Purpose of Form

For an individual to qualify as a youth participating in a qualified cooperative education program (as defined below), a qualified school must certify in writing that the student meets the conditions in 1 below. The school may meet the certification requirement by completing Form 6199. The certification allows the employer named in Part II of Form 6199 to claim the jobs credit for qualified wages paid or incurred to the student named in Part III of the form.

The school must prepare Parts I through IV of Form 6199 in duplicate. The original of the form should be given to the employer and a copy should be kept by the school for its records.

Definitions

1. Youth Participating in a Qualified Cooperative Education Program.—This means any individual who meets the following conditions:

- Is at least age 16 but not yet age 20,

- Has not graduated from a high school or vocational school,
- Is enrolled in and actively pursuing a qualified cooperative education program, and
- Is a member of an economically disadvantaged family.

2. Qualified School.—This means:

- A specialized high school used principally for vocational education,
- The department of a high school used principally for vocational education, or
- A technical or vocational school used principally for vocational education of persons who have completed or left high school.

A school which is not a public school is a qualified school only if it is exempt from tax under section 501(a).

3. Qualified Cooperative Education Program.—This means a program of vocational education for individuals who (through written cooperative arrangements between a qualified school and one or more employers) receive instruction (including required academic instruction) by alternation of study and school with a job in any occupational field (but only if these two experiences are planned by the school and employer so that each contributes to the student's education and employability). See section 51(d)(8)(B) and related regulations for details.

4. Members of Economically Disadvantaged Families.—This means a member of a family that the designated local agency (state employment security agency) determines had an income during the 6 months immediately preceding the earlier of the month in which the determination is made or the month in which the employee is hired, which, on an annual basis, would be 70% or less of the Department of Labor lower living standard income level (LLSIL).

Instructions for Employer

The qualified wages paid to the employees certified as youths participating in a qualified cooperative education program are reported on IRS Form 5884, Jobs Credit.

On receiving Form 6199 from the school, the employer must sign Part V certifying that the information on the form is correct before he or she can claim the jobs credit for wages paid to the student named on the form. The employer must keep Form 6199 for tax purposes.
