form 1040X or in a statement attached to the corrected Schedule H. If you have an overpayment, also write “ADJUSTED” (or “CORREGIDO”) or “REFUND” (or “REEMBOLSÓ”) in the top margin, depending on whether you want to adjust your overpayment or claim a refund. (See Overpayment of tax, later.)

When to file. File a corrected Schedule H when you discover an error on a previously filed Schedule H. If you are correcting an underpayment, file a corrected Schedule H no later than the due date of your next tax return (generally, April 15 of the following calendar year) after you discover the error. If you are correcting an overpayment, file a corrected Schedule H within the refund period of limitations (generally 3 years from the date your original form was filed or within 2 years from the date you paid the tax, whichever is later).

Underpayment of tax. You must pay any underpayment of social security and Medicare taxes by the time you file the corrected Schedule H. Generally, by filing on time and paying by the time you file the return, you will not be charged interest (and will not be subject to failure-to-pay or estimated tax penalties) on the balance due. However, underreported FUTA taxes will be subject to interest.

Overpayment of tax. You may either adjust or claim a refund of an overpayment of social security and Medicare taxes on a previously filed Schedule H. However, if you are correcting an overpayment and are filing the corrected Schedule H within 90 days of the expiration of the period of limitations, you can only claim a refund of the overpayment.

Adjust the overpayment. If the corrected Schedule H is filed with a Form 1040X or an amended Form 1041, adjust your return by indicating on line 22 of the Form 1040X or on line 22 of the amended Form 1041.
How To Get Tax Help

You can get help with unresolved tax issues, order free publications and forms, ask tax questions, and get information from the IRS in several ways. By selecting the method that is best for you, you will have quick and easy access to tax help.

Contacting your Taxpayer Advocate. The Taxpayer Advocate Service (TAS) is an independent organization within the IRS. We help taxpayers who are experiencing economic harm, such as not being able to provide necessities like housing, transportation, or food; taxpayers who are seeking help in resolving tax problems with the IRS; and those who believe that an IRS system or procedure is not working as it should. Here are seven things every taxpayer should know about TAS:

- The Taxpayer Advocate Service is your voice at the IRS.
- Our service is free, confidential, and tailored to meet your needs.
- You may be eligible for our help if you have tried to resolve your tax problem through normal IRS channels and have gotten nowhere, or you believe an IRS procedure just isn’t working as it should.
- We help taxpayers whose problems are causing financial difficulty or significant cost, including the cost of professional representation. This includes businesses as well as individuals.
- Our employees know the IRS and how to navigate it. If you qualify for our help, we'll assign your case to an advocate who will listen to your problem, help you understand what needs to be done to resolve it, and stay with you every step of the way until your problem is resolved.
- We have at least one local taxpayer advocate in every state, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. You can call your local advocate, whose number is in your phone book, in Pub. 1546, Taxpayer Advocate Service—Your Voice at the IRS, and on our website at www.irs.gov/advocate. You can also call our toll-free line at 1-877-777-4778 or TTY/TDD 1-800-829-4059.
- You can learn about your rights and responsibilities as a taxpayer by visiting our online tax toolkit at www.taxtoolkit.irs.gov. You can get updates on hot tax topics by visiting our YouTube channel at www.youtube.com/tasnta and our Facebook page at www.facebook.com/YourVoiceAtIRS, or by following our tweets at www.twitter.com/YourVoiceAtIRS.

Low Income Taxpayer Clinics (LITCs). The Low Income Taxpayer Clinic program serves individuals who have a problem with the IRS and whose income is below a certain level. LITCs are independent from the IRS. Most LITCs can provide representation before the IRS or in court on audits, tax collection disputes, and other issues for free or a small fee. If an individual’s native language is not English, some clinics can provide multilingual information about taxpayer rights and responsibilities. For more information, see Publication 4134, Low Income Taxpayer Clinic List. This publication is available at IRS.gov, by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676), or at your local IRS office.

Free tax services. Publication 910, IRS Guide to Free Tax Services, is your guide to IRS services and resources. Learn about free tax information from the IRS, including publications, services, and education and assistance programs. The publication also has an index of over 100 TeleTax topics (recorded tax information) you can listen to on the telephone. The majority of the information and services listed in this publication are available to you free of charge. If there is a fee associated with a resource or service, it is listed in the publication.

Accessible versions of IRS published products are available on request in a variety of alternative formats for people with disabilities.

Free help with your return. Free help in preparing your return is available nationwide from IRS-trained volunteers. The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program is designed to help low-income taxpayers and the Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) program is designed to assist taxpayers age 60 and older with their tax returns. Many VITA sites offer free electronic filing and all volunteers will let you know about credits and deductions you may be entitled to claim. To find the nearest VITA or TCE site, call 1-800-829-1040.

As part of the TCE program, AARP offers the Tax-Aide counseling program. To find the nearest AARP Tax-Aide site, call 1-888-227-7669 or visit AARP’s website at www.aarp.org/money/taxaide.

For more information on these programs, go to IRS.gov and enter keyword “VITA” in the upper right-hand corner.

Evaluating the quality of our telephone services. To ensure IRS representatives give accurate, courteous, and professional answers, we use several methods to evaluate the quality of our telephone services. One method is for a second IRS representative to listen in on or record random telephone calls. Another is to ask some callers to complete a short survey at the end of the call.

Walk-in. Many products and services are available on a walk-in basis.

• Products. You can walk in to many post offices, libraries, and IRS offices to pick up certain forms, instructions, and publications. Some IRS offices, libraries, grocery stores, copy centers, city and county government offices, credit unions, and office supply stores have a collection of products available to print from a CD or photocopy from reproducible proofs. Also, some IRS offices and libraries have the Internal Revenue Code, regulations, Internal Revenue Bulletins, and Cumulative Bulletins available for research purposes.

• Services. You can walk in to your local Taxpayer Assistance Center every business day for personal, face-to-face tax help. An employee can explain IRS letters, request adjustments to your tax account, or help you set up a payment plan. If you need to resolve a tax problem, have questions about how the tax law applies to your individual tax return, or you are more comfortable talking with someone in person, visit your local Taxpayer Assistance Center where you can spread out your records and talk with an IRS representative face-to-face. No appointment is necessary—just walk in. If you prefer, you can call your local Center and leave a message requesting an appointment to resolve a tax account issue. A representative will call you back within 2 business days to schedule an in-person appointment at your convenience. If you have an ongoing, complex tax account problem or a special need, such as a disability, an appointment can be requested. All other issues will be handled without an appointment. To find the number of your local office, go to www.irs.gov/localcontacts or look in the phone book under United States Government, Internal Revenue Service.

Table 3. Employee Social Security (4.2%) and Medicare (1.45%) Tax Withholding Table

(See Circular E for income tax withholding tables.)

Use this table to figure the amount of social security and Medicare taxes to withhold from each wage payment. For example, on a wage payment of $180, the employee social security tax is $7.56 ($4.20 tax on $100 plus $3.36 on $80 wages). The employee Medicare tax is $2.61 ($1.45 tax on $100 plus $1.16 on $80 wages).
